Notes for Amos Wilson Bemis:

[The Mormons in San Bernadino:468]

Amos Wilson Bemis was about eight years of age when the family left New York state. He lived at various places with his parents, brothers and sisters, ever moving westward until they arrived in Iowa. After the death of his father the family went to Kanesville, Iowa, a Mormon outfitting station, where they joined an emigrant company across the plains. Amos, being the eldest son, with the help of two brothers, worked on ranches in that vicinity until they had earned enough to purchase an outfit for the trek. After the arrival of the family in Utah they moved to Ogden where, in 1853, Amos married Julia McCullough of New York state on April 17th.

[Bright:3]: 3. When Amos Wilson Bemis was 8 years of age, the Bemis family moved to Ohio and in 1844 to Lee County, Iowa, where the father died three years later.

4. The family lived in Iowa three years after the death of the head of the family, and in 1851 the mother, with seven sons and three daughters, started for California overland. They did not come through to California, but spent two winters in Ogden, Utah, where Amos Bemis was married to Miss Julia McCullough of New York State.

Notes for Julia Frances McCullough:

[The Mormons in San Bernadino:468]

Julia Frances McCullough was born July 26, 1835 in Evins, Eire county, New York, the daughter of Levi Hamilton McCullough and Clarinda Bartholomew. The McCullough family moved to Michigan and in 1843 joined the Latter-day Saints in Nauvoo, Illinois. On June 26, 1846, came the call for the Mormon Battalion and Julia's father joined. She was then twelve years of age but the hardships her mother went through, being left with four small children, the baby only eight months old, Julia remembered well. Five months before her father returned, her mother and baby sister died and the children were placed in different homes. When Mr. McCullough returned to his family December 8, 1847, he learned of the tragedy which had befallen him. The following spring he brought the remaining members of his family to Utah, first settling in Weber Valley, and later in Fillmore Millard county.

Julia married Amos Bemis in 1853. In 1854, she and her husband moved to San Bernadino, California, and all of her ten children were born there. Mrs. Bemis was a resident of San Bernadino for forty eight years. She passed away June 3, 1902.

Notes for Nancy Agusta Bemis:

[The Mormons in San Bernadino:469-70]

Nancy Agusta Bemis became the wife of Joseph Hancock, August 21, 1849 at Council Bluffs, Iowa. Two children were born to them while living there, Alvin B., January 13, 1850 and Elenorah, March 19, 1851. That same year they began the trek to Utah where Joseph's uncle, Joseph Hancock, Sr., resided, he having come in 1847.

The Hancocks arrived in Salt Lake Valley in the late fall of 1851 and went to Ogden, Utah, where on November 11, 1852, another son, Solomon, was born. On March 20, 1854 they journeyed to California arriving at San Bernadino June 5th. John Metcalf, who had previously settled in San Bernadino, offered the weary part a campsite in Metcalf pasture, on the banks of Lytle Creek. Here in this pioneer camp a second daughter was born, Jerusha Hancock, on August 30, 1854.

Joseph Hancock built a temporary cabin of lumber brought from the San Bernadino mountains. Later they located on Fifth Streen on an Island farm, surrounded by the east and west branches of Lytle Creek. Several families owned beautiful farms and orchards on the island which were later washed away in devastating floods. Three other children were born to them in San Bernadino, Harriet Lucina, April 2, 1856; Foster, October 21, 1857, and Joseph, November 25, 1866. Nancy Agusta died June 16, 1908 in San Bernadino, age 79 years. Joseph Hancock was born May 7, 1822, in Euclid, Cuyahoga county, Ohio. He died July 19, 1924 in San Bernadino, age 102 years.

Mollie Tyler Bright, "To The Memory of My Dear Mother, Jerusha Hancock Tyler", (Qualitee Duplicating Company, San Bernardino, California-1956):

"Nancy Augusta Bemis Hancock (wife of Joseph) died June 16, 1908 in San Bernardino, California, age 79 years. Buried - Pioneer Memorial Cemetery, San Bernardino, California, beside her husband, and youngest son, Joseph N. Hancock, Jr."

Notes for Joseph Hancock:

Elizabeth W. Richards, Guideposts to History-Concerning Origins of Place and Street Names in San Bernardino County, (Published as a public service by Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan Association):

"Joseph Hancock was born in Ohio in 1822. He came to San Bernardino in 1854. He, together with John Garner and Joseph Thorn, became trustee of the Mount Vernon School District, and it was he who gave the name "Mt. Vernon" to the school in honor of the home and burial place of Washington. He was still active and in good health when Brown and Boyd published their family history in 1922 - and at that time he had attained the amazing age of 100. He was active for years in the Pioneer Society, and his portrait is prominent in many places on the walls of the Pioneer Society Log Cabin in Pioneer Park.

[Bright:2]: 3. Three years after Joseph Hancock and Nancy Bemis - Hancock were married, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, a start was made in 1851 to join the Uncle, Joseph Hancock, who had pioneered in Utah.

4. When Joseph knew the place, Kansas City, Missouri was a mere outfitting station, where Pioneers made ready for the long trip into the unknown West -- which was then Kansas, Colorado, and Nebraska. The big City at the junction of the rivers there, was Wyandotte, now Kansas City, Kansas.

5. The party arrived in Salt Lake City, Utah in October or November, 1851.

6. The trip to San Bernardino was started on March 20, 1854, and the party arrived in San Bernardino June 5, 1854.

7. Mr. Metcalf, who had already settled in San Bernardino, offered the weary party a camp site in Metcalf's Pasture, on the Banks of Lytle Creek, west of Mt. Vernon Avenue.

8. Here, in Pioneer Camp, my mother, Jerusha Hancock - Tyler, was born on August 30, 1854.

9. (Jerusha Hancock - Tyler is the mother of Mollie Tyler - Bright and Don Charles Joseph Tyler).

10. Of the trip across the plains in a covered wagon, Mr. Joseph Hancock told a reporter for the "Sun" on the occasion of this one hundredth birthday on May 7, 1922:--

11. "Death came close to me in crossing the desert near Bitter Springs. I was ill, chills and fever shaking me. The train was nearly out of water. There was but a pint of water in the Hancock wagon, with the burning heat of early summer biting into the pores of all.

12. "Joseph Thorn came back to our wagon, asked if we had any water. One of the boys had gone ahead, looking for a spring. Mother (Nancy Bemis - Hancock) shared our pint with Joseph (Thorn).

13. "A sudden cloud came into the skies and there were a few drops of rain..... The oxen lifted their heads and stood with them in the air, while the rain fell.

14. "A short time later we saw Sam Bemis coming with water. He had gone ahead to Bitter Springs, and he came yelling, "Water! Water!"

15. Joseph Hancock settled in San Bernardino, California, on a tract of land on West Fifth Street, across the Lytle Creek Wash. He then moved with his family to a 28 acre tract on West Ninth Street, a number of years later. (Sam Bemis above, was the son of Jerusha Gurnsey Bemis, who came to San Bernardino in the same wagon train). Joseph Hancock lived to celebrate his 102 birthday.

[Bright:3]: March 20, 1854, the Bemis family, Joseph and Nancy Bemis Hancock with their three small children, Alvin, Elenorah and Solomon, started from Ogden for California, arriving in San Bernardino Valley June 5, 1854. In the same covered wagon train were the Borens, Lytles, Captain Bell and family, Joseph Thorn and family and others. Mr. Bell was Captain of the Wagon Train. Capt. Bell's young daughter was named Drusilla Bell. She and Harriet Bemis were about the same age, and became close friends.

Notes for Lovina Adeline Bemis:

[Received from Sherry Martin]

Regarding name: The family Bible records identify her as Lovina Adeline Bemis and her tombstone plus the tombstones of some of her children show her as "L.A. Carter" which suggest Lovina Adeline was her given and legal name. It appears, however, that she preferred and was commonly known as "Adeline."

MARRIAGE: The Bemis Family Bible Register of Marriages records Lovina Adeline and Wallace Carter were married 24 Nov 1857.

Residence: Written family history from notes by Myrtis Iona Searles, granddaughter of Lovina Adeline Bemis Carter: "Adeline Lovina [names reversed from family Bible Register of Births ] Bemis Carter was born Nov. 26, 1866 [Clearly wrong, should be Oct. 29, 1835] in Cambridge, Ohio. She died Oct. 10, 1921. When she was 14 years old [calculated 1949], she moved with her parents to Outagamie Co., WI [1850 Federal census enumerates the Abner Bemis family in Vineland Twp., Winnebago Co., WI] and lived there several years before moving to Elroy, Wis. When she was 18 years old she taught school. Her salary was ten shillings a month and she boarded around in the homes of the families in the district. She married Wallace Carter at the age of 21 years."

MARRIAGE: Copy of Marriage Certificate available from Sherry Martin. Handwritten document from earliest Outagamie records.

State of Wisconsin
Outagamie County

Be it known that on the 4th day of August A.D. 1863 in the Town of Greenville Mr. Josiah Matterson of Ellington and Miss Fanny E. Bemis of Greenville were with their mutual consent legally joined together in holy Matrimony which was solemnized by me in the presence of Mortimer W. Bemis [eldest brother of the bride] and Emily Bemis [mother of the bride] of Greenville attending witnesses having been first satisfied by the oath of Mr. Josiah Matterson duly administered by me that there was no legal impediment to such marriage. Given under my hand at Greenville this 4th day of August 1863. [Signed] Abner Bemis, Justice of the Peace.

Note that this marriage was performed by the father of the bride and on this copy of the marriage certificate we have a signature for Abner Bemis. Abner's writing is a comfortable and legible cursive suggesting a man accustomed to writing easily with pen and ink.

As an aside--this was quite a year for the Bemis family. In January they lost their son, Charles W., a Civil War soldier; in March they lost two young daughters, Emily and Mary, and April they lost a young grandson, George R. Carter. All four are buried in the "Greenville Pioneer Cemetery" [so called today]. Photographs of cemetery and tombstones are available from Sherry Martin. Now in August their second eldest daughter is married. Emily's father also died in 1863.

BURIAL: August 2003: Unable to locate Fannie's burial place. Her death certificate indicates she was to be buried at Millard's Prairie Cemetery just outside Elroy, WI at the Vernon County line. There is a Bemis/Carter lot there with her parents and two of her siblings. No stone could be found for Fannie and when the sexton, Gary Board of Elroy, was contacted and cemetery records examined no record could be found for Fannie Feathers or Amasa. The cemetery books appeared poorly maintained although the cemetery itself was well maintained.

DEATH: Aug 2003: Fannie's death certificate indicated she was a widow at the time of her death. However, a death record dated 1910 was found for P. Amasa Feathers and the birthdate for this individual is consistent with the birthdate for Fannie's husband per the 1900 Juneau County Census. Fannie died in Kendall, WI per her death certificate and P. Amasa died in Wonewoc per his death certificate.

The Bemis Family Bible has Fannie's death recorded as 1904 Vs. 1903.

OBITUARY: The Elroy (Wisconsin) Tribune, Thursday, July 12, 1903, Page 1:
Mrs. Amasa Feathers

Fanny Bemis was born in Cattaraugus Co., NY, and came to Oshkosh this state in 1850, and to Millard's Prairie in 1867. She was united in marriage to A. Feathers, of Union Center in 1876. About 14 years ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never fully recovered. Two years ago she became so feeble that she and her husband were forced to give up housekeeping and she went to Kendall to live in the family of her son. Last Thursday death ended her long years of suffering, at the age of 62 years. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Henry Waste at the Methodist Church in this city, a joint funeral being held for her and her brother-in-law, Andrew Harmon.

Children of Fanny Bemis and Josiah Matteson are:

4368 i. Alice<sup>9</sup> Matteson<sup>11392</sup>, born Abt. 1864 in Greenville, Outagamie Co. WI<sup>11392</sup>.

More About Alice Matteson:

- 4369 ii. Oscar Monroe Matteson<sup>11392</sup>, born Abt. 1866 in Greenville, Outagamie Co, WI<sup>11393,11394</sup>. He married Jane Valentine Ellison<sup>11394</sup> 01 Dec 1892 in Valley Junction, Monroe Co, WI<sup>11395,11396</sup>; born 14 Feb 1876 in Blair, Trempealeau Co, WI<sup>11396</sup>; died 27 Jan 1950 in Minneapolis, Hennepin Co, MN<sup>11396</sup>.

Notes for Oscar Monroe Matteson:
[Received from Sherry Martin]

Occupation: Manufacturer, as listed on marriage license. Floyd Matteson said he never knew his father to "have a real job." According to his mother, Jennie, Monroe made the most beautiful watch chains in the world out of human hair using the back of a chair and lead weights and finished the chains with shiny gold fittings. According to Floyd, Monroe was a "crack shot with a hand gun." He was a teetotaler, a card player and a womanizer---which suggests to his writer that being a good shot was a useful survival skill. Floyd said Monroe taught him to fish--a useful survival skill for Floyd--because Monroe deserted his family when Harry, his youngest child, was about two years old--approximately 1902. The Mattesons were living in Kendall when Monroe and Jennie "had a scrap and he took all of mother's money to start a business in Minneapolis" where he got involved with a woman and left to "go out west and make a fortune."

Divorce: Jennie divorced Monroe, probably for desertion. Need to find a record for this. The one surviving letter to Lenna from Floyd's sister, Ottie House, states that she knew "all I about Mother's divorce."

DEATH: Aug 2003: No death records have yet been found for Monroe. In 1992 Floyd stated that he believed Monroe was "killed some place in Canada...some say he was shot." Not an unlikely end for a gambler and 'woman chaser.'

Photo: One photo of Monroe is known to exist and is in the possession of Sherry Matteson Martin. It was taken in an Elroy, WI studio about 1882 when, according to Floyd Matteson, his father was 17 years old. It shows an attractive and well dressed young man with dark hair, light eyes and steady gaze.

Residence: Monroe's marriage record states he was born in Greenville, WI. 1870 Federal Census shows him at age 4 in the home of his maternal grandparents, Abner and Emily Bemis in Greenville Twp., Outagamie Co., WI. His sister Alice is also present, his parents are not. 1880 Federal Census shows him at the age of 15 in the household of his step-father, Amasa Feathers.

Notes for Charlotte E. Bemis:

[Curtis Bemis.FTW]

We have a Charlotte E. Bemis, age 15, in the 1860 US Census for Troy, New Hampshire, living as a domestic in the family of Edmund Bemis and Mary M. (Kimball) Bemis-- This suggests a familial relationship but it is unknown as to whether Charlotte E. is the daughter of Edmund. Edmund and Mary were married August 13, 1846 and Charlotte was b. April 1845 (from 1900 Census). No evidence of Charlotte's brother, F.C. Bemis, is seen.

Charlottes future husband, Charles A. Farrar, is found in the 1860 US Census, at age 16, living with his family in Fitzwilliam, NH. Charlotte E. is the dau. of Sumner Bemis as is F.C. Bemis. Their relationship to the Edmund Bemis, above, is Edmund is their 1st cousin.

from Biographical Review XXIII, p.91

CHARLES A. FARRAR, of Troy, is the manufacturer of a popular gold and silver polish. He was born in Fitzwilliam, April 24, 1844, son of Daniel M. and Sophronia (Keith) Farrar. His grandfather, Daniel Farrar, was a native of Troy, owned a farm in the southern part of the town, and died at the age of seventy-five years. Daniel M. Farrar, son of Daniel, was a butcher at Fitzwilliam for twenty years, and supplied meat to Fitzwilliam and Troy. Late in life he built the house now occupied by his son, Charles A. In company with E. P. Kimball he purchased a mill; and, afterward buying out his partner, he manufactured tubs exclusively until his last illness. He died March 28, 1870, at the age of fifty-five years. By his wife, Sophronia, he had four children—Daniel W., John L., Charles A., and Abbie L.

Charles A. Farrar, the sole survivor of his parents' family, was educated at Troy while living in the family of his uncle Leonard. Afterward he was a butcher in Fitzwilliam for a time. Then he worked in his father's mill until the death of the latter in 1870, when he took sole charge of the business. The factory is now devoted to the making of silica, a polish for gold and silver ware, and which is also used as a tooth-powder. It is sold in small packages. The mill turns out about twenty tons of this article annually.

On April 6, 1865, Mr. Farrar married Charlotte E. Bemis, daughter of Sumner Bemis, of Troy. She was born April 29, 1845. They have five children, as follows: Mary A., born March 11, 1866; Leonard A., born September 28, 1869; Fred J., born July 28, 1871; Nellie I., born October 28, 1875; and Lottie B., born June 10, 1877. Mary married Fred W. Fuller, of Westmoreland. Leonard married May Frances Bennett, and is the station agent at Malden on the Boston & Maine Railroad. They have one child—Leonard C., born November 13, 1895. Fred J. married Ida Fuller, and resides in Troy. Lottie has taught school in Troy as an assistant teacher, and her sister Nellie is a book-keeper for the blanket company. Mr. Farrar was a Selectman in 1869. In politics he is a Democrat.

CHESTER SIMMONS

Chester Simmons was for an extended period active in control of the Minneapolis branch of the Bemis Brothers Bag Company and made for himself a prominent position in the business circles of this city. He was born in the eastern metropolis, his birth occurring December 26, 1850, his parents being Charles Wells and Emily (White) Simmons of New York city. The father was born at Colford, Gloucestershire, England, February 24, 1817, and died at Webster Groves, a suburb of St. Louis, Missouri, April 15, 1900. He was the eldest of four children born to Joseph Anthony and Amy (Harris) Simmons, the latter the daughter of Rev. George Harris, a Baptist minister, with whom Charles W. Simmons spent much of his early life but later returned to his parents, who were then living near Southampton, England. He was educated in the select boarding school of his uncle, Nathaniel W. Simmons, and later accepted an invitation from a relative in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to come to the new world.

He sailed from Newport, England, October 11, 1832. The voyage was a perilous one of one hundred and twenty days, during which the ship lost its mainmast, foreyard and sails, while part of the cargo was thrown overboard to promote the safety of the passengers. At length, however, the vessel reached Norfolk, Virginia, whence Mr. Simmons, who was sixteen years of age the following day, made his way to the home of his relative, Noah Simmons, in Philadelphia. He served a four years' apprenticeship with Elisha Crowell, a druggist, and during that time attended lectures at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, from which he was graduated March 20, 1838. He then returned to England but in less than two years was again in the United States, forming a partnership in January, 1840, with a cousin in the drug business in Philadelphia. The store, however, did not furnish sufficient income for the two and Mr. Simmons then "learned the new and wonderful process of taking daguerreotype likenesses and established himself on Chestnut street as professor of the art." Two years later he became a druggist in Brooklyn, New York, and afterward began the manufacture of straw goods in New York city. In Brooklyn he had married and after five years spent in the metropolis he purchased forty-eight acres on the Hudson, at Riverdale, near Yonkers, there building a beautiful home called "Shadyside." Later he acquired one hundred and sixty acres near Tarrytown, on which he built a palatial residence known as "Oak Park." He afterward spent two years in Yonkers and in 1866 removed to Columbus, Ohio, where he engaged in the millinery jobbing business, going thence in 1872 to St. Louis, where he continued in the same line. In October 1875, he became secretary of the St. Louis Cotton Exchange and the following year was also made treasurer, filling both offices for fifteen years. His wife, to whom he was ever most devoted, passed away in October 1891. He survived until April 15, 1900, reaching the venerable age of eighty-three years. They were the parents of fourteen children.

Chester Simmons, one of this number, obtained his education in the schools of Riverdale, Tarrytown and of Yonkers, New York. When fifteen years of age he started out to provide for his own support and on attaining his majority, in 1870, he left the east to become a resident of St. Louis, where he engaged in a wholesale millinery business. Later he went on the road as a traveling salesman for the Bemis Brothers Bag Company and afterward occupied the position of cashier with that firm, while later he became manager in Minneapolis, where he arrived on the 27th of December, 1880, to take charge of the first branch established by the Bemis Brothers Bag Company. He remained in active connection with this business until about four years prior to his death, retiring in May, 1917, and the development of the enterprise here was attributable to his sound judgment, his unfaltering enterprise and his unabating industry.

In 1875 Mr. Simmons was united in marriage to Miss Fanny A. Bemis, a daughter of Stephen A. and Hannah Jane (Thomas) Bemis, the former a native of Fitchburg, Massachusetts, and the latter of the state of New York. For many years they resided in Illinois and later in San Francisco, California. In 1866 they removed to St. Louis, Missouri, where Stephen A. Bemis and his brother, J. M. Bemis, organized the Bemis Brothers Bag Company, which developed into one of the most important productive industries of this kind in the country. The first branch of the business was established in Minneapolis in 1880, and here Mr. Simmons came to take charge in December of that year. From that time forward Mr. and Mrs. Simmons occupied a prominent position in the social circles of the city and here the representatives of their family are yet well known. They became the parents of six children, of whom Chester Bemis, the eldest, is now deceased. The others are: Ethel; Lois M., the wife of Clyde G. Williams of Minneapolis; Marmion Judson, a resident of Boston, Massachusetts; Emily Rose, the wife of Dwight L. Akers of Blooming Grove, New York; and Donald B., also living in Minneapolis.

Mr. Simmons gave his political allegiance to the republican party throughout his life, believing firmly in its principles as factors in good government. He was a member of the Trinity Baptist church, its teachings constituting the guiding factor in his relations with his fellowmen. He belonged to the Town and Country Club and the Minneapolis Club and in these organizations gained popularity that resulted from attractive personal qualities and kindly consideration for others at all times. It was on the 26th of February, 1921, that he was called to his final rest, being at that time in the seventy-second year of his age.

It was said of him: "His was a very worthy and useful life; its success was real and it was not gained by resort to methods of doubtful dealing, or the slightest deviation from his code of honor, which was exalted. Day by day he built on the firm foundation of simple duty, honestly, faithfully and conscientiously performed, making no claim of his own righteousness, asking for no commendation, seeking no reward, save that found in the satisfaction, which must have been his, that his labor was not in vain. He bore such burdens as were laid upon him, uncomplainingly, in sorrow and adversity he was sustained by the faith that was in him, and in prosperity and happiness he was not boastful or exalted. Through his ability and energy was built up a large and prosperous establishment, useful in its activity, generous in its dealings, beneficent in the employment it afforded those who worked for it, yet although he took a just pride in its success, to others rather than himself would he ascribe the chief credit for its creation. Such men as this constitute the very salt of the earth; true, consistent and dependable, always to be relied upon to do the fair and generous thing; constant to their ideals and incorruptible. Mr. Simmons was also very highly esteemed. In all relations of his life he was inspired by the highest sense of honor and integrity. He was very modest and unassuming, nevertheless his influence in the community was widely extended and always exerted in behalf of the best ideals. As a friend he was most loyal and faithful, generous in his dealings and kindly in his judgments. Diligent in business, an epitome of his career in this respect is embodied in an inscription placed beneath his picture which hangs upon the walls of the establishment he so successfully developed, always by the exercise of the most exalted conception of business integrity, which is as follows:

" 'Chester Simmons Forty-two years in Bemis Service.
Manager Minneapolis Factory
1881 to 1917 A Man of Unswerving Loyalty,

Persistent Industry, Graceful Modesty.' "

Notes for Alice Bemis:
What's in a Name
Reflections on the legacy of Alice Bemis Taylor

By NORMAN SPEARS '57

Many of us have the desire to carry on private kindnesses of small scale. Few of us have the resources and abilities to make the grand gesture and to accomplish projects benefitting the public under a veil of privacy. Alice Bemis Taylor was able to do all this.

Any CC student or graduate recognizes the names Bemis and Taylor because of campus buildings bearing the names of these donors.

Judson Moss Bemis was a brilliant businessman who, at the age of 25, founded a bag manufacturing company that became the world's largest manufacturer of textile and paper bags. He was a trustee of Colorado College from 1912-1919 and gave several buildings to CC, including Bemis Hall. The Bemis family moved to Colorado Springs in 1881, and moved into a home newly built for them in 1885. That home later became the Hearthstone Inn, where photographs of Bemis family members still adorn the walls. Mr. and Mrs. Bemis had three children, including Alice, who was one of the founders of the Colorado Springs Day Nursery in 1897.

Alice Bemis Taylor's personal life remained private until she died in 1942. (Much of the information presented here has been taken from a paper presented by Julia Ryan Wills to the Woman's Literacy Club of Colorado Springs in April 1995.) Alice Bemis was 26 when she married Frederick Morgan Taylor in 1903. "There must be three things which helped to shape the major philanthropies of Alice Bemis Taylor's life: an inner compulsion to share what she had; the Bemis Building Bug, as Mrs. Taylor herself described it, with its fascination for architecture; and a fervent desire to bring beauty to the lives of those who had little or none." Mrs. Taylor donated the funds to build the Colorado Springs Day Nursery, at the corner of Rio Grande and Tejon, in memory of her mother in 1923.

Mrs. Taylor's concept of a Fine Arts Center began in 1930, when she approached the Broadmoor Art Academy to purchase a portion of their property on Cascade Avenue. Mrs. Wills stated, "by the summer of 1932, a revolutionary concept of a single-building arts center had been formed - to be built on the site of the Broadmoor Art Academy, and to house all of the arts - drama, music, art school and galleries, a library for Mrs. Taylor's 6,000 volumes of Americana and the Taylor Museum for Southwest Studies, as her collection would be called. Mrs. Taylor donated $600,000 to build the Arts Center in 1934 in the depth of the Depression. It was Mrs. Taylor's concern that jobs be made available to the unemployed."

Mrs. Taylor initiated architectural plans for an addition to Coburn Library in 1931. When the contractor's estimate came in too high, a second set of plans was drawn for an independent building. A cargo of peachblow sandstone arrived on campus in 1932. Mrs. Taylor's interest and the $400,000 set aside for the library would be redirected to the Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Taylor died on June 23, 1942. The major portion of her fortune was left to sustain the Fine Arts Center, the Day Nursery, and Colorado College. To Colorado College she left a bequest of $400,000. The remainder of her estate went to the Bemis-Taylor Foundation, which she established in 1927 as a vehicle for her philanthropies. The foundation was dissolved in 1974 with a portion of the funds going to Colorado College.

Judson Bemis was the major donor in building Bemis Hall in 1908. The earliest alteration to Bemis was the addition of a small enclosed porch extending off the south of the dining room. The porch was built in 1943 of similar stone as the main hall to provide a separate entrance to the Cogswell Theater, a small theater completed in 1910 to which the only entrance had been through the residence. This stone may have been the shipment intended for Coburn Library.

In 1956 with the influx of students on the G.I. Bill, an addition, Taylor dining hall, was constructed off of the east wing of Bemis Hall. It was named after Alice Bemis Taylor. Unusual for the era in which campus buildings were constructed either of brick or concrete, the Taylor dining hall extension is notable for the attempt of the builders to match the stone to the original building. It is perhaps an indication of the importance of Bemis Hall to the college that its architectural integrity was respected to a degree unusual in the post-war era.

Mrs. Taylor was the first woman trustee of Colorado College, and her many large gifts to its endowment fund sustained it during times of financial stress. Mrs. Wills stated, "But she also addressed the specific needs of the students and college: scholarships, a bus for the use of the students in the geology department, a sunroom for the use of girls living in Montgomery Hall."

The scholarship Mrs. Taylor provided was designated to benefit "the outstanding entering freshman and was aptly called the Alice Bemis Taylor Scholarship." This procedure was usually implemented, but funds were used to aid other students or were given to an alternate when the original recipient withdrew from the college prior to graduation. The scholarship carried a very real responsibility. In the early 1950s, the annual grant was $1,000 for four years. At that time, tuition was $625 annually, so that books and some living expenses were covered. Almost all recipients found part-time work to help with finances since the scholarship committee followed Mrs. Taylor's wishes to help students who needed financial aid. The scholarship was awarded from 1947 through 1993 according to college records. (If recipients for years not recorded happen to read this, the college would like to update its information.)

Mrs. Taylor touched the lives of students who could not afford to attend Colorado College. The collection of replies that Alice Bemis Taylor scholars have made to request autobiographies makes a heartwarming compilation of achievement and humanistic efforts.

The Bemis message was translated into scholarships, and the recipients have expressed their gratitude in lifelong effort. Bemis money built wonderful additions to the city of Colorado Springs and Colorado College. The Bemis spirit is carried on by the fortunate Alice Bemis Taylor scholars.

"Because of my family situation, it would have been very difficult for me to attend CC without the scholarship, and CC was very responsive and understanding. I am grateful." - Karla White Tesch '68 now works with Harvest, an organization that fosters partnerships between churches in the U.S. and Third World countries.

"I am exceedingly grateful for the Taylor Scholarship that allowed me to attend CC, and I received a fine education there." - Lynne Cheney '63 is a nationally known author, host of CNN's "Crossfire Sunday," and former chair of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

"In 1947, the male student body was composed of those on the G.I. Bill or those from affluent families. I was neither, and the scholarship enabled me to enjoy four years at Colorado College on an equal footing." - Pat Killen '51 has had a distinguished career writing for United Press International and currently lives in Tokyo.

"As far as CC and the Alice Bemis Taylor Scholarship are concerned, they are the two best things that ever happened to me. My four years at CC were really enjoyable and prepared me well for the communications/public affairs work I have been doing for the past 25 years." - Joel Kennedy '67 has served as vice president of corporate communications for the Queen's Health System in Honolulu, Hawaii, since July 1993.

"Without the assistance of the Alice Bemis Taylor residence hall (workplace) and scholarship legacy, my life would never have been as fulfilling and enjoyable as it has unfolded over the years." - Wiley Lucero '60 was director of the Harborview Art Center and coordinator of a visual arts program of staff training and children's art workshops for 102 community centers of the New York City Housing Authority.

