

Descendants of Patrick Donoghue

Generation No. 1

1. Patrick¹ Donoghue was born Abt. 1816 in Ireland, and died Aft. 1901 in Ireland. He married Mary Fitzgerald Bef. 1858. She was born Abt. 1816 in Ireland, and died Bef. 1901 in Ireland.

Notes for Patrick Donoghue:

7/16/1996

Research from Mallow Parish Centre say he was married 1846. But first child was born 1858. Most likely the wrong Patrick.

Review of the Griffith's Valuation Records of 1852 which shows the head of households. They may own it or be a renter. There were several Donoghue's in Glounthane parish but only one Patrick. He lived in the townland of Courtstown in Little Island. He appeared to be a farm laborer and lived in a dwelling on the land of a farmer named Catherine Cantillion. The value of the dwelling was 10 shillings and was probably a two room cottage with thatched roof. The map reference for 1852 was 8c. (I have a copy of the map) Patrick was probably a farm laborer and owned no land. He was a person living on the poverty line with very small wages.

He most likely is our ancestor.

Two earlier records were examined.

The House Book for Little Island Civil Parish (Not Roman Catholic Records). In 1848 Patrick Donoghue did not reside at the above location as it was occupied by a James Carroll. Also the Tithe Applotment Book for Little Island (civil) parish around 1830 which listed the inhabitants did not list any Donoghue's in the Little Island Parish.

Note: The Country of Ireland refereed to their subdivisions of counties as parishes. This is confusing as the Roman Catholic subdivisions of the dioceses were also called parishes. They did not always match in land layout.

During my visit to the National Library in Dublin I received invaluable help from Francis Carroll, Senior Library Assistant. He has been there for over 20 years.

I reviewed the microfilm for the Parish of Glounthane in the Diocese of Cloyne but did not get much information as it was difficult to read.

I found out the landlord Catherine Cantillion was not the owner. It was actually owned by William H. R. Jackson who may have lived in Paris, France.

During my visit to the Valuation Office in Dublin I was assisted by Patrick Gallagher who really knew how to read the books. I obtained the maps of the Donoghue, Moore and Daly residences in 1852. I also reviewed the original records for the following years to determine when they moved.

Patrick Donoghue resided in Courtstown in the map location 8c from 1852 until about 1894 when the new resident was Daniel Mahoney. Patrick lived there for about 40 years. His name appeared in the 1852, 1855, 1858, 1862, 1885 records.

When I arrived in Cork my first visit was to Sacred Heart Church where I met Father Kerry Murphy-O'Connor (Phone 021 4353195) who allowed me to look at the original parish records over a period of 10 hours in 4 days. And I didn't get them all. He gave me names of Sheehan's who still lived in the parish. I spoke to each of them and they have no records of their ancestors as their grandfather died early on. Based upon the records of where Patrick Donoghue lived in 1852 I believe two of the Sheehan's live on or close to that property. I also found information on my last day in Cork County Library that may prove they are related.

I reviewed most of the parish records of births from 1857 to 1865 and marriages from 1835 to 1864. Other books not reviewed but available are Baptisms and Marriages from 1813 to 1825.

Missing records are Births from 1826 to 1857 and Marriages 1826 to 1833.

I found about 100 records that mentioned the Donoghue name. They ranged from births to marriages to being witnesses to them. I have a separate file for those records.

During my visit to the Cork County Library to review the 1901 census I found Patrick Donoghue at the age of 85 living with his daughter Hannah (Anna), her husband Patrick Sheehan and their 8 children in a two room cottage. Patrick was widowed and could not read according to the census.

Hanna indicated that she was 45 at the time of the census which is 3 years older than her birthday. (They say that many people can't remember exact dates.) The house they lived in was owned by Denis Cantillion.

One of their sons was Denis who was 18 in 1901. Mamie Sheehan indicated her grandfather was Denis and her father Timothy was born in March 1906. I plan to send her this information to see if this will link their family to ours.

The Sheehan I spoke to were Mamie (Sheehan) Mahoney (Phone: 4353553) who lives in Courtstown, her sister Nula (Sheehan) Corconan (Phone: 4353488) who lives in Caherlag just north of Courtstown and their brother DiDi Sheehan (Phone: 4354136) who I believe lives in the original home which has been renovated over the years.

The other name give to me by Father Kerry was Michael O'Donoghue (Phone: 021 4821679) who owned a local bar in Knockraha just north of Courtstown. I tried to visit with him on Saturday night but he was out of town. I tried calling latter in the weekend but there was no answer. Father Kerry informed me that he found out that Michael came to the parish long after the Donoghue's time period in the parish.

