There is a Jonathan Turley listed in the 1840 census of Mason County. ( Roll 568, Book 1, pg 234a ). The household includes:

one male between 40 and 50
one female between 20 and 30.
no children.

Jonathan would be 47, and his wife Nancy 24.

Since none of Jonathan's known children are born until 1840 and later, this is a possible match.

Putnam county was formed in 1848, from portions of Mason Kanawha and Cabell counties.

Many photos from Dekalb County, Illinois relatives refer to "Grandpa Richard Turley", e.g., showing him with Eunice Melton, Henry Melton in Illinois. Although he was known as "Dick" his name was not Richard.

Fred McCallister ( 5/6/2004)

When the depression of 1929 hit, Beniah and his wife, Sara Ann Wright Turley had saved a little money and had it in the Winfield Bank. The bank went broke and he lost almost all his money. Benaiah came the next fall, 1930 and worked for my father. He had a canning factory and canned fruit and vegetables in tin cans and sold it in St. Albans & Charleston WV. Benaiah Turley strung green beans for over a month and never had a day off. My brothers remember his faithfulness to his work

My "gut feeling" is that Beniah H. Turley's mother was Mary Jane McCallister. No proof, just thinking that way.

My brother "Ock" told me a story that he had been told by older family members that involved Beniah Turley. He was a teenage boy when the Civil War broke out. His Uncle John McCallister was working for a Mr. "Mel" Brown. It was July / August and they were making hay. Beniah was sent the 6 to 8 miles from home on horseback to tell John that his call had come to report for duty in the Militia. Since they didn't have a man to spare in the hay making process, Beniah stayed with Mr. Brown and John went to the Civil War. Beniah just stayed on with Mr. Brown until he was married. He married a woman that lived next door to the Brown farm. She was older than he, but they reared a family together and seemed to get along fine.

Electa (Turley) Harmon ( 4/22/2004 ):

"Grandpa's name is Beniah Hutchinson and he always signed his named B.H. Turley. He was never called by anything but 'Dick'... He died in Nitro, WV at our house... When Mother's mother ( Sarah Ann ) died, in Oct 1916, Grandpa came to live with my parents on a farm ( Scary WV ). I was 16 mo old. He was 69 and able to help my father with the work. When I was 5, my father died ( heart attack ). Mother knew she couldn't make it on the farm, so she moved to the nearest town ( St. Albans WV ) and was a dressmaker for 5 years. That was before the days of 'clothing off the rack' and well-to-do ladies had a dress-maker. At that time, St. Albans was a railroad town and the wives of the railroad officials had more money than the average.... Benaiah is a Bible name and would be easy to look up ( 2 Samuel Chap 8 Verse 18 ). Benaiah was the captain of King David's bodyguard"

"Grandpa was very neat and orderly about everything. I remember when he cut grass, how perfect it was trimmed. He ate healthy and he wasn't a big eater. He loved cheese and crackers, oatmeal, rice ( ate it like a cereal, with milk & sugar ) apples, coffee with crumbled biscuit in it. I wonder now why he never talked about his childhood, growing up & etc."

"I remember being told he was an only child and his mother either died at his birth or not long after. I never remember hearing the parents' names ( Somewhere in my memory is "Pauline" as her last name, but who ever heard of that as a last name ). Grandparents and family members raised him.

"Grandpa had a trunk he kept his possessions in, and whenever the notion struck him, he would call the depot, someone would pick up his trunk and ship it to Illinois ( Kingston ) or Holden, WV. He never announced ahead of timethat he was thinking of going. Our house was his headquarters and he never stayed any great length of time. Mother always said it was because there wasn't any son-in-law at our house."

"Grandpa was a small man, maybe 5'6" and I doubt if he every weighed more than 140 pounds. "

"Grandpa had a small savings in the Putnam County Bank ( I think it was "The Bank of Winfield" ). Like may banks and businesses in 1929, this bank went broke. He lost what little he had. I can remember how upset he was. He cried."