Notes for Clinton Joseph Bemis:

WEBSITE: Untitled Document, <http://www.rootsweb.com/~ilogle/clintonbemisbio.htm>, (29 March 2003)

Clinton Joseph Bemis (1852-1930) was born and raised in the Daysville area. After the death of his wife, Ida A. Hardesty, daughter of Daniel and Abigail Ferguson Hardesty, he moved to Denver, Colorado for an asthma condition and died there in February, 1930.

He resided most of his life on the old homestead and served as Nashua Township Supervisor a number of years. He always was a Democrat.

From the History of Ogle County, IL - 1909:

Clinton Bemis, for nearly all of his mature life one of the most favorably known farmers of Nashua Township, Ogle County, IL, prominent in public affairs and associated by paternal relationship with the development of his locality from the pioneer period of its history, was born on the farm where he now lives, April 2, 1852, a son of Stephen and Mary Elizabeth (Early) Bemis, natives respectively of Massachusetts and Ohio. Stephen Bemis had been previously married, while a resident of the Old Bay State, and in 1837, came west to Illinois with the father of John V. Farwell, the widely known merchant of Chicago, his first wife being a sister of the elder Farwell. Stephen Bemis settled on a farm near that of Mr. Farwell (now owned by Hon. Frank O. Lowden), and then acquired a tract of government land at the regular purchase price of $1.25 per acre. His occupation was that of a chair-maker, and he made many of the chairs used by his neighbors. He built a frame dwelling on the site of the present Bemis residence, and about 1850 erected a brick house, which was later partly torn down for rebuilding so that, virtually, the subject of this sketch still occupies the house where he was born. The father died in the old brick residence, his attention having been devoted to farming and chair-making from the period of his arrival in the county until he became too feeble to work. At the time of his decease he was eighty-six years old. His wife having died years before, he was married, in Nashua Township to Mary E. (Early) Neville, who had come to Ogle County with her mother, then Mrs. Stewart. The decease of the second wife took place several years before that of Mr. Bemis. The offspring of the first marriage was three children, namely: Stephen, of St. Louis, who left Ogle County when a young man; Judson, of Boston, who went away about the same time as his brother; and Mary, of Sycamore, IL, wife of Nate Latin. Mrs. Neville had one son, William Neville (now deceased), who was a lad when she married Stephen Bemis. The issue of the second marriage of Stephen Bemis was as follows: Henry, of Oregon; Cassius, who enlisted during the Civil War, in the Fourteenth Regiment, IL Volunteer Cavalry, was reported missing after a battle and never returned; George, a farmer now living in Oregon; Clinton; and John, a resident of Rockford. Stephen Bemis was formerly an active member of the Baptist Church, but late in life, became a believer in the Second Advent doctrine.

Clinton Bemis bought out the interests of the other heirs in the paternal estate, and except during two years spent in Kansas has always lived on the old homestead. His farm is the original 120 acres acquired by his father, all bottom land, and on it he is engaged in general farming. In early manhood he learned the trade of a carpenter, but preferred agricultural pursuits.

On January 26, 1875, Clinton Bemis was married to Ida Hardesty, a daughter of Daniel Hardesty, one of the early settlers of Lafayette Township, Ogle County, where she was born. Her parents came from Ohio to that township in 1842, and there Mr. Hardesty died, since which time his widow has made her home with Mrs. Bemis. Seven children have blessed the union of Mr. and Mrs. Bemis, namely: Olive (Mrs. Clarence Hepfer), of Taylor Township; William; Nellie; Hattie Alice (Mrs. James Hay), of Nashua Township; Early, a merchant of Rockford, IL; Joseph; Alwilda, a student in the Oregon High School. Joseph and Nellie are at home.

Politically, Mr. Bemis is a Democrat, and has served the public in township offices for eighteen years, although his township is strongly Republican. He was Assessor six years, and his service as Supervisor covered a period of twelve years. While he was incumbent of the latter office, the county farm was enlarged repeatedly.

Notes for George W. Losee:

[John_Terry.FTW]

Was born at Chestnut Ridge, Dutches County, in eastern New York. In 1834 he moved with his parents to Chautauqua County, NY were they made their home. His mothers family was from Holland; her family name was Harris. He was drafted into the Army during the Civil War. However, since he was married with a family his brother John served in his place. He made at least two extended trips to the midwest in search of land. In 1880 he moved with his family to Kansas, locating in Seneca where they lived for 20 years. He purchased 160 acres south-east of Seneca in Nemaha County. After the death of his son he moved to Valley Cente, Sedgwick county and 2 years later he moved to Wichita.

He continued to work as a carpenter and built many early buildings in Seneca and Wichita. These include the Seneca Public School building which was designed by his son-in-law Charles W. Terry. Per G. W. Losee's obituary - "he was a careful reader, never leaving a subject until he thoroughly understood it." He taught school for several terms. He spent several years at farming, however, favorite occupation was carpenter." George and his family were baptists. George and Betsey are buried in the Maple Grove Cemetery, Wichita, Kansas.

The following was taken from a handwritten brief by George Losse given to his grandson Lewis Bouton - "My mother's ancestors came from Rhode Island. Her father's name was Esek Wooley and her mother's name was Martha Soule. I remember them well. Grandfather was a farmer and owned one of the nicest little farms in Dutchess County, and for his time was a very successful fruit raiser. He was also a tailor by trade in his younger years. They had seven children, all daughters, all of whom were married and with one exception lived to old age."

Alice Bertha Terry - b. 6/30/1888 d. 4/1972
Eva F. Terry - b. 7/11/1890 d. 9/19/1956

C W and Fannie moved to Wichita, KA 1879. Built a number of buildings while in Wichita to include Scottish Rite Temple. Left Wichita, moved to Oil City, PA for 16 years. He was architect for Standard Oil. Newspaper clipping dated 1904 advises that Charles W. Terry moved back to Wichita. "He is a well known architect, who has many landmarks in the way of fine residents and buildings in this city during the 1880's." "Mr. Terry is one of the foremost architects in the country." Upon his return to Wichita he purchased the home of James C. Jones at the corner of Chautauqua and Douglas Avenues. The purchase price was $5,000. His office was in the Ocham Building, corner of Main and First, Wichita.

It is reported he published a book of stock plans for homes and commercial buildings. Have not been able to find a copy.

They left Wichita in 1919, moved to Alhambra, CA. Lived at 900 So. 2nd St., Alhambra, CA. Funeral services were held by Turner, Stevens and Turner; he was buried at San Gabriel Cemetery

The above I have documented from a variety of sources to include family bible and other vital records.

Notes for Dora E. Rice:

[Received from Cindy Rodgers.FTW]

Dora's first husband died ice skating on the lake. She gave two of her children to her husband's brother, Andrew Butts, and his wife, Ardella, to raise as their own. She raised the other four children and eventually remarried.

Died at home of daughter, Iva Bigelow. She spent her entire life in Harmony and North Harmony until moving to the home of her daughter in West Ellicott in 1942. Member of the First Baptist Church of Jamestown and the Wild Rose Cemetery Auxiliary of North Harmony.

Death Date 5 Nov 1945

Notes kept by Dora and rescribed by Inez Butts Simpson...Morris Butts skated to Jamestown January 18, 1894 and on his way home was drowned and no trace could be found of him till March 20, 1894. His body was found and was buried the same day.

This ends a useful and loved one's life, one whose loss is beyond estimating. March 30, 1894, Roy D. Z. Butts went to live to Jamestown with his Uncle Geo. R. Butts and Horace S. Butts to live with his Uncle Andrew at Jamestown, and the same day I moved into a part of my father's house with Iva, Glenn and little Inez. May 12, 1894 I took little Inez to live with her Uncle Andrew at Jamestown. June 13, 1894 I gave Andrew and Della papers of adoption for Horace and Inez. Sept. 4, 1895 Roy came home to live with me. May 27, 1896 Roy went to live with E. J. Cole at Jamestown, and July 29, 1897 he came back to live with me.

Notes for James Nathan Edminster:
[The Edminster Family In America]

He graduated from Kimball Union Academy in 1862 and Albany University Law Department in 1864, practiced law in Windsor, Vermont for 13 years and was states attorney three years. He was a soldier in the Civil War (54), serving in Co. E, 9th New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry. He enlisted as a Private, 1 August 1862, became a second lieutenant, and resigned 27 October 1862. His unit was part of the 9th Army Corps, Army of the Potomac and fought at South Mountain on September 14th and at Antietam on September 17th (48) (55). His widow later claimed that he had been promoted to Captain and had been Acting Colonel of a colored regiment. When they went into the Battle of Antietam their baggage - tents, blankets, etc - had been left behind and he was taken ill from exposure. The developing arthritis was so bad that he had to resign his commission. He married 5 November 1867, at Boston, Massachusetts, Helen Gertrude Porter, born 1840 at Lowell, Massachusetts, daughter of Lemuel and Wealthy M. Porter. James Nathan died 1 December 1878 at Windsor of T.B. "...brought on by rheumatism contracted in the army, his shoulders being so drawn together that his lungs could not act." (Pension Record, National Archives).

Notes for Lemuel Porter Edminster:
[The Edminster Family In America]

After a few years his health required a drier climate and so his mother moved to Colorado. She remarried 1 December 1889, at Denver, Dr. W. W. Hibbard and divorced him in January 1891 because he had a serious chloral addiction. The high altitude at Denver proved bad for Lemuel Porter's health and they moved to San Francisco where she worked as a writer. She had some verses published, too. The son studied law and practiced in San Francisco for a short time. He was very active in the "Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the U. S." and was elected "Companion of the First Class (No. 953), Commandery of California" on 26 January 1892, Insignia No. 9262. On 10 May 1893 he was taken ill of pneumonia and died the same day. He never married.

Franklin S.<sup>8</sup> Edminster (James Arvine<sup>7</sup>, Zebedee<sup>6</sup>, Mary<sup>5</sup> Bemis, Benjamin<sup>4</sup>, Joseph<sup>3</sup>, John<sup>2</sup>, Joseph<sup>1</sup>)<sup>11826</sup> was born 14 Feb 1842 in Cornish, New Hampshire<sup>11826</sup>, and died 22 Sep 1901 in Brooklyn, New York<sup>11826</sup>. He married (1) Mary E. Gay<sup>11826</sup> 29 Jun 1864 in Windsor, Vermont<sup>11826</sup>. He married (2) Minnie Constant<sup>11826</sup> 19 Feb 1877<sup>11826</sup>, daughter of Henry Constant and Hattie/. She was born 08 Dec 1860 in Brooklyn, New York<sup>11826</sup>, and died 02 Mar 1913 in Brooklyn, New York<sup>11826</sup>.

Notes for Franklin S. Edminster:
[The Edminster Family In America]

He was listed among 37 Cornish men who were between 18 and 45 years old when drafted into the Army on 3 September 1863 (48). The reference notes that some were exempted and some other "...purchased a release by the payment of $300., or by furnishing a substitute..." but it did not name them. My father told me that Franklin S., his father, did provide a substitute. Franklin S. married, first, 29 June 1864, at Windsor, Vermont, Mary E. Gay, of Windsor. They had no children and were later divorced. He built houses in Windsor, then moved to Boston and worked in advertising. He worked on commission and earned so much that the company told him he'd have to work on salary. He resigned and started his own business, developing such nationwide accounts as Castoria, Royal Baking Powder and Carter's Little Liver Pills. He moved his business to Brooklyn, New York before 1877. There he married, second, 19 February 1877, Minnie Constant, born 8 December 1860 at Brooklyn, daughter of Henry and Hattie Constant. In addition to the advertising business, he bought the R. H. Mc Donald Drug Co., and sold a popular patent drug, "Vinegar Bitters". Later, he had a stock and bond business, "Edminster & Co.", with office at 6 Wall Street, New York City. He also had banking interests and owned orange groves in California. He became very wealthy but lost his fortune in the bank panic of 1893.

Notes for Minnie Constant:
[The Edminster Family In America]

I remember visiting Minnie Constant Edminster, my grandmother, at her brownstone home in Brooklyn around 1911 or 1912. She was a striking and imperious sort of woman and I recall the attention she gave me to make sure that I, a boy of 8 or 9, did not soil her parlor furniture. As was the custom there at that time, the "front parlor" was a little used room except for special occasions and at other times had the shades tightly drawn. Also, these Victorian era houses had the kitchen and dining room in the basement. These brownstone homes were row houses and looked much alike in the front. On one visit, after playing in the street for a while, I could not remember the number of grandma's house and got lost. Someone took me to the nearest police station where my parents later claimed me. That was an experience I will never forget.

B. degree in 1902, he married 1 April 1903, at Brooklyn, New York, Ida Linington, born 3 March 1879 at Brooklyn, daughter of Theodore and Rebecca Ann (Slack) Linington. The Linington family had resided on Long Island, New York since the latter part of the 17th century. Frank Custer taught at Cornell for a couple of years and then established a private tutoring and preparatory school at Ithaca, The Collegiate School, popularly known to many generations of Cornellians as "Eddie's". At various times he also started other businesses: auto tours about 1910 when there were no such; radio servicing about 1920 when radios first became commercial and were very complicated; and a travel agency about 1925. The auto tours and radio enterprises were short-lived. The school business virtually lost its clientele with the great depression of 1930 and was closed after his death 15 December 1932. His wife continued the travel business until her death 7 February 1938. Both are buried in Lakeview Cemetery, Ithaca.

Frank and Ida, my parents, were pioneers in automobile touring. Beginning about 1908 or 1909, the long summer vacations which the school business afforded were ideal for travelling. In a two-cylinder Maxwell touring car, loaded to the fenders with tent, cots, gasoline cans and the other impediments of camping, we travelled the northeastern states and eastern Canada guided only by U. S. Geological Survey topographic maps. This was continued annually with a succession of cars until about 1917 when such luxuries as hard roads, gas stations and road maps had appeared. In his later years he travelled abroad considerably and was about to take a train from the station at Ithaca for New York and a Caribbean cruise when he died from a heart attack.

Memoirs

Mrs. Martha Elizabeth (Burns) Stephenson, of Milwaukee, Wis., a Pilgrim Tercentenary member since 1919, was born at Lowell, Mass., 18 February 1854, the daughter of Thomas and Caroline (Brown) Burns, and died at Milwaukee 11 July 1925.

Her father was born in the parish of Ballaglaghin, co. Longford, Ireland, in 1804; and her mother was born at Plattsburgh, N. Y., 21 October 1810, the daughter of George Frederick and Annie (Bemis) Brown.

At the age of sixteen, after having received the usual schooling of a small town, supplemented by one year at an academy, she began to earn her own living as a school-teacher, her first school being a country school in a "sugar bush" in northern Wisconsin, where pines and hemlocks were scattered thickly among the sugar maples. For twelve years she taught in the public schools, and attained the principalship of a grade school at Green Bay, Wis. Her own education was rounded out by her experience as a teacher and by travel, reading, and association with cultured friends.

She was married 16 April 1884 to Hon. Isaac Stephenson of Marinette, Wis., then a member of Congress from Wisconsin, who was born near Fredrickton, York Co., N. B., 18 June 1829, and died 15 March 1918, the son of Isaac and Elizabeth (Watson) Stephenson. Mr. Stephenson received a common-school education, went to Bangor, Mr., in 1840, and a year later was taken to Wisconsin. There he worked on a farm, and in 1845 moved to Milwaukee. He was engaged in the lumber trade, and owned a schooner, which he sailed between Milwaukee and Escanaba, Mich. He was one of the pioneers in the lumber business in Wisconsin, eventually acquiring a large fortune, and was ranked first among the "lumber kings" of that State. In 1858 he moved to Marinette, Wis., acquired control of the North Ludington Lumber Company, was chief owner of the Stephenson Company and a director in the Stephenson National Bank, and was influential in the building of the Sturgeon Bay Ship Canal. He was a member of the lower branch of the Wisconsin Legislature in 1866 and 1868, and, as a Republican, represented the Ninth District of Wisconsin in the United States House of Representatives in the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, and Fiftieth Congresses (1883-1889). After spending eighteen more years in private life, in the care of his business interests, he was elected a United States Senator from Wisconsin in 1907, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. John Coit Spooner, and was reelected for the full term of six years extending from 1909-1915.

After her marriage, Mrs. Stephenson spent every congressional season for fourteen consecutive years in the city of Washington, where, by her own testimony, she "gained a breadth of vision and knowledge of men and events that no college could have furnished." As late as 1922 she was a resident of Marinette, but her last years were spent in Milwaukee.

Senator and Mrs. Stephenson had one son, Grant Thomas Stephenson, who was born in 1886. Her granddaughter, Irene Clara Stephenson of Milwaukee, has succeeded her in her Pilgrim Tercentenary membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

George Whitfield Bemis was the son of Phineas Bemis (born 1794, died 1865) and Eleanor Day (born 1808, married 1823, and died 1865)...

George Whitfield Bemis was a pioneer in Clay County, Nebr. For sketch of his life see Andrew's History of Nebraska. Helped found town of Sutton. Was lawyer, editor and writer. District attorney for 6th District, and in 1887, moved to York, Nebr., where he was mayor, city attorney, and police magistrate. Was admitted to practice in Supreme Court in 1879. [Biographical Sketches of Sutton, NEGen Web <http://www.rootsweb.com/~neclay/suttbio.html#bemis>]

GEORGE W. BEMIS, of the firm of Bagley & Bemis, attorneys at law, was born in Mayfield, Fulton County, N. Y., September 1, 1846; removed to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, at seventeen, and engaged as salesman in hardware for two years, and was Deputy Postmaster at that place for one year; afterward followed merchandising at Marion and Belle Plaine, until he came to Sutton in May, 1871, being among the first to settle in that then wilderness. He homesteaded eighty-one acres on the town site section of Sutton, which he still owns and has finely improved. His village residence appears on page-- (image). He studied law with Col. H. W. Gray, and was admitted to practice in the spring of 1874, and rose rapidly to a large and lucrative practice, being in 1876 appointed City Attorney, and in that capacity drew the first ordinance ever passed in the city. In May, 1882, he defended and cleared A. M. Anderson of the murder of John Johnson, a case of great notoriety in Clay County, Neb., his effort in that behalf being admittedly the most ingenious and able ever made in the county. He has been a partner with John E. Bagley for seven years past. Mr. Bemis was married at Marion, Iowa, January 1, 1868, to Ada A. Gray; they have four children--Albert L., George W., Jr., Anna and Eugene.

Obituary-- (newspaper, city and state and date of publication are unknown)

October 5, 1901--

"Joined the Great Majority-

Wm. Bemis, pioneer resident of Dodge County, died at his home in Ellington, Saturday October 5, aged eighty years, five months and four days.

Deceased was a native of Vermont. While he was yet a child, his parents moved to Jefferson County, N.Y. where he grew to manhood. In '46 he was married to Elizabeth Stedman of Rochester, N.Y. Shortly after they moved to Cincinnati, where for several years he worked at his trade, that of a house carpenter. Coming west in a successful effort to regain lost health he settled in 1858, on a farm in Ellington, where he has ever since resided.

To them have been born ten children. His widow, (after fifty-five years of wedded life) and eight children survive him. Deceased was a brother to Jason Bemis, of Owatonna, and uncle to Fred Bemis, of Walcott.

Funeral was held from the late residence, October 8, Rev. McMinis conducting the services. Interment was in Concord Cemetery.

HISTORY OF KERN COUNTY (California)

Erskine Bemus-- During the colonial period of American settlement the Bemus family crossed the ocean from England and settled on the Atlantic seaboard in New England. Later generations aided in the colonization of New York and in Genesee county, that state, occurred the birth of S.J. Bemus, son of Asael, a fifer in the war of 1812. Throughout much of his life he followed the occupation of an architect, first in Dunkirk, N.Y., and later in Corry, Erie county, Pa., where he passed from earth at an advanced age. In early manhood he had married Laura Richardson, who was born in New York and died in Pennsylvania. Of their three children the eldest, Erskine, was born in Dunkirk, Chautauqua county, N.Y., August 25, 1849, and received public-school advantages in his native county and in Erie county, Pa. In the fall of 1864 when only fifteen years of age he offered his services as a volunteer in the Union army, was accepted as a private, and at Meadville, Crawford, Pennsylvania, was mustered into Company E, One Hundred and Third Pennsylvania Infantry, with which he went to the front. The greater part of his service was in North Carolina. At the expiration of the war he was honorably discharged at Harrisburg, Pa., in June of 1865, and returned to his home with a meritorious record for fidelity to his country and gallant service in the army. In later years he has maintained an intimate association with the Grand Army of the Republic and is now actively connected with the Hurlburt Post.

A year in school followed the return from the war and in 1865 Mr. Bemus removed to Ohio, first living in Ashtabula and later in Urbana. At an early age he took up the study of architecture and ever since he has followed the occupation. For seventeen years he was the leading architect in Sidney, Shelby county, Ohio where he designed and superintended the erection of an opera-house, school-house and many private residences as well as a number of churches. Meanwhile during 1897 he spent six months in Pasadena and thus became interested in California. After his return to Ohio he resumed occupative work at Sidney, but he never ceased to reflect with pleasure upon his western experiences and eventually he closed out his Ohio interests, removed to California in 1909 and took up the work of an architect in Bakersfield. His ability as an architect appears in the Labor Temple building, the Bakersfield garage, the Barlow, Baer, Jamison and Beggs residences and other buildings of unusual attractiveness. Since coming to Bakersfield he has officiated as president of the board of trustees in the Baptist Church and has been a leading local worker in that denomination. Fraternally he holds membership with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. While living in Urbana, Ohio, he married Miss Lucy Fisher, who was born in Defiance, that state, and died in Sidney in 1908. Throughout her years of maturity she had been an earnest member of the Baptist Church and a liberal giver to charitable movements. Surviving her are six children, namely: Temperance, Mrs. Given, of Sidney, Ohio; Mrs. Clara McLeod, of Bakersfield; Mrs Beatrice Steffa, of Los Angeles; Alice, who owns and conducts the Sweet shop in Bakersfield; Denton, a cement contractor in Sidney, Ohio; and Harry, who is engaged in the building business in Bakersfield."

Notes for Moses Peter Bemis:

[History of Littleton, vol. I, p. 455]

Lieut. Moses P. Bemis was of kin to Capt. Henry Bemis, the pioneer, who kept tavern at North Littleton before the beginning of the last century. His career as a soldier was of the most honorable character. He enlisted in November, 1861; was taken prisoner at the second battle of Bull Run; released with others of the regiment captured at the same time, in December following; was promoted Sergeant in 1863; re-enlisted in January, 1864; was wounded at the mine explosion, Petersburg, and appointed Second Lieutenant, and mustered out with the regiment in July, 1865. Few men in the regiment saw more service than Lieutenant Bemis, and none had a record that surpassed his for good soldiership. His promotions were rewards of merit. They were reached slowly after many months of service, and were not the results of the industrious importunities of friends.

Henry Bemis Biography: Henry N. Bemis (1837 - sometime after 1880) was born in Ashburnham, Massachusetts, the son of Abel Bemis and Rebecca Richardson. The beginning of the Civil War found Bemis making a living as a farmer in Worcester, Massachusetts. On July 24th, 1861 he and his brother, Charles H. Bemis, were mustered in Company D, 15th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, as privates. In the regiment's first action-the battle of Ball's Bluff on October 21st, 1861-Bemis was taken prisoner. He probably was sent to a prison in Richmond for a time before being released on parole in February of 1862. In July of 1862, Henry reported to a camp for paroled prisoners in Annapolis, Maryland to await exchange. He rejoined the 15th Massachusetts in October of 1862, but in November was transferred to Battery I, 1st United States Artillery. He served with Battery I until his three year term of enlistment expired. During this time he was engaged in many major battles of the Eastern Theater, including Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, and Cold Harbor. He was discharged on July 15th, 1864. In 1865 he married a woman named Georgia A. _____. The couple had three sons, Frederick, Edward, and Walter. He died sometime after 1880 and is buried in Hope Cemetery in Worcester, Massachusetts.

The 15th Massachusetts Infantry had a very tragic history in the Civil War, serving in all the major battles of the Army of the Potomac from Ball's Bluff through to the siege of Petersburg. At the battle of Ball's Bluff it lost over 300 men, many captured or drowned in trying to swim across the Potomac River to safety. At the battle of Antietam in September of 1862 the regiment was outflanked and lost fifty percent of its men in just a half hour in the West Woods. It was heavily engaged again at Gettysburg, where its Colonel George H. Ward was shot and killed. It served in Grant's 1864 overland campaign, and after the battle of Cold Harbor was reduced to only 5 officers and 70 men. On June 22nd, 1864 in the battle of Jerusalem Plank Road the regiment was surprised and all but one officer and 5 enlisted men were captured. The remnant of the regiment was attached to the 20th Massachusetts. The start of the Civil War found Battery I, 1st U.S. Artillery stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The battery was sent east and equipped to serve as light artillery for the Army of the Potomac, and remained with the army for the entirety of the war. At Gettysburg the battery was stationed near Ziegler's Grove, and lost heavily in helping to repel Pickett's Charge. After the battle of Bristoe Station, the battery was made into a horse artillery unit and served with the cavalry. It was present at the battle of Trevillian Station, one of the largest cavalry battles of the war.

Scope and Content Notes: The Henry N. Bemis collection consists primarily of two diaries kept by Bemis during the war. The first diary runs from July 17th, 1862 to March 14th, 1864 while the second diary runs from March 17th 1864 to July 4th 1864. Both diaries contain frequent entries detailing the events of each day. Also included in the collection are two tintypes, a photograph, and Bemis' discharge from service. The two tintypes are most likely images of Bemis and his wife, Georgia A. Bemis. The photograph is unidentified. The diaries for the most part do not offer detailed descriptions of battle (with some exceptions, such as the entry describing Gettysburg). Instead, they often provide a glimpse into the life of a Union soldier when not in battle. Bemis details the hardships of life in the Union army: the stop and go nature of marches, living on short rations when supplies could not get through, the brutal weather that the soldiers often endured with no shelter, the time and effort spent taking care of the horses that draw the artillery. One looking for a source with spectacular battle descriptions may be disappointed, but one looking into the everyday life of a Civil War soldier will find a great deal in these two diaries.

Edward Bemis, of Ashby, who has been in this neighborhood for the past several weeks, was called home last Friday by a telegram announcing the death of his baby daughter. Notes for Aaron Childs:

[Genealogy of the Child, Childs and Childe Families; Of the Past and Present in the United States and Canada, from 1630 to 1881:539]

Hon. Aaron Childs, eldest son and child of Dea. Josiah and Abigail Ward CHilds, b. in Henniker, N. H., Dec. 1, 1806, m. April 11, 1833, Hannah F. Bemis, dau. of Jonathan Bemis of Windham, Vt. All the children of Dea. Josiah and Mrs. Abigail Ward Child, were born in his own native place in the Granite State, but as Daniel Webster said of it, "New Hampshire was an excellent State to emigrate from," so it appeared to this large household of sons. The eldest set the example. The year after his marriage Mr. Childs with his bride removed to the then wilds of Michigan, he purchased a tract of land in Washtenaw Co. and established a home. His daughter writes, "For many years he experienced the manifold trials incident to pioneer life, at that period. From the organization of the township in which he resides, he has been connected with it in official capacities. For fifteen years he was its Supervisor. In 1870 he was elected a member of the State Legislature." Though privation of luxuries may have been the unavoidable lot of these early settlers of the Peninsular State, long since ease and plenty have crowned their toils, and none are held in more thorough esteem than the Hon. Aaron Childs and his numerous family.

Comments on family of Charles Bemis-- The first wife of Charles, Harriet Fay, d. Oct. 2, 1849, according to the "Greenwood Genealogies". Charles remarried and we find him with 2nd wife, Mary Severance in the 1850 Census in Windham, and with three of the children with first wife Harriet Fay. Also in the 1850 Census in Windham, just five houses away, we find Reuben Fay and wife Hepsibeth with Reuben Bemis, age 11, b. VT, and Mary E. Bemis, age 7, b. VT. I believe that Reuben and Hepsibeth are the parents of Harriet Fay, first wife of Charles Bemis, and that both Reuben and Mary E. Bemis are also children of Charles and Harriet and they are living with their grandparents in Windham. Charles and 2nd wife Mary Severance have three children born to them in the period 1850-1860.

Also in the 1850 Census in Windham, just five houses away, we find Reuben Fay and wife Hepsibeth with Reuben Bemis, age 11, b. VT, and Mary E. Bemis, age 7, b. VT. I believe that Reuben and Hepsibeth are the parents of Harriet Fay, first wife of Charles Bemis, and that both Reuben and Mary E. Bemis are also children of Charles and Harriet and they are living with their grandparents in Windham. Charles and 2nd wife Mary Severance have three children born to them in the period 1850-1860.

From History of Dublin, pps. 576-577

"In 1849, Messrs. Bemis and Symonds, & Co. erected a wooden-ware shop on the stream just below the "Great Meadow" (now the bed of the large reservoir east of Chesham station). The next year, they built a saw-mill on the opposite side of the stream. This was the mill at what was known as Bemisville, near the Chesham station. They manufactured two hundred fifty gross of mop-sticks at five dollars per gross, fifteen hundred dozen of washboards at one dollar per dozen, and they sold one hundred fifty thousand feet of boards at seven dollars per thousand, as a year's business. That mill is now in the township of Harrisville. It is still in operation, with changes of proprietors, and continues to saw a large amount of lumber".

