

Descendants of Garrett Moore

Generation No. 1

1. Garrett¹ Moore was born Abt. 1785 in Ireland, and died Abt. 1850 in Ireland. He married Mary Abt. 1815 in Ireland. She was born Abt. 1785 in Ireland, and died Abt. 1850.

Notes for Garrett Moore:

11/20/00 Name may be spelled Garret (Gerald) not Garrett

More About Garrett Moore and Mary:

Marriage: Abt. 1815, Ireland

Child of Garrett Moore and Mary is:

+ 2 i. Patrick² Moore, born Dec 16, 1816 in Rathcormac, County Cork, Ireland; died Dec 04, 1907 in Westfield, MA.

Generation No. 2

2. Patrick² Moore (Garrett¹) was born Dec 16, 1816 in Rathcormac, County Cork, Ireland¹, and died Dec 04, 1907 in Westfield, MA¹. He married Mary Ellen Daly² Abt. 1852 in Rathcormac, County Cork, Ireland³, daughter of Michael Daly and Johanna Leahy. She was born Jan 04, 1830 in Rathcormac, County Cork, Ireland⁴, and died Abt. 1883 in Rathcormac, County Cork, Ireland.

Notes for Patrick Moore:

Came to Westfield, MA about 1887 per newspaper article about his death. He was 70 years old at the time he came to Westfield.

At time of death he lived with son Maurice at 10 White St. Westfield, MA. Services at St. Mary's in Westfield, MA per newspaper

He was widower at time of death at the age of 90 and was a carpenter. Died of LaGrippe per death certificate year 1907 Vol 5 page 11 no 237

Buried St. Mary cemetery Section 3 Lot 160 with sons William and Peter and grandson Thomas and his family.

Conflict on birth date Sue Moore had 1838 on her family tree?

Jack Walsh states that there were no Moore's in Rathcormac prior to 1845. Patrick Moore was supposedly born in Rathcormac in 1816. No records of parents or grandparents in records in Rathcormac.

JW Says Patrick Moore arrived in NYC April 19, 1884.

JW states that PM was a mailman in County Cork and married to Mary Hagerty in letter to Warren Dunham of 1/23/1992. Also MH was born Abt 1834 and died in 1883 at age of 49 from a stroke after 13 children. No reference to Mary Hagerty in other records. Also, who were the other two children.

This conflicts with data from JW that PM was married to Mary Daley (Daly) in his letter of 5/6/1994 to WD

A search of the Cloyne Catholic Diocesan database from 1799 to 1900 which included 47 parishes including Rathcormac. No records were found for the birth of Patrick and the marriage of Patrick and Mary Daly in Rathcormac. Paul MacCotter was given my records which showed the birth date but he could not verify it. He indicated that the database records are not complete as some information was never entered in the original records.

Other records found in the search for Moore's were as follows.

Marriage of Garret (Gerald) Moore to Catherine Hayes on January 1, 1844 in Castlelyons. The parish which is the parish next to Rathcormac. The witnesses were Peter and Elizabeth Hayes. He could be a brother or cousin of Patrick.

Birth of John to Garret Moore and Catherine Hayes on December 12, 1844 in Castlelyons Parish. Witnesses were Peter Hayes and Catherine Moore. He could be a cousin or brother to Patrick. She could be related also.

A search of the National Archives House Book for Rathcormac Parish of April 1849 found a Patrick Moore (Age 33) living in the gate lodge of the Kildinan House which was owned by Edward B. Roche. The gate house measured 22' long by 13' wide and 8' high.

A search of the Griffith's Valuation of 1852 (Property records and head of household on property) did not find Patrick living in Rathcormac Parish in 1852 but birth records of his children were from Rathcormac Parish starting in 1853.

Two other Moore's were in the Griffith's of 1852. They were.

David Moore a tenant, 15 Dispensary Lane, Rathcormac, lived on land with a house, yard and small garden valued at 1 pound.

Michael Moore a tenant, 4 Quarter Lane, Rathcormac, lived in a dilapidated house with a garden and valued at 10 shillings.

