Notes for John Henry Joplin:

Census # 1880 Moniteau County MO Found John & Elizabeth liveing with Nancy mother and her childern by George Joplin,Who is John Joplin father.Who she married after William Geminden died 1853 - they had three daughter,George and Elizabeth had three chidern George William - Edward - Louisa. George died some time around 1868. He was not in the 1870 Census. Elizabeth and her family were in a rented house at Jamestown John was a farmer, Edward son of Elizabeth was liveing with his hafe- sister Martha Opitz and her family and working with his Uncle Mike as a shoemaker. Never found Edward after this census. John and Lizzie had son Herman in 1880 at Jamestown. I was told that John and Lizzie two son drowned in a pond at Johnson County Mo around 1895. { I belive to be Herman and Lenoard }

1900- Census John was back in Moniteau County, Missouri working on the Longan farm . He was a farm hand their three men on farm,one was a longan and John don't recall other person. I belive he died in moniteau. They say he left lizzie and the kids in Pettis County and got a cow{ I have herd the family Cow } to sell so he had monies for his trip. Back to Moniteau County , That is about twenty five miles from pettis county. The longan are his cousin on his mother side. They are family of the { Crum} No one seem to no why he left, his family all I have ever been told was that my grandmother Nancy Elizabeth was a very bull head woman,my be this was what it was about. She was hafe "German" In her day It was her way or no way. But I never, ever herd my dad or anyone of his brother and sister ever say one bad word about her. (Dad said they had hard times) I found some deed and some other records in the Moniteau Court house, about John Joplin my grandfather that I would like to share they will be record In his story. John or Nancy {Lizzie} never re - married, I do not think they were ever divorced. She had a son in 1895 called Frank Lancaster " she never married father" of Frank. This could be why she left John, or why he left, or never came back.

Notes for Laura Bella Joplin:

Aunt Laura and Elmer own the house where Laura, and her hafe-brother and his wife Dollie lived, and died.

Aunt Laura sold James her bother the lot where his house is next door to hers.

They had all live in Liberty Missouri on the Tallman farm after they left Pettis County . They all came to Kansas City, Kansas after they left Liberty, Mo. Where they moved, to make new home. Where they lived, over 50years. Sometimes we think them poor our you sure, we are not.

The road to Aunt Laura house was lined with trees, and few houses on a dirt road..... And you better hope It had not rain It got so mudie that you had to walk to her house. Looked just like old photographs of pioneers homes, there was not much done to improve this place in the next 60 years which modern people, accustomed to It was a place lost in time. { no plumbing and, just as amazing, no hurry. { Herman Joplin son of James and Addie Joplin live in this house up to the day Lawrence his brother place him in a nurseing home late 1980s . }

In the late '40s and early '50s As a result, I have memories of a way of life that most of my generation only read about. It's a bit as thought I had 30 to 40 years added to my life ---- only in reverse. It wasn't all idyllic. In winter, the only heat came from a coal stove,,,,,,,,, not enough to warm the whole house. Water was take from the spring down the hill to the house in a pale and I have seen ice in the pale in the winter, as a kid. There was a long- handled metal ladle to drink out of. And it hung by the pale in the kitchen. Do you remember when we all drank from the same ladle.? { They also made lots of their clothes, beautiful quilts and impossibly soft feather - bed mattresses. }

Everyone went to bed early. A trip to the outhouse on a cold, dark night was worse than no fun. But In the summer, we had so much fun In the wood's on our way to her house. The creek below her house we played to cool are selfs, you see we had no "pools" It took a kind of second - hand pride in the independence of my relatives. Most Americans once live that way. We Traded it in for fast food, VCRs and rush hour traffic. Was it worth It ? I have my doubts.

When shaving took a brave man

I recall in the late 40s and 50s watching my dad, shaving with a straight razor. It was a bit like surgery, with all the instruments laid out for the awe-inspiring operation. There was the shaving mug with its mold of soap in the bottom, a bristle shaving brush with a black handle and, of course, the razor, also with a black handle, and that gleaming, hardend, steel blade.