Newspaper clipping from the Boston Globe, January 13, 1914--

"New Hampshire is noted for large families, but it is comparatively rare, even in that State, to see a baby who has three great-grandparents living. But at Chesham there lives a man who is even now only 61 who has the distinction of being a great-grandfather. His wife, who is 60, is hale and hearty. And as his sons's wife's mother is also living at the age of 84, the baby has three "Greats to his name." The Chesham man is George F. Bemis. He was the father of six sons, of whom five are living. A son Grover, who died in 1894 was named after Grover Cleveland, under whose first administration George F. Bemis was appointed postmaster, holding the appointment through the Harrison regime, and then thru the second Cleveland term.

Somebody else took office for a while but it eventually came back to the Bemis family and son Casper Bemis has now held it for a long time. George F. Bemis was born in Chesham and became livery stablekeeper in a day when that business was the more important because there was no railroad. He was the son of a woodware manufacturer which was also a more important business before wire bails for pails came into fashion. His father thus acquired a comfortable fortune. When the railroad was built through Keene from Pittsfield, George F. Bemis was made the first stationmaster and also the agent for the American Express Company. That was 35 or 40 years ago, but he still holds both positions. Mrs. Lambert C. Howe, wife of Lambert Howe, also a wodenware manufacturer still lives in Chesham at the age of 84. Except for her slight difficulty in hearing, she retains all her faculties wonderfully"

If public service cannot ever be adequately recompensed, at least a measure of recognition can be set down. The Bemis family has been a family of public service nearly every day since the incorporation of Harrisville

In 1870 Samuel Dana Bemis, on the Committee of Incorporation, was elected selectman and held the office for fourteen years. When he was not Selectman, he was Representative to the New Hampshire Legislature, Moderator or Clerk, sometimes holding several offices simultaneously. Sam's oldest brother, Elbridge was Selectman for many years in Dublin up to the time of Harrisville's incorporation. Sams's older brother, George Washinton Bemis, had six children. The second son, also christened George W., who ran the livery stable in Chesham, also had six children. His second son was called George and his son's second son was also a George. Casper Crowninshield Bemis, fourth son of the second George, was Postmaster in Chesham and was the father of Casper and Bill Bemis who have been public servants from time to time through the years on many town committees. Bill served on the School Board for many years. He was the youngest man ever in the State to hold the Selectman's Office.

Sam's father, Thomas, came to Pottersville in his mothers arms at the age of one. Thomas's father, James Bemis, had come to Pottersville in 1793 from Massachusetts where he had enlisted in the Revolutionary Army at the age of 18 and had been at Bunker Hill.

Samuel D. Bemis' son, Bernard, had an extraordinary record of service. He was Selectman for forty-eight years, served on many committees and gave nearly forty years to the School Board. His second wife was a White from Marlborough, a woman of energy, calibre and determination. On her mothers side she was a Bancroft, descended from James Bancroft who was one of the settlers in Mosquitoville (southeast Packersfield-Nelson); on her fathers side, she was a direct descendant of one of the Whites of the Mayflower Company who came to this country in 1630.

Typical of Bemis perserverance and continuity is Bernard Foster Bemis' son Ralph, one of the many Bemises in Bemisville. Ralph has been Tax Collector for more years than most of us can remember and has moderated Town Meeting for thirty-six successive years since 1934.

The Bemis family has served this community quietly and effectively. They have been gentle conservers of those virtues and traditions that have fashioned Harrisville.

Notes for Emma Josephine Smith:

[Received from Curtis Bemis Jr.]

There is a conflict wrt. the birthdate and place for Emma Josephine Smith. The "History of Dublin", p. 718, under the entry for George Franklin Bemis, gives the birthdate and place for Emma as May 9, 1853 in Westmoreland, NH. The History of the Town of Sullivan, compiled by Rev. J.L. Seward, a very careful genealogist gives the birth date as March 9, 1853 at Park Hill, Westmoreland. The Certification of Vital Record, Standard Certificate of Death gives March 25, 1853 and the place as Chesham, NH. No official record of the birth of Emma could be located by the State Registrar. The birthdate was taken from the Official Death Certificate and the birthplace taken from the "History of Dublin, New Hampshire". This is supported on the Death Certificate of son James Elwyn Bemis who died in 1920, presumably when personal memories of places and dates were clearer than when Emma died twenty years later-----Curtis Bemis, 7/31/2000

Of historical family history significance- C.E.Bemis, Jr.

Many stories and remembrances are passed down among family members that deal with Emma. She was known affectionately as "Grammie Bemis" and was the stalwart member of the family. She raised her grand-daughter Dorothy (dau. of Perley and first wife Lucy (Lutie) Eleanor Brown almost from birth thru adulthood and marriage, grandchildren were raised in her household (Gladys and Prentice, Elmer and Helen, also of Perley), sons and their families lived with them during early marriage years until they moved into houses nearby (Carl and Casper) and she always welcomed all extended Bemis family members at special gatherings--Thanksgiving was one such occasion.

Emma was known for serving chicken pie, of her own special concoction and recipe, on these special occasions. Her descendants fondly remember chicken pie including my father, Curtis E. Bemis, Sr., Mary Theresa ("Fifi") Bemis Stevenson, and Beverly Foster Kennedy. (as derived from letters and personal contact). I was totally unaware of the chicken pie tradition until a visit with Fifi in November, 2000-- (from my notes and letter(email) exchanges)

"About chicken pie for breakfast-- Yes indeed, all Bemis family members remember what Grammie Bemis (Emma) used to do when the whole clan came to Chesham. I never knew this until Gina and I visited Fifi (Mary Theresa Bemis Stevenson) in Mobile this past Thanksgiving week. She told us that she was going to make something special, a Bemis tradition, when we visited, but she would not tell us what it was. It was chicken pie and she had the original recipe that Emma had used. Now that is a Bemis family tradition and very, very tasty. I guess it affected my Dad the same way it has affected all Bemis family members."

Horace W. Smith is mentioned in a couple of family notes as another adoptee, the third, of Ira P. Smith and Fanny Buss (with Emma Josephine and Grace Annis Hardy) Absolutely no mention of Horace is ever made in any carefully prepared genealogy records, of which The History of Marlborough, The History of Dublin, or The History of the Town of Sullivan. I have Horace W. Smith, as a detached individual, in my records and here is a Report on him (from my records)--

Notes for James Knowlton:

From History of Town of Marlborough--p.551-"He resides on the old Wilson place on the line between Marl(borough and Keene which passes directly through his house. He is called a citizen of Keene."

Notes for Lydia Emily Mason:

The History of Dublin gives her name as Lydia Emily Mason (p.827), and, The History of the Town of Marlborough gives her name as Emily L. Mason (p.551). Since the Mason family was very prominent in Dublin, and the genealogy of the Mason family occupies pps 818-832 in The History of Dublin, and she was born in Dublin, I adopt the preferred name, Lydia Emily (CEB,8/2000).

Further, [Draper:77] indicates that "James b. Dec. 20, 1828. m. May 23, 1854. Emelia L. dau. of Dexter Mason." (Steve Dahlstrom,5/2001)

"Tis hard to part with thee.

Thy sweet and prattling voice;
Lone and sad your mother is,

For soon you'll follow me,
And then we'll string the harp anew."

Subject: Geneology request, Guildhall, VT.

We researched your request, but did not find the people who you are looking for. However, we did find a Joseph Bemis of Granby VT; married to one Mary Elvira Cook of Richford, NY, (6-3-1858). They had three children: Nellie A. (3-16-1860), John C. (2-19-1863) and Mary Edith (5-13-1871).

Also found one Eunice Perkins of Northumberland NH; Married to David Tucker of Maidstone VT in 6-22-1842, presumably after James died (Eunice and James married in 1811).

Oliver and Deidamia deeds were in our land records, some of their land passed to Joseph B.

Also, many of our children were born at the hospital in Lancaster NH, then and today. Perhaps that might be the place to look. For further reference, are you aware of the vital records office for VT? The number is 802-828-2794. Hope this helps.

She is called Abby L. in the History of Marlborough, p. 419, and called Abbie Louisa in the History of the Town of Sullivan, NH, p. 1118. C.A.Bemis, the author of the History of Marlborough is often quite careless with names; often uses nicknames, eg. Willie for William, Jennie for Jane, and fails to give full middle names in most cases.

Notes for Lois Amanda Bemis:

[Received from Nona G. Bemis]

Lois and Hubbard Phillips lived in Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and in Nebraska during their marriage. Lois died in Buffalo Co., Neb., 18 May 1881. Her husband Hubbard, died on December 31, 1892, at Fayette, Fayette Co., Iowa. In Nebraska, he worked as a mail carrier and contractor.

Information supplied by wife of Lois and Hubbard's third great-grandson. His name: Howard Lee Renschler. His wife's maiden name was Catherine Trausch. They live in Juanita, Neb.. They have not been able to locate Lois' grave or death certificate. Unfortunately the cemetery used by Kearney, Neb. in 1881 was abandoned in 1889 and the graves moved to the present cemetery. No record exists of lot owners or burials for the original cemetery. One half mile north of the Hiram Kimball (Lois and Hubbard's son-in-law) farm which was one and one-half miles south of Sweetwater, Neb. is located another abandoned pioneer cemetery. There are no markers or records. Either of these two locations are possibilities for the burial place of Lois Bemis Phillips. Old newspapers do not exist, that would have carried an obituary.

I want to thank Catherine and her husband Howard Lee Renschler, for taking the time to answer my letter and send me the information on Lois Amanda Bemis Phillips that they have found, that I did not have.

Marriage Notes for Lois Bemis and Hubbard Phillips:

There is confusing evidence surrounding the date of marriage between Lois and Hubbard. The Geauga County records show that Hubbard and Lois applied for a Marriage License on the 25th day of June, 1842. However, there is a subsequent record that states:

"Be it Remembered, that on the 3rd day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty two Hubbard Phillips and Lois Bemis of the County of Geauga, were legally joined in marriage, by competent authority, in conformity to the provisions of the Statutes of the State of Ohio in such cases made and provided; and a certificate of the said marriage, signed by Marsh Smith, J. Peace(?) who solemnized the same, has been filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for said County of Geauga, this 11 day of July Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and forty two."

More than likely, this is incorrect and they were married July 3, 1842.

Notes for Hiram Kimball:

HIRAM HARVEY KIMBALL

Buffalo County Nebraska

Hiram Harvey Kimball and Maria Malissa "Rye" Phillips Kimball moved from Janesville, Rock CO Wisconsin to Buffalo County, Nebraska in 1878.(1) They were 35 and 32 years old respectively at that time. They may have come with her parents Hubbard and Lois Bemis Phillips and her brother, Charles L Phillips, as all three families were living in the same household in Kearney, Nebraska in June, 1880 when the Federal Census was taken. Their mode of travel from Wisconsin to Nebraska is not known; it could have been by either wagon or railroad. Both the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroads served Kearney by 1878.

The Kimball and Phillips families financial situation must have been poor in 1880 as all three families, ten individuals ranging in age from 3 years to 63 years, were living in the same rented house.(2) Hiram Kimball's occupation was blacksmith, Hubbard Phillips occupation was farmer, and Charles L Phillips occupation was printer.(3)

By June 4, 1882 Hiram and "Rye" had moved to Sweetwater, Beaver Township, Buffalo County as that is the birth date and place of their youngest daughter, Ruth Arabelle. November 11, 1882 Hiram Kimball signed Union Pacific Railroad contract No 54043 for the purchase of 80 acres of land, being the North half of the North East quarter section 9, Beaver Township. The purchase price was $200.(4) This land lies one mile directly south of Sweetwater.

Sweetwater, Nebraska is a small village along the Burlington railroad in extreme northern Buffalo County. The north boundary of the village is the Sherman County line.

In April, 1883 Hiram Kimball was serving as the Director of school district #68, known as the Sweetwater school. He took the annual school census that year; a copy of the document shows his handwriting.(5) The school building was located one half mile west of their farm.(6) In 1884 Hiram Kimball signed the annual school census as a Justice of the Peace. The school census taken April 14, 1885 is the last one on which the Kimball family appears in Buffalo County.

In 1884 Hiram was still working as a blacksmith, now in Sweetwater where he was also the justice of the peace.(7)

On the state census dated June, 1885 Hiram listed his occupation as miller. The Sweetwater Milling Company owned a large frame mill building on the Sweetwater creek one half mile north of the Kimball farm. The attached agricultural schedule lists no crops raised in 1884 due to hail. That may be the reason Hiram is working in the flour mill and also the reason they left Buffalo County. The agricultural schedule lists only 25 acres of the Kimball farm as tilled; the remaining 55 acres were unimproved, probably unbroken prairie. Value of the farm was listed as $800, value of machinery as $60 and value of livestock as $195. No horses or mules were listed. They owned 6 cows, 3 swine, 12 poultry. The only item produced in 1884 was 100 dozen eggs.(6)

In March, 1885 Hiram and Maria signed two mortgages, one in the amount of $300, the other for $30. This was probably necessitated by the 1884 crop failure. November 24, 1885 they both signed a deed, selling the farm to William Cuddy for $400. The mortgage was to be paid by the purchaser, making the total sale price $700. The Kimball family moved to Byron, Thayer County, Nebraska, in March, 1886.(9) March 1st is the usual moving date for farmers., Arah C. Kimball, Hiram's brother, was already living in Byron.

[Received from Gail Elliott]

Hiram served in the Civil War, Union Army, as a Corporal in Company C, Regiment 10 of the Minnesota Infantry for 7 months and 20 days. He was discharged for a disability that resulted from a fall off a horse. After his death his widow, Charlotte, was able to collect a pension based on his Civil War service. She said he had not been married to anyone else. The pension number is 298407.

Hiram and Charlotte moved near Plainview, Minnesota, where they had a farm.

He had two brothers who were mentally ill, Clark and Loren. Also a sister, Celestia.

The 1851-52 Milwaukee city directory lists Bemis, H. Jr., shinglemaker, as a boarder with Lyman Benjamin on 2nd between Spring and Sycamore.

In the 1855 Wisconsin State census he was living with his second wife Charlotte in Milford, with their son Alonzo. In 1860 they are found in the Minnesota Federal Census.

The cause of death given on his death record is phlegmonus eryspulus.

Hiram is buried at Greenwood Cemetery, Plainview, MN. His probate papers were filed in Wabasha County, MN, dated July 31, 1912. The petitioner was son Charles Bemis and it was stated that Hiram died in August 1881. The County death records confirm his death as 11 August 1870, the same date as in the pension records. The heirs listed are Charlotte, Charles, Lillian, Frank, Adolphus, William, Mattie, Emma, Morice. Wallis is not listed. Emma's name is given as Emma Bemis Stanley. (She was married to George Stanley Wilbur.) No mention of his children by his first wife. The estate consists of one piece of property in Plainview Township, Wabasha County, MN.

More details about Hiram are written in the notes for his two wives, Caroline Krueger and Charlotte Smith.

Notes for Caroline Krueger:

[Received from Gail Elliott]

I believe Caroline to be the daughter of Johanne George Ewald Krueger and Maria Christiane Baehn Riemer Krueger. They are listed by Iwan as emmigrating from Pribbernow, Cammin, Prussia in 1847. With them are daughter Karoline Frederike Dorothea Krueger born, 1829, and Karl Fredrich Wilhelm, born 1832. This information is found in "German-American Genealogical Research Monograph Number 7 Nineteenth-Century Emigration of 'Old Lutherans' from Eastern Germany (Mainly Pomerania and Lower Silesia) To Australia, Canada, and the United States", by Clifford Neal Smith, Westland Publications. On Page 23 is From: Provinz Pommern, Kreis Kammin To: America 1843. In the list is the Krueger family of Pribbernow. These are not passenger lists, they are lists of people who left the country.

They boarded the Prussian Brig Proteus in 1843 in Stettin, with the congregation of David's Star Evangelical Lutheran Church from Pribbernow, and sailed to America, arriving in New York on September 7. The ship's manifest at the Port of New York, listed by C. Dubel, Master, shows George Kruger, 59, Marie Kruger, 55, Caroline Kruger, 14, and Carl Kruger, 11.

The FHL has a film #1377866 for David's Star Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kirchain, Wisconsin (near Jackson) 1837-1918. The records begin before the congregation emigrated from Pommern to Wisconsin with a list of the congregation who moved to Pribbernow and then immigrated to America. The Proteus passenger list is in those records, in old German script.

Carl Friedr. Wilh. Kruger and Carol. Frieder Dorothea Kruger were confirmed in 1844 in Milwaukee, according to a list found in David's Star records.

The only record we have of Caroline's marriage to Hiram Bemis is the divorce records filed by each of them.

In the baptism records for Freistadt Evangelical Lutheran Church is the record for Saara Wandillia, daughter of Hermann Bimas and Caroline Kruger.

In the records for St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin we have found:

1. Two daughters of Hiram Bemis and Caroline Kruger are baptized here and it is stated they are not members of that congregation.

2. Johan Kruger is a charter member of the church.

3. Death record for Maria Christine Kruger born Bohn.

4. Death record for Joh. Georg Kruger.

Baptismal records for Louisa and Rachel have not been found yet.

Hiram filed for divorce in the Circuit Court of Jefferson County on July 16, 1852. A subpoena was sent to the Sheriff of Milwaukee County to serve to Caroline that she must appear in Jefferson County Circuit Court July 30, 1852. The sheriff returned it unserved, declaring the defendant could not be found in his bailiwick. Hiram stated that he married Caroline in Milwaukee December 24, 1847. Nowhere in the divorce does Caroline's maiden name appear or is there mention of their children.

On May 18, 1854, Caroline filed for divorce from Hiram in the Circuit Court for the City and County of Milwaukee. She stated she married Hiram on or about the 26th day of December 1848 and had lived with him until about January 20, 1852 in Milwaukee. She stated the names and ages of their three daughters. Her claim is that Hiram departed from her in Milford and neglected to provide for her or the three children. She had heard he left Wisconsin and had no idea where he was. Evidently Caroline was ignorant of the fact that Hiram had divorced her and remarried. In 1855 he is found in the Wisconsin State Census in Milford, remarried.

A record of the marriage of Caroline Krueger and Hiram Bemis has not been found. The Milwaukee Sentinel (Friday morning, Dec 31, 1847) reports the marriage of Hiram Bemis to Caroline Raymond on December 26, 1847, by J.B. Cross, Esq. The Milwaukee Vital Records had Hiram Bemis to Catherine Raymond on December 26, 1847, per records recorded on January 8, 1828, by Justice of the Peace J.B. Cross. It appears that in the divorce records only the month agrees! (assuming these are the same people and I believe they are). Hiram knows the year and Caroline knows the day.

Marriage Notes for Hiram Bemis and Caroline Krueger:
[Received from Gail Elliott]

We found in the Milwaukee Sentinel that a Charles Raymond died in March 1847 when a pump fell on him. The article only stated that his family would miss him, giving no details regarding his family. It is my suspicion that Caroline was married to Charles Raymond, but I cannot confirm it.

To locate a marriage for Caroline and the baptism of Louisa and Ulrike, I have written to several churches in Milwaukee--some of the respondents have even gone to other churches to check records for me. So far, no success. In addition to Milwaukee County, I checked the civil records in Washington County and Jefferson County.

According to Hiram, in the divorce papers, they moved to Milford, Jefferson County, Wisconsin in the fall of 1851. The 10th of January, 1852, Caroline returned to Milwaukee. Hiram declared he attempted to get her to return but, he said, Caroline told him that if she ever set eyes upon him again she would kill him.

Caroline married Charles Stoltey in 1865, who had arrived in 1860 from Germany. This was computed from information on the 1900 Federal Census for Milwaukee when they were living at 441 Clinton. It also stated that Caroline was the mother of three, two living. Since Sarah and Louisa were living at that time, Rachel (Ulrike-Johane) had died. Caroline and Charles are buried at Forest Home Cemetery in Milwaukee. Funerals were conducted by Borgwardt Funeral Home. Caroline's tombstone gives her birthdate as May 6, 1829. The year fits with the daughter of Johann Martin George Ewald Kruger from Pribbernow and his wife Maria Christine Baehn.

We have noted that flowers have been placed on the Stoltey grave at Forest Home Cemetery, Milwaukee, each Memorial Day. On inquiry it was found to be an endowment and we do not know who the benefactor is. In the probate record it is stated that Charles Stoltey gave a nephew money to set up the endowment.

Caroline's death record gives the cause of death as paralysis agitans of 2 years duration with contributory cause as decubitus.

To the Circuit Court of the County of Jefferson

In Equity

Your orator Hiram Bemis of the town of Milford in the county of Jefferson and the State of Wisconsin complaining shows unto this court that he is a resident of said town of the age of twenty_____ years and has resided in the county of Milwaukee for and during the last three years until sometime in the fall of AD 1851 at which time he came to the town of Milford since which he has resided in said town of Milford, that on the, twenty-fourth day of December AD 1847 he intermarried with Caroline Bemis his present wife in the city of Milwaukee in this State, where the said Caroline resides, that they continued to live and cohabited together as man and wife in Milwaukee and remained there until the fall of AD 1851 when they removed to Milford as aforesaid and still continued to live and cohabit together until about the tenth of January AD 1852.

Notes for Charlotte Smith:

[Received from Gail Elliott]

Charlotte Smith married Hiram Bemis in Waterloo, Wisconsin, the May following his 1852 divorce from Caroline Krueger. In the 1855 Wisconsin census they were living in Jefferson County. By 1860 they were living in Plainview, Wabasha County, Minnesota, where they had a farm. They were parents of eleven children.

In her application for a Civil War widow's pension, Charlotte declared that Hiram had not been married previously.

In her declining years, Charlotte was cared for by her daughter, Lillian Bemis.

The cause of death on her death record is arteuo silemis.

[Received from Gail Elliott]

Charlotte is buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Plainview, MN. Rev. J.L. Jones conducted the service. Charlotte was a Presbyterian. Her obituary appeared in the, PLAINVIEW NEWS, Plainview, Minnesota., Sept 26, 1919:

Mrs. Hiram Bemis Passes Away at Age of 92 Years

Aged Resident of this city succumbs at daughter's home Sunday afternoon after years of Lingering illness.

Confined to bed and blind for years.

Mrs. Hiram Bemis passed away at the home of her daughter, Miss Lillian Bemis, in this city, Sunday afternoon, September 21, at 4 o'clock, following a lingering illness of over seven years, and for the past two years had been totally blind and confined to her bed. Yet through all these she has been one of the most uncomplaining and patient sufferers. Death came to her as a sweet relief.

Deceased was born in Pennsylvania, March 13, 1827, having attained the ripe old age of 92 years. She came with her parents at an early age to Watertown, Wis. She was united in marriage to Hiram Bemis at Lake Mills, Wis., They came from there to Minnesota and resided on a farm in Plainview township for many years. About 20 years ago she removed to the village which has since been her home. She reared the large family of six sons and three daughters, all of whom survive her, except one, Mrs. John Wood, who preceeded her in death. The children who survive the mother are: Alonzo, William, Mrs. George Wilber, Adolphus, Charles, Walter, Frank and Miss Lillian.

She was baptised into the Presbyterian church at the age of 12 years and has remained faithful to the faith.

Mrs. Bemis, with her family, have lived in this community many years and have formed friendships that will abide. It will be a willing duty, as they journey through life, to cherish the memory of her whose loss they mourn today. There is no time so like the present when we meet to perform our last duties to a dear and loved friend. She leaves a memory behind her that can be most fondly cherished. Her life was one of usefulness, honesty and true morality. Her aim was to discharge every duty that developed upon her, to aid mankind as far as circumstances would permit and to do injury to none. Her life was one of good motives and good deeds.

The funeral services were conducted from the home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J.L. Jones, after which the body was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

Relatives from out of town who were present at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bemis and son, Percy, Mrs. George Wilbur, Mrs. H. Farnsworth of Humbird, Wisc, and Frank Bemis of Watertown, S.D.

In 1900, Michael and Sarah Burns lived at 437 Clinton, Milwaukee, Wisconsin in a rented house. This is the same address where Fred Smith was listed in the Milwaukee directory in 1871-2. Listed with them in the U.S. Census are four of their children. At that time daughters Sarah and Daisy were dry goods sales ladies. Alexander worked in a box factory and Addie was a student.

In the 1920 census, Sarah was living at 1334 7th St. with daughter Addie, age 29. The census says that Sarah was born in Wisconsin, father born in New York, Mother born in Pommern, Germany.

Notes for Louisa Matilda Bemis:
[Received from Gail Elliott]

We have been led to believe that Louisa grew up in a fairly well-to-do home. Her parents were divorced when she was only a year old and we are not sure that she ever knew her father. He had remarried and moved to Minnesota not long after the divorce. Caroline took her three little girls to live near her parents, if not with them. We have a picture of a grand old house in the Milwaukee area that is supposed to be the Krueger house.

Louisa was confirmed at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church in Milwaukee on March 29, 1863, her parents are listed as Hermann Bimus and Caroline Krueger. Sponsors are Wilhelm Petermann and his wife and Frau Otto nee Dietz.

Her mother, Caroline, married Charles Stolte in 1865.

We don't know much about Louisa's family. Her son Louis wrote in a letter in the 1960's to his niece:

"Never learned much of my Mother's family. She was not prone to talk much of it. I got the impression that her home life was not too happy, that her mother, and one older sister especially, were not easy to live with. Add to this the stepfather Mr. Stolte with his set ideas, I could understand quite early in life why she never visited there after 1889 and never wrote or received a letter from there in my memory. Never heard anything of her father Bemis other than he was a down east Yankee and had presumably gone on west. Quite possibly too, the Bemis-Stolte group could have been snooty about mothers marriage to a mere Swede."

In another writing he says:

"Mother had made a visit to her mother when I was a year old (1889). Stolte gave each of the kids a five dollar gold piece. At about 12 or 13 I wangled mine for my first rifle."

Louisa and Fred Smith moved to Otsego Lake Village, Otsego County, Michigan, in 1874.

For a city-bred girl, Louisa apparently adapted quite well to life in Otsego County. Louis has further comments: He tells of her vegetable garden, how she would can fruit picked in the woods, that she was an excellent cook, and the fruit trees they planted. He says she sewed, knitted and crocheted and taught him to darn socks and mittens and patch clothing. Often she was called to help in sickness around town and as a midwife. They had cows, horses and chickens to care for.

Her family had spoken German at home. She occasionally visited the Passenheim family west of Waters and spoke in German with them.

The house at Otsego Lake Village was deeded to Louisa alone. We think it may have been a gesture from Fred to insure she would not have to go through probate upon his death. He was 16 years older than her, and had been receiving a partial pension from his service in the Civil War, due to a disability. He naturally would have expected she would outlive him. He was wrong. Louisa died of a stroke at age 54. To obtain the deed to the house, it was necessary for their children to sign a quit-claim deed to Fred. Another theory of the deed is that her family in Milwaukee may have bought the house for her to insure she had a place to live.

Obituary in Otsego County Herald Times of Nov. 1905

LOUISA BEMIS SMITH

On Monday last at 8 o'clock, p.m., Mrs. Louisa Smith, of Otsego Lake, departed this life, having been stricken but a few hours before with paralysis. The deceased was the wife of Fred Smith who is well known through this entire section.

She had been in her usual health during the day and had, in fact, been to the post office at about three o'clock. Her husband was away from home on a business trip, which left Mrs. Smith and their son, Louis, home alone. Late in the afternoon Louis, who had been out about the premises, entered the house and found his mother unconscious. He immediately sought assistance, but she was beyond the help of earthly hands and expired at the time stated above. Mrs. A.A. Crego of this place, and Mrs. Jas. White, of Waters, were able to reach her bedside before life fled.

The husband, four daughters and one son survive the wife and mother. The daughters are Mrs. A.A. Crego, Gaylord; Mrs. Jas. White, Waters; Mrs. Chas. Passenheim and Miss Bessie Smith, of Manistique. The son, Louis, resides at home.

Mrs. Smith was born in Milwaukee February 8, 1852 and was married 39 years ago. For 32 years she had been a resident of Otsego Lake so that she was considered one of the pioneers of this section.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the home, Rev. H. J. B. Marsh of the Gaylord M.E. church officiating, Interment was made at Otsego

Notes for Frederick Carl Smith:

[Received from Gail Elliott]

Frederick was born in Larbro Parish, Gotland, Sweden, as Christian Fredrik Segerberg. Fred signed up on the U.S.S. North Carolina with the Union Navy on May 6, 1862, in New York Harbor as Frederick Smith. He was assigned to Admiral Farragut's fleet and took part in the battle at Mobile Bay and the blockade run up the Mississippi River. His rank was seaman. The divisions of the crew in order of rank are: petty officers, able seamen, ordinary seamen, landsmen and first and second-class boys.

The ships he served on under Farragut were the Mississippi, the Portsmouth, the Colorado, and the Kennebec. (Service verified with military and pension records).

After his discharge, he made his way up to the Great Lakes. Fred met and married Louisa Bemis in Milwaukee and lived there for a few years. For a couple years during that time he was captain of the schooner St. Lawrence, a two masted vessel on the Great Lakes. (verified with the ship's documentation records). He hauled grain from Milwaukee and lumber from Michigan's upper peninsula.

Family lore has it that he purchased a ship of his own that he sailed on the Lakes. He sold it on a handshake to another party who ran it aground on a sandbar near Ludington, MI, in a November storm after the season's insurance had run out. Fred lost his investment in the ship, of course. We have spent a number of hours in libraries and also searching old Ludington newspapers to verify the story, with no success. We believe there is some basis to it, but not knowing the ship's name makes it difficult to research.

Fred was naturalized in the Municipal Court, Milwaukee, County, Wisconsin, on the 20th September, 1867. He declared his intent that day and was granted citizenship immediately, due to his serving in the Union Navy. Witnesses were J. Johnson and J. Fitzgerald.