They could be brothers or cousins of Patrick.

Paul believes that Patrick Moore is our ancestor as he is the only one of record. During my visit I went by Kildinan House and took pictures. It is very close to land that Michael Daly father of Mary lived in 1852. There were three visible buildings including the renovated main house and two large buildings.

No Moore's records were found in the "Title Applotment Book, Rathcormac Parish, Oct. 1833"

(List of inhabitants of town and owner of land. Landless labors who were in rural areas were not included.)

11/5/2000

Did not have time to look into the Valuation Records for Patrick Moore as time ran out.

Irish records says PM was married to Mary Daly based upon birth records not Mary Hagerty.

During my visit to Ireland I visited the Rathcormac Parish Church and visited with Father Neilus O'Donnell (Tel/Fax 025-36286 or cell # 086-8307064). The records which I reviewed were a compiled database of the original records which some were in Latin. These records are cross referenced for ease of use. Father O'Donnell knew how to use the books and checked possible errors in names like Moore may be Morey.

The records for the parish for Births were from 1792 to 1899 and Marriages from 1829 to 1899.

No further records are available. I believe the original records are in the possession of Father O'Donnell.

The following records were found during my visit to Rathcormac Parish Church. I do not know the relationship to our family. Could be brothers or cousins of Patrick Moore.

8/28/1845 Birth of James to David Moore and Elizabeth Spillane and witnessed by Patrick Ryan and Ellen Cosgrave.

4/23/1858 Birth of Norry (Noreen) to John Moore and Norry Leary and witnessed by John Collins and Mary Leary.

4/23/1860 Birth of Daniel to John Moore and Norry Leary and witnessed by Maurice Connel and Johanna Layne ? Birth date was reconfirmed in a letter by Father Neilus O'Donnell in August 2001.

5/31/1869 Birth of Michael to Michael Moore and Mary Daly and witnessed by Daniel Daly and Catherine O'Brien. No address in record.

August 2001

In a letter to Father O'Donnell I asked about the Christian Brothers School where all the Moore's boys were schooled in carpentry. He indicated that the school is still located in Fremoy. But it is now a Primary school and not a Secondary school. He also indicated that he attended the school also.

1/15/2002 JW received a letter from Rathcormac on April 25, 1994 about the Moore and Daly family. It stated that there were 13 children of which 11 were baptized in Rathcormac. No Moore's in Rathcormac registers prior to 1845 (no father, grandfathers, also no Garrett's) This may indicate that Patrick moved to Rathcormac after 1845.

Also, there were 29 Mary Daly in Rathcormac between 1792 and 1899. A Mary Daly born 1834 and 12 were born between 1828 and 1840. Letter codes were 025-36258 & 088-582519

February 2002

Traveled to Denver for business but spent my nights at the Denver Library reviewing the early death of Patrick Moore.

The headline in the Rocky Mountain News of 9/11/1902 on page 6 column 2 " Patrick J. Moore Slain by A. H. Flood"

This information was found in the Scrapbook of William Wise. (Page 281, 282, 295 and 388) Mr. Wise was a US Marshal and kept records of crimes committed in the Denver area.

The story goes like this. The daughter of Patrick was sent to the local butchery to get 50 cents of meat for that night dinner. Patrick sent her back to return it as he believed it was tainted. The butcher trimmed the meat and returned it to Patrick saying it was a good piece. Patrick then returned to the store and he and Mr. Flood got into a fight and Patrick was stabbed by Mr. Flood.

Mr. Flood was charged with murder and was convicted of involuntary manslaughter and was sentence to one year. Patrick's son Thomas who was 8 at the time testified at the trial. Mr. Flood only served 5 months and was granted an unconditional pardon from the governor. The story behind the pardon goes like this. It seems that friends of Mr. Flood approached Mrs. Annabella Moore and offered her $1000 to help support her family as she was dependant on the charity of friends and family for survival of her and her 5 children. She made an appeal for clemency for Mr. Flood and was granted by the governor.

