

Descendants of Michele diBona

Generation No. 1

1. Michele<sup>1</sup> diBona was born Unknown, and died 04 March 1783 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy. He married Angela Riccitelli Unknown, daughter of Carmine Riccitelli and Lucia Mignogna. She was born Abt. 1722, and died 21 August 1781 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.

Notes for Michele diBona:

May have another son named Mauro who apparently died prior to 1809, the year LDS records of Riccia begin. He was married to Domenica Marolla and had a son Saverio who died 14 Sep 1811. Research.

Children of Michele diBona and Angela Riccitelli are:

2. i. BARBATO<sup>2</sup> DIBONA, b. Abt. 1746; d. 19 September 1812, Celenza, Province of Capitanata, Italy.
3. ii. COSTANZO DIBONA, b. Abt. 1746, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy See Notes.; d. 08 March 1822, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.
4. iii. FILIPPO GIACOMO DIBONA, b. 01 May 1759, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; d. 29 August 1826, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.
5. iv. VITALE DIBONA, b. Abt. 1761; d. 25 November 1817, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.

Generation No. 2

2. Barbato<sup>2</sup> diBona (Michele<sup>1</sup>) was born Abt. 1746, and died 19 September 1812 in Celenza, Province of Capitanata, Italy. He married Antonia Santone. She died 30 August 1801 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.

Children of Barbato diBona and Antonia Santone are:

- i. ANGELAMARIA<sup>3</sup> DIBONA, b. Abt. 1792; d. Unknown; m. TOMMASO GRASSI, 09 February 1816, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; b. Abt. 1789; d. Unknown.
- ii. MATTEO DIBONA, b. Abt. 1792; d. 14 January 1817, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.

Notes for MATTEO DIBONA:

Witnesses to Matteo's death were: Felippo di Buono, uncle, age 60 years; and Costanzo diBuono, age 70 years.

- iii. GIUSEPPE DIBONA, b. Abt. 1797; d. 07 July 1847, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy.

3. Costanzo<sup>2</sup> diBona (Michele<sup>1</sup>) was born Abt. 1746 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy See Notes., and died 08 March 1822 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy. He married Antonia Marolla, daughter of Nicola Marolla and Giovanna Ciocca. She was born Abt. 1751, and died 21 February 1813 in Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy.

Notes for Costanzo diBona:

While Costanzo's death record in Mar 1822 gives his age as 70 years, several prior references to his age indicate that he was well into his 70s when he died.

In 1812, the death record of Pasquale Cosimino diBona is witnessed by Costanzo, who's age is given as 66 years. In 1817, the death record of Matteo diBuono is witnessed by Costanzo, who's age is given as 70 years. As it is likely that the information in his own death record intended to indicate he was in his 70s, and given the additional references to his age at earlier date, I am recording his birth year as about 1746.

Children of Costanzo diBona and Antonia Marolla are:

- i. ACHILLE<sup>3</sup> DIBONA, b. Abt. 1786; d. Unknown; m. LUCIA MOFFA, 30 March 1811, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; b. Abt. 1791; d. Unknown.

Notes for ACHILLE DIBONA:

It is distinctly possible that Achille and Domenico are the same son of Costanzo.

I postulate this on the fact that births to Domenico and Lucia Moffa begin to be recorded in succession soon after the marriage of "Achille" DiBuono to Lucia Moffa, but there are not births listed with Achille as the father.

- ii. DOMENICO DIBONA, b. Abt. 1790; d. 12 June 1854, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; m. MARIA ROMANO; b. Unknown; d. Unknown.

Notes for DOMENICO DIBONA:

Domenico's surname is given as diBuono, not diBona, in his death record. During his lifetime, the diBona name evolved into diBuono.

Domenico's death record indicates that he was a widower. It further states that his deceased wife, Maria Romano, left him with a son 3 years of age. This implies that Maria may have been younger than he and thus may not have been his first wife. It is distinctly possible that Achille and Domenico are the same son of Costanzo.

I postulate this on the fact that births to Domenico and Lucia Moffa begin to be recorded in succession soon after the marriage of "Achille" DiBuono to Lucia Moffa, but there are not births listed with Achille as the father.

Domenico's death record lists his brother, Pasquale, age 60 years, contadino living in Riccia, as a witness to his death.

- iii. URBANO DIBONA, b. Abt. 1791, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; d. Unknown; m. NICOLETTA VINCENZA RICCI, 22 May 1820, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; b. Abt. 1799, Riccia, Campobasso, Italy; d. Unknown.