Also, during my visit I went to the O'Donoghue Pub, Drawbridge St., Cork. Talked with the wife of owner. She indicated that a full research of the O'Donoghue was done by Robert (Bobby) O'Donoghue of Inch. He is an elderly man and a writer. I tried to locate him but to no avail. Will continue to research. She indicated that all O'Donoghue's came from County Kerry.

This is the first time that another child was found to have Patrick Donoghue and Mary Fitzgerald as parents. The birth was witnessed by Daniel Donoghue and Elizabeth Buckley. Father Kerry speculates that she may have died with in a year of her birth.

Generation No. 2

3. Hannah "Anna"² Donoghue (Patrick¹)¹ was born Feb 26, 1859 in Courtstown, Little Island, County Cork, Ireland. She married Patrick Sheehan². He was born Abt. 1851 in Ireland³.

Notes for Hannah "Anna" Donoghue:
11/05/2000

The birth record was difficult to read and at first Father Kerry and I thought it was Mary. The same name as the daughter born on January 17, 1858. His reason was that many Irish families would rename their next child of same gender after the child who passed away.

I settled on Hanna as that was the person found in the 1901 census. I hope I am right. Hannah is another name for Anna.

Hanna indicated that she was 45 at the time of the census which is 3 years older than her birthday. (They say that many people can't remember exact dates.)

Notes for Patrick Sheehan:

The 1901 Census of Ireland says he was an Agriculture laborer. Lived in a house owned by Denis Cantillion.

During my visit to Ireland I was informed that the Sacred Heart Church was not built until 1901. Patrick was actually baptized in the original church which was called Key Church. The church was the last stop for boats traveling to Cohb were people immigrated to other countries during the famine. Key Church is now expanded to be a local community center.

I visited the National Archives and Records Agency in Waltham MA to review the Massachusetts Census Records for 1900, 1910 and 1920 for information on the Donoghue's of Lynn. During my visit I wanted to pick up a copy of Michael Donahue Naturalization Record. The record showed that he lived at 52 North Federal St. in Lynn which is just around the corner from O'Leary Place. The other interesting thing was that Michael indicated he was born on April 11, 1867 in County Cork, Ireland. This would have made him 17. I discussed this with Walter Hickey who heads up the research section and he felt that Michael may have fibbed on the application. If he was over 18 he would have had to fill out a more detailed form to become a citizen. He arrived in Boston, MA on or about June 12, 1884. He became a citizen on November 20, 1895.

The 1900 Census indicated the family lived at 52 North Federal St. Lynn, MA. It says that Michael was born Dec. 1863 (Age 36), Annie was born Aug 1870 (Age 29) and they were married for 12 years. I believe they just didn't know the year. But it indicated that Joseph was born in April 1896 (Age 4) not April 1907 as per my records. He would not appear in the Census unless he was born before 1900. I am changing his record. Others in the June, 1900 census were Mary (Born April 1891 Age 9), William (Born April Age 7), Agnes (Born Dec 1898 Age 1)

Also, noted was that they had 6 children with 4 living with them.

By the way the census says the name was spelled Donahue not Donohue. I am sure the Census taker took liberties. Need to review 1910 Census as it is not cross referenced. The Census Ward 6, City of Lynn, Essex County, MA

The 1920 Census indicates the family lived at 8 O'Leary Place which is just around the corner from North Federal St. The age for Michael (53) and Annie (48) are different in this census. Michael and Annie arrived in USA in 1887 and naturalized in 1895. Also, William no longer lived with the family as he was married in 1911. May have lived at 26 Carnes Street in Lynn. Others in the census were Mary (Age 28), Joseph (Age 23), Agnes (Age 21), Henry (18).

March 2002

Well the name was spelled Donohue this time. Michael and Annie were living at 52 North Federal Street. They were 44 and 38 at the time. Michael age was still off by 5 years. They were married for 21 years which would have been 1889. Same as my records.

Mary (18), Francis (16), Joseph (13), Agnes (11) and Henry (8) still lived with them. Ellen passed away about 1894. It also indicated that they were 8 children of which 5 were still living. We know of Ellen death and the son in 1890 but who was the 8th child? It indicates that William was not in school at the age of 16.

It also indicates they were from Ireland-English. The Census taker indicated all on this page were Ireland-English.

1930 Census Enumeration District (ED) 5-175 Ward 6 Sheet 6A Line 23

The family was still living at 8 O'Leary Place. Spelled Donohue. They rent the home at $31 per month and had a radio. Michael was 67 and Annie was 59 and it indicated they were 24 and 18 of age when they were married. They arrived in US in 1885 & 1884 respectively. The dates do not match exactly to information I have. Based on marriage date Michael would have been 28 not 24. Michael was still working at Elec. Appliance as a Machinist. (GE ?)

