Notes for Robert William Stanfill Hinson:

Three miles west of Hohenwald lies a community known as Highland. In 1936 three families were living in the community: the Deavers, the Smiths, and the Andersons. The Andersons built the first house on what we now know as Garrison Road. John and Irma Smith built a log cabin on Old Linden Highway. Their daughter, Ruth, married the Andersons son, Owen.

In the 40's, Stanfill and Annie Hinson ran a small store where the Mercer land is now. Stanfill moved his business further down the road and they lived in the back of the store.

Stanfill and Annie's oldest son, Raymond, remained on Garrison Road, except for 6 years, until his death. His wife Kathleen lived there until her death and several of the children have remained.

Other Hinson family members soon moved into the community: Stanfield sisters and brother, Rushton, Alice and Delphia.

Many new faces have been added to the community and many old faces have long since departed this life, but to those of us who grew up on Hinson ridge the memories will always be with us....parts of this research was from Highland Community Cookbook.