Marriage Notes for URBANO DIBONA and NICOLETTA RICCI:

Civil Marriage Act was not provided on the LDS microfilm. However, the Solemn Promise To Marry Act, which provided the information about the betrothed, was followed by the Indicazione which stated that the religious marriage took place at the Church of Sana Maria Assunta in Riccia on 22 May 1820

- iv. PASQUALE DIBONA, b. Abt. 1794; d. Unknown.

Notes for PASQUALE DIBONA:

Pasquale appears as a witness to Domenico diBuono's death and is listed as Domenico's brother, age 60, a contadino living in Riccia.

4. Filippo Giacomo<sup>2</sup> diBona (Michele<sup>1</sup>) was born 01 May 1759 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy, and died 29 August 1826 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy. He married (1) Coronata Iapalucci. She died 27 August 1789. He married (2) Angiola Fanelli, daughter of Giuseppe Fanelli and Giovanna Sciandra. She was born Abt. 1768, and died 15 January 1818 in Riccia, Campobasso, Italy. He married (3) Carmina Mignogna 14 March 1818 in Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy, daughter of Innocenzo Mignogna and Felicia Moffa. She was born 01 June 1776 in Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy, and died Unknown.

Notes for Filippo Giacomo diBona:

Unless there were two Filippo diBona's having the same ages and living at the same time period, it appears that Filippo was first married to Coronata Iapalucci, secondly to Angiola Fanelli and thirdly to Carmina Mignogna though the civil and/or church records for the first two marriages needed for actual substantiation are not in hand. There are however, many records of births, marriages and deaths of persons to whom he is listed as being father, uncle or grandfather and for which his stated age always falls in the proper sequence and magnitude to give credence to the hypothesis that he is the one, multiple-married Filippo diBona.

Coronata Iapalucci died on 27 August 1789. Filippo and Angiola Fanelli had a daughter, Coronata Saveria, in 1793. Angiola Fanelli died 15 Jan 1818. On 14 March 1818 he married his 3rd wife, Carmina Mignogna.

Based on the above hypothesis, I have proceeded to add all those persons descended from Filippo diBona and Coronata Iapalucci to this file.

Children of Filippo diBona and Coronata Iapalucci are:

- i. SAVERIO<sup>3</sup> DIBONA, b. Abt. 1784, Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy; d. 22 November 1830, Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy; m. ELENA SCIANDRA, 14 December 1820, Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy; b. Abt. 1793, Riccia, Campobasso Province, Italy; d. Unknown.

Notes for SAVERIO DIBONA:

In the civil marriage record of Saverio diBona to Elena Sciandra, his name is given as Francesco Saverio and he is stated to be 36 years old (thus, b. abt 1784). This is odd and confusing because Filippo diBona and Coronata Iapalucci have another son born to them in abt. 1789 whom they name Francesco while their older son, Saverio (or Francesco Saverio) is alive. Without Saverio's church birth/baptism record, this confusion cannot be solved. To do: obtain the church birth record.

In Saverio's civil record of his death at age 46, one witness is Michele diBona, age 48. This may be an older brother of Saverio, possibly the eldest child of Filippo whom could be named after Filippo's father Michele diBona. To do: Find Michele's civil death record in the Riccia Stato Civile.

Marriage Notes for SAVERIO DIBONA and ELENA SCIANDRA:

In the civil marriage record, Saverio is listed as Francesco Saverio. This is odd and confusing because Filippo diBona and Coronata Iapalucci have another son born to them in abt. 1789 whom they name Francesco while their older son, Saverio (or Francesco Saverio) is alive. Without Saverio's church birth/baptism record, this dilemma cannot be solved. To do: obtain the church birth record.

Saverio's and Elena's church wedding was 18 Dec 1820 in Chiesa Santa Maria Assunta in Riccia.

He married (1) MariaGiovanna Mucci 08 August 1878 in Ielsi, Campobasso, Italy, daughter of Giuseppantonio Mucci and MariaTeresa Santella. She was born Abt. 1855 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died Unknown. He married (2) Rosa Ciaccia 20 March 1906 in Ielsi, Campobasso, Italy. She was born Abt. 1859 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died Unknown.

Notes for Salvatore DiBuono:

Salvatore DiBuono was a widower at the time of his marriage to Rosa Ciaccia in 1906.