2 Samuel Chap 8, Verse 18:

" and Benai'ah the son of Jehoi'ada was over the Cher'ethites and the Pel'ethites; and David's sons were priests. "

2 Samuel Chap 23, Verse 20-23:

" And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man, of Kabzeel, who had done many acts, he slew two lionlike men of Moab: he went down also and slew a lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow: And he slew an Egyptian, a goodly man: and the Egyptian had a spear in his hand; but he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear. These things did Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and had the name among three mighty men. He was more honourable than the thirty, but he attained not to the first three. And David set him over his guard. "

Notes for SARAH ANN WRIGHT:

Notes by Celeste Turley Weekley

"I wish I knew more to tell you about Grandma Turley. Her maiden name was Sarah Jane Wright. She was born in England, but I don't know where. She used to sing to me - says she learned in England. One was "After the Ball was Over". Must be where my father got his gift ( he would see a show, and come home and sing every song, and do the dances to entertain us."

"Grandma was a good housekeeper with always a batch of cookies for tea. She loved pretty things - dishes, jewelry, fabrics, pictures, clocks. Though she had few 'valuables', she took time to enjoy them and care for them."

"I can remember rugs she sewed, and the big balls of cut strips with which she made them. Of course she made butter - churning it ( often Grandpa churned ) and printing it from molds"

"During or just after the Civil War when they were both young ( Grandpa was 14 I believe when it began ). Grandpa worked and saved his 50 cents a day wages for a whole week to buy Grandma a calico dress. Although they were poor, they had a good life together, with appreciation for the good things and quick to find humor in the simple ordinary events of the day."

"I have very happy memories of trudging with Ernest over dirt roads, big stones - climbing wooded hills - braving heat or cold or rain or snow - to get to their home wherever they lived - Little Hurricane, Winfield, Bills Creek - the warm welcome we always got, and how every minute of this visit of sometimes 3 or 4 days was interesting. The beds were so clean and comfortable, the old furniture quaint. We went to the pastures and helped drive home the cows, milked them, put away the milk in the cellar, caught the horses, helped Grandpa harness them and hitch them to the wagon or plough. Saw Grandpa in the spring, turn the moist furrows of shiny black earth, helped plant corn, wheat, beans, potatoes, etc, pumpkins; then in the fall saw them gathered, and tasted their goodness on the table. It was rich and good and full of fun at Grandma's house."

"Grandma had one piece of jewelry she always wore - a gold brooch she brought from England ( I think ). It was large, and it shows in her pictures. She used to unpin it, and let me hold it, and talk about leaving it some day to one of us."

"Grandma's panacea for good health was two glasses of water before breakfast. She died in October, 1915 ( I believe that is correct ) in Winfield, WV, of a sudden heart attack."

Lucille Melton Bockman's remembrances:

"Grandma had blonde hair, and a very fair complexion. I remember the most about her place by a creek with a large hill across the creek in front of the house. They had a path across the end of the garden from a gate at the kitchen porch. There was every of kind of flower on each side of that path, against the picket fence and on the side next to the vegetables. In the middle of the garden was another path across the garden, near the back door of the living room with flowers on both sides of that path. The garden had a white picket fence all around it. The house yard had a white board fence around it, to the picket fence around the garden, and a good well at the right end with a gate there, going to a path to the barn 1/2 block up the creek."

"Uncle Fred lived another 1/2 block on the other side of the barn. There Ernest and Ernestine were born. At the left hand corner of the yard was a case made of plank, and sod growing all over it except the door at the lower side next to the front fence and the highway. There was a door from the front porch at the living room with a path to the front gate. There was a vine to the second story window over the dining room that had little potatoes one inch long to the top of the vine and a puff ball vine by the porch going to the front gate. There was flowers all around the house, a pansy bed, several kinds of roses, a snow-ball bush, and a lilac bush on either side of the path going to the front gate. There was a fireplace in the dining room and living room and in the parlor with lamps and vases on all 3 mantles. One vase on the dining room mantle was always filled with lamplighters, made of different colored paper."