Eventually he decided to try his hand in the lumber business and found his way to Otsego County. It has been told that he walked from Acme to Otsego Lake on the stage trail, rather than spend the fare to ride the stage. He was able to obtain a job with the lumber company of Smith, Kelly and Dwight. The company had laid out a village and he purchased a home, deeding it to Louisa. While it was being built, they lived in a small cabin about a mile away.

Soon Fred went on his own, operating his own lumber camp, and timber cruising for other operators and land owners. He did some of the surveying in Otsego County. (I own the house, know the village and have some pictures and letters so I am fairly sure this is accurate)

He could read and write in Swedish and English. We have some ledger books, diaries, and a couple letters written by Fred. The problem is, his English was spelled phonetically with a Swedish accent making it hard, and at times impossible, to read. It is also recorded that he knew a little of French, Portuguese, Manchu and Cantonese. His son Louis once heard him in conversation with a missionary's son who had been raised in China.

He joined the Masonic Lodge in Gaylord in December, 1886. (confirmed with Lodge Records)

Obituary in Otsego County Herald and Times on Friday, April 24, 1914, front page:

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE TO HIS REST

Fred Smith of Otsego Lake Passed Away Suddenly Last Saturday

Fred Smith, a pioneer resident of Otsego lake died suddenly while in Soderberg's store at that place on Saturday last. While not enjoying the best of health for a time yet his health for a man of his age had been remarkable all his years.

In the death of Fred Smith the county loses one of its pioneer citizens and a person who probably was as widely known as any other person in this section. He was a man of strong character and one who appreciated and enjoyed the warmest and closest friendships.

The deceased was born in Sweden and early became infatuated with the life of the sea and followed the mast constantly. He had visited nearly every country and had "rounded the Horn" seven times. When the war between the North and South broke out he joined the American navy and was with Farragut at the battle of Mobile.

He came to Otsego county about 36 years ago and had been a continuous resident here ever since that time. He was 76 years of age on November 7 last. He was a member of Gaylord Lodge No. 366, F. &A.M. and of the Gaylord Chapter No. 119, R.A.M.

The deceased is survived by four daughters and one son, Mrs. A.A. Crego of Trout Lake, Mich, Mrs. C. Passenheim of Manistique, Mrs. James White of Otsego Lake, Miss Bessie Smith of Wenatche, Wash and Lewis Smith of Otsego Lake.

The funeral services were held from the late home at Otsego Lake on Tuesday afternoon the burial being with Masonic honors under the auspices of Gaylord Lodge F. &A.M., the Rev A. A. Allington being the officiating clergyman.

The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Otsego Lake. Mrs. Crego and Mr. and Mrs. Passenheim were the out of town relatives present at the funeral. Miss Bessie Smith of Wenatche, Wash, being unable to be present.

Notes for Rachel Ulrike Johanne Bemis:
[Received from Gail Elliott]

We have not found much information regarding Rachel. Caroline refers to her as Rachel in her divorce papers. When confirmed at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church in Milwaukee, her name is Ulrike Johanne. Two of her sponsors were Johanne Mauer and Ulrike Fieberhans and it looks like she took their names at that time. This is all we know of her for sure.

I have a large old frame hanging on the wall in our old family home. It has needlework saying "Absent but not forgotten". There are two pictures, one of an older woman and the other a girl of about 14. My grandmother once told me the woman was her grandmother Krueger. I don't remember ever hearing who the girl was, but I suspect it was Rachel. Neither of these would have been Caroline, Louisa's mother, as she died after Louisa.

In the 1900 census, Caroline said she was the mother of three, two living. Louisa and Sarah were living at that time, so we know Rachel had died.

[Received from Jon Wilbur]

Grew up in Chautauqua County of New York. Liked to hunt bear.

See the scrapbook for this family's picture! Jon Wilbur posted to MyFamily.com 2-10-2002 about this picture:

Back row: Mable (b.11-1889)(Mabel?) & Ada (b.1-1882).

One of my dad's sisters, Cleo, had this picture blown up and has it hanging in her bedroom. She was adopted by Mable (during the Depression) when Layton & his wife, Jennie, were separated and Jennie was in an "insane asylum". So, Cleo has fond memories of Mable and her husband, Tyler Merrill, who's father was doctor at the Stillwater, MN state prison.

Ada married Horace ("Hod") Farnsworth, who's father was mayor of Minneapolis and who's mother came from a wealthy family, the Blaisdale's.

Hazel married Henry Harris, in Altoona, WI and had 2 boys & 2 girls. One of their sons, Harold, went on the historical expedition in 1946 to Antarctica with Admiral Byrd. I have a 1994 article from the Chippewa Valley Life newspaper about it.

Carl was a sharpshooter in WW I but was considered a "black sheep" of the family due to his drinking and womanizing (along with Layton).

Obituary in the Humbird?, WI paper after George's death on 12/22/1928:

Mr. George Stanley Wilbur was born in the town of Sherman, New York, October 7, 1850. His father died when the son was less than two years old. When he was six years of age, the family came to the present village of Merrillan, where an older half-brother took up a timber claim. The journey was made by ox cart. On this woodland, George Wilbur grew to young manhood. He went to the harvest fields of Minnesota, where he made the acquaintance of Miss Emma Bemis, whom he married Jan. 3, 1875, at Arcadia, Wis.

Mr. Wilbur worked for a few years as shingle sawyer at Antigo, Paynes' mill, Boatman's mill, and Waters' mill. They were married fifty-three years, and lived on their little farm south of Humbird for thirty-five years. He passed away at his home suddenly Saturday morning, Dec. 22, at 8:30, at the age of 78 years, 2 months and 15 days. His beloved wife preceded him to the Great Beyond only one month and twenty-six days.

They leave to mourn their departure six heart-broken children; four daughters: Mrs. L. E. Howe, Mrs. H. B. Farnsworth, Mrs. Henry Harris, and Miss Mable Wilbur; and two sons: Carl Wilbur and Layton Wilbur, and several grandchildren, besides a host of friends.

He was a member of the M. E. church for several years, and was regular in attendance at its services until infirmities came upon him, but he lived a Christian until his summons came.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon, and were attended by many friends. The sermon was given by Rev. E. A. Weaver and burial was in the Houghtonburg cemetery.

Notes for Amelia Church:

[Received from Jon Wilbur:04/13/2002]:

From an Aug. 22, 1968 (Humbird?) newspaper article about Amelia (Aunt "Min"):

Neillsville 'Grandma' Nears 100th Birthday

In her room in Memorial Hospital, Neillsville, "Grandma" Amelia Bemis is receiving daily congratulations as she nears her 100th birthday anniversary. A patient in the hospital nearly four years since fracturing her hip, Mrs. Bemis has won herself into the hearts of physicians, hospital staff and visiting friends.

With excellent sight and hearing and a keen mind, Mrs. Bemis makes each day brighter for those who visit her. (Born on) Aug. 29, 1868 in Clintonville, Wis., she was educated in her native city. Later she worked as hat maker and seamstress in Oshkosh.

Amelia Church was married to Walter Bemis July 20, 1890, in Clintonville. For their first years of marriage, her husband worked in (the) lumbering industry in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan where he was a head sawyer. In 1901 they located on a farm, two miles southeast of Humbird in Mentor township, Clark County. They farmed until 1949 when they moved to (the) village of Humbird. Mr. Bemis died in 1955. She remained in Humbird until hospitalized at Neillsville four years ago.

A hard-working woman all of her life, Mrs. Bemis was a fancy work artist, milliner, rug maker, and an outstanding gardener. She has been an active member of Methodist Church all of her life. She worked in community activity and in early years was a midwife and practical nurse. She has many friends because she always showed herself friendly.

As her recipe for long-life, Mrs. Bemis says: "Never get excited, be kind to all who cross your path, be temperate in your living, make someone happy everyday."

Death of Mrs. J.S. Wood at Oshkosh.

A telegram was received Friday morning by Mrs. Hiram Bemis that her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Wood, of Oshkosh, had died that morning. Tho her death has been expected for some time it was a sad shock to her mother and sister.

Mrs. Wood has been sick something over two years with tuberculosis of the bones. Though in almost constant pain she never murmured or complained of her ailment, but bore it patiently.

Mrs. Wood was born and raised in Plainview and was loved by her many friends of this vicinity. She leaves a husband and two children, Robbie and Jennie, six brothers, two sisters and a mother to mourn her departure.

Her brother, Charley Bemis and sister, Lillian, left for Oshkosh Monday where the funeral was held on Wednesday and her remains laid to rest in the Riverside Cemetery of that place.

[Received from Gail Elliott]

Lillian Bemis never married. She worked as a clerk. The local sextant, in 1997, remembered her and pointed out her house in Plainview. He said she raised chickens in the yard.

There is a GAR star flag holder on Lillian's grave. She probably belonged to the Grand Army of the Republic Auxiliary.

Lillian's probate record showed she received old age assistance. In her last years she was confined to the State Hospital at Rochester, MN, due to partial paralysis and mental deterioration.

FUNERAL OF SAMUEL BEMIS

The body of the late Samuel Bemis was brought here last Saturday and services were held at the Aztalan cemetery, Rev. E. C. Potter officiating. His daughter, Mrs. Henry Holmes, accompanied the body here and was in attendance at the service.

Mr. Bemis originally owned a farm in Milford and, after his wife passed away, he made his home in Lake Mills, where he had many friends. He was a pleasant man to meet and a good friend to have. A few years ago he left here to make his home with his daughter whose home was in Cleveland part of the time, and the rest of the time in one of the Carolinas. He had reached his 84th year, had fought a good fight and was ready to pass on.

Obituary for: Frank M. Bemis, as published in the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern, 6/11/1917, page 6

CUTS HIS THROAT WITH HIS RAZOR

CHIEF ENGINEER AT THE NORTHERN HOSPITAL FOR INSANE COMMITS SUICIDE

MISHAPS CAUSE OF WORRY

ACCIDENTS TO MACHINERY ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN REASON FOR ACT.

Frank M. Bemis, chief engineer at the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Winnebago, committed suicide some time late Saturday afternoon by cutting his throat.

The body was found by one of his co-employees Sunday morning at about 9 o'clock lying in the tunnel which leads from the engine room to the main building.

Because Mr. Bemis sometimes worked on the night shift, his absence from home did not cause his family any special worry and no search was made until Sunday morning, when he still failed to return to his residence. Then when the attention of the fireman was called to the absence he remembered having seen Mr. Bemis start through the boiler room the previous evening toward the main building. A search was made and the body found. The condition of the body indicated that the suicide had taken place shortly after he was last seen by the fireman.

Worried Over Mishaps.

Mr. Bemis had been employed at the Northern hospital for fifteen years or more and is spoken of by officials of the institution as being very faithful and conscientious in all his duties. In fact, it was that characteristic which is believed to have caused him to commit suicide.

There has been some difficulty with the machinery at the hospital during the last few months. Mr. Bemis expressed concern that he might be blamed for the mishaps. For example, a dynamo burned out last winter. Later one of the pumps became disabled. Still later something went wrong with the condensor of the ice making machine. Then another pump broke down. While neither the board of control, the superintendent nor the steward ever laid the blame upon Mr. Bemis, but rather considered the accidents the result of general wear and tear on machinery in use for several years, these mishaps bothered him. He is said to have been a man of extremely sensitive disposition, who worried over what people might say about him.

Obeded an Impulse.

He worried so much over the matter he was urged to take a vacation and he did lay off for a short time about a month ago, although he did so with reluctance. Since he returned to his duties he appeared to be less concerned and there was no thought of his committing suicide. He completed his work at about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and went down to the lake front with his family, returning a little later to the engine room, while the family went on home. He was not seen again by any one except the fireman.

It is believed that the suicide was not premeditated, in view of all the circumstances. He was noted for his devotion and tender care of his family. It is believed he went from the engine room to the main building to shave, that being his usual custom because of hot water being available there and he obeyed a sudden impulse which caused him to go down into the tunnel, under the building and do away with himself.

The Family.

Mr. Bemis was about forty-six years of age and came to the state institution as an employe from Wausau. His home, however, was at Lake Mills. He was a married man and leaves a widow and three children, Ethel aged thirteen; Reginald aged eleven; and Frank, aged two years. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made. District Attorney D. K. Allen was called to the institution and made an investigation, but decided no inquest was necessary, suicide being plainly indicated.

JEFFERSON COUNTY UNION Vol XIII, No. 46, Fri Jan 19, 1883, Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin:

About the county: Jefferson: Clark Bemis, brother of S M Bemis, and Mrs. George Allen, Of Milford, was confined here on Monday and taken to Oshkosh on Tuesday. From there he will be sent to St. Peter, MN, and confined at the insane asylum at that place, where he has already been an inmate for some time. Another brother of this unfortunate family is among the incurable insane of this county, and is now awaiting admission to the new asylum.

A newspaper article from Rochester MN of Jan 16, 1894, reported his death: A Patient Attacked and Killed by Another Who Became Violently Insane. A paralytic patient at the State Hospital was injured by another patient last Saturday in such a manner that he died the following day. The old man who was killed, Clark Bemis, had been in this and the St. Peter hospital for years. The other patient was Hans Michaelson, who was committed from Minneapolis, and though he was habitually cross and surly he had exhibited no signs of violence recently.....The remains were taken this morning by relatives from Princeton, Minn.

[History of Dunn County, obtained from Wisconsin Stout University by Nona G. Bemis]

Amherst Bemis, now deceased, who settled in Dunn County nearly 45 years ago and was a resident here for many years, was born in Mentor, Lake County, Ohio, about 25 miles northeast of the city of Cleveland, on July 8, 1838. As a boy he attended school in his native state and when a young man went to Illinois, and later to Milford, Jefferson County, Wis., where he remained until 1880. It was after he came to Wisconsin that the Civil War broke out, and in February, 1862, he tried to enlist but was rejected. In February, 1864, however, he succeeded in enlisting in Company D, 29th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, of which organization he was a member until he received an honorable discharge on July 4, 1865, several months after the war had ended. It was in 1880 that he came to Dunn County, Wisconsin, and for a year thereafter he operated a rented farm in the town of Sherman. Then, in 1881, he came to the village of Knapp and went to work in the planing mill, where for four years he was a foreman. He then moved to Downing, this county, and for 11 years was foreman in the mill there. In 1896 Mr. Bemis went to Minnesota and took a homestead of 160 acres at Park Rapids, Hubbard County. There he remained for 10 years operating the farm, at the end of which time, his health failing, he gave it up and returned to Knapp, and for the remainder of his life he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Clack in the town of Sherman, Dunn County. His end was already near, however, and while on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Grant McClure of Milaca, Minn., he passed away on February 24, 1907. His remains were brought back to Dunn County and interred at Downing. He was a member of Frazier Post, No. 147, G.A.R. at Park Rapids, Minn. A brave soldier of the Union and a worthy citizen; hard working, steady and reliable, he had many friends to mourn his loss. Mr. Bemis was married in Milford, Jefferson County, Wis., Oct. 15, 1861, to Mary M. Spitzer, who was born in that place Aug. 22, 1846, daughter of Garrett B. and Lucy Anna (Carter) Spitzer. Her parents were natives of New York State who came west in 1845, settling in Jefferson County, Wis., where they made their home for the rest of their lives. To Mr. and Mrs. Bemis five children were born: Lena, who first married Henry Clack and is now Mrs. C. F. Searle of Knapp; Mary, who is Mrs. Grant McClure of Milaca, Minn.; and Frances, Floy and Archie, who are deceased.

Notes for Henry Clack:

Henry Clack, a worthy pioneer of Dunn County, whose death some 12 years ago left many aching hearts, was born in London, England, May 26, 1837. He was a young boy when he accompanied his parents to this country, the family settling in Detroit, Mich. He was 19 years old when he came to Dunn County, locating in the town of Red Cedar, and later in that of Sherman, where it he made his subsequent home. He was twice married: first on April 1, 1861, to Lucy A. Blaine, who died July 18, 1880. By her he had six children; three of whom are now living, namely Mrs. F. H. Barber, of North Platte, Neb.; George Clack of Sherman; and Mrs. H. Peck of Graceton, Minn.. On February 1, 1882, Mr. Clack was united in marriage with Lena Bemis of Knapp, daughter of Amherst and Mary M. ( Spitzer) Bemis, and of this union there were two children born: Ruth E. who is now Mrs. Edwin Schmidt of the town of Sherman, and Olive, who is now Mrs. A. H. Larson of Knapp. Mr. Clack's life in Dunn County covered a period of nearly 56 years, he at the end of that time being one of the oldest surviving pioneers of the county. For years he had been a member of the Dunn County Old Settlers' Society. But his life was drawing to a close and at 5:00 clock a.m. on Monday, May 13, 1912, after an illness of several months he passed away at his home in the town of Sherman, his remains being laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery. Such are the simple facts of his career and as such they are not so very different, perhaps, from those marking the lives of other pioneers of this and adjacent counties. But in his case there is more to be said. His death was the passing of a noble character, "a full and splendid life, well rounded out to over 74 years filled with good deeds, kind words and tender offices." His Christian character, kindness of heart and gentleness of manner had endured him to everybody, and it was well said of him, that, "were everyone to whom he had a loving service, to bring a blossom to his grave, he would sleep today beneath a wilderness of flowers." What better epitaph could any man desire? The fragrance of such a life lingers long after the bodily presence has departed and its influence is a power for good, it may be for generations yet to come. Those who knew Henry Clack will never forget him, but it is well that others should be told what manner of man he was. It is not too much to anticipate for him his master's blessing. " Well done, good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of the Lord." Mrs. Lena Clack, after remaining a widow for over 11 years, was married on November 17th, 1921, to Charles F. Searle, and she and her husband reside in the village of Knapp, her mother Mrs. Bemis residing with them.

Notes for Verner Elestor Bemis:

[Received from Tom Burpee, March 18, 2003]

Vern & Amy (Farnam) Bemis married on January 1, 1900. At year's end, Christmas Day, 1900, Amy gave birth to Lucille Bemis. It must have been a very happy time for the couple; what better symbolism than marrying at the dawn of a new century, then receiving the gift of a daughter on Christmas. Unfortunately for Vern the joy was short-lived. Wife Amy contracted tuberculosis the next year and after a lengthy illness died May 6, 1902. Five years later in May of 1907, 6-year-old Lucille ate rhubarb leaf and died of the toxins. Vern must have been devastated considering 25 years earlier, before his 8th birthday, he tragically lost his mother to typhoid fever.

Fortunately, after the death of his 1st wife Amy, Vern met and married a local schoolteacher, Rose Regina Thiel, and she was a great comfort to him after the death of his daughter and for the rest of his life.

[Long Prairie (Minnesota) Leader, Thursday, November 30, 1939]

One of the best known businessmen in the region about Browerville is Vernon E. Bemis. Mr. Bemis was born in Rice county, Minnesota on November 15, 1875. He came to Todd county in 1886, when Browerville was a very young town and learned the carpenter trade and he worked on many of the early buildings in the town. One important building on which he was employed was the flour mill mentioned in a former article. With the beginning of the Spanish-American war, he enlisted in Company K, 14th Minnesota Volunteers, and was honorably discharged when peace was restored. Returning to Browerville, he followed his trade and also farmed at times. When the automobile assumed such an important place in the life of our people, he engaged in that industry. For a number of years he has operated a garage, including sales department and oil and gas station, in association with Mr. Fred Soule.

Mr. Bemis has been twice married, first to Miss Amy Farnam, whose family was one of the earliest to settle in Todd county and having been obliged to go away when the Sioux war broke out in the sixties. Mrs. Amy Bemis died May 3, 1905, and later he married Miss Rose Thiel of a pioneer family in Moran township. To Mr. and Mrs. Bemis have been born the following named children: Beatrice, Roy, Leola and Laverna, all born at Browerville.

[Bemis family in Browerville and Long Prairie, Minnesota]

Vernon developed a well drilling business in Browerville and moved it to Waterville. When he died he passed it on to Harold who, when he retired, passed it on to his son Herb who is still in the business.

"Mrs. Martha M. Grant died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. H. Stedman, in this city, Monday morning, Jan. 7, at 9 a.m. Mrs. Grant came to this city about Christmas to pay her daughter a visit and was taken with typhoid malaria, and being aged, her strength was not sufficient to carry her through the malady. Mrs. Grant was born in Malone, New York, in the year 1822, consequently she lacked but two years of reaching her three score and ten when Death called her hence. She moved to Estherville some twenty years ago and has made that city her home ever since. The funeral took place at the home of Mrs. Stedman, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. Case, of the Congregational church. The remains were not interred until after the arrival of the evening train, being so held to give a son who was coming on the train an opportunity of being at the funeral of his mother.

The relatives of the deceased from a distance who were present at the funeral obsequies were E. B. Grant, of Fairmont, Minn., and Mrs. E. S. Wells, of Estherville, children of the deceased: S. E. Bemis, of Estherville, and D. M. ? . Bemis, of Waucoma, brothers of the deceased." [Palo Alto Reporter: January 11, 1895]

Mrs. Martha M. Grant died at Emmetsburg on the morning of Jan. 7, 1895, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. P.H. Stedman. This aged and honored lady who had made her home in Estherville for several years past, went to Emmetsburg a few weeks ago to make her daughter a visit. On the Friday preceding New Years she was taken ill with what seemed a bad cold which later took on the form of typhoid malaria from which she died this week at the age of sixty-eight. Two daughters, Mrs. E.S. Wells and Mrs. Chas. Perry reside in Estherville. [Taken from Northern Vindicator: January 10, 1895]

Eben (Ebenezer) was definitely the spouse of Delphene. I have copy of marriage info from Minnesota. I also have Eben's pension request info from the National Archives. The info is all on 8 1/2 x 14 paper and some isn't very legible because it's handwritten. If anyone doesn't have this info and would like a copy I can send via regular mail -- please send me your mailing address. It is about 11 pages.

The 1850 Malone census lists Ebenezer B (3 yrs) with Martha and George. Also listed is Roxana (6 yrs) [Does anyone know what happened to Roxanna -- is she listed in the 1890 census?] I don't think I have the 1860 census with the Grant's listed. I then show Eben, 23 yrs (Ebin) with Delphene in East Chain Lakes, MN 1870 census.

I don't know where the Edward came from in the 1860 Malone census. I don't have any info that shows there is an Edward in the family. I think it must be a census error -- was he 13 yrs old?

[Received from Linda McBroom]

DIED-SCHOOLCRAFT-At the home of her son, H.A. Schoolcraft, in Longmont, Friday, November 10, 1911, Mrs Harriet E. Schoolcraft, aged 81 years, 9 months and 18 days.

Just as the bell from the Fire House rang for 12 o'clock last Friday, Mrs Schoolcraft was called . A good mother gone to her reward, leaving ninety living children, grand children, great grand children and three of them great great grandchildren. This is a remarkable record. Most of them live in Colorado, and a large number of them were present at the funeral. Among them from out of town were Mrs Allie Harris and Frank Lamb of Pueblo, Mrs Flora Belcher of Denver and Mr and Mrs C.C. Branch of Gault.

Mrs. Harriet Eliza Bemis Schoolcraft was born in Malone, N.Y. Jan 23, 1830. Was married to C.C. Schoolcraft Feb. 3 1849, at Malone, from which union nine children were born. Mr and Mrs Schoolcraft moved to Madison, Wis. in 1849, remaining till 1854, after which they went to High Forest, Wis., then back to New York in 1863, and from there to Estherville, Iowa, in 1869. In 1879, Mrs. Schoolcraft's health not being good they crossed the plains in a wagon on easy time, so that she would not feel the high elevation suddenly. They remained in Longmont, Mr Schoolcrafts death occurring November 4, 1896, and Mrs Schoolcraft has made her home with her children in our city.

Mrs Schoolcraft united with the Baptist church at High Forest, Wis., about 1859, and was an active member of that denomination until her health failed and always a devoted wife and loving mother.

She leaves eight sons and daughters: H.A. Schoolcraft, S.C. Schoolcraft, Mrs Ruth E. Lamb., Mrs. Henrietta Hoselton, Mrs. Sarah Sorby, Mrs. Flora Belcher, W.D. Schoolcraft and Mrs. Lydia Branch. There is also another brother in New York state.

The line of five living generations is as follows: Mrs Schoolcraft, daughter Mrs Ruth Lamb, granddaughter Mrs Carrie Lott, great granddaughter Mrs Ethel Finnigan, great-great-granddaughter, Miss Ruth Finnigan.

Christopher Columbus fought in the Civil War from Malone, New York. He enlisted on 26 September 1862 in Co. H, 142nd Regiment of New York Infantry. He was 37 years of age and described as 5' 6" tall, hazel eyes, brown hair and florid complexion. He deserted 16 February 1863 at Cloud's Mill, VA. and was mustered out 7 June 1865 in Raleigh, N.C.

SCHOOLCRAFT-At his residence in Longmont, of heart trouble, Wednesday, Nov 4, 1896, Christopher C. Schoolcraft, aged 71 years, 2 months and 21 days. The news of Mr. Schoolcraft's death was not so great a shock to our citizens as it might have been, owing to his long sickness. He was born in northern Vermont August 14, 1825, came to Colorado June 1, 1879, and has carried on the business of contractor and carpenter until age and sickness compelled him to leave that to younger people. He leaves a wife and three sons and five daughters, one of them in Pueblo and one in Iowa, the rest in Longmont. He was an upright honorable man, a good citizen, husband and father, and the loss will be deeply felt. The funeral will take place from the Baptist church, of which the deceased was an active member, this afternoon at two o'clock and the interment will be at the Longmont cemetery. Notes for Henry Albert Schoolcraft:

[Received from Linda McBroom]

SCHOOLCRAFT-In Longmont, Monday, October 7, 1925, H.A. Schoolcraft, age 76 years, 1 month and 11 days.

Henry Albert Schoolcraft, better known as "Bert", passed away very suddenly at the banquet table, Home Coming Day, at the Odd Fellows Hall.

He had been in a very happy frame of mind and had gone up the stairs with the other men laughing and talking. A few minutes after taking his seat, he was stricken with a heart attack. His brother, W.D.

Schoolcraft and those sitting nearby immediately came to his assistance and carried him downstairs. A doctor, who was present did all that was possible but could not bring him to consciousness and he passed away in 10 minutes from the time he was stricken.

Mr. Schoolcraft joined I.O.O.F. No.29 October 27, 1879, and for 46 years has been a faithful member of the lodge, serving his time thru the chairs and being Past Noble Grand. He also belonged to the Columbus Encampment and Canton No. 3 of the I.O.O.F. and was a member of the Redmen of Denver.

Mr Schoolcraft was born in Malone, N.Y. October 26, 1849, and came to Colorado in 1879, making his home in Longmont most of these years. He has made many friends here and will be sadly missed by them all as well as by the relatives, on whom he lavished great affection.

He has been associated in business for several years in the Noah's Ark store.

Besides his brother, Mr. Schoolcraft is survived by an adopted daughter, Mrs. W.H. Young of Daly City, California, Flora Belcher of Denver, Mrs. Eliza Lamb of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Lydia Branch of Grover, Colorado.

After it was learned at the Lodge that Mr. Schoolcraft has passed on, Ray Shattuck, Grand Warden of the State of Colorado, gave a few appropriate remarks, expressing the sorrow of them all at the death of the brother who had been faithful for so many years, and also said how fitting it was that he should go, surrounded by the friends he loved so well and in the lodge that he had been faithful to for so many years.

LOCAL PIONEER DIES SATURDAY

William D. Schoolcraft, 67-year-old beloved pioneer of Longmont, died at a local institution Saturday afternoon at press time, following a long illness. For years, Mr. Schoolcraft had been active in the Longmont Odd Fellows lodge, and will be remembered by many as proprietor of Noah's Ark, a variety store. Surviving relatives include three daughters: Mrs. Ed Marquand, Ft Collins; Mrs. Clifford Hays and Mrs. Frank Carl, both of Longmont. A complete obituary will be published in the Times-Call Monday. (Died 1 Dec 1934 - Longmont Times Call]

FUNERAL of W.D. SCHOOLCRAFT to be HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for W.D. Schoolcraft, 67, well-known Longmont pioneer, who died late Saturday afternoon, will be held from Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. E.E. Emhoff, officiating. Interment will be made at Mountain View Cemetery with the Odd Fellows in charge of services at the grave.

The death of Mr. Schoolcraft came as a shock to his many friends in the community, although it had been known his condition was serious. The deceased was born in Malone, New York Feb. 24, 1867, and came to Longmont in 1879. For 29 years he was associated with the Schey clothing firm and later was proprietor of Noah's Ark Variety store for 16 years. He had been a member of the Odd Fellows lodge for 46 years and served as financial secretary of the local lodge for 41 years. Membership was held in the I.O.O.F. Columbus Encampment, Canton No. 3 and the Masonic order during his long residence here. Mr. Schoolcraft had endeared himself to the hosts of persons by his considerate nature, optimistic outlook and ability to smooth the way for others with a kind word when most needed.

The deceased's wife passed away Aug 8, 1918. In addition to three daughters, Mrs J.F. Clark and Mrs. Clifford Hayes, Longmont and Mrs Edward Marquand, Ft Collins, four sisters survive. They are Mrs C.C. Branch, Grover, Colo; Mrs W.A. Bauser, Chetene, Wyoming; Mrs Liza Lamb, Los Angeles and Mrs Flora Belcher, Denver. Ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild also are living.

Notes for Frances Elizabeth Sweeney:

[Received from Linda McBroom]

SCHOOLCRAFT-In Longmont, Thursday Aug. 8, 1918, Mrs. Frances E. Schoolcraft, wife of W.D. Schoolcraft, aged 48 years, 5 months, 2 days.

The death of Mrs Schoolcraft has come as a shock to our people, for few knew that she was seriously ill. She has been a very active member in the Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., for she has been treasurer for many years. She has been an enthusiastic worker in the Women of Woodcraft since its organization 21 years ago. She will be sadly missed in these organizations.