Before beginning the procedure, he"d whet the razor to increase its sharpness by running the blade back and forth over a leather strop. An old rag was placed nearby to wipe the soap and whiskers from the blade --- and to staunch the flow of blood when he cut himself. There was an art to shaving with this kind of razor

The blade and handle had to be held in a " V " at a 45 degree angle. With a bold, downward stroke, whiskers disappeared from my dad's face. Under his chin and around his, nose, he was especially careful, moving the razor in short choppy strokes. It was always a breathtaking experience, watching that lethal weapon move up and down his face.

No matter how practiced he was -- or any person who used a straight razor -- there was sure to be a slice to some tender skin, causing blood to drip or run. Many men used a styptic pencil to stop the flow. But my dad simply compressed a rag against the slice until the bleeding ceased.

Mr. Gillette is probably to blame for creating the shaving softies of today. He perfected a safety razor that only infrequently nicked the face. Shaving became easier and easier with the advent of Tefloncoated blades, platinum edges and double edges, multiple heads and ajustable surfaces, and the electric razor. The day of the bona - fide he- man is gone 1924- Buck said that she was a dancer on river boat on the missouri river.

Buck said she had a brother in Lansing Ks . I think this was in dad wild, days.

Now I no why dad would never let us play cards, he would just say we could not play, and get mad as hell. I don't think he new we would find all this out.

Notes for Susie Ann Inmon:

Remember When We had It So Poor :

When I was a child in the early 1950s, every day of the week had a special purpose at our house. Monday was wash day. Mom would separate piles for sheets, towels, underwear, jeans on the floor. Then she filled the tub of the wringer washer with buckets of hot water. That she had heated on the wood stove in the basement room, next to the washer. And she would cut up the soap up that she had made, some times we had store bought soap, and bleach. Mom started the electric agitator. Mom made the soap out of lard rendered from the fat of a butchered hog. She added lye and cooked it by her special recipe, then poured it into a flat pan. When it cooled, she cut it into square bars. The soap didn't smell very good, but it was used mostly for washing clothes. This "jelly soap" would dissolve better in the washing machine. Mom always had bright white sheets on the line.

First she would wash the sheets, Then she cranked the wringer and fed them through. {some times we got to help} The sheets went next into cold rinse water in the right-hand tub of galvanized double sink. { she had this big stick she use to push the sheets and other clothes in the water} She ran them through the wringer again before rerinsig them in the other tub to the left.

Mom washed everything in the same water, starting with whites and ending with dark colors. If she found a stubborn stain, she boiled it away in a large pot on the stove. The clothesline out back served as our dryer. I actually enjoyed hanging laundry on sunny days when the sweet smell of soap filled the air. { mom would let us help } In the winter, clothes had to freeze dry, and hanging them was a painful chore. If Mondays were rainy, she hung clothes in the basement, where drying took forever. And they were stiff. Her job was tougher then I thought. Mom always managed the daily needs of her family.

Monday evenings Mom sprinkled water on the clean, dry clothes that need ironing, rolled the damp pieces into cylinders and stored them overnight in the cold basement Tuesday was ironing day. Mom created steam by applying her hot flat iron to the damp clothes. Eventually she owned a modern steam iron. {that she got from the Jewell Tea Man}

Mom also relied on peddlers, delivery men and farmers who called at the door with fresh eggs and Vegies. From brooms , to brushes, exotic flavorings and notions without stepping past the screen door. Then there were the much - loved trucks of the Manor Baking Co. The little yellow vehicles rolled through the neighborhood filling it with the irresistible aroma of fresh baked goods.

She always done the mending and replaced the missing buttons, using ones from her button box collection. She stitched up simple tears; she would patched the knees of worn jeans. She darn the sock with holes. Mom never threw away a good piece of material, and she was an expert at altering and at making a new garment from old fabric.

She made rag rugs of old cotton materials and comforters out of wool scraps.

Mom, made quilt patches on treadle sewing machine, "for Quilts" she got a new singer that work better it was electric, mom always embroider pillow case, she made her own sheets.