Mary (37) and Agnes (30) were still living at home. Mary worked as a awinder at Elec. Appliance while Agnes worked as a Stenographer at Machines Works.

Their grandson Earl (18) was living with them as his parents and other kids were living in Springfield, MA. He was still in school.

Jean was on vacation with her girl friends. Went back to St. Louis to tell her parents.

Went back to Miami on the train and got married to Bill. Her parents went back to Saint Louis right after the ceremony.

Bill & Jean went out to celebrate their wedding and met other couples they did not know who ended up going to dinner with them at Piccolos Resturant. They returned to St. Louis in July.

Jean tells of the time they raced back from Indianapolis to Dallas during tornados in Oklahoma. they just kept ahead of them.

Bill and Jean drove back to Dallas, TX from Mesa, AZ to live on April 11 but Bill was not feeling well and past away the nent day. (April 12, 1997)

Notes for Daniel Joseph Donahue:

11/20/2000

Why I went to Ireland. Because I have always wanted to go. My wife Linda and I decided to go for our 20th anniversary so we made plans. Of course we had to negotiate how much touring and family research we were going to do. As we were going for 6 days we decide on 3 days each. As time got closer Linda's mom got ill and Linda was not able to go. I almost backed out but Linda convinced me to go so I did. Guess what I did- researched for 6 days. I owe her big time.

Day 1 Thursday

Upon arrival at 6:00AM I immediately drove to Dublin from Shannon Airport (About 3 hours). Tired and lack of sleep I re-learned real quick how to drive a standard and drive on the opposite side of the road. Once getting to Dublin it took me an hour or so to find the National Library due to missed turns and traffic.

Once at the library I met Francis Carroll who is Senior Library Assistant and been there for about 20 years. He was very helpful in sending me in the right direction. The system can be overwhelming. You need to know certain things before you can do research. Thank goodness I had some information beforehand. But still you need to lookup the conversion of Catholic Dioceses to Civil Parishes to find the Catholic Parish microfilm if they have it and then hope you can read it. After getting the lay of the land I decided to find a place to stay and come back the next day for real research. Well the place I stayed at was only a half hour drive but it took an hour and a half because of the pouring rain, missed turns and directions (I think some Irish people like to send people off in the wrong direction.).

Day 2 Friday

The next day I went back to the National Library and did some research and didn't come up with much. I was told that the records for the Sacred Heart Church were not in existent by the Genealogist I hired but I found them at the Library. The microfilm was difficult to read (I had a bad machine they said) but I could not find the record of Michael Donoghue birth. Due to time constraint I could only spend a couple of hours there but I am sure if I had more time I would have found more information.

I then went to the Valuation Office to look up record of were Patrick Donahue, Patrick Moore and Michael Daly who was Patrick Moore's father in law lived in 1852. I received this information from the research I had done by Paul MacCotter before I went. I was able to get maps as to were all three lived during the mid 1800's and all I had to do was compare it to current maps.

Well time was running out and I had to drive to Cork that day. I stayed in Dublin until 5:00PM doing research but should have left earlier (recommended by everyone). It was only 120 miles and by our standards 2 to 3 hour drive. Guess what it took almost 6 hours. First it was a Friday night, second it was a Holiday Weekend and Cork was hosting a International Jass Festival and finally the roads. It was like driving on a two lane back road (most of the way) with traffic like the LA Freeway at 50 to 60 miles per hour.

Day 3 Saturday

After a good night sleep. I headed off to find the birth place of Michael Donoghue. Sacred Heart Church is located in Glounthaune (Glounthane) Parish, Courtstown townland, Little Island, County Cork, Ireland. Surprisingly I found the church very easily. Of course when you see a church that is over 100 years old there is a good shot it's the right one. Stopped in the church and they were preparing for a wedding between a Irish man and an American woman who decide to get married in Ireland. I asked their names just in case they were relatives. They were not.

I went over to the rectory and met Father Kerry Murphy-O'Connor and asked if he had any records I could look at. He said he did to my surprise but due to the fragile and historic value of them he said he had to view them with me. When he found out how much I wanted to review he decide to leave me alone as he was a very busy priest. He allowed me to review the records for about 10 hours over the next four days.

Well I found Michael's baptism day of December 29, 1861 but not in date order. It seems that the priest of the times would make a record of the event but may not have entered it into the bound record book until some time later. His birth was listed after the March 1862 births. This may not be his actual birth date but it is his baptismal day which is usually within a couple of days of birth back then. Found 32 additional records of Donoghue's in the records from births to marriages. Only two that I can tie to the family. There were over a 100 records that had names that were in my records before going to Ireland but I don't know how they relate. Such names as Sheehan (Anna Donahue husbands name), Curtin (my great grandmother's family name) and other names like Fitzgerald, Riordon and Mahony.