Mrs. Schoolcraft was married in Norwick(sic) New York to William D. Schoolcraft and came to Longmont in 1890. Four daughters were born to this union and all are living: Mrs. Ed Marquand, Mrs. Frank Carl, Mrs. Beeson and Mrs. Millard Slay. She also leaves two brothers in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

No arrangements were made for the funeral as we go to press as the family were waiting to hear from the brothers in Michigan.

Long Illness Proves Fatal To E. H. Curtis [received from Elizabeth Menke:04/25/2001]

Well known Resident Dies at Age of 82 Years at Home Here

Edma H. Curtis, Sr. 82, highly respected resident of this village passed away at his home on 40 First Street at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following an illness that stretched over a period of several years.

Born in Peru, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuban Curtis. Mr. Curtis came to this section when only seven years of age. As a young man he was employed for a number of years at the tannery here. Soon after leaving this position, he established a fruit stand on the site where the Farmers National Bank now stands, which he conducted for a number of years, later selling out to Fred Smith.

Thirty-four years ago he went to Newark, N.J. where he remained for 20 years. Following his return to this section, he purchased and conducted for a time, a farm in Bangor. Later returning to Malone he served as janitor at the Bates school, retiring about five years ago when his health became seriously impaired. During the past four and a half years he has been confined to his bed, bearing his suffering with patience that bespoke the commendable characteristics, which he possessed. A week ago today, his condition took a sudden turn for the worse, continuing so until his death occurred yesterday.

An honorary member of the Neshoba Lodge No.78, I.O.O.F., and a lifelong communicant of the Baptist church, Mr. Curtis was held in the highest esteem by his fellow members of those organizations, as well as his many friends in this vicinity, who will be deeply grieved to learn of his death.

Surviving are his wife, who before her marriage was Ruth L. Bemis of Malone, four sons, Henry A. of Malone, Edma H. of Cincinnati, Ohio; William of Morristown, N.J. and Sidney B. of Brushton; three daughters Mrs. Cora K. Earle and Mrs. Ruth Lytle of Malone; Mrs. Mae Keller of Maplewood N.Y.

Funeral services will be held from his home at 40 First Street at 2:30 O'clock tomorrow afternoon with the Rev. Charles A. Boyd officiating. Interment will be made in Morningside Cemetery.

He appears to be from Burke, New York. Notes from Cora Curtis-Kiefer. Also, "... When the Civil War broke out (1861) he went to work for the government driving an ambulance. Enlisted in the regulars just at time of peace and served three years." WHERE ARE THESE NOTES????? What is the date of the Civil War?

According to Joanne Shepherd, as told to her by Cora Curtis, Edma Curtis died of prostrate cancer. He stayed at home and was taken care of by the family.

In putting some information in my book I just noticed a death notice of Timothy Bemis, son of Jonathan
Bemis. On this his middle initial is "J." I told you on Moms records she had him listed as Timothy Jonathan Bemis b. March 23, 1867. The Jonathan Bemis Bible listed him as Timothy A. Bemis. It puzzled me why she would have this when it was so obvious that it should be with an A. Mom was very careful with her records. Well, the answer was with information Mom had from Etta, daughter of Timothy. In a letter to Mom, she told her that her Dad, Timothy, changed his middle name because there was confusion with his cousin Timothy Jonathan's brother Timothy b. March 23, 1833, had a son Timothy b. May 4, 1867. The same year that Jonathan's Timothy was born. Etta said that her dad told her to help keep the boys straight her Dad's middle name was changed to his Fathers name. So my records have Timothy with a J. for Jonathan regardless of what the Bible has. I have a note to that effect in the records now so I will remember if the question come up again.

The deceased came to Estherville in 1862 and engaged in the mercantile business, conducting one of the first general merchantise stores to be started in this part of the state. His brother, S. E. Bemis, also one of the pioneer residents of this city, was engaged in the general merchandise business at that time. In 1887, D.M.L. Bemis, with his family, moved to Colorado, where they resided until two years ago, since which time they have made Estherville their home. During the early days of the county Mr. Bemis was elected and served the people as treasurer of the county, a position he filled with honor to himself and to the satisfaction of the people. He was a man upright and honorable in his dealings with all, highly esteemed and respected, and who had the friendship and good will of all. The whole community joins the family in mourning his death. He's survived by his widow and four children, Charles F., Timothy E., and Henry J. of this city and Mrs. Mina E. Hart of Denver, Colo.

He had been in his usual health until Monday of last week, when he was stricken with pneumonia. He failed rapidly and passed away Sunday, surrounded by members of the family. The funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. J. W. Neyman. The services were under the auspices of the Masonic order, of which the deceased was an honored member. The pallbearers were E. I. Sondrol, A. O. Myhre, Chas. Crim, Isaac Skinner, M. K. Whelan and J. H. Barnhart, Sr.

Marriage Notes for Charles Bemis and Addie Tone:

Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Last Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bemis were married 50 years ago last Saturday. Last Saturday they drove to Mr. Bemis' old home town, Estherville, where a niece of Mrs. Bemis lives, Mrs. Art Katley, and two brothers, Jess Tone and Will Tone. There Mrs. Katley kept open house Saturday afternoon and evening in honor of the golden wedding affair, and a host of friends called.

On Sunday noon a family dinner was served here as a courtesy for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis were married at Spirit Lake in the home of the bride's parents, July 22, 1883, and went at once to Estherville to live where Mr. Bemis was engaged in metal work in connection with a har(d)ware store.

Mrs. Bemis' maiden name was Miss Addie Tone. The Estherville Vindicator carried this account of the wedding:

"Bemis-Tone. At the residence of the brides parents in Spirit Lake, July 22, 1883, Mr. Chas F. Bemis of Estherville to Miss Addie Tone of Spirit Lake. Rev. F. J. McCaffree officiating.

Mr. Bemis is one of Esthervilles estimable young men, has lived there all of his life except two years. He is a tinner by trade. We believe he possesss the necessary qualifications to make a good husband. We hear say in speaking of the sentiments of certain persons "I like that persons sentiments, it has the right ring." We have not learned what reputation Mr. Bemis has at home as a singer but he seems to have had no difficulty in striking the right Tone when he came to Spirit Lake as the above announcement will assure you.

"Some people are said to be wedded to their money, some to their books, others to their music. This young man is to be congratulated on the fact that he is wedded to his Tone. Miss Addie Tone, one of Eve's fair daughter's, who has lived in Spirit Lake for the last five or six years and has the esteem of many griends and as we have already said she is the right Tone to make a good wife, and we congratulate Mr. Bemis on his good fortune. We believe the young couple intend to make their home in Estherville. The Journal makes its bow and wishes them much happiness and prosperity."

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis came to Clear Lake about 9 years ago and Mr. Bemis has operated the Clear Lake Metal shop during those years. Previous to that they had lived in large cities after leaving Estherville, seven years having been spent in Minneapolis and seven at Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis have spend 50 happy years together and are held in high esteem by all who know them. They have many friends in the different places they have lived and many greeting and congratulations cards were received by them on their golden wedding day.

Mrs. Bemis who had been in very poor health because of neuritis and rheumatism, went on April 27, 1932 to Mis(s)oula Mont., to visit a daughter in hopes the change of climate would help her, which it did. About a month ago she returned to her home here feeling the best she had in years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis have three children: two daughters and a son, all of whom are married. The daughters are Jennie Downs Rocky Reef Resort, Milac, Minn.; Valeria Wagoner, Mis(s)oula, Mont; the son is Frank Bemis of Minneapolis. They also have seven grandchildren.

Notes for Simeon E. Bemis:

"Another Old Soldier Gone", M. D. Bevan, The Estherville Democrat, Dec. 30, 1896.

Simeon E. Bemis Passes Peacefully Away, Sunday, Dec. 22nd.

Simeon E. Bemis was born Nov. 3d, 1839 at Malone, Franklin County, N.Y., and died in Estherville, Iowa, Dec. 22nd, 1896--aged fifty-seven years, one month and nineteen days. He was one of a family of twelve children, of whom three brothers and one sister survive. Simeon grew to manhood on the farm, attended district schools, and later took a course at Malone Academy.

September 28th, 1861, he enlisted in Company I. 16th Regiment, N. Y. Infantry, and served two years. He was in the army of the Potomac, and was in several of the severest battles of the war. After the battle of Antietam, he was removed to the hospital at Hagerstown, Maryland, where he was discharged for disability as unfit for further service. On returning home he spent a few days and came west in 1863. He engaged in business for about three years at High Forest and at East Chain Lakes, in Minn. In 1866 he came to Estherville, where he has since resided and continued in the mercantile business until a few months ago.

He was married in 1866 to Miss Elizabeth Watkins of his native town. The fruit of this marriage has been seven children, all of whom are living and present in the house, except one, Claud, the second child and first son, who died at two years of age. One of the very sad features of the last sickness of this affectionate father, is the fact that owing to other dangerous sickness in the house his own daughters that would gladly have been at his bedside to minister to his wants, and alleviate suffering, were denied this privilege.

Mr. Bemis was richly blessed in his family. He lived in and for his family. This home has been build at the expense of much time and money for himself and family. It seems sad that he was permitted to enjoy for only a few months with them what had cost him so much thought and labor. But he passed away with a good hope of a "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Mr. Bemis has always been identified with the civic interests and societies of Estherville. In the past he was a prominent member of the Good Templar's lodge, and was honored with the highest offices in her gift. He has been actively connected with educational work, as a member and president of the school board. If rightly informed, he was a constituent and honored member of the Masonic Lodge, having charge of, and participating in those funeral services. He was also a constituent, and always an active honored member of M. A. Vandenburg G.A.R. post. He was its first commander and has been chosen and held the office for seven full terms. He has always been elected to, and filled some important office since the organization of the Post. According to the petition of the ritual, which he has repeated as Chaplin, he has been "transferred to the Grand Army Above, where God is the Supreme Commander." The religious life of Bro. Bemis, began about the time he attained his majority. When converted, he united with the Baptist Church of Malone, N. Y., where she who became the wife of his youth and whole life, was also a member. On entering the army he did not leave his religion at home nor "Hide his talent in a napkin." He was one of the very few young men that aided in keeping up a daily prayer meeting during his army life. He fought as a soldier of the Captain of his salvation as well as in the army of the Union. On last Sunday afternoon, when it became necessary for him, in view of the operation that was to be performed with the hope of saving his life, to be separated from his family, and the wife of over thirty years came to his bed-side to kiss the husband good-bye, he quietly remarked, "Good-bye; you go out into the kitchen and get the children together and you and Bro. Bevan pray while the operation is being performed." When his strength began to fail so fast during his last hours, and his wife spoke to him about the possibility of his end being near, he replied, "It is all right." He hoped that he would survive the disease and the operation, but the Heavenly Father willed otherwise.

In his own words, "It is all right." The funeral services were attended at his residence on Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 2 o'clock p.m. by the Masonic Lodge, the Grand Army Post, the Woman's Relief Corps, and a large concourse of sympathizing friends.

"Simeon E. Bemis.... Soldier and citizen"

Simeon E. Bemis is a leading merchant of Estherville, Iowa, where he is engaged in the general mercantile business. He was the pioneer merchant of the place and made his location in 1866, at which time there were few houses and a government barracks. On coming to the village he at once opened a store, building for that purpose a small house twelve by twenty feet. This building which was of the most primitive character, was build hastily, the second and third days after our subject arrived, and being completed so that he occupied the building on the third day after his arrival. He brought his goods with him from East Chain Lakes, in Martin county, Minnesota, and since that time has been continually engaged in the mercantile business. He at once bought several lots, and invested quite largely from time to time in other property in the village and vicinity. His store is now twenty by forty feet in size and one and one-half stories high, located northwest of the public square.

The subject of our sketch is a native of Franklin county, New York, the date of his birth being November 3, 1839. His parents, Ebenezer and Ruth (Trumble) Bemis, were natives, respectively, of New Hampshire and Vermont. The father was a farmer throughout most of his life at Malone, Franklin county, New York, where he died in 1862. The mother died in 1887. They had a family of twelve children, six of whom are now living - Martha M., now Mrs. Grant; Harriet, now Mrs. Schoolcraft; Timothy A., Jonathan, Deloss L., and Simeon E., David, another son, was a soldier in the war and died at Salibury in 1863 as the result of exposure in the Andersonville prison, where he was confined for some time. Four of the sons - Timothy, Jonathan, Simeon and David, were in the Union army between 1861 and 1865. Jonathan and Simeon enlisted in 1861 in the Sixteenth New York Infantry, Timothy in the Ninety-eighth New York Infantry, and David in the One Hundred and Forty-second New York Infantry.

Simeon E. Bemis was reared on a farm in New York, attended the district schools, and later took a course at Malone Academy. In 1861 he enlisted in Company I, Sixteenth Regiment New York Volunteer Infantry, and was in the Union army for two years serving the full time of his enlistment. He participated in the following named battles, in which his regiment was a part of the Army of the Potomac: Seven days fight in front of Richmond, second battle of Bull Run, Crampton's Pass, Antietam; after which battle our subject, being sick, was removed to the hospital at Hagerstown, Md. This ended Mr. Bemis' service, as his health failed and he was considered unfit for further duty in the field. During his war experience Mr. Bemis fought gallantly in the above sanguinary battles, and proved his loyalty and patriotism by offering his life and health as a sacrifice for his country's benefit. After being discharged he returned to his home in New York, remained a month and then came West in 1863, engaging in business at High Forest, Minnesota, and remained until 1866 engaged in the mercantile business. In the year just mentioned he came to Estherville and has made that his permanent home ever since. He has been operating a safe and honorable business, and has still a share of the trade of the county. He has also invested somewhat in farming lands, and owns a valuable farm of 312 acres at East Chain Lakes, has a fine farm of 110 acres adjoining the village of Estherville, 120 acres four miles east of the village, 320 acres in Ellsworth township, 120 acres in Center township, 146 acres southwest of the village and eighty acres in Dickinson county.

Mr. Bemis is a man of excellent character, both as a business man and as a citizen. He is a man of strong temperance principles, and was a prominent member of the Good Templars lodge, having held the highest office in the lodge of the village, and has at all times been actively connected with temperance work.

[History of Emmet County and Dickinson County Iowa, Vol. 1, Chicago, Illinois, The Pioneer Publishing Company, 1917, p.104]

Simeon E. Bemis came to Estherville in 1866. He was born in Franklin County, New York, November 3, 1839; was reared on a farm, and received his education in the Malone Academy. The presidential election of 1860 occurred on the 6th of November, just three days after he had reached his majority, and he cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln. When the call for troops came in April, 1861, he enlisted in the Sixteenth New York Infantry and served about two years, when he was discharged on account of the condition of his health. Upon receiving his discharge he decided to try his fortune in the West and went to Minnesota. Three years later he came to Estherville, bringing with him a small stock of goods. Finding no suitable room in which to open a store he had one erected in two days. It was not much of a building, being only 12 by 20 feet in dimensions and one story high, but this was the beginning of "Bemis' Store." His trade grew to such an extent that he soon build and occupied a room 20 by 40 feet and for many years thereafter he was one of Estherville's leading merchants. In 1885 he was elected mayor of the city and he also served for some time as president of the school board. He was at one time commander of Isaac Mattson Post, No. 365, Grand Army of the Republic.

Notes for Eliza M. Watkins:

["Reminiscences of Early Days By A Pioneer Settler - Mrs. Eliza Bemis Writes First of Series of Historical Articles of Early Days in Emmet County", Vindicator and Republican, Estherville, Iowa, August 13, 1924.]:

The first of a series of articles by pioneers of this county to appear from week to week in the Vindicator and Republican, is by Mrs. Eliza M. Bemis.

Mrs. Bemis, who is now 79, has lived in Emmet county since 1866, when she came here from New York with her husband, S. E. Bemis. They came here with Mr. Bemis' brother D. M. L. Bemis.

Mrs. Bemis has always been very active in affairs of the community, and especially in the work of the Woman's Relief Corps, of which she is now president. She has a remarkable memory for her age, and though her health does not permit her to be so very active physically, her mind is in no way handicapped.

Mr. Bemis, who is now deceased, was a Civil War veteran, and brought his bride of twenty-one to this county where they reared a family of seven children. Before coming here from New York, however, they lived a short time in East Chain, Minnesota.

By Eliza M. Bemis

When we first came to Estherville, the year after the close of the Civil War, there was scarcely a dwelling house on the town site, in fact there was no town site. There was a fort, Fort Defiance, which had been built for protection against the Indians. Several families lived in the Fort.

There was a hotel, however, not far from the present Rock Island bridge. This was kept by Mr. Haskins and was known as the Haskins Hotel. Here we deposited our scant supply of dry-goods and groceries which we had brought with us to start a store. During that first summer, while building was going on, we conducted our store at the hotel but lived in a little house which the men had put up in a few days after we arrived.

There was one other store already here when we came. It was Fisher's store, a little grocery down by the river.

Our nearest railroad was Fort Dodge. Our mail came from there, brought by stage, once a week. Goods for the store were brought from Garden City, Mankato and Blue Earth, Minn. These had to be brought overland by team and wagon and it was several days' journey to any of these places. Then the goods must be purchased and the return journey made. It was no small task in those days to make the trip.

During the first summer quite a good deal of building was done. The old store building which was used to stand where the postoffice is now was one of the first one's built. The lumber was brought overland from Fort Dodge and Garden City, all except that used for interior finishing. That was sawed from native timber at the old saw mill down by the river. It was all black walnut, the shelves, counters and even the floor. Today that lumber could not be duplicated and if it could would be worth a small fortune.

Graves and McKay opened a store in a building where the Ford garage now stands.

The same summer brought a post office. It was a small building scarcely more than a shack, not far from the place where the Myhre & Jeglum store now is.

[The Estherville (Iowa) Enterprise, April 22, 1925]

Mrs. Simeon E. Bemis

After months of suffering death came to one of our beloved pioneer citizens, Mrs. Simeon E. Bemis, on last Monday morning at 3 o'clock. For months the family have been constantly by her side administering all the care the failing mother could ask. Miss Pearl resigned her position with a college at Tulsa, Oklahoma, to be with her mother. For the past six months she has been a sufferer and a patient sufferer.

Eliza M., daughter of Aseph and Diantha Watkins, was born November 2, 1845, in Malone, N.Y. She was united in marriage to Simeon E. Bemis on March 13, 1866. To this union there were seven children born. Carrie A., Claud W., Grace A., Eugene E., Sidney E., F. Perl, Hazel L. All are living with the exception of Claude who died in infancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis moved into this wilderness in 1866 and first resided near Chain Lakes and then at Chain Lakes and in the fall of 1866 they moved to Estherville, what little there was of it at that time and open up the first Mercantile store in this city. The building was a small one on the start and occupied the lot where our post office is now located. For years the family lived there and operated a store on that corner. As the business grew, the building was increased in size. In the early days Mrs. Bemis was among those who instituted a public library in for years the library was in front of the Bemis store, Mrs. Bemis assisted in taking care of it.

Mrs. Bemis was an active member in the Baptist church and a great worker and that church in the early days and until her declining years. She was a fine Christian woman. A great worker in the flesW. R. C. been many times its president.

Of later years she has occupied her beautiful home in the eastern portion of the city, two of her daughters, Miss Perl and Mrs. Hazel living with her.

The funeral services were held from the home this afternoon conducted by the Rev. Hurley of Stone Lake and the Rev. Huxford of this city. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot in the East Side cemetery.

Mrs. Eliza M. Bemis

Mrs. Eliza M. Bemis who for many months has been in declining health, passed away at her home early Monday morning at the age of nearly 80 years. She had been cared for most tenderly during her illness by her daughters Miss Perl and Mrs. Hazel, and at the last all of her children were with her. Her mind remained unusually clear and unimpaired until the very last.

Mrs. Bemis was one of the very earliest pioneers of Estherville. Her husband, Simeon E. Bemis, was one of our pioneer merchants, his general merchandise store building remaining in its original site at the corner of Sixth and Des Moines street until it was replaced by the new Federal building. It was as a bride that Mrs. Bemis came here in 1866 and her family of six children were all born here and have resided here the greater part of their lives. Mrs. Sargent Beven, Mrs. Fred Brown, and the Misses Perl and Hazel make Estherville their home. Mrs. George Weir lives at Dunnell, Minn., and her son, Sidney Ernest, has but recently moved to Des Moines. Another son, Claude W., died in infancy.

In spite of a multitude of duties falling to a mother of a family of growing children, Mrs. Bemis kept in close touch with the religious and social life of this then pioneer community and in later years as long as her health would permit took an active part in the work of the W. R. C. and of the Baptist church of which she was a member.

Eliza M., daughter of Asa and Diantha Watkins, was born in New York state on Nov. 2, 1845 and was married on March 18, 1866 to Simeon E. Bemis. They moved to Center Chain, Minn., in the spring of that year and the same year moved....

Funeral services were held yesterday at 1:30 at the Brown home and at 2:00 o'clock at the Bemis home, Rev. Hurley, of Storm Lake, and Rev. Huxford officiating. Interment was made in East Side Cemetery. Grace A. Bemis was born in Estherville in the old Bemis home that stood on the corner where the postoffice now stands, on September 3, 1873. Her education was received in the public schools and she was a member of the class of 1891, the first class to be graduated from the Estherville high school. On April 14, 1892, she was united in marriage with Fred L. Brown, and they continued to make their home in this city. Five children were born to this happy union. They are: Harry L. A loving and devoted family gave her all the care and attention possible and helped make her sufferings as light as possible. Throughout her life long residence here Mrs. Brown has been active in the affairs of the community. Whenever called upon she was ready to offer her services and through her many kind acts and deeds made the friendship of hosts of people. Her home life was the most pleasant that any one could wish for and her family and home were always uppermost in her thoughts. She will be greatly missed in her home where her place can never be filled. The sympathy of many friends is extended the bereaved family and relatives in their hours of darkness and sorrow.

Notes for Elsie Eugenia "Genie" Bemis:

A report coming from Highmore, SD., to the effect that Mrs. Sargent Bevan came near losing her life in a snow storm on Christmas Eve. A detailed account could not be secured but from what we could learn she started from Highmore to her home on a ranch, fifteen miles from that place, all alone with a team and carriage. A bad snow storm and blizzard came up and it became so blinding that she became lost and in wandering around came up to a small shanty occupied by a bachelor. Not wanting to stay there during the night she offered the fellow ten dollars if he would drive her to a place where she could stop. He refused to do this but gave her the direction in which to go and pointed to a light nearly a mile away where a family lived. She started in the direction of the light but before she reached there the light disappeared. She was then unfortunate enough to drive her team into a barbed wire fence and in freeing themselves they also became detached from the buggy. This left her on the prairie in the buggy where she remained until six o'clock in the morning when she managed to crawl quite a distance to a farm house with her feet and limbs badly frozen. Dr. Alton, of Fort Dodge was sent for and on his return yesterday, he told several in this city that it was doubtful if her feet could be saved, as he thought amputation would certainly be necessary, although everything was being done to save them at the present time. This will be sad news to her many friends in this city where she is so well and favorably known. [Taken from Estherville Democrat, Dec. 31, 1902]

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Sargent Bevan, in this city, will learn with regret that it has been found necessary to amputate both of her feet from the effects of being frozen the night she was lost in a snow storm near Highmore, SD., a short time ago. She is now in a hospital at Fort Dodge and Dr. Alton has told friends in this city that amputation is absolutely necessary. Her mother, Mrs. S.E. Bemis, of this city leaves tonight for Ft. Dodge to be with her during the operation. Mr. Bevan is also there. Mrs. Bevan's many friends in Estherville will hope and pray that some remedy may yet be found to save the frozen members from amputation. [Taken from Estherville Democrat Jan. 14, 1903]

Notes for Frances Pearl Bemis:

[From the Vindicator and Republican]

Frances Perl Bemis was born on December 16, 1881, at Estherville in the old Bemis home on the corner of Des Moines and Sixth street, where the postoffice now stands. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon E. Bemis, came to this county in 1866. They are both dead. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Miss Bemis received her common school and high school education at Estherville, graduating from the high school in 1898. She then attended the State University at Iowa City where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree in 1902. She also took special work at the University of Columbia.

After receiving her education, she began one of the most brilliant and commendable careers as an instructor and director of education that has ever been known here. She taught at Oelwein, Iowa; Maxwell, Iowa; Tulsa, Oklahoma, and at Estherville, Iowa.

The records at these schools alone speak out her faithfulness to duty. She commanded the respect of her associates and students.

She began teaching in the Estherville high school in 1906, and in 1908 was made principal. She remained in that position until 1911 when she took special work for a year. She returned in 1912 and was principal of the high school until 1920.

For the past three years she has taught at Holland Hall, located in Tulsa, Oklahoma. She had taught there but a short time when she was elected head of that school and was acting in that capacity at the time of her death. Shortly before going to Rochester she returned from a two hundred mile automobile trip, after having completed her faculty for the school year.

At the time of her mother's last illness this spring, she was more active in caring for her than her health would permit, and probably exerted herself to a point which later resulted in her own death.

DANCING AND COPYRIGHT; JUDGE LACOMBE DECIDED AGAINST LOIE FULLER'S SKIRT DANCE.

Usually the opinions which are handed down from the United States Circuit Court Judges are no more exciting than the pages of a court calendar, but yesterday Judge Lacombe wrote an opinion upon skirt dancing from an artistic point of view that was very interesting.

About a month ago Loie Fuller asked for an injunction against Minnie Renwood Bemis to restrain her from dancing the "serpentine" dance during the Summer on the roof of Madison Square Garden. Miss Fuller asserted that she originated the dance and having had it copyrighted, it was her own exclusive property. Judge Lacombe thought otherwise, and refused to grant the injunction. In his opinion he said:

"It is essential to such a composition that it should tell some story. The plot may be simple, it may be but narrative, or a representation of a single transaction, but it must repeat or mimic some action, speech, emotion, passion, or character, real or imaginary. When it does, its ideas thus expressed become subject to copyright.

"An examination of the description of the complainant's dance, as filed for copyright, shows that the end sought for and accomplished was the illustrating and devising of a series of graceful movements combined with an attractive arrangement of draperies, lights, and shadows, telling no story, portraying no character, depicting no emotion. The mere mechanical movements by which effects are produced on the stage are not subjects of copyright. Surely this dance described here conveyed and was devised to convey to the spectator no other idea than that of a comely woman illustrating the poetry of motion in a singularly graceful fashion, and, while such an idea may be pleasing, it can hardly be called dramatic.

"Motion for preliminary injunction denied."

SEVENTH WEEK OF "A BLACK SHEEP."

Hoyt's Farce Continues to Be a Success at the Grand.

Mr. Charles H. Hoyt's farces have all been favored with the spice of audacity. His characteristic tendency away from conventionality has been the real secret of his popularity with the masses, but his search for novelty has seldom led him into impropriety. Last Sunday night, however, he committed an error in allowing a woman to appear in "A Black Sheep" at the Grand Opera-House and perform a dance designed to reveal the fact that she wore neither shoes nor stockings. The dance, failed to attract the curious and it disgusted the regular patrons of the Grand Opera-House. Minnie Renwood, who performed the specialty, had nothing in grace nor beauty to recommend her as a dancer, and it is not likely she could have found a place in the company if she had not consented to discard shoes and stockings...

MORE ABOUT THAT DANCE AT SHERRY'S; Anabelle Moore Tells of the Proposition Which Was Made to Her by Mr. Phipps.

New York. Jan. 9. -- [Special.] -- When the trial of Capt. Chapman for the raid on Sherry's establishment during the Seeley dinner was resumed at police headquarters today no women were in the room. None had attempted to get in, so the doorkeeper was not obliged to enforce his authority to keep women out. There was the usual crowd of male spectators and principal witnesses and lawyers. Lawyer Hart for Police Captain Chapman, in opening the session before Commissioner Fred Grant, contended that all the guests at the dinner were guilty of a misdemeanor if it could be shown they had intended to give an improper performance.

Anabelle Moore, or Whitford, was the first witness. She it was who gave Capt. Chapman the first news of the vaudeville entertainment at Sherry's. She had gone to the office of Mr. Lehman, she said, and there was questioned about her skill.

"He wanted to know if I did high kicking. I said 'Yes.' He asked me to wait for the gentlemen arranging the dinner. Mr. Phipps and another man came in after awhile. I showed them what I would do. Phipps said he wanted more. I said I didn't understand. He said, 'I want you to dance in the altogether.'"

"I was so dumfounded that I could scarcely speak. The other man there then suggested that scant clothing be worn. I felt awfully, and said that no woman would dance so.

"Mr. Phipps said, 'No matter, they will all be so drunk at the dinner that they won't know.'"

"I went out weeping."

In reply to Col. James' question, on cross-examination, she said she started dancing in Chicago at the time of the World's Fair.

"At the Midway Plaisance?" asked Col. James.

"No." was the reply.

"Where, then?"

"At the Grotto."

"Where was that?"

"In Michigan avenue."

To further questions she replied that it was a reputable place: that liquors were sold there, and that men smoked.

William S. Moore, her father, testified that his daughter had informed him of the request made and of his subsequent visit to the police.

When Lottie Mortimer was called she told about Capt. Chapman's interruption in the Sherry dressing-room. She said Mr. Seeley, Mr. Rich, Mr. Hart, and Mr. Phipps were in the room before Chapman got there. All other testimony had been to the contrary. Mr. Hart asked the witness to describe Cora Routt's costume at the time of Chapman's entrance.

"I know positively that her arms and neck were uncovered," said Miss Mortimer. "I am not positive as to what she wore." Later in the evening witness declared, after she had "done her turn," and was dressing, Mr. Rich and Mr. Phipps came into the dressing-room and asked her to go on again.