Sometime during the week Mom would make bread for the week. We come in from school we would get a slice of bread with butter on it.

She was a great cook breads and homemade desserts and those biscuit . " I was about 13 teen and Mom left me in charge to watch her biscuits and they were burn a little MOM never let watch them again "

Mom always made soup in the winter, Bill my husband said that salt pork she cooked was something no one he ever new could cook it like her. Mom said she would stand on a box at five years old and washes dish and cook.

Mom mother was working in the cotton fields and would take her little brother{ Willie} with her. Mom came from the south and she new what work was. We have it so easy as to what she had it. My childhood passed in an orderly procession in Kansas City, Kansas. If we were not helping to pick berries for the jellies Mom made we were playing in the woods and playing in the stream up {it was very hot and to cool off } by Aunt Laura while Mom and Aunt Laura pick the berries. They paid little attention to us.

We didn't buy much food in tin cans. Mom and Grandma Heigal " her mother " and Aunt Laura would come over after the hard work of picking berrys and vegies

They sat on the front porch in the summertime and prepared vegetables for dinner, the noonday meal, and talked their talk. While they shelled black - eyed peas or cut up okra or peedled potatoes . I lounge about with my ears open, eager to hear their stories. Sometimes I was given the task of churning butter as I sat near them on the porch. {I can recall the Oleo from the store we would mix the little balls to make it yellow } Why is a look back so much more comforting than trying to look to the future?

From her headquarters, Mom herded my brother and sisters and me to the grade school, {Whitmore} movies, {Vox } church, the drugstore { Grantys} for cherry Cokes and the five-and-dime { Hansen }. Sometimes we caught the bus Downtown to Kansas City, Kansas where we bought perfect-fitting shoes. {Dad would sometime take us to Zef where he got are shoes he had no tast I no now he was trying to make them last us ,as they did not have to much money. } Mom would make are dress for school. At the end of the school year we would allways go to Grantys drug store for ice cream, Mr Granty all ways gave the school childern a treat on the last day of school. We bought are school supplies there. We allways had fun in the summer when school was out for the summer.

We stayed close to our Rosedale,{ in Kansas City, Kansas } neighborhood when I was growing up in the early 1950s. We didn't pay much attention to homes. They were pretty much alike: Playing was our real world. My brother , Johnny made scooters by fastening hafe a skate to the front of a 2 - by - 4 board and the other hafe to the back. Then he nailed a crate on front, with a piece of wood across that for handlebars. Marbles were a must, with the boys. They had sling shots to kept away any bad dogs.

We sailed rocks off the top of road, the dump with its adjacent creek below and Turkey Creek was between the railroad tracks made for good exploring { within sight of I - 35 today }. My brothers Charlie and Johnny and are friends and I spent many days playing in and on this meandering stream{ where ever they went I would tag along}.

We had a lots of fun then. Only vaguely aware of getting hurt. What we were aware of was that our neighborhood was a wonderful place, where people lived in harmony. I know Turkey Creek is still there. Most of the wooded areas have given way to I - 35. I don't know if the water is cleaner or more polluted. I do know we had an awful lot of fun on Turkey Creek. We never really swam in Turkey Creek, but we did do a lot of wading. The high wooded bluffs and meadows along this stream were great for playing.

Winter were colder, then they are now. When I was in school we would walk to and from school, I allways play in the snow, and would come home with my hand, balled inside wet, woolen mittens and jammed into the mended pockets of a coat that other little girls had worn to start school. My stocking were almost as wet as my cracked leather oxford. It takes time to walk around puddles. I lowered my head against the icy pellets and hurried toward home I scrambled up the walk and burst through the door. A nose tickling medley --- carrots, onions, potatoes, bayleaf--- wafted from the back of the cook-stove. I wasn't yet aware that mom's trips to the basement room for the products of last summer's garden were about to come to an end.

Crackling hedge stumps blazed in the heat stove. Mom hug my wet coat on the straight-back chair nearby. I rested my mittens side-by-side on the bottom rung, turned my shoes bottom-side-up near the heater, then nestled my icy toes into dry stocking, wating for me on the chair seat .