"Grandma had one sister, Mary Nichols, who lived at Buffalo, WV. We visited there once when Haidee was a baby. Later they moved to Chester, near Wheeling."

"Grandma had 3 brothers, two marched off in blue one marched away in gray. The one in gray never came home. Their mother died before the two came home. Those 2 went squirrel hunting with two neighbors, and when they cut the tree down, one of Grandma's brothers sat down against a large tree to hold the little dog. The tree they cut broke a large limb off of the tree he sat against; he was killed instantly. The other brother went to Butte, Montana. One of his sons, about 24 years old, came to see Grandma in 1903. His name was Zuas (?). I don't know his father's name. He brought a camera and took a picture of each family as he visited a few days at each home. Grandma's brother wrote to her they belonged to the Mormon Church"

"After Grandma passed away, Grandpa used to visit my mother at Mazon and later at Kingston. Grandpa had tin-type pictures of Grandma's brothers. One was Arvil, one was Gad. Grandpa thought a lot of Grandma's brothers. Grandpa passed away at Aunt Rena West's house in Charleston. Mamie would be the only one that would bother to save the tin types. I think Mamie would send them to Alfreda to see. Grandma and her sisters was about the size of Aunt Emma Reece."

Electa (Turley) Harmon's remembrances:

"I find it hard to believe that Sarah Ann Wright Turley was blonde... All her children that I saw had dark hair. I never saw a blonde in the family anywhere - most were fair skin and blue eyes."

"I have a low home-made chair about 30" to the top back - 15" legs. It was in the Reece garage in Holden for many years. I never heard anything about it until we ( Alfreda, Clarence & I ) visited Pauline and Kathleen when they lived in Logan. They had moved this chair from the Holden home when it was razed to make room for the new road - Corridor G. Pauline said Grandpa brought the chair to their house years before. She offered it to us if we wanted it. I brought it home, removed the broken reed seat, stained the wood and had a new woven seat made. Then Alfreda & I started thinking about why Grandpa would attach such significance to an old broken down chair. We came up with this: When Grandma, Sarah Ann, died in 1916, it was early in the morning and Grandpa was out feeding the stock. When he came inside, he found Grandma sitting in a chair with one shoe on, and she was dead. It was several years after I had the chair restored that I learned from an old man who was a furniture maker and dealt in antiques that "way back when" all households had a low chair where women of those could sit to lace up their high top shoes. I feel sure this chair was where Sarah Ann was sitting when she died and that is the reason Grandpa kept it."

"I have an entirely different story about the brooch that Sarah Ann had. The way I heard it, when one of her brothers returned from the Civil War, he brought her this pin. I doubt if it was anything valuable. She had very little of this world's goods and treasured it. After she died and Grandpa lived with us, he wanted to give the pin to one of the granddaughters, but was undecided which one. He decided the way to settle it would be to give it to the youngest, which was me. My mother, Haidee, had strange ideas about many things and she did not want anything of her mother's around to remind her of her mother. I expect anyone else would have been happy to have it. The next trip Grandpa took to Illinois, he gave the pin to Eunice. I have wondered what ever happened to it."

Married at Richard Turleys by Sebat Warden( sp? ) of M. E. Church on 26 August, 1890 - from marriage license. Although Hester's father, Benaiah Hutchinson Turley, had a nickname of "Dick", his name wasn't Richard. It looks like the clerk recording the marriage embellished.

Marriage Notes for GEORGE TURLEY and ARIZONA JORDAN:

microfilm # 0567389-0567394

The marriage was held at the home of her father, "Ely Jordan" by Sebart Narden ( same minister as for Hester Turley )

In the 1900 census, only 1 child survives of 3 born to Arizona and George.

More About GEORGE TURLEY and ARIZONA JORDAN:

Marriage: September 23, 1891, Mason County, West Virginia<sup>8</sup>

Children of GEORGE TURLEY and ARIZONA JORDAN are:

- i. ERNEST CHARLES<sup>6</sup> TURLEY, b. October 1899, West Virginia; d. August 09, 1925, Roane County, West Virginia.