"I was fastening my dress. They insisted that I go on again, and pushed me out into full view of the guests, saying: "O, go on, anyway."

Minnie Renwood followed. Mr. Phipps engaged her for the Seeley dinner.

"What costume were you told to wear?"

"I was asked by Mr. Rich if I had a good figure. I wore the usual costume."

Asked what Little Egypt wore on the stage, she said: "She wore slippers, stockings, gauze bloomers, a little bolero jacket, and a fez."

The witness went further into the details of this costume, showing that Little Egypt was very slimly clad. The trial was then adjourned until Tuesday morning.

WILL TRANSFER THE CASE TO CHICAGO.

Minnie Renwood Bemis Sues for Divorce -- The Father on Her Side.

Minnie Renwood, otherwise Mrs. W. T. Bemis, the serpentine dancer, has brought suit for divorce against her husband in a New York court on the ground of cruelty. In this action Mrs. Bemis has the support of her father-in-law, Henry V. Bemis, President of the Richelieu Hotel company, Chicago. She and her two children are staying at the Richelieu. It has been decided to drop the suit brought in New York court, and transfer the action to Chicago. A rumor started in New York to the effect that the husband had begun a counteraction was declared last night by H. V. Bemis to be groundless.

Notes for William D. Larrabee:

[History of Chicago]

William D. Larrabee, the junior member of the firm of Larrabee Bros, is the son of William M. and Mary Margaret (Haight) Larrabee. The father was one of the earliest of Chicago's railroad men. He was secretary of the old Galena & Chicago Union Railroad and afterward secretary and treasurer of the Chicago and Alton. Having resided in Chicago for some time, he moved to Horicon, Wis., where William D. was born on February 21, 1849. His railroading, however, brought him back to Chicago, and he subsequently settled in Geneva on the Fox River, where William still resides in the old family mansion. William left school at the age of sixteen, and entered the employ of the Chicago branch of the Bank of Montreal, then called "The Chicago Agency," as messenger boy; but when, in 1868, the "Agency" was closed out and the business transferred to George C. Smith & Bro., young Larrabee took a clerkship for a couple of years under his father, who was at that time secretary and treasurer of the Chicago & Alton Railway; then, after three years of work for Calkins & Fisher, lumber dealers, he returned to the Chicago & Alton and took the responsibility of paymaster. He remained in this position for eight years, on until the first of January, 1882, when he resigned and, forming a partnership with William H. Mead, took charge of the Accident Insurance Company of North America. Mr. Larrabee was married on July 21, 1873, to Miss Mary A. Bemis, daughter of the well-known H. V. Bemis, and has had three children, two of whom are now living, Mary W. and John L. In politics he is republican, and is a member of the Royal Arcanum, Royal Council, No. 869. The firm of Larrabee Bros. are active members of the Citizens' Association.

WM. E. BEMIS, OF STANDARD OIL, DIES

New York Company Vice President is Stricken While Duck Shooting Near Port Jervis.

DEVELOPED CHINA'S FIELDS

He Was Decorated by the Sultan for His Many Humanitarian Services to Turkey

William Edward Bemis, a Vice President of the Standard Oil Company and one of the foremost authorities on the export oil business, died suddenly yesterday morning at his Summer home, Webland, near Port Jervis, N. Y. The news of his death came as a shock to his associates at 20 Broadway, as he left for his Thanksgiving vacation in the best of health.

Mr. Bemis was duck shooting on Friday, and complained of pains in his chest, which grew so bad that he was taken home. On Saturday he improved, but grew worse again on Sunday, sinking gradually until he died.

Mr. Bemis was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and was in his fifty-second year. As soon as he left school in 1882, he obtained a position with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, rising rapidly until he was placed in charge of the foreign trade, spending much of his time abroad. When the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was dissolved, he was elected one of the Vice Presidents and a member of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of New York.

One of the most noted achievements of his career was when he went to China for the Standard Oil, and in February, 1914, signed an agreement with the Chinese Government, on behalf of his company, for the development of the oil fields of that country. Under his direction the work was soon commenced and it is estimated will have cost nearly $10,000,000 before it is completed. This was said at the time to have been the first time that an Imperial Government had entered into partnership with a private enterprise for the development of its own resources.

In July, 1915, Mr. Bemis went to Turkey, and was located in Constantinople for some time. The Sultan decorated him with the Order of Osmanieh of the second class for his many humanitarian services.

Mr. Bemis was married in 1896 to Miss Frances Lavinia Ford of Cleveland, who accompanied him on many of his trips abroad, and survives him. Mr. Bemis made his permanent home at Harbor Lodge in Larchmont, N. Y.

He was a member of the Larchmont Yacht Club, the Ohio Society of New York, the Campfire Club of America, the Caughnawanna Hunting and Fishing Club, and the Apawamis Golf Club. His body was taken to his home in Larchmont.

The funeral will be held at St. John's Church, Larchmont, on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., June 21. Because of a contest pending over the estate of Mrs. Frances L. Bemis, who died about four months ago, leaving between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000, Surrogate George A. Slater has appointed appraisers to fix the value of her personal property. Edward P. Starck has been appointed temporary administrator and has furnished a surety company bond for $1,500,000.

LEFT $1,000,000 OIL STOCKS.; Inventory Shows Mrs. Bemis Also Had Jewelry Worth $200,000. Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 28. -- It developed today that an inventory of the estate of the late Mrs. Frances L. Bemis of Larchmont on the Sound, widow of one of the Standard Oil directors, showed that she owned more than $1,000,000 worth of Standard Oil securities, and $3,600 worth of Liberty Lona bonds of the third, fourth and Victory issues. Mrs. Bemis also left more than $200,000 worth of diamonds, pearls and other jewelry.

Mrs. Bemis held 331 shares of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana valued at about $203,000; and 601 shares of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey valued at $406,315. She also had stocks of the Standard Oil Company of New York, Continental Oil Company of California, Illinois Pipe Line Company, Prairie Oil and Gas Company, Prairie Pile Line Company and Ohio Oil Company.

The most valuable piece of jewelry left by Mrs. Bemis was a pearl necklace with a diamond clasp worth more than $175,000.

MRS. BEMIS LEFT $2,000,000.; Widow of Standard Oil Man Had Jewels Worth $200,000.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 6. -- Appraisers have fixed the value of the estate of the late Mrs. Frances L. Bemis, widow of Edward Bemis, a Vice President of the Standard Oil Company, at about $2,000,000. The report will be filed with Surrogate George A. Slater this week. It was first reported that Mrs. Bemis had left an estate worth $5,000,000.

The value of the jewels was placed at $200,000. Experts were engaged to examine a necklace of 82 pearls with a diamond clasp. This was valued at $175,000. The pearls, which graduated in size, each one matching another, were perfect in shape, and one of the most beautiful of its kind ever seen. Mrs. Bemis also left rubies, diamond rings and diamond bracelets, many of which she purchased abroad.

The will is being contested by a relative, and for that reason the appraisal was hurried along. It was reported today that the contest may be settled within the next few weeks.

NEW SUIT BY BEMIS HEIR.; Sister of Standard Oil Man's Widow Contests $2,000,000 Estate.
Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 18. -- Farrington M. Thompson of White Plains, counsel for Carrie E. Ryder of Chicago, filed objection today with Surrogate George A. Slater to the probate of the will of his client's sister, Mrs. Frances L. Bemis, widow of the late Edward M. Bemis, one of the Standard Oil Company Vice Presidents. It was contended that Mrs. Bemis was not of sound mind to make a will by which she disposed of an estate valued at more the $2,000,000. Counsel also contends that the will was not a voluntary act of Mrs. Bemis, who left the sister $5,000, and demanded that the case be tried before a jury.

Mrs. Bemis died March 6, 1920, and temporary administrators appointed by Surrogate Slater have been in charge of the estate since the will was offered for probate.

Mrs. Kittie F. Hunting, also a sister of Mrs. Bemis, who was bequeathed $25,000 in trust, filed action, and it has been reported that the contest was about to be settled. Most of the estate of Mrs. Bemis was inherited by another sister, a sister-in-law, brother-in-law and two nieces.

BEMIS WILL FIGHT ENDS.; Sisters of Oil Man's Widow Accept Compromise--$39,000 to One.
Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 9. -- It became known today that the contest over the will of Mrs. Frances L. Bemis, widow of the late William E. Bemis, who was one of the Vice Presidents of the Standard Oil Company and a resident of Larchmont, has been compromised and an order of settlement signed by Surrogate George A. Slater of Westchester County. Mrs. Bemis left an estate valued at more than $2,000,000. The contest was brought by Mrs. Carrie E. Ryder of 119 East Eighty-eighth Street, Chicago, and Mrs. Kittie F. Hunting of 322 Meacham Avenue, Park Ridge, Ill., sisters of Mrs. Bemis. The contest has been pending for a year. Mrs. Ryder brought suit through Lawyer Farrington Thompson of White Plains, charging that undue influences had been exerted over Mrs. Bemis whereby she was cut off with only $5,000. Mr. Thompson said today that, under the terms of the compromise, Mrs. Ryder has received $39,000, in addition to the legacy mentioned in the will. Mrs. Hunting also alleged undue influence. Mr. Thompson said Mrs. Hunting also received a substantial sum, in addition to her legacy. The main part of Mrs. Bemis's estate was made up of Standard Oil stocks.

BREWERIES

D. L. Bemis, of the Bemis & Curtis Malting Company, was born at Ellington Village, on Clear Creek, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., on October 17, 1851. His father, H. V. Bemis, was a Baptist minister, and died when Dwight L. was four years old. Soon after, his widowed mother moved to Cleveland, Ohio, where he was educated until the age of fifteen. His brother, H. V. Bemis, was already a successful brewer in Chicago when D. L. Bemis came, in 1868, and he secured employment of him, remaining eighteen months, when he engaged with the Illinois Central Railroad Company as fireman, then became an engineer, and worked for the company three years and six months. He was next in the employ of the Texas Central Railroad for a year, after which he returned to Chicago, and engaged in the bottling business under the old Tivoli Garden. He had a partner by the name of Dickinson and the firm of Dickinson & Bemis did a thriving business for a long time; but, in 1876, Mr. Bemis sold out and invested his capital in the cigar business, in the Tivoli Garden, having his step-brother, B. F. Hales, as partner. In 1880, he became a partner with John Carden & Son, in the malting business, on Goose Island, and when the business was thrown into a stock company in 1881, he became its secretary, treasurer and general business manager. When John Carden and son withdrew from the company, it was re-organized, and its name changed to the Bemis & Curtis Malting Company, in December, 1884. Mr. Bemis is very much interested in man's noblest servant - the horse. In June, 1884, he became infatuated with the noted mare, Belle F., who made in that month 2:20 1-4 time at Rochester, N. Y., and he invested $5,000 in her. She has since sustained his judgment, and bids fair to become one of the most remarkable trotters in America. On December 31, 1883, Mr. Bemis, was married to Miss Lizzie Woodruff, daughter of H. W. Woodruff, of Sandwich, Ill. They have one child, Rosa Archer.

BODY OF SUICIDE SMUGGLED AWAY

Removal of Dead Woman in Blanket from Saratoga Hotel Stirs Coroner to Action.

DEATH A STRANGE ONE.

Mrs. Rosa Ganka, Separated from Her Husband, Makes Up With Him and Then Swallows Poison.

Shrouded in blankets, the body of Mrs. Rosa Ganka was smuggled from the Saratoga hotel early yesterday morning, placed in a cab, a driven to her grandmother's residence on the west side. Only a few minutes before the young woman, who was an heiress, had taken poison, dying in the arms of the husband to whom she had been reconciled. The husband, practically forced from the hotel, he declares, rode alone beside the body of his wife. When the dwelling was reached the cab driver helped him carry the body into the house, from which the young woman had gone twelve hours earlier without a hint of suicide.

Stirs Coroner to Action.

These were the features of the case which roused both coroner and police to sudden activity in the morning. The first step was the arrest of Fred J. Ganka, the husband, but he was released when all the circumstances were learned. Then the coroner demanded to know why the law had been violated in moving the young wife's body. He ordered the hotel physician and manager as well as Ganka to attend the inquest today and explain their acts.

"The law has been ignored," Mr. Traeger declared last night. "Some one should be punished for this case."

Three Years After Elopement.

The remarkable climax of Mrs. Ganka's life ended three years of married life which began with an elopement to St. Joseph, Mich., when she was 16 years of age. She left her husband last summer and recently began suit for divorce. Saturday morning her lawyer notified her that the decree would be granted soon.

That afternoon she told her grandmother, Mrs. Kathryn Woodruff, with whom she lived at 418 Washington boulevard, that she was going downtown and would spend the night with her aunt, Mrs. Henry V. Bemis, 2018 Indiana Avenue.

An hour later she appeared at the store in State street where her husband was employed. "Our baby is ill," she told him. "I want you to come see it." Ganka hurriedly secured his hat and coat and left the store with his wife.

On the sidewalk Mrs. Ganka stopped and explained that the child was not ill. "Fred," she told him, "My lawyer says I can get my divorce soon, but you don't think we could patch up our troubles?"

Makes Up with Husband.

A reconciliation was effected, and then the young couple decided to take dinner downtown and go to the theater. The man suggested that he would go home and change his clothes, and Mrs. Ganka agreed to accompany him to his boarding house at 354 Jackson boulevard. The house is close to the corner of Center avenue, and Mrs. Ganka, explaining that she wanted to buy a box of face powder, agreed to wait in the drug store on the corner until her husband had gone to the boarding house and changed his clothes.

When he returned to the store the clerk handed her a small box wrapped in green paper, and she borrowed 35 cents from her husband with which to pay for it, again asserting it was face powder. Later it developed that she had bought poison. After leaving the drug store the couple went downtown, had dinner at a restaurant, and then went to the theater.

Writes to Her Relatives.

After the theater they had supper together and then went to the Saratoga hotel, where they registered and were given a room. Mrs. Ganka sent for stationery and wrote five letters, telling her husband that she had decided not to go back to her grandmother's house and instead had written to all of her relatives telling them of the reconciliation.

These letters were addressed to Mrs. Bemis, Mrs. Woodruff, and Mrs. Ella Tolman, another aunt, and Mrs. Zadla Gavin, all residing at 418 Washington boulevard. These letters will be opened at the inquest today and may explain why the young woman killed herself. A note to her husband, found in the hotel room after her death, was marked "to be opened Monday." It read as follows:

"Good-by Fred. When you read this I will be dead. Be a good boy and be kind to the baby and mamma. You are not to blame for this. Good-by, good-by to all. Rose."

Goes Out and Takes Poison.

Ganka says he offered to mail the letters, but that his wife insisted on doing it. It is believed that when she left the room she took the poison, for her husband says he did not see the box until after his wife's death.

Returning to the room in a few minutes Mrs. Ganka kissed her husband. "O, Fred," she told him, "I am so glad our troubles are over at last."

They sat talking, their arms around each other, till Ganka noticed his wife growing pale. He asked if she were ill and she replied that she was suffering severely. "But don't worry," she told him. "I am subject to these spells."

Ganka urged her to let him call in Dr. Davis, the house physician, but she laughed at his fears. "See, I am better already," she told him, and to prove it danced about the room.

Suddenly she stopped, gasped, and sank to the floor as the terrified man caught her in his arms. Seeing she was becoming unconscious, Ganka rang for aid. Dr. Davis was summoned.

Doctor Unable to Save Her.

The physician at once suspected poison, and a search of the bathroom revealed the box of supposed face powder. It contained an arsenical compound. Dr. Davis did what he could for the woman, but she sank rapidly and died at 4 a. m.

When Ganka saw his wife would die he notified his relatives in Washington boulevard, and Mrs. Tolman, accompanied by a man servant, went at once to the Saratoga hotel in a cab. Mrs. Ganka was unconscious upon the arrival of her aunt, and died without regaining her senses.

In telling of the case later Ganka says that several of the employees of the hotel came to his room and urged that the body be removed at once, at notoriety was not desired by the management of the place.

Then the body was wrapped in blankets, a cab was secured, and hotel employees assisted the husband to carry it from the building. Then followed a hurried trip to the Washington boulevard residence.

Coroner Calls It an Outrage.

C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. Ganka's uncle, who resides at 284 Rush street, and is an attorney employed by the city, was then notified of her death. He declared at once that the law had been violated, and notified the police and coroner. Ganka's arrest and subsequent release resulted, following the coroner's investigation.

"That my office was not notified of this case was the most high handed proceeding that has yet to come to my attention," said Coroner Traeger. "It was a direct violation of the law, and one for which some one should be made to suffer.

"The first that I learned of the death of Mrs. Ganka was hours after her body had been carried away from the hotel where she died. It seems as if the hotel authorities, the house physician, Dr. Davis, and the friends and relatives of the woman did all they could to hide the details of the death.

"From what I learned in the afternoon, I am convinced that the case is one of suicide. But should the same methods be pursued by others in the case where murder was done the hands of the police and of the coroner would be tied. I shall certainly summon the hotel men, Mr. Davis, and the husband and all others who had knowledge of the death before me tomorrow."

Says Stories Are Different.

Coroner Traeger said that the hotel authorities and the relatives of the woman told different stories of the events before the taking of the woman from the hotel to her former home.

"The manager of the hotel told me," said Mr. Traeger, "that he was asked to send the body to the home of the woman's relatives. The relatives told me that the management of the hotel and the doctor who attended the woman insisted that the body be taken from the hotel before daybreak. I have a box containing poison which the relatives and the hotel people declare contains poison like what the woman swallowed. I have also a medicine bottle and statements of several witnesses.

"The body will not be embalmed until after the inquest. If necessary I shall have a post-mortem examination.

"The penalty for not reporting a death such as this one to the coroner is not severe enough."

Statement of Hotel Manager.

Pashal Hicks, manager of the Saratoga hotel, denied he was any party to the removal of the body. Manager Hicks said he was not at the hotel at the time Mrs. Ganka died, nor when her body was removed.

"In the night time the hotel is in charge of Spencer Cason, night watchman," said Manager Hicks. "I understand that Mr. Cason supposed the police had been duly notified and for that reason no objection when the body was taken away.

"From what I hear it was the wish of Ganka to have the body taken to the house in Washington boulevard. If I had been present I would not have allowed it to be removed."

Contradictory to the statements of Manager Hicks, Mrs. Tolman said that the person who represented himself as the hotel manager urged the removal of the body from the hotel and summoned the carriage which carried Mrs. Ganka's body away.

Always Happy, Say Relatives.

At the girl's home in the afternoon it was declared she had always appeared to be happy, and they could advance no reason why she should take her life. Ganka is 24 years old, while his wife would have been 19 had she lived until her next birthday. Mrs. Ganka was petite and pretty. She was always a favorite, and attracted attention wherever she went. She was an orphan and heiress to considerable property when, as Rosa Bemis, she met Ganka at a dance three years ago. Both became infatuated. Two weeks after the first meeting Ganka called at the Woodruff home and asked permission to take Miss Bemis to a picnic. Consent was readily granted, but instead of attending the picnic the two boarded a boat for St. Joseph and were married.

By the death of her father, Dwight L. Bemis, when she was a young child the girl fell heir to much property. A year ago Ganka and his wife went to Albion, Mich., where some of the property was situated.

MYSTERY IN HER SUICIDE.

LETTERS WRITTEN AND MAILED BY MRS. GANKA MISSING.

Woman Posted Missives Supposed to Give the Reason for Ending Her Life and None Is Delivered – Husband Says the Facts Are Concealed for a Purpose – Charges Will Be Preferred by the Coroner Against Management of Saratoga Hotel.

Four letters written and mailed by Mrs. Rosa Ganka just before she committed suicide in the Saratoga hotel early Sunday morning are missing. They are supposed to furnish the clew to her motive for taking her life. Her husband, who was with her when she wrote the letters, yesterday, testified that she had told him they were intended for her relatives, and she is known to have mailed them in a box on the corner near the hotel.

Clarence C. Woodruff and H. V. Bemis, uncles of the dead woman, made an attempt to recover the letters from the postoffice authorities, but they could not be found. It was expected that they would be delivered in the first mail yesterday morning. When they failed, the postoffice authorities were notified. Another search was made, but the letters were missing.

Coroner Will Prefer Charges.

This was the principal development yesterday in the investigation into circumstances surrounding the suicide of an heiress to $15,000 and the child wife of Frederick J. Ganka. Another feature was the testimony of Mrs. Ella Tolman before the coroner's jury concerning the action of the Saratoga hotel officials and the announcement of Coroner Traeger that he would prefer charges against the management before the state board of health.

"Several persons whom I supposed to be employees of the hotel told me that we would have to remove the body before morning," Mrs. Tolman told the coroner jury. "A case like this will injure the hotel and cause newspaper notoriety," one of them said.

Mrs. Tolman's statements, verified by the testimony of Frederick Ganka, were denied by Spencer Cayson, but before the coroner was through with the latter he contradicted his testimony.

"I was the manager and was responsible while acting as the night clerk," he said. "I know the Manager Paschal Hicks was not at the hotel when the body was moved. I saw the body of the girl in the room and told Ganka not to remove it. Then I went to breakfast and when I came back the body was gone."

Criticises (sic) Hotel Management.

Deputy Coroner Buckley severely criticised (sic) Dr. J. J. Davis physician for the Saratoga and Morrison hotels, who, he said, neglected his duty in failing to notify the coroner of the death.

"This might have been murder," said the deputy coroner, "or it might have been a suicide compact, which is just as bad. Yet you sit here and tell me that it was neglect on your part. If such neglect continues, there will be no use for the police or the coroner's office. Crime can go unpunished."

Ganka identified Manager Paschal Hicks as the man who told him to get the body out of the hotel. The latter explained that the man referred to was Simon Hicks, night clerk at the Saratoga and formerly employed in the same capacity at the Hotel Morrison. While there two years ago, he refused to give the police information concerning a suicide in the house and was arrested.

Double Tragedy Is Planned.

At his boarding house, 354 Jackson boulevard, last evening Ganka told of a circumstance the inquest failed to bring forth and which makes it appear that Mrs. Ganka had contemplated the death of her husband as well as herself.

"While we were on the way out to my boarding house, where I intended to change my cloths, my wife asked me to bring my revolver," he said. "She spoke twice of the pistol before we reached the place and seemed to be worried lest I should forget it.

"After I had changed my clothes and met my wife in the drug store, her first question was for the pistol. I had been unable to secure it and, when I told her so, she seemed to be disappointed. I believe she intended that I should go with her when she died, and had I carried the revolver I probably would not now be standing here."

After the principal witnesses had been heard at the inquest the investigation was continued until tomorrow morning. Meanwhile the police will investigate the reports of bodies having been moved from the hotel to prevent notoriety and the housekeeper quoted by Mrs. Tolman will be notified to appear.

HOTEL MEN ARE BLAMED.

SARATOGA EMPLOYEES (sic) ARE HELD GUILTY IN THE GANKA CASE.

Coroner's Jury Urges That Manager Hicks, Dr. J. J. Davis, and Others Be Prosecuted for Smuggling Out Suicide's Body – Physician May Also Lose His License – Woman Tells How Another Dead Person Was Carted Away in a Cab at Night.

As a result of the finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Rosa Ganka, who committed suicide in the Saratoga hotel Saturday night, and whose body was smuggled from the hotel in a cab before the police or the coroner had been notified, Manager Paschal Hicks and House Physician Davis of the hotel are threatened with prosecution. The verdict which was returned at the close of the inquest held at Rolston's undertaking rooms, 22 Adams street, yesterday afternoon censured the management of the hotel and recommended that all who had a part in removing the body be prosecuted.

Those who are liable to a fine of $100 on conviction are Paschal Hicks, manager of the hotel; Dr. J. J. Davis, house physician; Leonard Hicks, day clerk; Simon Hicks, night clerk; Mrs. Martha O'Neill, housekeeper; Spencer Cayson, night watchman; Peter Malone, bellboy; and James S. Schumaker, the cabman.

Copies of the verdict were prepared after the inquest, and sent to Inspector M. G. Connell of the city health department, who probably presented them to the city prosecutor today for action.

Further than this, it is said that Dr. Davis, who was present at the death of the woman and who failed to notify the coroner, may lose his license as a result of having neglected to perform his legal duty.

Another Body Smuggled Out.

Testimony before the coroner's jury tended to establish the fact that the "death cab" has been used before by the management of the hotel. Mrs. O'Neill testified that she had known of the removal in a cab of the body of a man who died in the hotel two years ago. It was said that the man died of diphtheria, but the manager of the hotel, while admitting that the body had been smuggled away, asserted that the man had died from organic causes and that the permission of the coroner had been secured. The removal of the man's body was due, as in the case of Mrs. Ganka, to the desire to avoid publicity.

A significant detail which was brought out during the inquiry was that James Schumaker, who drove the cab in which Mrs. Ganka's body was taken from the hotel, had borrowed his vehicle from a regular cabman.

Malone, the bellboy, told of having gone to a saloon near the hotel, where he found Schumaker, and enlisted his aid.

Frederick Ganka, the husband, again identified Manager Hicks as the man who told him that the body must be removed.

How Rucker Case Is Explained.

Manager Hicks of the Saratoga said last night in regard to the story of P. R. Rucker, who was said to be unable to obtain the services of Dr. Tallman, his regular physician, Monday night, when he was ill, that the story had been distorted.

"Mr. Rucker is an old patron of the house," said Hicks, "and Tuesday morning he came down and asked what was the matter with us that we could not get him the doctor he wanted. That was the first I had heard of the matter. I investigated and found that every effort had been made to reach Dr. Tallman, but failed.

"It was stated that the doctor was in the hotel at the time, and that is so. He was attending a patient here, but no one connected with the hotel knew it until the next day."

ARRESTS IN GANKA CASE.

SARATOGA MANAGER AND WATCHMAN ARE TAKEN.

Warrant for James Schumaker, Cab Driver Who Took Woman's Body from Place, Also Is Secured by City Prosecutor on Complaint of Dr. M. O. Heckard – Paschal Hicks and Spencer Cayson Give Bonds – More Writs to Follow – Hearing Dec. 18.

Acting on a formal complaint filed by Dr. M. O. Heckard, registrar of vital statistics in the department of health, the city prosecuting attorney late yesterday afternoon secured warrants for the arrest of Manager Paschal Hicks and Night Watchman Spencer Cayson of the Saratoga hotel, and also obtained a writ for James Schumaker, a cab driver. The two former were arrested.

This action was the result of the finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Rosa Ganka, whose body was smuggled out of the hotel in a cab early Sunday morning, after she had committed suicide.

Hicks and Cayson, who were among those censured in the verdict, were arrested at the hotel, and furnished cash bonds of $150 each. Shumaker took the body to the woman's residence. He could not be found, but it is expected he will be arrested this morning.

The hearing has been set for Dec. 18 before Justice Gibbons, who issued the warrants. Meanwhile Dr. Heckard is employing detectives to gather evidence, and it is promised that more warrants will be issued. Those censured by the coroner's jury were Dr. J. J. Davis, night physician for the hotel; Simon Hicks, night clerk; Leonard Hicks, day clerk; Mrs. Martha O'Neill, housekeeper; Peter Malone, bellboy, and the three persons for whom warrants have been issued.

"By their testimony during the inquest, as well as by the statements they have made since, the employees of the hotel have shown an evident intention to confuse us so we would be unable to tell with whom the guilt rested," said Dr. Heckard in the evening. "We have been forced to proceed cautiously, and although we have made only three arrests, it is safe to say that more will follow."

CABMAN IN GANKA CASE IS ALSO UNDER ARREST.

Warrants Issued on Complaint of Dr. M. O. Heckard, Registrar of Vital Statistics in the Health Department.

James Schumaker, the cabman who helped to remove the body of Mrs. Rosa Ganka from the Saratoga hotel after she had committed suicide last Sunday morning, yesterday was arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Gibbons. It was sworn out by the city prosecutor on a formal complaint made by Dr. M. O. Heckard, registrar of vital statistics in the department of health.

Dr. Heckard yesterday announced that there probably will be no more arrests in the case. Dr. Davis, who is the hotel physician and had charge of the case, has explained to the department of health that he attempted to notify the police and coroner, and that he knew nothing of the plan to move the body.

"I was called at 4 o'clock in the morning to visit Mrs. Ganka," he said. "I found her beyond medical assistance. Her husband was present, and I questioned him as to his knowledge of the cause of his wife's illness. He replied that about 10 o'clock she had taken poison, but gave no explanation, and offered none.

"I returned at 5 o'clock and found the patient dead. I immediately informed Ganka that his wife was dead, and also reported it to the office of the hotel.

"I then left for the Morrison hotel, having been up all night with that and other cases and I was greatly fatigued. On my way to the hotel I called at several places to find a policeman to whom I could state the case, but found none. On reaching my hotel I retired for rest, but early in the morning I called up Dr. Spaulding, and on the way to call up the coroner I was informed that the relatives of the woman had removed the body."

Riceville, Ia. - Mrs. Veranus Perry, whose grandfather served with Washington at Valley Forge thruout the winter of 1777, recently observed her ninety-second birthday anniversary here.

Four Generations of her family were present at the observance. She was first, the others were represented by her daughter, granddaughter, and great grandson.

Her husband died five years ago. His father was a cousin to Commodore Perry who won fame in the war of 1812 at the battle of Lake Erie and to his brother, Commodore Matthew Perry, who brought about the opening of Japanese ports to the rest of the world.

She is a great granddaughter of William Martin, whose two sons served in the Revolutionary army. Her grandfather, Thomas Nebold Martin, was on of those youths and he was a fifer in Washington's army which trained at Vallet Forge.