Apparently Salvatore immigrated to the U.S.A. in 1887. For what purpose and for how long is not known to me as of this writing (Sept. 2000). He was accompanied by his brother, Biase. They are both listed as passengers on the ship, CHERIBON, which arrived in the port of New York from Naples on 09 Mar 1887. Salvatore was listed as being 35 years of age and a farmer by occupation. Destination in the U.S. was not given, but their origin was given as Campobasso, Italy. The source of this information is Volume 2., page 319, of "Italians to America" by Glazier and Filby.

Whereas Salvatore's and Biase's brother-in-law, Gennaro Barbiero (husband to their sister, MariaTeresa) was working in the U.S. at the time, they may have taken the trip to visit him. Gennaro Barbiero died in Columbus, Ohio on 13 December of that year (1887), so it is also possible that they were visiting him because they knew that he was ill. However, this reason is simply conjecture on my part and remains open to further investigation.

Notes for Biase DiBuono:

Apparently Biase immigrated to the U.S.A. in 1887. For what purpose and for how long is not known to me as of this writing (Sept. 2000). He was accompanied by his brother, Salvatore. They are both listed as passengers on the ship, CHERIBON, which arrived in the port of New York from Naples on 09 Mar 1887. Salvatore was listed as being 32 years of age and a farmer by occupation. Destination in the U.S. was not given, but their origin was given as Campobasso, Italy. The source of this information is Volume 2., page 318, of "Italians to America" by Glazier and Filby.

Whereas Biase's and Salvatore's brother-in-law, Gennaro Barbiero (husband to their sister, MariaTeresa) was working in the U.S. at the time, they may have taken the trip to visit him. Gennaro Barbiero died in Columbus, Ohio on 13 December of that year (1887), so it is also possible that they were visiting him because they may have learned that he was ill. However, this reason is simply conjecture on my part for I do not know the cause of Gennaro's death. The reason for Biase and Salvatore immigrating in 1887 remains open to further investigation.

15. MariaTeresa<sup>5</sup> DiBuono (Vitale<sup>4</sup>, Bartolomeo<sup>3</sup> diBona, Vitale<sup>2</sup>, Michele<sup>1</sup>) was born 15 September 1860 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died 1942 in Marlboro, Massachusetts. She married (1) Gennaro Barbiero 03 December 1881 in Ielsi, Campobasso, Italy, son of Nicola Barbiero and Cecilia Mucci. He was born 12 December 1859 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died 13 December 1887 in Columbus, Ohio, United States. She married (2) Pietro Cutrone 17 May 1894 in Ielsi, Campobasso, Italy. He was born Abt. 1846 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died Unknown.

Notes for MariaTeresa DiBuono:

Maria DiBuono's first husband, Gennari Barbiero, emigrated to the U.S. and died there (Columbus, Ohio). Her second husband, Pietro Cutrone, also emigrated to the U.S. and died there (place unknown).

Notes for Gennaro Barbiero:

The death records in Stato Civile, Comuni di Ielsi, Provinica di Campobasso, Regione di Molise, for the years 1893 and 1894 contain the translation into Italian of the Record of Death of one Giacomo Barber filed on 13 December 1887 in Columbus, Ohio. He died in Saint Francis Hospital in that city. It was ascertained by Italian authorities in Ielsi, Italy in 1894 that Giacomo Barber and Gennaro Barbiero were the same person. Gennaro Barbiero had immigrated to the United States to find work, intending to accumulate money and return to his family in Italy. He arrived at the port of New York on 19 November 1886 aboard the ship Britannia from Naples. The ship registry shows his name as Janaro (phonetic English spelling) Barbiero. After arriving in the U.S. he apparently Anglicized his surname to Barber and, for unknown reasons, his given name was recorded on the death certificate as Giacomo, rather than Gennaro.

Notes for NICOLA BARBIERO:

Gennaro (James Peter) DiBuono of Marlboro, Mass., nephew of the subject, Nicola Barbiero, recalls that his mother, Maria Antonia (Antonietta DiBuono) Barbiero (sister of Nicola Barbiero) informed him years ago that her brother Nicola died at the age of 19 years in Ielsi, Italy. However, the Stato Civile death records for Ielsi in 1886 (the year of Nicola's birth) record the death of a baby Nicola Barbiero on 9 December [father-Gennaro Barbiero and mother - Maria Teresa DiBuono] but state the age as being 5 months.