Patrick was a carpenter and lived with his wife and five children at 1063 Knox Court in Denver. While I was there I took photos of the home and sent them and copies of the articles to Jack Walsh who is the son of Mary and grandson of Patrick.

Thoughts from his daughter Katherine who just returned from 6 months in Kuwaiti desert.

Harry was very widely regarded as an expert in his field of military intelligence. He began his Army career by enlisting in the Army at the first opportunity, leaving school early to serve his country during World War II. His early years were served in the Pacific theater of war as a field artilleryman. After a brief break in service after the war, Harry re-entered as a Military Policeman. He served at Arlington Hall Station during the time the National Security Agency (NSA) was formed. During this time he began working in the field of intelligence. It was during this time that he met and married Mae Moore; they stuck through 43 years of marriage raising 5 children. Most of his years were spent working in the Pentagon, but he and his family had tours of duty in Germany (twice) and France. He served as the Sergeant Major, the senior ranking noncommissioned officer and principal advisor of enlisted affairs for the Commander of his intelligence unit, which was located in several different locations across the globe. For years after his retirement many that worked for him kept in close contact with him. It was clear from comments from his peers that his children spoke to over the years that his superiors and soldiers had very great respect and admiration for him and his wife Mae, as their children do today. After retiring, Harry worked for a time in real estate and with the Xerox Corporation as their Rockville security manager before his heart attack forced him into a final retirement in Florida. He volunteered many hours working with the American Legion (past Post Commander, Post 177), the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Elks (local Elk of the year, 1990?), and was President of the Men's Association, Twin Towers, Cocoa Beach. He and Mae were well known in the area for giving generously of their time to people in need of assistance, particularly in their condominium area, Twin Towers.

Notes for Mary Josephine Walsh:

Thoughts from her daughter Katherine.

Mae Moore, as she was called by all family and friends, was a homemaker much of her life and raised five children with Harry. They had many challenging moves around the world during their time with the military. Around the time Harry retired from the Army, Mae started a second career as a Billing Supervisor with the then-fledgling American Medical Laboratories, now one of the largest labs in the Washington, D/C. metropolitan area. When Harry had a major heart attack, Mae retired from this second career early to move with Harry to a gentler climate for his heart. In Cocoa Beach, Florida, Mae gave freely and generously her time and expertise to help other less informed retired persons in difficult situations with medical bills and insurance companies, and saved several persons from losing their homes and life savings. She also spearheaded, doggedly fought and won a courageous legal battle against a shady person that tried to bilk thousands of dollars from people that had invested in a Florida timeshare. A plaque in her honor is in the lobby of the timeshare building.

Notes for Daniel Joseph Donahue:

11/20/2000

Why I went to Ireland. Because I have always wanted to go. My wife Linda and I decided to go for our 20th anniversary so we made plans. Of course we had to negotiate how much touring and family research we were going to do. As we were going for 6 days we decide on 3 days each. As time got closer Linda's mom got ill and Linda was not able to go. I almost backed out but Linda convinced me to go so I did. Guess what I did- researched for 6 days. I owe her big time.

Day 1 Thursday

Upon arrival at 6:00AM I immediately drove to Dublin from Shannon Airport (About 3 hours). Tired and lack of sleep I re-learned real quick how to drive a standard and drive on the opposite side of the road. Once getting to Dublin it took me an hour or so to find the National Library due to missed turns and traffic.

Once at the library I met Francis Carroll who is Senior Library Assistant and been there for about 20 years. He was very helpful in sending me in the right direction. The system can be overwhelming. You need to know certain things before you can do research. Thank goodness I had some information beforehand. But still you need to lookup the conversion of Catholic Dioceses to Civil Parishes to find the Catholic Parish microfilm if they have it and then hope you can read it. After getting the lay of the land I decided to find a place to stay and come back the next day for real research. Well the place I stayed at was only a half hour drive but it took an hour and a half because of the pouring rain, missed turns and directions (I think some Irish people like to send people off in the wrong direction.).