Was Born in Vermont

As Alma Martin, she was born in Bakersfield, Vermont, one of 10 sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas

The following is taken from the Obituary for Alma Pamela Perry. I (Chris Woodhouse) do not know what paper or the date. I was given the clipping from my grand mother Martha Marie (Anderson) Husted.

Funeral services for Mrs. Perry were held Friday afternoon, 1:30 at the home and 2 o'clock at the Methodist church. The services were in charge of Pastor E.P. Stone, assisted by the Rev. E. J. Jeffery, Darlington, who preached the sermon and read the following sketch of Mrs. Perry's life: Alma Pamela Martin, daughter of Phineas and Roselba Martin, was born in East Sheldon, St. Albans County, Vermont, October 23, 1843. She came with her parents to Springfield, Dane County, Wisconsin, at the age of ten years, and with the exception of 3 1/2 years spent in Riceville, Iowa, she has always lived near Lodi. On September 26, 1860, she was married to Varanes M. Perry and together they lived happily for nearly 69 years. Ten children blessed this home, all of whom are living except the oldest daughter, Mrs. Abbie C. Ranney, who passed away in 1910 and a son, Lewis M. Perry, who passed away in 1930. Surviving are Orrin V. Perry, Fayette, Iowa; Alvin D. Perry, Riceville, Iowa; Anna J. Burlingame, Lodi, Wisconsin; Oliver W. Perry, Alta Vista, Iowa; Ella A. Burt, Lodi, Wisconsin; Edwin P. Perry, Charles City, Iowa; Charles Wyman Perry, Spooner, Wisconsin, and Miss Belva Perry, Lodi Wisconsin. All of the eight children are here. There are 33 Grandchildren, 42 great grandchildren, and 4 great, great grandchildren. Mrs. Perry passed away Tuesday June 24, 1941, after an illness of only four days, at the age of 97 years and eight months. The beloved Alma Martin Perry was a granddaughter of Thomas Nebold Martin, who spent the terrible winter of 1777 and 1778 in camp at Valley Forge with General George Washington. Thomas was a fifer in General Washington's brigade at Valley Forge and was wounded in the battle of Rhode Island. When Colonel Ethan Allen died February 12 1779, Thomas Martin played the fife at his funeral. Mrs. Perry was the great-granddaughter of Nathan Record, the French soldier who came over with LaFayette to help America win the war with England. The attainment of her grand age is attributed to the legacy of pioneer longevity, traceable through all the branches of her family and her own capacity for hardy, zestful living as a Wisconsin pioneer. A brother and five sisters all reached remarkable ages. Her brother, Nathaniel Martin, was 92 years old at the time of his death; her oldest sister, Mrs. Jane Stebbins, was 94 years and 7 months; two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Martin and Mrs. Ella Jencks, were 88, another sister, Mrs. Anna Chase, was 87 and Mrs. Esther Hall was 82. It is also a worthy fact that Mrs. Perry was one of five sisters and one brother, all of whom lived to celebrate their golden wedding anniversaries. The story of Mrs. Perry's life is a veritable chapter from the story of Wisconsin as a state. She traveled from Vermont to this state's harbor of Milwaukee by treacherous boatride, and reached the interior by wagon. Here she attended the early settlers' schools and churches and mastered the fine arts of sewing, crocheting, eyelet embroidering, spinning, quilting, gardening, home millinery designing and many others. She had Indians for neighbors, drove both oxen and horses and frequently found it necessary to detour for bears and shoot wild bob-cats and snakes in self protection. Five of the ten Perry children were born in a log cabin. Mrs. Perry was a passenger on the first Madison-Milwaukee railroad train. Although her life was a busy one to be sure, she always found time to help a neighbor in time of need or sickness. "Always Forward," was her motto, but after traveling 7,000 miles by automobile and enjoying it she changed that motto to "Forward, but faster," thus keeping up with the times. Her spirit was ever progressive, her outlook always contagiously sunny and her character sterling to the end of her brilliant, long and well spent life. Mrs. Perry has been beloved as the grand old lady of her community for many years, and although she will be greatly missed, she will be dearly remembered by her many inspired friends and a devoted family. One day at eve when the tide was low, She slipped her mooring and sailed away, With no response or a friendly hail Of kindred craft on a busy day. Through the purple shadows that darkly trail O'er the ebbing tide of the unknown sea, She fared away with the dip of a sail Of a lonely voyager passing away To mystic Isles, where at anchor lay The crafts of those who'd sailed before O'er the unknown sea to the unknown shore. The few who watched her sail away, Will miss her craft from the busy bay, Some friendly barques that were anchored near, Some loving souls that her heart held dear, In silent sorrow will shed a tear. But she has peacefully furled her sail In moorings sheltered from storms and gale, And is greeting the friends who have sailed before O'er the unknown sea to the unknown shore. Relatives attending from away besides the sons and their wives were-Miss Harriet Ranney, Fayette, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Nat V. Ranney, Rochester, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Varanes M. Perry, Randalia, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. James Perry and son, Russell Wayne, McIntyre, Iowa; Mrs. Celia Perry Bass, Mrs. Ruth Perry Webb, Mrs. Earl Perry, Mrs. Lloyd Perry and Mrs. Harvey Perry, all of Minneapolis; Miss Emmor Stebbins and Mrs. Carlos Stebbins, Waunakee; Irwin Chase, Madison; Mr. and Mrs.

Harvey Hillier, Brownsdale, Minnesota. Others attending were Mrs. Louise Kingsley Parke, Madison; Joseph Gillette and sister, Mrs. Blanche Roberts, and Miss Alma Seston of Mazomanie. Pall bearers were five grandsons, Nat V. Ranney, Lloyd Burt, Varanes, James and Harold Perry, and Sidney Brereton, the latter the husband of grand-daughter, Peral Burlingame Brenton. Three Hymns "The Lily of the Valley," "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "We'll say Goodnight Here, but Good Good Morning up There," were beautifully sung by Mrs. Mary Steele and Mrs. Dora Smith, with Mrs. Daisy Bissell at the organ. "The Lily of the Valley" was sung at the funeral of Mrs. Perry's mother nearly sixty years ago. Card of Thanks We wish to thank all neighbors and friends who have contributed in any way to the comfort and happiness of our mother throughout these many years-The Perry Family.

Marriage Notes for Varanes Perry and Alma Martin:

Married 63 Years, Lodi Couple In Celebration

Lodi - Mr. and Mrs. V. Perry celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary on September 26. They were married in Springfield, near Madison, by a justice of the peace in 1860. They lived on their farm near Madison for thirty-one years.

The couple witnessed the arrival of the first passenger train in Madison and also took advantage of the first excursion to Devil's Lake. In 1891 Mr. and Mrs. Perry moved to Lodi and have lived on their farm in the edge of town ever since. Until two years ago Mr. Perry did all of the work on four acres of plow land on their five acre farm.

To Mr. and Mrs. Perry were born ten children, six boys and four girls, all of whom were born at the farm at Springfield. All of the children are living except the oldest, Mrs. Abbie Ranney, who died just before the golden wedding day. The youngest, Miss Belva, is at home, caring for her parents. They have thirty-one grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren living.

Born in East

Mrs. Perry, nee Miss Alma Martin was born near Bakersfield, Franklin county, Vermont, on October 23, 1843, and came to Wisconsin with her parents in 1853. Varanes Perry was born in Stockholm, St. Lawrence county, New York, on September 8, 1837. He came to Milwaukee by way of the Great Lakes when he was seven years old.

The Perrys as a family are very healthy, hard workers, never using liquor or tobacco in any form, a fact which Mr. Perry believes has added years to his life line.

Though their paths have not always been strewn with roses, they have pulled together faithfully all these years, meeting the difficulties that come to pioneers courageously. Each day finds them greater sweethearts than they ever were.

(sidebar) In Journal Family

Mr. and Mrs. Perry belong to the "State Journal Family" now, as they did in the days of the paper's infancy, when it was published by Mr. Atwood, with the office over Huntly and Wooten's grocery, and was carried by stage to the post offices along the way, from Madison to Sauk once or twice a week.

Notes for Henry V. Strong:

Information from Pension file of Henry V. Strong

Henry V. Strong was born at LaGrange, LaGrange County, Indiana and is described as 5 feet 8 ½ inches high, light complexion, hazel eyes, auburn hair, and was a farmer by occupation when he enlisted in the Union Army . Henry was the son of William D. and Eunice (Bemis) Strong .

On August 16th, 1862, Henry, then a resident of Berlin, Wisconsin, married Miss Sabrina Bailey, the daughter of Samuel and Malissa R. Bailey. Sabrina was born in Geneseo, Livingston County, New York. The service was performed by Reverend Thomas Peep of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Waukau, Winnebago County, Wisconsin .

Thirteen days later, on August 29, 1862, he enlisted at Berlin, Wisconsin to serve a maximum of three years and was sworn in as a Private that same day at Indianapolis, Indiana. He was assigned to Company G, 5th Regiment of the Wisconsin Volunteers.

On the Muster Roll of Company G, for the months of May & June 1863, he is reported, "Absent sick at Washington DC since May 3, 1863." He was subsequently transferred to Company B, about July 1864 .

On June 13, 1865, Henry, a Private, Company B, 5th Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry requested a discharge from service due to wounds received in the service of the United States. His wounds were described as: "a gunshot wound of the thigh which has continued to disable him, causing sharp pain in thigh and great weakness in leg that renders him unable to walk or stand but little." This request was made at the Harvey U.S.A. General Hospital, Madison, Wisconsin . He was subsequently discharged from the hospital on June 26, 1865 and from the service on June 28, 1865 at Madison, Wisconsin.

"This soldier was wounded on May 3, 1863 in battle at Fredericksburg, Virginia and is discharged on his own urgent request."

By 1870, Henry and Sabrina had moved to St. Ansgar, Mitchell County, Iowa, where the census taker noted that he was a farmer with personal property of only $100. She was keeping house. Still there on May 8, 1876, Henry, now 39 years of age, filed a Declaration for Invalid Army Pension .

Although Henry and Sabrina have not been located in the 1880 Census, they do appear in the 1885 Census of Iowa, then residing in High Lake Township, Emmet County, Iowa . Two children are listed with the family at that time: a ten-year-old girl named Nettie May Strong and a four-year-old boy named Leon W. Wenner.

Henry passed away on December 25, 1893, from a "disease contracted in the service." His death certificate confirms his date of death and indicates the cause of death as heart disease. He died at his home in High Lake Township, Emmet County, Iowa at the age of 54 and was buried on December 27, 1893 in Estherville .

Several notations of his passing have been found in various newspapers:

Rattlesnake on his Doorstep

"Sunday morning D. P. Moody was called from the barn to the house to kill a snake and when he got to the house he found a rattlesnake on the back porch within a couple of feet of the door. He made short work of putting an end to the snake's earthly career. The snake measured 3 1/2 feet in length and had four rattles. Mr. Moody says this is the first one ever killed in town, so far as he knows." -- Waucoma Sentinel.

William Henry STONE

One of the oldest, most honored and influential families in Fayette county is that represented by W. H. STONE, a leading citizen of Waucoma and a man who has long enjoyed distinctive prestige in the business world, ready at all times to do his full share in furthering movements calculated to advance the general welfare of his community and county. He was born at Warrensburg, Warren County, New York, May 29, 1852. In 1860, when eight years of age, he came to Iowa with his parents, Oliver and Mary E. (BONESTEEL) STONE, also natives of New York, who settled four miles southeast of Waucoma, Eden township, Fayette County, Iowa, on the wild prairie, where they remained until eight years before the father's death, which occurred at Waucoma, where he spent the last years of his life, dying in 1899 at the age of seventy-six years; his widow survived until 1906, dying at the same age. When the family came here they found a sparsely settled country which abounded in wild animals and frequently bands of Indians passed through. It was necessary for the family to do much of their trading at McGregor, fifty miles distant, this being the nearest shipping point for years, consequently, much livestock was driven there and grain was hauled to that market. Mr. Stone paid five dollars per acre for his first eighty. He was a good manager and prospered and added to his original purchase, until he owned two hundred acres. His son, Gerald O., is now occupying the old homestead. He was a well known and influential man in those early days and highly respected by his neighbors. He was a Democrat and held several local offices, and he belonged to the Methodist Episcopal church.

Four children, two sons and two daughters, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stone, namely: Juliette, the wife of H. A. BENDER, of Fayette, Iowa; W. H., of this review; Jannette, wife of M. S. ADAMS, of Waucoma, Eden township; Gerald O., who lives on the home place.

W. H. Stone remained on the home farm until he was twenty-one years old. He received an excellent education in the common schools and in the Upper Iowa University, where he spent two terms. When only eighteen years of age he began teaching, which he continued during several winters. He spent two and one-half years, from 1873 to 1875, in Montana, prospecting for gold. He was in the present great city of Butte when there were but thirty men there. In 1875 he started a hardware store in Waucoma which he conducted for two years, then spent one year on a farm, then entered the dry goods store of his father-in-law, with whom he remained. He was for some time cashier of the S. B. Ziegler Community Bank at Waucoma. He has been very successful in whatever he has undertaken and he is now the owner of over one thousand acres of excellent land in this locality, which he rents. He devotes most of his attention to the bank, having been connected with the same for a period of twenty-eight years. About twelve years ago, in company with his nephew, he started the First State Bank of Glenville, Minnesota, in which he still has an interest. In company with his brother-in-law, C. A. MOODY, he started the First State Bank of Fountain, Minnesota, in which he is also still interested, and he is a stockholder in other banks.

Mr. Stone was married in 1879 to Hattie M. MOODY, a lady of culture and education and the representative of a prominent old family. This union has resulted in the birth of the following children: Leo C.; L. Oliver, who is in the bank at Mason City, Iowa; Ruby Cornelia was a student in the Upper Iowa University at Fayette, but is now at Los Angeles, California; two died in infancy.

In all his relations with his fellow men the conduct of Mr. Stone has been above reproach . . . . . The Bank of Waucoma, the private bank of W. H. Stone, was established in 1882 by S. B. Ziegler & Company under the same name, with W. H. Stone as cashier, who remained in this capacity for a period of five years when he purchased the institution and has since conducted it as a private bank, giving it his personal management. It is well equipped with safety deposit vaults and all modern fixtures, and is well patronized by the citizens of northwestern Fayette county. Mr. Stone's son, Leo C. Stone, is the present efficient cashier."

W. H. Stone Dies at Waucoma

WAUCOMA -- Funeral service for W. H. Stone, 96, who died Sunday morning after a lingering illness, was conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the home, with Rev. Sterling J. Baldwin, West Union, and Rev. Walter Ladley, Fayette, in charge.

Casketbearers were Ralph and Jack Adams, Gerald Richards, Bruce Moser, John and Freeman Adams, all six being great grand nephews of Mr. Stone. Burial was in the Waucoma cemetery.

William Henry Stone, son of Oliver Stone and Mary Bonesteel Stone, was born at Warrensburg, N. Y., on May 29, 1852, and died in his home at Waucoma, Jan. 16, after an illness of two years. He was 96 years, seven months and 18 days old.

Mr. Stone came to Iowa with his parents in 1860, at the age of eight years, crossing the river at McGregor and driving by team from there to Eden, in Fayette county. There, the family home was set up on a farm about four miles southeast of Waucoma. The original house built by Oliver Stone is still standing on the farm now occupied by M. A. Moser and wife. The family of four children grew up in this neighborhood and all of them lived in Fayette county the remainder of their lives. Mr. Stone, the second child in this family, was the last survivor.

Mr. Stone was educated in the public school at Eden, and studied two terms at upper Iowa university where he roomed with the late Senator Newberry, of Strawberry Point. Beginning at the age of 18, he taught school several terms at Eden. In 1873, he went to Butte, Mont., which had a population of 30 people. He spent two and one-half years prospecting for gold.

Mr. Stone married Hattie M. Moody on May 29, 1879. To them were born five children: Leo C. Stone, Waucoma; L. Oliver Stone, Jacksonville, Fla.; Ruby C. Antes, West Union, and two children, who died in infancy. Mrs. Stone died May 25, 1914.

On Dec. 10, 1916, Mr. Stone was married to Norma J. Searles who died July 2, 1939.

In addition to his three children, Mr. Stone was survived by five grandsons: Alden G. Stone, Wilmington, Del.; William O. Stone, Mobile, Ala.; Charles W. Antes, West Union; Dr. Earl H. Antes, Evansville, Ind., and Richard S. Antes, West Union. He also is survived by seven great grandchildren.

After his marriage, Mr. Stone engaged in farming for a short time. Then moved to Waucoma and operated a hardware store for two years and for a time was a partner in a dry goods store. In 1882, he opened the Bank of Waucoma, which he owned and operated for 49 years. He also acquired extensive farming property and managed the same for many years. For approximately 30 years, he was treasurer of the Fayette County Mutual Fire Insurance association and for about the same period he served on the Waucoma School board, and as superintendent of the Sunday school of the Congregational church at Waucoma.

G. O. STONE DIES FRIDAY, FAYETTE

Second Death in Year in Pioneer Family--Former Mayor of Fayette--Services by Lifelong Friend

FAYETTE--G. O. Stone, 76, died at 10:00 a.m. Friday at his home in Fayette. His last illness was of only a few weeks duration. He sustained a bad fall in his home several weeks ago. He visited Rochester and went through the clinic, but no particular malady was found. He was brought to the West Union Hospital two weeks ago Saturday, and from there taken to Rochester again, and at this time the physicians their stated that he had suffered a stroke since his first visit.

Mr. Stone's was the second death in a family of four children of early pioneer parents of Fayette county, the first death among the four children in three-quarters of a century having been when the oldest, Mrs. Juliette Bender of Fayette, died June 13 last at the age of 89. The surviving members of that family circle are William H. Stone, 88, and Mrs. Janette Adams, 84, both of Waucoma.

Lifelong Friend Conducts Funeral

By a remarkable coincidence, the funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2:00 p.m. from the home in Fayette by Mr. Stone's neighbor, the Rev, John P. Clyde, Fayette. Mr. Stone and Mr. Clyde were born in pioneer families within a mile of each other in Eden township, not far from the same date, and grew up in the same neighborhood and attended the same country school as boys.

Student of History, Economics

Dr. Clyde spoke of Mr. Stone as a member of the first generation of the first pioneer families, characterized by their heartihood, their independence, their love of liberty. He also referred to his deep appreciation of the beauty of nature which made it appropriate that "Trees" should be one of the songs at the funeral services; of his love of the best in literature and music; of his large library of historical and economic volumes; and that is sharing the social theories of William Larrabee and Henry George.

Served as Fayette Mayor

Gerald Oliver Stone, son of Oliver and Mary E. Stone, was born Dec. 4 29, 1864, in Eden township. He attended country school, a business school at Decorah, and Upper Iowa university. The spent some years in teaching and travel. Most of his life was spent on the family homestead in Eden township, from which he moved in 1916 to the home he bought in Fayette. He had served as mayor of Fayette, and shared in his quiet way in the life of the college campus, and in the religious life of the community.

He was married June 22, 1893, to Allie Goodman. The widow survives him, as do three daughters; Geneva, Mrs. Roy M. Richards; Elizabeth, Mrs. Rex Tario, Lead, S. D.; Lenora, Mrs. M. A. Moser. Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Moser reside near Waucoma. There are three grandsons, Gerald and Lester Richards and Bruce Oliver Moser.

Notes for Jessie Evalina Goodman:

[Received from Jessie Cook]

I loved going to my Great Grandma Jessie's farm to visit. The water came from a handpump out in the yard...best cold drinking water ever! Uncle Earl never did put plumbing in the house and no one really seemed to mind! The outhouse was out back past the wood shed! I will always miss being able to go there....I loved that place, my fondest memories as a child was when everyone would gather on the weekend for family time.

My mom told me that Jessie was a school teacher for about 40 years...that Uncle Earl would take her by horse and buggy to nearby towns. Was also told she was artistic.

Henry A. Bemis, pioneer Steele county educator, was born in Malone, New York in 1854. In the year 1864 he moved with his parents to Vernon County, Wisconsin, where he was educated and grew to manhood. He graduated from Milton College in 1879. His wife, Weltha Bemis, whom he married in 1876 was also a pioneer Steele County teacher. She was born September 8, 1856, at Dalington, Wisconsin. The couple came to Dakota Territory in 1882, homesteading on the farm in the south part of Greenview Township in 1888. During their early residence there, both Mr. and Mrs. Bemis taught school in Steele County, the latter having twenty-nine years of teaching to her credit. Mr. Bemis also taught many years in Sverdrup Township in Griggs County. During all of this time he was an active worker in Church and Civic affairs. Mr. Bemis died November 27, 1929 and Mrs. Bemis died May 30, 1946. They had three children, Myrtle, (Mrs. C. A. Porterville), Melvin and Bryon, all deceased. Their daughter Myrtle was born at Verndale, Wisconsin, Jan. 5, 1880, coming to Dakota Territory with her parents in 1882. She attended, and also taught school in Steele and Griggs counties for two years, then entered Valley City Normal School from which she graduated in 1904. Later she enrolled at the University of North Dakota, graduating with a B. A. degree in 1908, and received her M. A. degree in 1909. She was married to Charles Porterville June 15, 1910. They farmed in the Sheyenne River Valley for several years and then moved to Cooperstown, where Mrs. Porterville taught in the high school for many years. In later years she became interested in the history of Griggs County and compiled and produced one of the most complete histories of any County in the State. Most of this material is in the North Dakota State University library in Fargo and is used extensively in classes in North Dakota history there. Mr. Porterville died in May 1934, and Mrs. Porterville in February 1961. They had an adopted son, Claude.

Biography

Myrtle Bemis was born January 5, 1880 at Newton, Wisconsin, the daughter of Henry and Weltha (Haddock) Bemis. In 1882 the family moved to Steele County near Cooperstown, North Dakota. At the age of eighteen, Miss Bemis began to teach in rural schools. She later attended Valley City Normal School from where she graduated in 1902. After teaching in Williston and rural schools for several years she attended the University of North Dakota where she received her masters' degree in history in 1909.

On June 15, 1910 Miss Bemis married Charles Albert Porterville, a farmer near Cooperstown. He was born May 19, 1875 at Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin. They farmed for five years and Mr. Porterville was also a rural mail carrier. They later lived in Cooperstown where Mr. Porterville worked in various stores. Mrs. Porterville taught school at Larimore for several years and then in the Cooperstown schools from 1923 to 1933. They adopted a son Claude who was born in 1916. Mr. Porterville died May 14, 1934. Thereafter Mrs. Porterville lived with her mother and brother on the home farm. There she cared for her mother and kept house for her brother until his death in 1958. Mrs. Porterville died February 16, 1961 in California and was buried in the Cooperstown Cemetery.

Mrs. Porterville took an early interest in the history of Griggs County, which started her long career in collecting almost everything documenting the history of the county. She began to do extensive research and collecting while teaching in Cooperstown, enlisting the help of her students. Mrs. Porterville even learned to speak and read Norwegian in order to help in her work. She wrote a history of the county, which was serialized in the Griggs County Sentinel Courier newspaper.

Scope and Content

The Myrtle Porterville Photograph Collection represents images she collected or copied as well as snapshots she herself took. They are part of Mrs. Porterville's documentation of Griggs County, N.D. This extensive collection covers a wide array of subjects, towns and people of the county, and it compliments the extensive historical documentation she compiled and collected from the 1920s into the 1950s. The documentary collection has been organized as Mss 296. The photograph collection has been organized into four series: Topical, People and Portraits, Rose Family, and Sanderson Family. In addition there are the negatives to some of the images in the collection. These include photographs taken by Mrs. Porterville and copy negative of photographs which she borrowed. The negatives, which number 1,857 items, have not yet been linked to the appropriate print.

The Topical Series contains images of a wide variety of subject and geographic locations, most of which were taken in Griggs County, N.D. The majority date from the late 1800s into the 1920s. This series is organized alphabetically by subject or town. It consists primarily of original photograph prints collected by Mrs. Porterville or copies of older images that she apparently borrowed and had negatives and prints made. There is also a substantial number of snapshots taken by Mrs. Porterville from the 1950s.

The series includes many farming images, farmsteads and houses, town scenes including of businesses, schools and students, and many documenting the town of Cooperstown, the county seat. There are also images of the Cooper Brothers' farm and family who operated a bonanza farm near Cooperstown. Most of the images have written identification on the back of the print, done by Mrs. Porterville. Some also state from whom she received the photograph.

The People and Portraits Series, the largest series in the collection, contains over 3,600 images of individuals and families who resided in the county, and images of family and friends living elsewhere in the country. Most of the images date from the 1890s into the 1920s. Mrs. Porterville identified most persons, likely done at the time she acquired them. The photographs are organized alphabetically by family name or the most prominent name written on the back of the image. Since many photographs are of more than one person, it is impossible to identify each and every individual within this finding aid.

The Rose Family Series consists of photographs that Mrs. Porterville received from the family of Dr. Fred Rose, a long-time dentist at Cooperstown, N.D. Dr. Rose was born in Ontario, Canada in 1874. Before opening his practice in Cooperstown in 1898 he practiced for a number of years in Fargo and Chicago. These photographs were originally a separate collection within the Porterville collection and that distinction has been retained. Many of the images have "Rose's photo" written on the back by Mrs. Porterville. Most of the images are portraits of people, and only a limited number are of the Rose family themselves. The photographers represented in this collection are primarily from Cooperstown and the Fargo-Moorhead area. The time period represented by the collection is from the 1890s into the 1930s.

The Sanderson Family Series of photographs were left at the Sander Sanderson home in Griggs County after Mr. Sanderson's death in 1941. Apparently Mrs. Porterville acquired them some time after that. Mr. Sanderson was born in Oslo, Norway in 1859. In 1871 he, his mother, and brother joined their father who was living in Illinois, likely the Chicago area. In 1881 Mr. Sanderson settled in Griggs County, N.D. Most, if not all, of the 185 Sanderson Family photographs are not identified. The vast majority of photographers represented on the cabinet photographs are from Chicago with a small number from Viroqua, Wisconsin. Based upon the photographic processes and clothing styles represented in this collection, the images date from the 1870s into the 1890s.

Donated by Myrtle Porterville, 1954 and 1956 (Acc. 296).

Notes for Ira J. Tompkins:
[Received from Katy Meares - from The Oelwein Register - February 4, 1914]

Ira J. Tomkins was born in Taylorville, Iowa, November 12, 1859, and he died in Oelwein on January 31, 1914. He was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Bemis and to the union was born thirteen children, ten of whom are still living, three having passed to the great beyond. He passed most of his life in Iowa, excepting the last two years when he resided in Kansas where he was engaged in farming. He came to Oelwein a short time ago and made his home with his son Fred. Death came to him, suddenly on the morning of January 31, without warning, and it was a terrible shock to his children and friends.

His beloved wife passed to her reward three years ago. He was an honest hard working man and had the respect and confidence of those with whom he was associated. He leaves to mourn his demise ten children - Mrs. L. A. Blacke, Volga City; Fred, Archie, Henry, Edward and Mrs. Grace Davis, Oelwein; Mrs. M. E. Miller and Blanche, of Medicine, Kansas; Elmer and Lee of Volga City, and other relatives and a host of friends.

Short services were held from the home of his son, Fred, in Oelwein on Monday forenoon, conducted by Rev. C. L. McKin_ and the body was taken to Elgin where the last services and interment occurred. Sympathy is expressed to the bereaved family in the loss they sustained.

Notes/Comment-- After George W. Bemis, Jr. married his second wife, Addie P. ? in about 1897, they must have moved to Mexico after 6/1900 (time of 1900 US Census) as their two sons, Louis(Lewis) G., and George were both b. in Mexico. After the youngest, George, was b. in abt. 1903, they returned to Chautauqua County, NY and were in Pomfret at the time of the 1910 US Census (6/1910). Addie was in the 1920 US Census as a widow, with son George. Son Louis(Lewis) was living in the family of xxxx Shaw, as a step-son, but I believe the relationship to xxx Shaw is wrong. Have to spend more time with Shaw families in Chautauqua County to figure this one out. The first husband of Addie P. was a Shaw, who either died before 1897, or was divorced from Addie P. at the time she married George W.

She was born Jul 1857 in Worcester, Worcester County, Massachusetts<sup>15870</sup>.

More About Cyrus Elisha Bemis:

Name 2: Cyrus E. Bemis<sup>15871</sup>

Name 3: Elisha C. Bemis<sup>15872</sup>

Date born 2: Abt. 1859, Massachusetts<sup>15873</sup>

Notes for Nellie M. McCarthy:

[Received from David Bemis]

Cyrus Elisha dies September 7, 1888 of typhoid fever. At the time of his death he was a coachman/farmer at J. L. Ellsworth. In the 1888 Worcester City directory the J. L. Ellsworth refers to a Charles Ellsworth, a seller of dry goods, and J. Lewis is listed under the Ellsworth heading as a farmer, thus Cyrus was a wagon driver or coachman and farmer at this location. The day following his death his wife, Nellie purchases four burial plots at the Hope Cemetery in Worcester, plot # 3054, section 23, area 108. The funeral director is Fay Funeral of Worcester who was the notified of his death. In speaking with the Hope Cemetery office and they, upon examining their records, find the burial card, but they do not show any one buried in any of the four plots. A copy of the card is in the file. In speaking with the funeral director Fay Funeral they are not sure if there is any one buried there either. Upon visiting the Cemetery on March 28, 2001 I did not find a monument, or marker but there was one area in the designated lot where the ground was slightly depressed over an area about the size of a casket? This could indicate that there is/was a casket buried there. In that caskets were not placed in burial vaults at that time, this could indicate that the casket over time deteriorated and caved in causing the ground above to settle.