Notes for ERNEST CHARLES TURLEY:

Named as Charles Ernest Turley in Providence Church cemetery, but as E. Charles Turley, son of George and Arizona in 1900 census. Since the cemetery contains:

TURLEY Charles Ernest b 1899 d 1925
TURLEY George Frederick (Husband) b 1870 d 1915
TURLEY Arizona Jordan (Wife) b 1871 d 1920
TURLEY Beniah Hutchins on (Husband b 1847 d 1932
TURLEY Sarah Ann Wright (Wife) b 1840 d 1916

it seems probable that E. Charles Turley and Charles Ernest Turley are the same son.

A death certificate from WV Vital Records shows a Charles Ernest Turley, single, occ: farmer, d. Aug 9, 1925, buried in Winfield, WV Aug 11, 1925. Death location was the state hospital in Spencer, Roane County, with Typhoid fever as the cause. Undertaker: Vandale Undertaking, Spencer, WV. The attending physician stated he had attended the deceased from Apr 24, 1923 thru Aug 9, 1925.

Note: The death year matches the headstone in Providence Church cemetery, as does the burial location of Winfield. But the parents, date of birth, birthplace and age are not listed.

Note: A description of Spencer hospital at <http://www.pa-roots.com/~roane/history/spencerstate.html> says:

"... Some of the disorders patients were admitted for were alcoholic excess, overwork, senility, hereditary insanity, worry, ill health, head injuries, syphilis, epilepsy, paralysis, morphia, cocaine use, cholera, disease of the uterus, pneumonia, bereavement, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and childbed fever. "

So it looks likely that he caught typhoid and was sent there to be isolated.

In the 1900 census for R. Berriah Turley, E. Haidee Turley is listed as being single and born in 1872.

In a letter from Alfreda Turley Schowen to Bertha Greenhow Melton, dated April 18, 1961, Alfreda says:

"..We haven't seen the Reece girls for so long. We just can't get them 'budded' in this direction. I guess there is too much going on at home. Dolly or Kathleen was critically ill this winter. I don't know whether she is back at work or not. There is always some one in their family sick..."

Notes for ARIZONA CELESTE TURLEY:

This is the "Celeste Turley Weekley" who wrote the remembrances of grandmother Sarah Ann (Wright) Turley.

from Electa (Turley) Harmon:

"Celeste was a teen ager when her father died and they had very little. It don't know about early schooling, but she went to Alderson - Broaddus College in Philippi, WV and worked and lived there, graduating in 1924. I've heard her say she couldn't afford to go home even on holidays and stayed at school, going to the homes of the faculty. She had a natural artistic ability - drawing, painting and then sculptures. There is a sculpture "The Student", on the campus at Alderson - Broaddus, which was dedicated in 1984 when the 114th year of the school was celebrated. Celeste was commissioned to do this sculpture to celebrate the school's "year of the student"."

"Bill Weekley spoke five languages and was an Interpreter. The house where they lived in West Nyack, NY was on the historic Homes Register. Alfreda & Clarence visited them there. Clarence, an avid photographer, took lots of pictures while there. Later he and Alfreda were taking these photos to show Celeste's cousin, Garnet Melton, in Charleston. He put them on top of the car while loading. He left them there and they were never heard from again. He searched, ran ads, but to no avail. The negatives were also with the pictures."

From her Social Security application, dated Feb 28, 1956:

Arizona Celeste Turley Weekley, residing on No Green Bush Road, West Nyack, New York, age 54, born Nov 11, 1901 in Charleston, Kanawha County, West Virginia. Her father was given as George Frederick Turley and her mother as Arizona Earnestine Jordan. She was employed by Columbia University, Lamont Lab. Employer's address: Torrey Cliff, Palisades, New York.

Notes: The Lamont Lab was founded in 1948; it is a research division of Columbia Univ dedicated to earth sciences.