The security inside our house-- the wet woolens and leather drying, the good vegetable soup-- contrasted with the needle-pricks of rain and sleet outside, tapping at the windows. Is one of the family heirlooms bequeathed to me. And we have it so ruff. I, tell you their is no way I could do all this.

We made or got are toys from outdated catalogs, we cut out paper dolls from them, and if they weren't too full of holes, what was left would be used in the outhouse. We would read the funny papers" collected from Sunday editions of the city paper. Sometimes they even included a few comic books. We kid's handled and read these over and over until they were well - worn.

Each of us kids had very little toys, we made are own personal stuff.

There was no comparison to the number and value of the toys childern own today. And yet ,I still call my childhood the good old days.

Service are pending at Reising Funeral Home.

Marriage Notes for Robert Joplin and Susie Inmon:

Dad worked for Tobin Construction CO, and help build Waydote County Lake in Kansas City,Ks. Dad and his bothers work on the lake this is where on of the brother, {Emmett } who lost part of his hearing after a blast. We were liveing in argentine, at 1735 south 21th street at this time { where I, was born }. We moved from their to 1209 Federal Kansas City, Ks { Ann and Bob where born } . I, was four years old mom and dad bought the house they my have save from job at tobins to get it.

Dad and his brothers went in to hauling trash for a living. They say their were not any money in this,{ Deffenbaugh Disposal Service must have look at him, now} Dad would get some nice thing we would no get all new thing to wear, Only what mom would make or what dad got. Dad customer's new dad had kid's. My DAD and MOM had little money to spend on us I, on the other hand, was upset and did not understand. But I like to think that this made me strong, and I, do understand to day. I have made the necessary adjustments, with my life and family.

I, think dad could have told me a lot about this Joplin, family if I would have stay around . But I was to young and busy, I did not have the time, for that stuff I, allways kind of had the picture, that he wanted to give me what Iam looking for now. If only I, could have had the time, I, no now how he must have felt. Like I, did not care, I, guess he getting his time after all. I, would give all I, have for him, to say I, told you so. I, try to tell my childern now some do have the time, and other are to busy. But I, did talk to some, who are older then me, who don't care at all. They don't want to no about the past. But they do, try to help out.

Although slighly annoyed, that this arduous process took nearly one hour, the effort appeared worth it. Instead of, being blown out, of shape came out intact. And they were acually glad on the outside than in the middle of not understanding were they came from. Some ask me for a copy, when finished. Not only does this work but, Imagine ! asking me to come by the next time I was close by, Texas. You wouldn't belive the number of people who tell me to call, so-and-so. All in all, I have seem to be spending only a little extra time and have a lot more to show for it. Not only does this work, but the fun of listening to an inverted hailstorm of information about the Joplin, { who didn't want to talk. } Some told me story's they had long since forgotten. But knowing how to beginning is just as hard as asking, I was uncertain how to start. Some told me about thing's dad could not have told me.

My niece Alice Jecmen & husband Bob were here monday-she had your letter& adress. If you are still coming to Warrensburg or Sadalia we are only 30miles from Warrensburg & 25 from Sedalia MO. After husband died my oldest son & I, bought a house toghter. I, ask Alice if she had ever found out any information about mother father. {John Henry Joplin} When I was about 15 or 16 Aunt Rosie & Emmett came to see us and Rosie told mom an old man had been by & said he was Uncle Emmett father - he asked about all in family & allso about Grandma Joplin. She had died abt 2 - 3- year before that so he told Aunt Rosie he woundnot bother anymore. Of course my mother insisted her father had died long before this, but I, think she wanted to think he had died as, he never came to see her, And of course Grandma Joplin left, mom with the Lauderbacks when she was only, 6 or 7 years old. None of us ever knew why she left mom but it was allways something that mom would get upset about when asked. I v kept thinging I'd get up to see Lawernce & his" Jane" wife. Have 3 ,daughters one in south , K.C. 1, in Grandview, the other in, Buckner & works, Independence, MO. Lorena {my oldest sister} is in a nursing home at Carrolton, MO. of course she was like Uncle Robert - that someone in family ougert to take care of her. Tell Lawernce & wife hello for me and to come see me. I don`t drive so go when someone else want to go. I have a spare bedroom & you are welcome to come spend a night & we can talk about all the family. I m 67years old and don`t get around to good, Tell Lawernce and his wife hello for me - wish they would come and see me some time.