July 2, 1896, about eight years after Cyrus's death Nellie remarries at age 37 to an Edwin F. Damon, age 45 from Framingham, MA, she is now listed as a "cook" his occupation is listed as a bartender. The two, or three live in S. Framingham, MA, apparently until both parents die in the 1900s. At the time of their marriage Harry is about seven years old, and needless to say was very impressionable.

Nellie M or E Damon/Bemis/McCarthy dies January 15, 1923, at 8:25 PM, having lived at 42 Gordon Street, S. Framingham for 30 years. The cause of death is listed as bronchia pneumonia, with chronic cardiac valve disease. Her work is listed as a housekeeper. She was attended by a Dr. William Blanchard, and is buried at the Church Hill Cemetery in Framingham, MA by funeral director Matthews Hollander. She reportedly was 69 at her death. Her Father is listed as John McCarthy, from Ireland. An Ester C. Damon was the notified of Nellie's death, her daughter, Edwin Damon. Nellie and Harry are both buried in the Damon family burial plot in the Old Grove Cemetery/Church Hill Cemetery, which are one in the same place, in the rear of the cemetery, section I, at the far right hand side, about the 2-3 grave in the from the grass road at the front of the section.

Notes for James E. Bemis:

James Elmer Bemis, born August 25, 1865, in Sherborn, MA. He attended Sherborn Public School, the West School in 1880. His picture appears in a photo taken in 1880 by W. B. Gardner. In this photo is an Ed Bemis, family unknown. James is one of the two primary signatories of his father John D's will, the other being Charles A. Bemis, his older brother. James appears in the 1920 Framingham, Federal Census, he is 54, his wife Mary E, she is 49. They have a son Ralph W. who is 20 living with them. James is listed as an officer of the State Department of Fish and Game. Their son apparently was or is in school at this time. They live at 10 Summit Street, and he appears to own the house.

From the following Worcester City directory of 1888 it appears that a James E. Bemis, possible the brother of Cyrus E Bemis, also lived in Worcester, MA:

In the 1860 Census in Madison, Ward 3, there is an Isaac Bemis, b. abt. 1836 in MA. My speculation is that this Isaac is brother to Eugenia S., both children of Frederick and Sarah J. (Swan) Bemis. Interesting in that these supposed children of Frederick were never enumerated with him, neither in 1850, nor beyond.

Notes for William Goddard Pitman:
[History of Dane County (Wisconsin), Biographical and Genealogical, Western Historical Association, Madison, 1906, p.716-8]

Captain William G. Pitman has been manager of the New York store since 1879 and may properly be designated as one of the pioneer business men of the city of Madison, where he has made his home for more than half a century, and as an ever standing exponent of loyal and public-spirited citizenship. He was one of those who went forth to honor Wisconsin through effective service as a soldier in the Civil War, in which he rose to the command of his company; and in all the relations of civic life his influence has ever been cast in support of those measures and undertakings which make for the well-being of the community. It is but consistent to ascribe to him precedence as one of the best known and most popular business men of the capital city, with whose growth and development he has been closely identified as a citizen and as a man of affairs. Captain Pitman comes of sturdy Puritan stock and is a native son of the old Bay state, having been born in New Bedford, Bristol county, Mass., October 15, 1834, and being a son of William R. and Esther M. Pitman, the father having been a jeweler by vocation. Captain Pitman is indebted to the common schools of his native state for his educational training, which was adequate to fortify him for the active duties and responsibilities of life. When but fifteen years of age he gave inception to his mercantile career, securing a position as shop boy in an establishment at New Bedford, Mass., gaining a thorough knowledge of business methods and of the values of goods handled and being advanced to positions of increasing responsibility from time to time. In 1854 he set forth to try his fortunes in the west, making Madison his destination and here securing employment in a dry-goods store. In 1859 he entered the employ of the firm of Samuel Klauber & Company, Mr. Klauber having been practically the founder of the present New York store, since he came to Madison from Lake Mills in 1851, and established himself in the dry-goods business, having been one of the honored pioneer merchants of the capital city. With the upbuilding of the business of the New York store Captain Pitman has been closely identified, having been connected with the concern, under the various proprietorships, from the year 1859 to the present, and having been general manager of the business since 1879, while his initiative and administrative ability has been the factor of greatest importance in the developing of the large and important business now controlled by this well-known concern. The attractive establishment is well stocked with the most select lines of dry-goods, carpets, rugs, etc., occupying a substantial two-story building, which was built by the present company in 1882, its unique façade being one of the most attractive of all business blocks on the capitol square. When the somber cloud of civil war obscured the horizon of a divided nation, Captain Pitman manifested his intrinsic loyalty and patriotism by tendering his service in defense of the Union. In April, 1861, he enlisted as a member of Company K, First Wisconsin Volunteer infantry, in which he was made sergeant, serving with his regiment until the expiration of his three months' term of enlistment and then receiving his honorable discharge. In August, 1862, he raised a company of volunteers in Dane county, and again went into service, being adjutant of his regiment and being finally promoted captain of the company which he had raised, -- Company I, Twenty-third Wisconsin Volunteer infantry. In that capacity he served until December, 1863, when he resigned his commission and returned to Madison, having received his honorable discharge, at New Orleans. He was a participant in the battles of Chickasaw Bayou, Arkansas Post, Port Gibson, Champion's Hill, Big Black River, the campaign and engagements leading up to the siege of Vicksburg, in which he took part, having the honor of being one of the valiant soldiers of the force which entered the capitulated city on July 4, 1863, the siege of Jackson, and the battle of Grand Coteau. In perpetuation of the more gracious memories and associations of his military career he has identified himself with the Grand Army of the Republic, the Loyal Legion and the Society of the Army of Tennessee. In politics the captain gives his allegiance to the Republican party and while he has ever shown a loyal interest in public affairs of a local order he has never been animated with ambition for official preferment. He and his family are members of Grace Protestant Episcopal church. Captain Pitman was a member of the volunteer fire department of the city for some twenty-five years, for ten years having been foreman of the Hook and Ladder company. He is a member of the State Historical society, the Madison Horticulture Society, and the Ancient Order of United Workman; he is also a director of the Northwestern Building and Loan Association. March 14, 1864, Captain Pitman was united in marriage to Miss Eugenie S. Bemis, of Madison, and they have three daughters, Bertha S., Jennie M. and Annie M. The eldest daughter is the wife of Prof. F. C. Sharp of the University of Wisconsin and the mother of two children, Malcolm P., aged seven, and Elliot C., two years of age. The other two daughters make their home with their father.

Notes for Will Eaton Bemis:

[Bemis Lovell Family History 1619-1987, p 15]

Will Eaton Bemis married Edith Florence Crittendon at Chatfield, Minnesota, 1894. She was born at Chatfield 1 April 1878, and died at San Diego, California on 16 October 1933.

They had three children - Kenneth Eaton, born at Geneva, Minnesota on 12 April 1895 and died at Los Angeles, California 27 April 1968; sn Fredrick Lorton, born at Delano, Minnesota, 6 October 1906 and died at Oakland, California, 11 June 1977, and daughter Georgia Emalyn, born at Delano, Minnesota 13 January 1908.

The children grew up on a beautiful farm on the outskirts of Delano and when they had become fully grown, Will retired in 1927 to San Diego, California, with his wife and daughter.

The home and other structures on the farm were always maintained in immaculate condition and Will was considered, by some, as a gentleman farmer. Edith was a fine homemaker, making the Bemis farm abundant with fond memories for the grandchildren to recall.

The horses and livestock were treated more as pets than farm animals with the horses always being kept, during the warm months, in a shiny, curried condition. One frisky black horse, named Pat, used to pull the carriage and was sometimes a handful for young Fred to handle. The bay workhorse, Bell, was a delight to his grandson who would fetch her out of the pasture and on occasion ride her during corn plowing season, steering her with the check-rein at the end of each furrow while grandfather guided the plow.

Fond memories of his grandparents include catching sunfish from flat bottom boat in a nearby lake, followed by a picnic lunch, with both grandparents, under the shade of a nearby tree.

Will was a 32° Scottish Rite Free and Accepted Mason.

Notes for Kenneth Eaton Bemis:

[Bemis Lovell Family History 1619-1987, p 16]

Kenneth Eaton Bemis married Ruth Stilwell Lovell at Hennepin County, Minneapolis, Minnesota on 14 October 1916. Their children were: Kenneth William born at Stillwater, Minnesota 7 June 1918, and daughter Edith Beverly born at Minneapolis, Minnesota 14 December 1919.

Kenneth Eaton was brought up on his father's farm and when only 3 years old lost his left forefinger on a piece of farm machinery. His father told him that he could ride to the house on the back of the work horse if he would promise not to cry. As he was a brave little boy he rode back without a whimper.

Later, when at the age of 12, while standing in the open door of the barn during a summer storm, he was struck by lightning. He was unconscious for several hours before becoming revived.

During his early school years he would ride his donkey "Jenny Bow" to school and she would patiently wait for him, near the grounds, until school was out. This attraction and loyalty was repeated by many faithful followers throughout his business career in later life. During high school he attended St. Thomas Military Academy.

While attending grade school, Ken Bemis, an enterprising child, would on occasion meet other boys who had broken their bicycles. In those cases he would often make a deal to purchase the bike, at a considerably reduced price, take it home, make the necessary repairs and thereafter sell it at a profit, sometimes even to the boy he bought it from.

After graduating from military school, he acquired a motorcycle, which he reconditioned. He then left the farm life behind him with seventy-five cents in his pocket.

His second enterprise was to purchase glass wind chimes, unassembled, at the five and dime store, assemble them and sell them door to door. By the time his first summer was over he had maintained himself and accumulated a few extra dollars. Home at that time was the YMCA. This all took place in Minneapolis.

The opportunity then presented itself for him to work out of local Judge Spureor's office, a man who had met him as a customer on one of his house-to-house calls. The Judge took a liking to the young entrepreneur and told him that he would be happy to help him get started in the legalities of selling real estate. This turned out to be a very beneficial opportunity for young Ken as he was able to learn a considerable amount about contracts and basic real estate law, besides making more money than he had ever earned before.

After his first meeting with Ruth Lovell, at a summer family vacation in Inkster, North Dakota, while he was visiting his Uncle Victor (who was married to Ruth's Aunt May), he and Ruth discovered that they got along famously.

As Ken was a very busy young man and accustomed to moving rapidly, he became so enamored that he proposed marriage. As she was on her four-year scholarship at the Art Institute of Minneapolis, she felt that it would be appropriate for her to finish her course before becoming married. However, he eventually won out, and a few years later they became man and wife.

Notes for Ruth Stillwell Lovell:

[Bemis Lovell Family History 1619-1987, p 9-11]

Ruth Stillwell Lovell born at Inkster, North Dakota, 5 May 1892. She attended school in Minneapolis and was an excellent art student, having been awarded a four year scholarship at the Art Institute. In later years she specialized in floral still-life oils and left many beautiful paintings with her family and friends.

Ruth was married at Hennepin County, Minneapolis, Minnesota, on 14 October 1916 to Kenneth Eaton Bemis. Following her marriage, she learned shorthand, typing and bookkeeping so that she could help her husband in business and real estate. When she commenced having a family she continued to contribute much to her husband's career in the line of her artistic expertise, designing brochures and promotional materials for his various enterprises.

While living in Minneapolis, Kenneth capitalized on the opportunity to write a book on how to do a new dance that was hitting the country, called the Charleston. In doing so he decided to have his wife, son and daughter, six and five years old, learn the dance and they posed for pictures to be used in the book.

Ruth designed the artwork for the book which turned out to be a great success. Kenneth's theory behind it was that the whole family could learn the dance under the BEMIS METHOD.

Prior to this, Kenneth had developed a toy manufacturing business for which Ruth also did the art work for the brochures. During this time their young five year old son would accompany his parents on sales promotional trips to the west coast, demonstrating scooter bikes and other toys.

Following the completion of the Charleston book in 1923, Ruth decided to further the dancing talents of her children and continued this program for the next fifteen years. This resulted eventually in the children becoming an international dance team, during the 30's, known as BILLY AND BEVERLY BEMIS.

In 1926 the family moved to California at which time Ruth decided to improve her singing ability by taking vocal lessons. She was a fine mezzo soprano and enjoyed musical art which included playing the piano. While her children were developing their dancing talents she would, on occasion, perform in recitals besides singing in various community productions and her local Christian Science Church.

Meanwhile, she would travel with her children when they performed in major cities throughout the United States and in Europe, until 1939 when they retired from the theater.

Prior to WWII her husband had developed a national chain of restaurants and when war was declared a great shortage of male employees was created. As her children were no longer dancing she immediately rose to the occasion and became very involved in helping to run the Los Angeles business, which was quite extensive. Shortage of employees, food, and about everything else made running a chain of restaurant operations a tremendous task. She has a very constructive influence on the female personnel who were hired to replace the male employees who were being drafted into military service.

After the war ended and things began to settle down she commenced devoting full time to church work. She became a dedicated and successful Christian Science practitioner in addition to becoming a Reader and member of the board of directors at her local church. She had taken class instruction in Christian Science in 1940 from Miss Abigail Dyer Thompson, C.S.B., Minneapolis, Minnesota. She was a wonderfully supportive, loving and dedicated woman in everything she did. All who knew her remember that she never expressed a harsh or critical word about anyone or anything. We cherish the many remembrance of wonderful times spent with her. She was a fine exemplification of her Pilgrim Heritage.

RUTH LOVELL BEMIS was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, General No. 22867.

Notes for Fredrick Lorton Bemis:

[Bemis Lovell Family History 1619-1987, p 15-16.]

Fredrick Lorton Bemis, married Laura Bernadine Tischler who was born at Delano, Minnesota, 15 June 1908. They had one daughter, Barbara Jean, born at Oakland, California, 2 December 1931.

When they moved to Kansas City, Missouri, they worked for brother Kenneth in his new restaurant enterprise, called "All-In-One-Sandwich Shops." Shortly thereafter, Fred and Laura moved to Los Angeles, California, where he went to work for a grocery chain. In 1930, brother Kenneth started a new restaurant chain in California called "The White Log Taverns," and just before opening his seventh restaurant in Berkeley, California, Fred and Laura moved to Oakland and joined him in his new enterprise. Fred's first job was that of managing the Berkeley store. As the chain developed to seventy-two units, within the next seven years, from the West Coast to Washington, D.C., Fred played an important part in helping to expand the chain.

Following World War II, Fred became very active in developing a mounted horse group known as The Oakland Shrine Rangers. The group featured black and white pinto horses with matching silver mounted saddles. They appeared in a number of parades and horse shows throughout California and other states winning silver cups and ribbons for their fine horsemanship and drill formations.

Fredrick Lorton Bemis was a 32° Scottish Rite Free and Accepted Mason.

Regarding the June 10, 1977 death date of Frederick Lorton Bemis, I got that from his daughter, Barbara Bemis Sciacqua, in 1996. I just checked the online California death records, and they have June 11, 1977, as the Bemis book apparently has it. So, who's right -- the daughter, mid-60s age and almost 20 years after the fact, or the official state records ?? Regardless of which date is correct, only the "official record" will stand the test of time !! For me, I'm going to carry both dates, and source it appropriately.

Notes for John Merrick Bemis:
[Idamarie.ftw]

(VIII) Dr. John Merrick Bemis, son of Dr. Merrick Bemis (7), born at Worcester, Massachusetts, February 14, 1860. The life work of Dr. Bemis has been so completely merged and identified with that of his father for the past twenty years, at Herbert Hall, that what has been said as to the attainments of the father as a physician and specialist applies equally well to the son. He was educated from the start as a specialist, and had unusual opportunities for practice and hospital study. He attended the Worcester schools. Before graduating he left the high school to prepare for college at Phillips Andover Academy, but was obliged, by poor health at that time, to leave the academy, and he studied at home for three years under private tutors. He attended medical lectures at the Harvard Medical College in Boston and at the Burlington University (Vermont) Medical Department, where he received his diploma in 1893. He had been an active assistant to his father at Herbert Hall for some years; before and after graduation he returned to the hospital where he has been actively engaged in the management and treatment of patients ever since. He has continued his studies with the intention of keeping up the times. He has studied at Harvard and Clark universities from time to time and written papers for various learned societies. His specialty, of course, has been mental diseases. Herbert Hall, of which he is now, since his father's death, owner and manager, is the only private hospital in the state devoted to insane patients exclusively, except the McLean Hospital, which is in a class by itself. Herbert Hall is chartered by the state and under the state supervision. It ranks high among the institutions of its kind.

Dr. Bemis has devoted his time almost exclusively to the hospital. He is trustee of the Baldwinville Hospital Cottages for Children. He is on the education committee of the Highland Military Academy, of Worcester; a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Worcester Medical Society, the American Psychological Society and the New England Psychological Society. In religion he is an Episcopalian. He married June 25, 1887, Fannie Bishop Brown, of Andover, Massachusetts, daughter of John Brown, for many years druggist at Andover, Massachusetts. He was born at Newburyport in 1809; died at Andover in 1886. Her mother was Emily Fiske, daughter of Eben Fiske, born at Roxbury, Massachusetts, June 24, 1819, resided many years at New Orleans, Louisiana. She is living (1905), remarkably active and well for her years. She is related to the Willards, celebrated as clockmakers in the colonial days. Children of Dr. Bemis are: 1. Annie Merrick, born October 1, 1888. 2. Caroline Gilmore, born May 25, 1891.

JOHN MERRICK BEMIS, Physician, was born in the old Summer Street Insane Hospital, Worcester, of which his father was then superintendent, February 14, 1860, only child of Dr. Merrick and Caroline A. (Gilmore) Bemis. The life work of Dr. Bemis was so completely merged and identified with that of his father at Herbert Hall Hospital, that what has been said as to the attainments of the father as a physician and specialist applies equally well to the son. He was educated from the start as a specialist, and had unusual opportunities for practice and hospital study. After his course at the Worcester High School, he became a student at Phillips Andover Academy, but was obliged, owing to poor health, to leave the academy, and he studied at home for three years under private tutors. He then entered the medical department of the University of Vermont, at Burlington, from which institution he was graduated, in 1893, with the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Later he did special work at the Harvard Medical School, and upon completing his education he returned to this city and became associated with his father in the management of Herbert Hall Hospital, which his father founded in 1872, and upon the death of his father, in 1904, he assumed the duties of superintendent of the hospital, serving in that capacity until his death. He was ever a student, studying from time to time at Harvard and Clark universities, and frequently he wrote papers for various learned societies. His specialty, of course, was mental diseases. Herbert Hall is the only private hospital in the State devoted to insane patients exclusively, except the McLean Hospital, which is in a class by itself. Herbert Hall is chartered by the State and under the State supervision, and ranks high among the institutions of its kind. Dr. Bemis devoted his time almost exclusively to the hospital. In religion he was an Episcopalian.

Dr. Bemis married, June 23, 1887, Fannie Bishop Brown, of Andover, Massachusetts, and to this union were born two children, namely: Annie Merrick, born October 1, 1888, who married William Wood; and Caroline Gilmore, born May 25, 1891, who married William Seach, a naval officer in the United States Navy.

He traced his descent from Robert(1) Williams, a native of Norwich, England, an emigrant to New England in the Rose, with his first wife, Elizabeth Stratton, and several children, who settled at Roxbury, Mass., and was admitted a freeman 2 May 1638, through Capt. Isaac(2), born in 1638, whose first wife was Martha Parks, Lieut. Isaac(3), 1661-1739, Capt. William(4) of Mansfield, Conn., who married Experience Williams, Capt. Phinehas(5), 1734-1820, a settler in 1774 at Woodstock, Vt., an officer in the Revolution, who married Mary Field, Hon. Jesse(6), 1761-1842, of Woodstock, an officer in the Revolution, whose wife was Hannah Palmer, Hon. Norman(7), 1791-1868, A.B. He attended the public schools and was graduated at the Woodstock High School in 1865 and at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., in 1868. He entered Yale University and received there the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1872. Serious trouble with his eyes forced him to give up for a while all studies, but in 1873 he began postgraduate studies at Lehigh University, taking there the degree of Analytical Chemist in 1875 and that of Engineer of Mines in 1876. In 1912 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from the University of Vermont and in 1915 that of Doctor of Laws from Lehigh University. While at Lehigh University he founded the Tau Beta Pi Society, a national honorary engineering fraternity.

He began work in 1872 as a surveyor with the Pennsylvania Railway engineering corps, but gave up his position and took up his studies at Lehigh University the following year. From 1876 to 1879 he was engaged as an engineer in private mining corporations, and then, for a year, was a superintendent of mines at Danville, Pa., resigning to accept the position of assistant mining engineer of the Canada Steel Company at Johnstown, Pa., in charge of mine examinations outside the State of Pennsylvania and of exploring work in Canada, Michigan, and Virginia. In 1881 he was appointed professor of mining and geology at Lehigh University, a position which he held until 1902, when he was made lecturer on mining and geology. After his retirement from teaching he moved to Andover, but in 1910 settled at Woodstock.

He contributed many papers on mining and education to scientific magazines and journals, besides publishing articles on history and geology. He published a "Manual of Lithology," 1886, 1896, and a "Vigintennial Record of the Class of 1868, Phillips Academy, Andover," 1888, and edited Atkinson's "Gases met within Coal Mines," second edition, 1886, and "Coal and Metal Miners' Pocket Book," 1890.

He was well-versed in Greek, Latin, French, German, Egyptian, Coptic, Sanskrit, and Hebrew. He learned to read and speak Welsh.

He was a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and the Vermont Society of Engineers, and a fellow of the American Philosophical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the Geological Society of America. He belonged also to the Moravian Historical Society, the Wyoming Valley Historical Society, and the Vermont Historical Society. A stamp collector of international reputation, he was a member of the American Philatelic Society.

He has served as a trustee and president of the Norman Williams Public Library Corporation, a director of the Woodstock Aqueduct Company, the Woodstock Electric Company, and the Woodstock Hotel Company, vice president and president of the Lehigh Alumni Association, and a member of the School Committee of Woodstock.

He married at Roxbury (Boston), 19 June 1883, Jennie Olive Bemis, daughter of Augustine Samuel and Ophelia (Leland) Bemis, who, with eight children, Mrs. N. "SAD. News by telegram to Mr. O. F. Wallihan [Samuel's brother, Orlando], of Footville, and also by postal card Saturday, to Mr. Jerome Bemis, of this place, conveyed the sad news of the accidental shooting and death of Mrs. Maria, wife of Dr. Wallihan, of Colorado, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bemis, formerly of Evansville. No intelligence as to the cause that led to the accident. The accident occurred in the mountains, some distance from home. The news brings deep sorrow to the many friends of the deceased, both at this place and at Footville, the former residence of both parties."

Notes for Nelson Monroe Saterfield:
[Beth_Buyce.ftw]

Nelson Saterfield was born in Whitehall, NY in 1845. He came to Aurora, Illinois some time before 1860. Nelson fought in the Civil War, enlisting in September 1861 for a period of three years. However, he got pneumonia, then had a relapse and was discharged in April 1862. He enlisted again in 1864 for a 100 day tour of duty. In July and August of 1864 he was in a military prison in Columbus (Georgia or South Carolina) the state was not listed. He was discharged again in October 1864. He was married in 1872 to Sarah Hemstock, born in Sutton, England in 1852. They were married in Aurora, Illinois. Nelson and Sarah had seven children. Anna and Frank were born in Aurora and Margaret and Ruth were born in Chicago. There was a child between Margaret and Ruth who must have died in infancy. No trace has been found of the others. Nelson worked for the railroad, also as a laborer and as a foreman and it appears as he got older he was in ill health. He died in April 1894 from an overdose of laudanum by his own hand at 49 years of age. He is buried in Oakwoods Cemetery at 67th and Cottage Grove in Chicago. His wife Sarah died in 1918 of pneumonia and an organic heart. She was 65. She is buried in Mt. Hope Cemetery at 115th and Fairfield on Chicago's far south-west side. Her last address, 10107 South Elizabeth is gone now replaced by the Dan Ryan expressway.

Notes for Arthur Chandler Bemis:

My g-grandfather Arthur Chandler Bemis (695) married my g-grandmother Emma Jane MacGonell on Dec. 25, 1894, after the death of his first wife. He had several children by this marriage which we have no information on other than my own grandfather, Chandler A. Bemis, who was born in Revere, April 19, 1900 and died Dec 1961. He is buried at Puritan Lawn Memorial Park in Peabody, Mass., (978 - 535 - 3660) with his wife Isabel Goldie (Steele) Bemis (Lot H-115). His parents Arthur and Emma Jane, and an infant grandson Gordon Ritchie are also buried there (Lot J-835). I stumbled upon a third Bemis buried there by the name of Clarence his wife is Agnes (Lot T). His last known next of kin was recorded as Clarence Jr., Monument Road, Orleans, Mass. 02653. I am currently a Roman Catholic Seminarian student in Boston, Massachusetts and have not had much time to do research. I do enjoy reading the newsletters and correspondences from other Bemis descendants. I can send along a much more detailed line of Chandler A. Bemis if you wish. I hope this is helpful and not filled with too much erroneous data. Sincerely - [BILL FOTINO, bifo65@gis.net ]

"Reid S. Bemis, listed in Wales Cemetery records as b. 1862, is incorrect, according to what I found. Listed in 1900 Greene Twp., Erie Co., Pa. Census is family of Elmer Bemis. Reid is listed as a son, and his birthdate was entered as Feb. 1891. So that corresponds with what you have. He is also listed as being born in 1891, in:

A Twentieth Century History of Erie Co., Pa. by John Miller. Vol. 2, pub. 1909, Lewis Publishing Co., Chicago. pg 248-249. This was probably the history that you mentioned. So it is a fair conclusion that the date in the cemetery records was incorrect. I found no other information for either Reid or Jennie, his wife.

BEMIS, Charles - Charley BEMIS, a rancher from on Salt Creek near Eagle, died in the sanitarium in Glenwood Springs last Monday morning after an illness with pneumonia of but a few days. Mr. BEMIS had contracted pneumonia while doing his ranch work a few days before his death, and his condition had rapidly become so serious that he had been removed to the hospital last Friday where he could get the best of care. His condition, however, continued to get worse until his death.

The remains were brought home Tuesday evening and the funeral held Wednesday afternoon. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large number of friends and neighbors, where a short service was held by Rev. J. F. GAITHER of the Methodist church, and a song sung by the mixed quartet.

The deceased was born fifty-four years ago in northeastern Kansas, coming to Colorado in 1892. He was a teamster by trade, and followed this business for number of years, coming to Eagle county from Marble fifteen or sixteen years ago, and sometime after bought the little ranch where he lived with his family at the time of his death. He was married while living at Marble, and to this union was born one child a daughter, who together with the widow, survive the death of the husband and father. His passing is regretted by a large number of friends who knew him as a good and accommodating neighbor.[4 May 1923, Eagle Valley Enterprise, p1]

Hope you can make heads and tails of the above info as my emails don't always send in the same format that I set them up in, like spaces, indentions, paragraphs, etc. There's still some info to get from Uncle Richard and about Aunt Donna's kids when my cousin Jennifer has time. Most of the above people I know already as I had gotten the chance to somewhat grow up around them. But even all my family says that Grandpa is a dead dropoff. It is believed that he didn't have a birth certificate. And the place of his birth is still unknown due to not being listed the same on all of his kids' birth certificates. Uncle Richard is running into the problem of finding out where grandpa was born in order to get his own birth certificate for SS retirement benefit purposes. Oh, before I forget, Uncle Allan verified that the Theo Wells you found in Allodium,Ks is prob the right one. I think that's all I have to offer for now. Jennifer will be sending me Grandma and Grandpa and Dad's obituaries soon and hopefully I can get more info from them. Well, if you have any questions, feel free to holler at me.

Thanks again!!!

Sincerely,

Melissa (Bemis)Garcia

Notes for Capt. William Thomas Harward:

I don't know if there are any descendents of the 3 children of WILLIAM THOMAS HARWARD and LORENDA CURTIS LURVEY. Probably not. WILLIAM the son was unmarried and I think probably the same for JENNIE EASTMAN HARWARD 1862-1901. WINNIE is the only possibility and she got married in 1901 therefore 37 or 38 years of age at marriage. There is a HARWARD genealogy done by the same guy (CHAS N. SINNETT) so try to get that. By the way WILLIAM THOMAS was born in 1832 NOT 1823 in Bowdoinham, Maine. He died in 1908 at a home for retired seamen called "Sailors Snug Harbor" which was on Staten Island (New York City) His parents were JOHN HARWARD 1800-1892 and JANE MARIA SPEAR 1799-1882. JOHN HARWARD was a famous shipbuilder in Bowdoinham who built huge wooden sailing ships. If you are ever in Brunswick, Maine go to the SKOLFIELD-WHITTIER House. This was the home of MARTHA ISABEL HARWARD (sister of WILLIAM THOMAS) who married ALFRED SKOLFIELD. If you have any questions don't hesitate to email me.

Aunt Stella worked in a shoe factory in Cincinnati and never married. She lived with her mother, Mary Marie Shuck Bemis, in Ludlow, Ky. I attended her funeral, and remember that her long, beautiful, black hair was cut short, like a man's. She was only 56, but had been put into an "old folks home" before her death 5603      ii.    Edward Robert Bemis, born 1897.

Notes for Edward Robert Bemis:

Grandpa Bemis was a 'Buyer' for the Fairstore, a Cincinnati department store before the Great Depression, but was moved to a warehouse so a company executive's family member could have his job after the 1929 "crash". He was in "photo interpretation" during WW II, and was offered a good job at Eastman Kodak, but he developed glaucoma and couldn't see, and that ended that.
