

Descendants of Amatoya Moytoy

Generation No. 1

1. CHIEF AMATOYA¹ MOYTOY was born Abt. 1640 in Chota, Crockett, TN, and died 1730 in Cherokee Nation East, TN. He married (1) WOLF CLAN MAIDEN. She was born Unknown, and died Unknown. He married (2) QUATSY WOMAN. She was born 1650 in Tellico, Crockett, TN, and died 1692 in Cherokee Nation East, TN.

Notes for CHIEF AMATOYA MOYTOY:

He was known as Moytoy the Elder and Moytoy 1.

The Cheokees have 7 clans: Deer, Wolf, Paint, Bird, Long Hair (Hanging Hair, The Twister, Hair Hanging Down, or Wind), Blue (Panther or Wildcat), and White Potatoe (Blind Savannah, Bear, or Raccoon).

The old laws forbid marriage in one's own clan which was considered the maternal clan. The paternal clan was not considered. The child was of the clan of the mother. Therefore, if a father left or was killed or divorced by the mother, then the mother had her family to help take care of her and her children.

Notes for NANYE'HI NANCY WARD:

She was called Nanye'hi, The Beloved, and Beloved Woman. "Princess" is not a title used by the Cherokee.

Nancy had gone with her husband in battle and was helping him by chewing the lead bullets for his musket so they were more destructive on contact. When Kingfisher was killed, she picked up his rifle and led the battle to victory over the Muskogees. This action of valor and unusual bravery gained her the title of "The Beloved". It granted her power in the Cherokee Nation of almost a demigod. She went on to speak at treaty meetings and acted as peacemaker between the Cherokee and the white settlers in the region as well as the government. Many books have been written about Nancy Ward and can be obtained at libraries, The Cherokee Nation, and online. Titles and authors available on request. The artist Ben Hampton has done paintings and illustrations of Nancy's life, cabin, Cherokee artifacts, and surrounding scenery where she spent her later years.

Ron Sanders has done a beautiful canvas of Nancy Ward. It is called "Nancy Ward, Cherokee". A print should be available online.

Notes for CHIEF TSU LA KINGFISHER:

19. CHIEF BRIGADIER GENERAL DEGADOGA STAND⁶ WATIE (*OO-WATIE*⁵, *TAH-CHEE*⁴, *ATTA-KULLA-KULLA*³, *NANCY*² MOYTOY, *AMATOYA*¹) was born 12 Dec 1806 in Oothcaloga, Gordon Co., GA, and died 09 Sep 1871 in Indian Territory, OK, Polson Cemetery, Southwest City, MO. He married (1) ISABELLA HICKS MILLER 1835 in Cherokee Nation East. She was born 1815 in GA, and died 27 Nov 1877 in Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. He married (2) ELEANOR LOONEY 1838 in Cherokee Nation East. She was born 1810 in Cherokee Nation East, and died 1867. He married (3) ELIZABETH FIELDS 1840 in Cherokee Nation East. She was born 1820 in Cherokee Nation East, and died 01 May 1886 in Rome, GA. He married (4) SARAH CAROLINE BELL 18 Sep 1843 in Benton Co., AR. She was born 11 Mar 1820 in New Echota, Bartow, GA, and died 03 Feb 1882 in Bernice, Delaware, OK Polson Cemetery, Southwest City, MO.

Notes for CHIEF BRIGADIER GENERAL DEGADOGA STAND WATIE:
He was known as Principal Chief Brigadier General CSA, Degadoga, Degataga Takertawker from De'vata'ga Takatoka I am Standing, and Danita'ga They are Standing Together, Stand Watie, and Isaac S. Watie.

He was the last Confederate General to cease hostilities. He did not surrender. (Doaksville, OK)

He and his mounted rifles fought many Civil War battles in OK. He also fought at Wilson Creek near Springfield, MO and at Pea Ridge, AR near the MO state line. There are videos available for purchase in many Colleges and Universities. They are available online.

He edited the newspaper, The Cherokee Phoenix, while his brother Buck (Elias Boudinot) was out campaigning for funding to keep the newspaper running.

He signed, along with Major Ridge, John Ridge, Elias Boudinot, William Penn Boudinot, (Adair and others), the New Echota Treaty in 1835 that inadvertently caused the 'Trail of Tears'. (They were called the Treaty Faction)

Stand's uncle Major Ridge, cousin John Ridge, and brother Elias Boudinot were assassinated on 6/22/1839 except for Stand who escaped on a horse minutes before the assassins overran his store located close to Park Hill, OK.

He escaped to Honey Creek in northeast Indian Territory OK where he made his home until he died.

He had come back into favor with the Cherokee Nation and was made a Chief.

All of his children and one grandchild died leaving no descendants for Stand.

His headstone prior to the monument now erected at the Polson Cemetery also called Ridge/Watie Cemetery, was the southern Iron Cross. (pics of cemetery, monument, and iron cross on request)

The cross disappeared around the time of WW1 and recovered at a flea mkt./garage sale in the 1990's and rededicated in 2003 or 2004. It now can be viewed at the museum in Tahlequah, OK along with his personal sword and many other items.

There is a website with details, pics, and written articles re: the Iron Cross Dedication Ceremony.

There have been many books written about him involving his life and the civil war. They are available in libraries, The Cherokee Nation, and online. Titles and authors are available on request.

Stand Watie and his children are on the Cherokee rolls as well as his brother, Buck (Elias Boudinot).

On June 29, 1995 a postage stamp was dedicated to Stand Watie. (pics on request).