As ever Katherine {Owen} Jones

This story has to be right because they were in Sedalia MO {1900} with out Martha, And {1890} i could not find them at allin the census.They had been in Moniteau County MO from {1850} And Mark Joplin was there {1840} Cole County,was made in to Moniteau County.

{ This is so unreal, Robert Leroy Joplin , Daughter Helen live in Windsar about the same time., and Robert Jr family live at Calhoun Mo, some 25miles from there} So close and so fair away.

NEWS..... Montrose Students Memorialize teacher

By Sarah Day & Tasha Whitham of Montrose High

Recently, the community of Montrose suffered a great loss. On Monday, September 22, at 4.50 a.m. a beloved teacher passed away at Research Medical Center. His name is Joseph James Jones: but we know him as Mr. Jones. Not only was a teacher to many but he also a friend. He touched the lives of those he came in contact with. He devoted his life to making a difference in the lives of his students. He made it clear that he cared about the future of his students. He was proud and excited to see them succeed.

Mr. Jones encouraged all his students to do their best, be creative and to read. He loved to read. In fact, he donated his entire collection of books that he had acquired over the years to the Montrose School Library. Mr. Jones' family requested that each student be allowed to have a book for memories.

Mr. Jones taught High School English at Montrose for 16 years. He devoted his spare time to driving the school bus both to school and basketball games, directing school plays, and keeping score at basketball games. Mr. Jones also worked with some of the students. He constructed lures with Mr. Campbell and some students during the weekends.

There is a memorial fund set up in Mr. Jones' honor at the Montrose Savings Bank in Montrose.

Mr. Jones is someone we are going to greatly miss on our faculty, not only for his excellence & enthusiasm in the classroom but for his total dedication to students and the school community", commented Pat Cleveland, Superintendent. " He always willingly volunteered to fulfill any extra duty need that arose.

Administration, students and staff will continue to miss him as we attempt to carry on the projects which he had begun".

Notes for Robert Leroy Joplin, SR:

May 2, 1944 - Kansas City, Kansas Child Drowns in Creek- Body of Lorraine Joplin 3, From Turkey Stream. She wanders away from home at 1181 Seminary in absence of parents, Mr and Mrs Robert Joplin. About noon yesterday when Mrs. Enda Joplin 28 years old returned to her home att 1181 Seminary St. Kansas City, Ks after buying chicken feed she searched fruit-lessly for her 3 year old daughter Lorraine Bernice. The mother reported to police that the child was missing.

Lorraine's body was taken from Turkey Creek late yesterday afternoon. She had died of drowning. The body was wedged between stones, almost two miles from her home and about fifty yards from the entrance fo the creek to the Turkey Creek tunnel. The tunnel empties the creek into the Kaw River.

Found by worker Ira Golden Negro 315 Fisher St. saw the little girl's body as he returned from work at the Carnie-Gouldle Manufactory Co. He belived it might be a figure. When he told his mother, Mrs. Catherine Cheeks she went to the creek to investigate, she then notified police.

Lorraine is believed to have gone to the creek at its nearest point to her home which would be near Southwest Boulevard and Henning St. about three blocks away. High top shoes she wore when her mother left the home were gone. An abrasion on the child's forehead. W.R. Palmer, Wyandotte County coroner said likely was caused by a brush against one of the innumer-able stones found in the creek carried by current. Recent rains have swollen the stream and it is belived the current carried the child's body to the point where it was found.

Beside her parents Lorraine is survived by two sisters, Enda Marie 5, with whom she was left in her mother's absence and Helen 4 months. The father , Robert Joplin at present without steady empolymnt has passed the army physical examination and is waiting to be called into service. He was not home at the time of the child's disappearance.