Day 2 Friday

The next day I went back to the National Library and did some research and didn't come up with much. I was told that the records for the Sacred Heart Church were not in existent by the Genealogist I hired but I found them at the Library. The microfilm was difficult to read (I had a bad machine they said) but I could not find the record of Michael Donoghue birth. Due to time constraint I could only spend a couple of hours there but I am sure if I had more time I would have found more information.

I then went to the Valuation Office to look up record of were Patrick Donahue, Patrick Moore and Michael Daly who was Patrick Moore's father in law lived in 1852. I received this information from the research I had done by Paul MacCotter before I went. I was able to get maps as to were all three lived during the mid 1800's and all I had to do was compare it to current maps.

Well time was running out and I had to drive to Cork that day. I stayed in Dublin until 5:00PM doing research but should have left earlier (recommended by everyone). It was only 120 miles and by our standards 2 to 3 hour drive. Guess what it took almost 6 hours. First it was a Friday night, second it was a Holiday Weekend and Cork was hosting a International Jass Festival and finally the roads. It was like driving on a two lane back road (most of the way) with traffic like the LA Freeway at 50 to 60 miles per hour.

Day 3 Saturday

After a good night sleep. I headed off to find the birth place of Michael Donoghue. Sacred Heart Church is located in Glounthaune (Glounthane) Parish, Courtstown townland, Little Island, County Cork, Ireland. Surprisingly I found the church very easily. Of course when you see a church that is over 100 years old there is a good shot it's the right one. Stopped in the church and they were preparing for a wedding between a Irish man and an American woman who decide to get married in Ireland. I asked their names just in case they were relatives. They were not.

I went over to the rectory and met Father Kerry Murphy-O'Connor and asked if he had any records I could look at. He said he did to my surprise but due to the fragile and historic value of them he said he had to view them with me. When he found out how much I wanted to review he decide to leave me alone as he was a very busy priest. He allowed me to review the records for about 10 hours over the next four days.

Well I found Michael's baptism day of December 29, 1861 but not in date order. It seems that the priest of the times would make a record of the event but may not have entered it into the bound record book until some time later. His birth was listed after the March 1862 births. This may not be his actual birth date but it is his baptismal day which is usually within a couple of days of birth back then. Found 32 additional records of Donoghue's in the records from births to marriages. Only two that I can tie to the family. There were over a 100 records that had names that were in my records before going to Ireland but I don't know how they relate. Such names as Sheehan (Anna Donahue husbands name), Curtin (my great grandmother's family name) and other names like Fitzgerald, Riordon and Mahony.

The two records I can tie to the family are Hanna Donoghue born February 26, 1859 and later married Patrick Sheehan. The other person was a Mary Donoghue born January 17, 1858. Both had the same parents as Michael. This is the first time that anything was mentioned of a third child. Father Kerry believes that she may have died with in the first year. He says this because Hanna record was more difficult to read and it looked like Mary also. He indicated that it was a custom to name the next child after the child who passed away. Hanna could have been her middle name and she was referred to as Anna in other information I have.

Father Kerry gave me names of O'Donoghue and Sheehan still living in the parish. Michael O'Donoghue owned a pub in Knockraha so I went for a visit. He was not around and tried to call him later in the week but there was no answer. Father Kerry later told me he came after our family time period so I didn't follow up.

Headed back to Blarney in the hopes of getting a good meal. But if you don't go to a restaurant by eight in the fall you just don't get those famous Irish meals. So I went to the local pub for pub food. As I said earlier there was a jazz festival on in Cork so all you hear was jazz music. The local hotel had the Bourbon Street Jazz Band from New Orleans playing there all weekend. The festival is one of the top 10 in the world I was told.