The program for the Alderson-Broaddus College of Philippi, West Virginia for Sept 6, 1984 featured Celeste Turley Weekley's sculpture, "The Student", on the grounds of the college:

"Celeste Turley Weekley was born in Charleston, West Virginia, and graduated from Broaddus Academy in 1924. She attended Bucknell University, Montclair State Teachers College, and Teachers College, Columbia University. She became Director of Religious Education at the People's Home Church and Settlement House in the East Side slums under an appointment by the New York City Methodist Board of Missions. A Baptist, she later became Director of Education Activities at Judson Memorial Baptist Church in New York's Greenwich Village where she worked mainly with Italian immigrants."

"Celeste married William George Weekley in 1930, whom she had known as President of the Presbyterian Young People's Society in the Park Avenue Church of Dr. Henry Emerson Fosdick. They lived for a time in the old Mark Twain House on lower Fifth Avenue. In response to the economic and social problems of the stock-market crash, the Old First Presbyterian Church of Fifth Avenue at Twelfth Street began a series of free programs for the unemployed, including a class in sculpture taught by Alexander Finta, a renowned Hungarian sculptor who had carved white marbles for Rodin in Paris."

"Celeste was admitted to the class over thirty-eight other persons on the waiting list after "trying out" for Finta on a lump of clay. She went on to win first prize at the Spring Exhibition and later edited Alexander Finta's autobiography, "My Brother and I" which was published by Harpers. The Weekleys offered courses to the unemployed in a program sponsored by New York's Central Presbyterian Church where Bill ran a poetry workshop and Celeste served as Directory of the program and taught beginners' sculpture."

"The Weekleys moved to the Burrough of Queens and finally settled in West Nyack, then a rural community north of New York City, where Celeste was soon offering not only classes in sculpture but other programs and exhibits in art and culture as well. The Weekleys have one daughter, Rosemary, who was a student of piano, harp and dance, studying with Martha Graham, and graduating from New York's School of Performing Arts. Rosemary performed with the New York City opera, in many Broadway hits, and joined the American Ballet Theatre."

"Student is dedicated to Celeste's parents, George Frederick and Arizona Jordan Turley, and to her husband William George Weekley, who passed away in December of 1983. Bill was born in England, tutored in languages as a child, and studied at Dijon University in France and Heidelberg University in Germany. He was a production engineer in the deHavilaand airplane factory in England, transferring to Curtis-Wright in the United States. He had many talents, including the publication of a best-seller, "The Ledger of Lying Dog", reprinted in paperback under the title, "Castaway Island".

"Celeste's objective has been to make in 'Student' a long-living, serene and tranquil monument to the Christian ideals and principals still living and ongoing at Alderson-Broaddus College - a testimony to the love of learning and the motivation to seek and discover truth, beauty and good - and to nourish their development in current and future students. Celeste works in the tradition of Michealangelo and Rodin, and treasures, she says, the 'giants in creative thinking and spirit who peopled the Alderson-Broaddus Campus in her student days on Battle Hill' overlooking the Tygart Valley River in the little town of Philippi, West Virginia."

Notes for INEZ IRENE CHAPMAN:

Genoa-Kingston-Kirkland News, June 2001:

"Melton named Kirkland's Citizen of the Year"

"Inez Melton still was absorbing the news of her selection as Kirkland's Citizen of the Year at the Kirkland Chamber of Commerce welcoming luncheon June 6. She kept looking around her in bemused wonder."

"I really didn't expect this at all", Melton said. "I didn't find out about this until just last night, when my neighbors came over and told me. They wanted to be sure I came."

Melton recently retired from working at the Kirkland Post Office for 29 and one half years and is a familiar face to almost everyone in Kirkland.

Her neighbors are some of her biggest fans.

"Long before she retired, she's been taking care of all of us, her neighbors", said Melton's next door neighbor, Arlene Myers. As she spoke, several of her other neighbors and family members nodded in agreement.

"Shortly after we moved in to our house, Inez had a number of people at her house for a family event and some of them were sitting on her front porch", Myers continued. "These all were people I didn't know, of course, including Inez, because we had been busy moving in."