16. Antonio<sup>6</sup> DiBuono (Domenico<sup>5</sup>, Antonio<sup>4</sup>, Bartolomeo<sup>3</sup> diBona, Vitale<sup>2</sup>, Michele<sup>1</sup>) was born 15 May 1876 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died 24 April 1948 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy. He married MariaLuigia Codipietro 27 October 1900 in Ielsi, Campobasso, Italy, daughter of Raffaele Codipietro and MariaVincenza diPietro. She was born 07 March 1876 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died Unknown.

Notes for Michele DiBuono:

In the 1910 U.S. Census taken in April of that year, Michele and his wife Maria Giuseppa (DiBenedetto) were living in Marlborough, Mass. at 245 Elm Street in a multi-family residence. With them was their recently born son, Domenico. On the census form, Michele gives 1904 and Maria Giuseppa gives 1905 as the year each immigrated to the U.S.. They were married in Italy in Nov. 1905 (see marriage data) so it appears that they came to the U.S. right after their marriage. A search of the ship manifests of passengers entering Ellis Island, using the American Family History Center (Ellis Island) website, fails to show either Michele arriving alone in 1904 or Michele and Maria Giuseppa arriving together in that port in 1905. They may have entered another port, such as Boston or Philadelphia.

[To do: Search records for their possible arrival in the port of Boston.]

Michele's stated date of immigration of 1904 indicates that he came to the U.S. first, possibly to find work and arrange for housing before going back to Italy to marry and return with his bride. A search for Michele's immigration discloses two interesting happenings:

1. He first came to the U.S. with his older brother, Antonio, in 1902, as visitors of their uncle Bartolomeo DiBuono. The manifest of passengers for the ship PATRIA, which sailed from Naples and arrived at Ellis Island, NY, on 17 October 1902 lists the following:

Michele DiBuono, age 23, single, residence Ielsi, Italy, purpose and destination to visit uncle Bartolomeo DiBuono at 240 Elizabeth Street, New York (I assume City)

Antonio DiBuono, age 26, married, residence Ielsi, Italy, same purpose and destination.

2. Michele is recorded arriving again at Ellis Island from Italy in 1906, this time accompanying 3 relatives, Elena Belmonte - age 32, Maria Rosa Vena - age 10, and Andrea Vena - age 7, all of whom list Ielsi as their residence, INCLUDING MICHELE, and their destination as Saugatuck, Conn. and the person of Salvatore DiBuono. Salvatore is listed as being: Michele's uncle, Elena's husband, and Maria Rosa's and Andrea's father. Salvatore DiBuono is in fact Michele's uncle, but if Michele is now married with wife Maria Giuseppa in Marlboro (recall she gave 1905 as the year she immigrated and this is now 1906), why did Michele list Ielsi as his residence and not Marlboro, Mass.? Michele apparently acted as benefactor for his uncle by accompanying his uncle's family on their journey to (or back to) America.

He married Angela Rosaria Funicelli Unknown, daughter of Gennaro Funicelli and Mariagiuseppa Matteo. She was born 02 February 1895 in Ielsi (Jelsi), Campobasso, Italy, and died 06 January 1983 in Marlboro, Massachusetts.

Notes for Vitale DiBuono:

Vitale arrived at Ellis Island, Port of New York on 29 January 1901 aboard the ship ALLER, which had sailed from the ports of Genoa, Naples and Gibraltar. On the passenger list he states that he is a male, 19 years of age (this jibes with his birth date), from the town of Ielsi (Jelsi), Italy and that his destination is Paterson (I assume N.J.) I also assume that Vitale joined the ship at Naples, from which port the other passenger ship records disclose most Jelsians and Riccese sailed to America. Ref.: "Italians To America" by Glazier and Filby, vol. 16, p.115.

Vitale may have been the first of the DiBuono's to emigrate to Marlboro, Mass. from Ielsi. When queried on 26 January 2004, Vitale's daughter Anna Maria DiBuono Seymour stated that she did not know why her father listed Paterson as his destination.

To Do: Find when Vitale settled in Marlboro.

He married Luigina Graziano Unknown. She was born 1893, and died Unknown.

Notes for Antonio DiBuono:

Apparently Antonio and his wife Luigina left Marlboro, Mass. and returned to Ielsi, Italy to live for some period. It is not yet known between what dates this occurred. With the gravestone in Marlboro, Mass., it can be presumed that they again returned to the USA. The return to Italy is based on oral communication with my Father, Gennaro Peter DiBuono, and in a March 1999 conversation with Antonio's grandson, Tony, who lives in Montreal, Canada