Lorraine is buried at Maple Hill Cemtery Kansas City, Kansas.

Child Drowns In Creek- The Third Kansas City, Ks Victim In A Month Is A Girl, 3

The Body of Betty Joan Gochenour is taken from Turkey Stream Near Southwest Boulevard. Betty Joan was believed to have descended the bank leading to the creek at Henning St. and Southwest Blvd. about two blocks from her home at 1409 Southwest Blvd. It was at that point which marks the boulevard crossing the creek that Lorraine Bernice Joplin also 3, was believed to have approached the creek the afternoon of May 2, after walking from her home at 1181 Seminary St. Lorraine body was taken from the creek almost two miles downstream. The child mother Mrs. Gladys Gochenour said Betty Joan had been gone from vicinty of the only about fifteen minutes when she was told she had been found in the creek. Betty Joan last was seen by the mother seated on a storefront stoop a short distance from the home. The father Roy Gochenour is an employee of the Railway Express Co. He had not left his home for the night shift job when he learned his child has drowned. (The Joplin and Gochenour were friends, and lived two blocks from each other. Maybe they didn't wander away after all!)

Fall 1953 Kansas City, Kansas News paper- Fire Destorys A Home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Joplin and six children lose heavily. Their home destroyed by fire, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Joplin and their six children were spaced around with relatives and friends last night while the father sought some refuge for the entire family. The house at 506 Adams St. Kansas City, Ks burned Saturday Night. A neighbor, Mrs. R. V. Frias 115 Rainbow Blvd. was taking care of the smaller children. But she said there were no clothes for the family and not even food has been saved. They were lucky even to have gotten out, Mrs. Frias said. She said the oldest Marie Joplin 14, had carried out three smaller children, smoke and flames about her as she ran in and out of the two room tar paper dwelling. By the time fireman had arrived from the NO.12 station the small home was completely afire. They set the loss at $200.00 on the building and $ 500.00 on contents. Mr. and Mrs Joplin were at the grocery store at the time and saved the clothing they were wearing, but the children had nothing. Mrs. Frias said. She listed the younger ones as Helen 8, Robert 7, Barbara 6, Arthur 4 and Martha 6 months.

Kansas City, Kansas, Aug, 19 - 1954 CHILDREN NOT IN RIVER, AFTER ALL-----Two children gave police officers and parents some anxious moments yeasterday afternoon when it was belived they may have fallen from the East Kansas Ave bridge into the Kaw River. The children, Barbara Joplin 7, and a freind identified by Barbara as Michael Helm were playing near the bridge and decided to cross the river via a narrow catwalk being used for construction work beneath the bridge. Barbara's mother, Mrs Robert L. Joplin of 512 Cheyenne, thought the youngsters were playing in the back yard until she called Barbara to come to dinner. Then the search began. A neighbor told Mrs Joplin that he had seen children playing near the bridge. When the search party arrived at the river they spotted two dogs, owned by the Joplins perched on one of the bridge piers near the west end. Their fears mounted when the dogs would not leave their post when called. Police searched along the cat-walk looked into the river, then decided to take a look on the top of the bridge. Barbara and Michael were seated contentedly on one of the railings. They said they "just wanted to see the work on the bridge." The bridge is being raised and widened. Michael, a resident of the Rosedale district, had gone to school with Barbara in that district before her family moved to 512 Cheyenne a short time ago.

MEMORIAL
CHARLES W. JOPLIN

Charlie spent nearly half his life working for Reintjes & Hiter.

The hoses he made are installed throughout the World and they are in most major buildings in Kansas and Missouri.

When I met Charlie 23 years ago, my first impression was he was cantankerous and stubborn. My second impression was he was cantankerous and stubborn and proud of it ! It didn't take long to realize people were a little intimidated by this man. The Shop was his domain and one entered carefully.

