

Descendants of ~~William~~ Armstrong

Generation No. 1

1. WILLIAM² ARMSTRONG (*JOHN*¹) was born Bet. 1699 - 1703 in Langholm, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, and died Aft. 1750. He married SUSANNA BLYTHE 11 Oct 1724 in Kirkandrews-on-Esk, Cumbria, England.

Notes for WILLIAM ARMSTRONG:

In the January 2001 addendum to her book, "Armstrongs of the Catawba," Norma Cansler writes that William Armstrong emigrated through Colonial Pennsylvania in 1742 on his way to Colonial Virginia to buy land. The title of Mrs. Cansler's book refers to Catawba Creek which runs northeast through what is now Boutetourt County Virginia toward the James River.

F. B. Kegley's book, "Kegley's Virginia Frontier," refers to an "enterprising land-hunter" named Benjamin Borden who was granted 8100 acres on Catawba Creek in 1739 and an additional 6400 acres in 1740. The book lists the follow sales of land to a William Armstrong:

"July 30, 1742, William Armstrong - Deed, 100 acres on a west branch James River called Catawba Creek. And 200 acres on Mill Creek in Borden's Grant from Benjamin Borden, Sr. contracted for by John McDowell. Au. D. Bk. 12, 336."

Notes for SUSANNA BLYTHE:

There is one record suggesting Susanna Blythe, the wife of patriarch William Armstrong, came to the Colonies with her husband and three sons. On page 12 of Volume III of "Chronicles of the Scotch-Irish in Virginia" by Lyman Chalkley, the will of Simon Akers is attested and "proved" in Augusta County by "Wm. and Susanna Armstrong."

Notes for JOHN ARMSTRONG:

The brothers William, John, and Lanty Armstrong were born in Scotland and came to Colonial America, passing through Pennsylvania in 1742 on the way to Virginia to buy land. In her 2001 addendum to "Armstrongs of the Catawba," Norma Cansler states that it was their father, William Armstrong, who first purchased land in Colonial Virginia:

"William Armstrong - b. 1699-1703 Langholm, Dumfriesshire, Scotland; d. 1750+. Married Susanna Blythe 11 October 1724 Kirkandrews-on-Esk, Cumbria, England. He immigrated to Pennsylvania in 1742, and on 30 July 1742 purchased 100 acres on a west branch of the James River called Catawba Creek in addition to 200 acres on Mill Creek in Borden's Grant from Benjamin Borden, Sr. contracted for by John McDowell."

By the 1750's, records in Colonial Virginia show that the brothers had acquired other land in and around Augusta County. They had received land warrants from the House of Burgesses for service in the French and Indian War. John was later a soldier in the American Revolution and then served in various militias in Virginia, reaching the rank of Captain.

In 1784 John Armstrong and his brother William moved their families from Virginia to Kentucky to join the Salt River settlement in what was then Lincoln County (now Mercer County). The Salt River settlement had been started in 1779 by the McAfee brothers and others who preceded the Armstrongs in the westward move from the Catawba Creek area of Virginia. There is some evidence that John's son Robert, and William's son Alexander, came to Kentucky as early as 1781 to locate and claim land. The third brother, Lanty, would eventually settle in eastern Tennessee.

In Kentucky John Armstrong continued his militia service, and in 1790 he narrowly escaped death during an encounter with Indians that killed 22 of his men. This service entitled him to additional land warrants in Lincoln and Jefferson Counties in Kentucky.

John Armstrong was a founding member of New Providence Presbyterian Church, which was originally located at the current site of New Providence Cemetery. The founders are honored by a plaque on the front of the current church building in Mercer County that reads:

"Erected in Honor of the Pioneer Fathers
 James McAfee George McAfee Robert McAfee Samuel McAfee
 James McCoun James McCoun, Jr. John Armstrong Wm. Armstrong
 James Buchanan John Lyon John McGee George McCoun"

John and Priscilla were not buried in New Providence Cemetery but in a family cemetery next to their Mercer County home near the McAfee community. Although four generations of Armstrongs occupied this home, it passed out of Armstrong hands in 1887. The current farm house is the result of additions and modifications to the original structure. The cemetery is no longer recognizable although a group of trees on the current property suggests its location.

CORRECTION: A previous record for John Armstrong noted a first wife, Catherine McDonald, the sister of Priscilla McDonald. This was based on the mention of "Catherine Armstrong" in the will of Bryan McDonald II, the father of these sisters. It now appears that Catherine was married to a different man named John Armstrong. Records suggest that this "other" John Armstrong was born in Ireland and died in Georgia.

Notes for MARY VINCENT TURNER:

James Mitchell Armstrong's wife was probably not named Mary Vincent Turner at birth. Shortly after the Civil War, she and her siblings were taken to a Catholic orphanage in New Orleans because the all adult members of the Turner family were dead. It is believed that her birth name was changed to "Mary Vincent" by nuns at the orphanage so she would be named for saints of the Catholic Church. The 1860 census for Alexandria, Louisiana lists three children for Rufus and Elizabeth Turner: a girl age 7 named Jane Ann, a girl age 5 named Nancy Jane, and an unnamed 2-month-old boy, assumed to be Richard Littleton Turner. If Mary Vincent Turner's birth year is 1855, she may have been the 5-year-old girl, although the recollection of family members is that she was the oldest child in her family. If the census names are correct, her birth name was either Jane Ann Turner or Nancy Jane Turner. The nuns changed her sister's name to "Elizabeth." One item that accompanied the three children to the orphanage was a deed to 200 acres of land owned by the Turners in Vernon Parish, Louisiana. The deed proved to be valid, and the land remained in Mary Vincent's family until sold in 1966.

Rockingham VA, and died 27 Dec 1909.

Notes for NANCY CAMELIA ARMSTRONG:

Letters written in 1929-1930 by 83-year-old "Nannie" Gibbons to her sister-in-law, Mary Vincent Armstrong, describe her life and remaining family in Lee's Summit, Missouri. Nancy was a widow and probably living with her bachelor brother, Thomas Armstrong, when the letters were written. Nancy and "Tommie" were the only children of Joseph and Charlotte Armstrong living at that time. Family members mentioned in the letters include John Kreeger, widower of her sister, Harriet Ann Kreeger, and Nancy Reid, daughter of another sister, Mary Priscilla Driskell. In one letter she writes:

"John Kreeger is very poorley was in the hospital several week but lately has been taken to an old folks home. They do not think he will ever get up any more. I have not been to see him for quite a while. It is a job for me to make the trip to Kansas City any way. I have to get Nannie Reid to go with me and she is very busy teaching art at night as well as day. I am so sorry for him. Some how he don't speak his words plain and that makes it hard to be understood."

That same letter also mentions Winifred Campbell Burdette of Berea, Kentucky, daughter of another sister, Emily Frances Campbell. She writes:

"Winnie Burdett sent me her D.A.R. papers. I had to acknowledge them before a notary public. One to be sent to Washington D.C. and for the chapter they are getting up at Berea. Said she thought her papers would be ready as soon as some of the others were. I had to sign that Joseph Armstrong was my father and that Winnies mother was my sister. I guess it was because I helped her get up her paper."