"So I sent over and asked them who lived her, just to find out who my new neighbor was, and Inez said, 'I am'. We had a really nice chat and then I asked her what she did as far as working was concerned. She never said they worked at the post office but instead she told me, "I take care of my neighbors and she does exactly that."

"If someone's sick in the neighborhood, she'll make a meal and take it over to them or she'll but a little top or an outfit for a little one somewhere or she'll run an errand for someone who can't make it out. She's always asking if she can pick up something for any of us when she goes to the grocery store. Inez is always doing things like that. She's a real treasure."

Scott Drexler, president of the Kirkland Chamber of Commerce, said presenting the award to Melton was no surprise to him."

"If ever there was anyone worthy of such an award, it's Inez", Drexler said. "She's shown she cares deeply for others and her family, friends and neighbors all attest to that. We're honored that she lives here in Kirkland."

Melton received an engraved plaque from the chamber.

"It's a nice plaque, but I really don't do things for recognition", she said. "If someone's in need, I'll help if I can." In spite of her retirement, Melton said she'll keep tending to her neighborhood. "It's not really work, you know, it's just a matter of caring for your neighbors", she said. "Besides, why wouldn't you?"

Marriage Notes for RAYMOND MELTON and INEZ CHAPMAN:

Apr 24, 2005 ( published in church newsletter ):

"Ray & Inez Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary"

"It looked like in the picture as if no one showed up, but that was certainly not the case! Nearly 180 friends, neighbors and family members came to celebrated the Golden Wedding anniversary of Ray and Inez Melton. Ray commented that "it seems like a lot of fuss" but he seemed to enjoy visiting. Inez too enjoyed visiting with those they have lived near over the past 50+ years. The food was great, the fellowship was a treat. It was great just to have the opportunity to visit!"

"Congratulations Ray and Inez!"

"Ray and Inez Melton would like to thank everyone for the wonderful timey that they had on Sunday for their 50th Wedding Anniversary Party. The want to especially mention all the wonderful church men & women that worked in the kitchen to make the party go smoothly. Friends are a great commodity and sometime we tend to forget just how much they mean to us."

I know of one in Denver CO in the 1960's. It was located on W. Colfax, somewhere between Lowell and Sheridan. At that time I was a dispatcher for Yellow Cab. The Crittenton Home was a large account; They used our cabs to transport their residents to and from doctor appointments.

Human Services 6795 E. Tennessee Ave, Suite 600, Denver Colo, 80224

"One of the programs of Human Services Inc is the Florence Crittenton Center for Young Families. For many years, this program was known as the Florence Crittenton Home for Unwed Mothers.

I have searched through the records for the year 1926. For this time period, only the log book recording basic information has survived. I can confirm that there was a Beulah Crook who gave birth on February 2, 1926 at the home to a male baby."

Company newsletter, "Stromberg-Carlson transmitter"

"Sidney Crook"

"Field experience in XY installations led to Sidney Crook's appointment as a National Sales Engineer early in 1953. In January of this year, his services were requested by the Chicago Branch as territorial sales engineer, with the states of Iowa and Illinois as his special responsibilities."

"Before joining Stromberg-Carlson, Sid took Engineering at the University of Kansas City, then worked for the St. Louis division of Western Electric company as an installer. For two years after this, he was an installer for the United Telephone Co. of Missouri."

"Sid will be remembered for his work on the Stephenville, Texas, XY System and also at Evansville, Minn., where he was installation foreman. At several other locations, he made additions to present dial systems."

"In 1952 he was married to Lois Crook of Genoa, Ill. They are now living in Bellwood, Illinois, on the western edge of Chicago."

"For the next six weeks she will attend classes, all taught in the Russian language, which will stress phonetics, conversation and grammar. She is especially looking forward to informal meetings with Soviet students, writers, actors, artists and poets and visits to cultural sights in Leningrad as well as overnight visits to nearby cities."