Day 4 Sunday

I stayed in Blarney just outside of Cork and it is famous for the Blarney Castle, the Blarney Stone (kissing the Blarney Stone is supposed to give you the gift of gab) and Blarney Mills Store. Well I was given a list of things to buy from Linda so that is what I did in the morning. Never got to kiss the Blarney Stone or visited the Castle, (To busy researching, next time)

I went back to do more research at the rectory and called the Sheehan. Although they don't have records or recollection of their relatives I believe they are related for two reasons. Two of them live on the same property that Patrick Donoghue lived on until 1894 and information I found when reviewing the 1901 Ireland Census.

Took a ride up to Rathcormac about 20 miles north of Cork to check out the Moore side of the family. Was not able to connect with the parish priest but made an appointment for Tuesday morning. Visited the local church and the original church which is now in ruins. Checked out the local cemetery but could not find anything. The headstones were made of limestone back then and they are difficult to read.

Set out to find where Patrick Moore lived based upon the maps I got in Dublin. I was able to find the gate house of Kildinan and took pictures. It was a large estate at that time and Patrick was probably a laborer on the estate. Tried locating the home of Michael Daly (father in law to Patrick) but could not find the exact location.

Headed back to Cork to visit another O'Donoghue Pub (only two in the area). Talked to the owners wife and she told me of a Robert O'Donoghue who did a family research on the O'Donoghue. She told me he lived in Inch and told me everyone knew him.

Day 5 Monday

Today was the Holiday so not much to do research wise. So I drove around Little Island. In the 1800's it was a farming community but now a days it is mostly industrial. The property that Patrick Donoghue lived on until 1894 still has housing on it and that is where the Sheehan live now. On the island is an old cemetery that is in ruins with a small church. The current Sacred Heart Church was built in 1901 so the church that our relatives were baptized was a small church closer to the water and it was called the Key Church. This is where the local boats would stop by for a blessing on their way to go fishing or to Cobh where many sailed from during the famine.

Went by Caherlag Cemetery where most likely are relatives are buried and did find some stones with Donoghue inscriptions on them. This cemetery is also over grown with grass and weeds as this cemetery is hardly used. (Boy if I only had my gas powered weed wacker.)

Went looking for the home of Robert O'Donoghue in Inch which is east of Cork put was not able to find it. It seems there are two Inch and I went to the wrong one. But, I finally got to see the rolling green hills of Ireland, painted sheep (They paint them so they know who owns them) and the ocean. By the way the roads get narrower out in the country you got to watch out for tractors in the road. (That's another story)

Finally got my Irish meal. They server a very large boiled potato and french fries with my lamb dinner.

Day 6 Tuesday (Last day in Cork)

Went up to Rathcormac to look at the Moore records. To my surprise all the records have been compiled into a computerized database some time ago. So all I was able to look at were these records. It verifies most of the info I have and found a few records I didn't have.

Well you know when you travel to the homeland you got to bring home something for your brothers and sisters. And I wanted it to be different, something to remind them of Ireland, so I search high and low and got them the perfect gift. In Rathcormac, the home of the Moore's there is a company that makes lawn ornaments so I bought them little leprechauns. The problem is they are made of cement. Now the problem was to get them home. I found a solution as I was driving to the airport the next day. I found a blue and red plastic crate at the local hardware store. They all fit in perfectly and made it home safely. Of course when Linda picked me up at the airport she thought I was just coming over to America for the first time with my taped up blue and red crate.

Because of the Moore records being computerized I had extra time so I drove back to Cork to research the 1901 census. This is were I found my great great grandfather Patrick, at the age of 85, living with his daughter Hannah (Anna) and her husband Patrick and their eight children in a two room cottage. One of their children was Denis (age 18) who could be the grandfather of the Sheehan's who live on the property that Patrick lived until 1894.

Well they threw me out of the County Cork Library because it was closing time. Now I had to drive 90 mile to Shannon to get my plane home the next day. Got there about 9 PM but was determined to hear some Irish music. So the owners of the bed and breakfast I was staying at sent me to Durty Nelly's for food and song. Both were great.

Conclusion

If you get a chance to go to Ireland, Go. Linda and I are going back, now all we have to do is negotiate how much sight seeing and family research were going to do.
