From a letter written by Phoebe York Hale McCormick

John Nathaniel Hale came to this country from England and settled in North Carolina. He was a carpenter by trade. (author of letter has written the words My Dad's Grandpa Hale. Daddy was named after him." above the name)

It was in North Carolina that his son William Taylor Hale met Eliza Adeline Elzie, the daughter of William Elzie. William Elzie also came from England and settled in North Carolina. He was a blacksmith by trade. He made wagons shovels hoes, cowbells, and many other things and sold them by the dozens to diff. companies.

There were four children in William Elzie's family--Three girls and one boy. Adeline was feeding her baby sister some maple syrup one day and she strangled to death. This left two girls and one boy. Adeline was a very young girl when this tragedy happened, and she never did completely get over it.

Hale (born 1849)who married Hettie Russ and was the oldest son of William Taylor Hale and Eliza Adeline Elzie. James and Fannie Acuff had two sons and four daughters.

1. William Elsie Acuff(March 20, 1898- Aug 12 1981) married Ina Myrtle Waller(Nov 24 1904 - March 24 1981). They had six children 4 sons and 2 daughters.

1. Myrtle M. Acuff born & died May 5 1924

2. William Howard Acuff (1925-?) married Mary Taylor Samples

10. "Liberty Herald, Editor Will A. Vick, April 29, 1896," McMinnville, April 26--Two men were lynched in this county at an early hour this morning, making four in two weeks. The victims this time were William and Victor Hillis, two brothers who were confined in the jail on the charge of murdering old man Carroll Martin in Van Buren County in August 1894[5]. Just at midnight a mob of about fifteen men went to the jail in this place and some of them entered the jailer's bedroom before waking him, the door not being locked. They dragged the jailer from his bed and made him deliver the cell keys. The Hillis boys were taken from the cell, placed upon horses and carried five miles from town to Shellsford, where they were hanged to a small tree on the bank of the Collins River. The mob then proceeded on toward Van Buren County, from which they doubtless all came. One of the Hillis boys fought hard for his life and knocked one of the mob down with a bed slat before they got away from the jail with the boys. Carroll Martin was murdered at home in Van Buren County about nightfall one evening in August, 1894 [sic], his daughter and a grandchild also, both being shot and painfully wounded at the same time, the object being robbery, as it was known that he had a considerable amount of money in the house. Wm. and Victor Hillis had been tried for the murder twice, the first trial resulting in a hung jury, the second in January last, in conviction and death. The Supreme Court reversed the decision on a technicality and remanded the case for another trial. Circuit Court convenes one week from tomorrow, when the case would have come on for trial for the third time. The evidence against them was entirely circumstantial, but such a perfect chain that it leaves no reasonable ground for doubt of their guilt. There were rumors of a conspiracy to lynch them during the last trial, but after their conviction the matter died out and the people had forgotten about it. One of the Hillis boys leaves a wife and child and their father lives Van Buren Co..