I ask Joe Reintjes why he got away with this and Joe said " He's a very good welder and regardless of what he says, he never lets you down". Everyone who worked with Charlie knew if you told him a hose was needed in an hour, he'd tell you it would take two; but invariably 30 minutes later he would call to say it was ready. He just liked to see us sweat !

Through the years I came to see a different side of Charlie. I came to know a man I would call " Friend". Many of you have stories of the man who walked on the wild side and I certainly have not been oblivious to that side of him. But mainly I shared the more serious side of Charlie's life. A life that seemed to have more than it's fair share of difficulties. Charlie and his family new heartache and at times he faltered, but he never gave up. I think the tough times in his life gave him a lot of insight and understanding of people. He was always quietly looking out for the people who worked with him. If you had a bad word to say about someone, Charlie could always counteract it with a good one.

If you were his friend, he was going to protect you. You could count on Charlie. We had an employee who wasn't doing a very good job and who had shown some signs of violence towards other employees. I knew I needed to let him go, but kept putting it off, as I was afraid of his reaction. I told my husband, Dean about my concerns and he asked how many blows could the guy get in before Charlie could get through the door. Somewhat confused I told him " One, maybe two ". He told me I could survive that and to just get with Charlie and take of the matter. When the time came, the man didn't lose control and I walked out of the office with my nose still intact. There was Charlie, standing guard - he asked if I was OK and then quietly went back to work. It wasn't a big thing to Charlie, but it was to me - I felt very secure knowing he was there for me.

My final impression of Charlie was of a man who was cantankerous, stubborn, had a dry sense of humor, was very loyal and a man you could trust. These qualities form the essence of a man I hold close in my heart and called " Friend " .

Notes for Jean Ann Mitchell:

May 6,1981 Letter from Alice Jecman

Dear Mary Carr,

I am sorry that it has taken me so long to answer your letter but I have been just having such bad health this winter that I got very little extra things done. I have not been able to get much on either the Joplin or Von Geminder people. Now I no part of the reason. I was told the family was either Kommender or Commender. My grandmother was a Joplin but as you probably already know she lived with the Lauderbacks. Here are the notes from Grandma Martha Ann Joplin Owen and her daughter Lorena. I will not accept these as fact until I have proven them, but they may be considered family legend. {Elizabeth} was christened, Nancy Elizabeth. her father owned a grist mill at Warrensburg. { William Jacob Von Geminden never live at Warrensburg he was a Miller buy trade but at Jamestown, Mo never own a grist mill } Martha Ann, several times mentioned two Aunts Martha and Mary. Her grandmother was an Irish woman { German and ? unsure about { Irish} is Martin, Irish? } is that what Nancy Elizabeth mother was?. She had a Uncle Mike { Opitz} who was a Shoemaker, see story. She said the {Comminders } Geminden were from Holland{ Un sure Census says Germany} I was told he was 88years old when he died, not true. { Alice has John Henry as John Edward, when in fact the 1880 Census of Jamestown Mo states that Edward is a step- brother of John, and a son of Geoger and Elizabeth {Martin- Geminden who was 1st wife William Jacob } Joplin. Edward live with Martha his-step sister, and her husband Mike Opitz, and he taught Edward, the trade of shoemaker in the census it was stated. Martha Ann Joplin {Owen} told her family that Nancy Elizabeth {Lizzie}Joplin, refused to move with her husband John, to another town so he could get work. She wouldn't leve her friends and go with him. He was suppose to have sent money and letters but she { I believe} sent them back unopened or destoryed them. Frank was her, son by a man named Lancaster,{there is a township in moniteau county, named, Lancaster could this be why she called him Lancaster.} never found any, { Lancaster in Sedalia MO in the 1900 Census or before that.} She {LIZZIE} told my mother, Alice Owen that she never divorced her husband John, and she always went by the name Joplin as far as I know. She placed my grandmother, Martha Ann Joplin, out with Dan And Dave Lauderback and the Billy Williams families when she was only 9 years old. They lived at Dover, Missouri and she was baptised in the Christian Church around 1893 or 1894.

This is all of my notes, you can see they leve much to fill in Sinceraly Alice Jecman