The two records I can tie to the family are Hanna Donoghue born February 26, 1859 and later married Patrick Sheehan. The other person was a Mary Donoghue born January 17, 1858. Both had the same parents as Michael. This is the first time that anything was mentioned of a third child. Father Kerry believes that she may have died with in the first year. He says this because Hanna record was more difficult to read and it looked like Mary also. He indicated that it was a custom to name the next child after the child who passed away. Hanna could have been her middle name and she was referred to as Anna in other information I have.

Father Kerry gave me names of O'Donoghue and Sheehan still living in the parish. Michael O'Donoghue owned a pub in Knockraha so I went for a visit. He was not around and tried to call him later in the week but there was no answer. Father Kerry later told me he came after our family time period so I didn't follow up.

Headed back to Blarney in the hopes of getting a good meal. But if you don't go to a restaurant by eight in the fall you just don't get those famous Irish meals. So I went to the local pub for pub food. As I said earlier there was a jazz festival on in Cork so all you hear was jazz music. The local hotel had the Bourbon Street Jazz Band from New Orleans playing there all weekend. The festival is one of the top 10 in the world I was told.

Day 4 Sunday

I stayed in Blarney just outside of Cork and it is famous for the Blarney Castle, the Blarney Stone (kissing the Blarney Stone is supposed to give you the gift of gab) and Blarney Mills Store. Well I was given a list of things to buy from Linda so that is what I did in the morning. Never got to kiss the Blarney Stone or visited the Castle, (To busy researching, next time)

I went back to do more research at the rectory and called the Sheehan. Although they don't have records or recollection of their relatives I believe they are related for two reasons. Two of them live on the same property that Patrick Donoghue lived on until 1894 and information I found when reviewing the 1901 Ireland Census.

Took a ride up to Rathcormac about 20 miles north of Cork to check out the Moore side of the family. Was not able to connect with the parish priest but made an appointment for Tuesday morning. Visited the local church and the original church which is now in ruins. Checked out the local cemetery but could not find anything. The headstones were made of limestone back then and they are difficult to read.

Set out to find where Patrick Moore lived based upon the maps I got in Dublin. I was able to find the gate house of Kildinan and took pictures. It was a large estate at that time and Patrick was probably a laborer on the estate. Tried locating the home of Michael Daly (father in law to Patrick) but could not find the exact location.

Headed back to Cork to visit another O'Donoghue Pub (only two in the area). Talked to the owners wife and she told me of a Robert O'Donoghue who did a family research on the O'Donoghue. She told me he lived in Inch and told me everyone knew him.

Day 5 Monday

Today was the Holiday so not much to do research wise. So I drove around Little Island. In the 1800's it was a farming community but now a days it is mostly industrial. The property that Patrick Donoghue lived on until 1894 still has housing on it and that is where the Sheehan live now. On the island is an old cemetery that is in ruins with a small church. The current Sacred Heart Church was built in 1901 so the church that our relatives were baptized was a small church closer to the water and it was called the Key Church. This is where the local boats would stop by for a blessing on their way to go fishing or to Cobh where many sailed from during the famine.

Went by Caherlag Cemetery where most likely are relatives are buried and did find some stones with Donoghue inscriptions on them. This cemetery is also over grown with grass and weeds as this cemetery is hardly used. (Boy if I only had my gas powered weed wacker.)

Went looking for the home of Robert O'Donoghue in Inch which is east of Cork but was not able to find it. It seems there are two Inch and I went to the wrong one. But, I finally got to see the rolling green hills of Ireland, painted sheep (They paint them so they know who owns them) and the ocean. By the way the roads get narrower out in the country you got to watch out for tractors in the road. (That's another story)

Finally got my Irish meal. They server a very large boiled potato and french fries with my lamb dinner.

Day 6 Tuesday (Last day in Cork)

Went up to Rathcormac to look at the Moore records. To my surprise all the records have been compiled into a computerized database some time ago. So all I was able to look at were these records. It verifies most of the info I have and found a few records I didn't have.

Well you know when you travel to the homeland you got to bring home something for your brothers and sisters. And I wanted it to be different, something to remind them of Ireland, so I search high and low and got them the perfect gift. In Rathcormac, the home of the Moore's there is a company that makes lawn ornaments so I bought them little leprechauns. The problem is they are made of cement. Now the problem was to get them home. I found a solution as I was driving to the airport the next day. I found a blue and red plastic crate at the local hardware store. They all fit in perfectly and made it home safely. Of course when Linda picked me up at the airport she thought I was just coming over to America for the first time with my taped up blue and red crate.

Because of the Moore records being computerized I had extra time so I drove back to Cork to research the 1901 census. This is were I found my great great grandfather Patrick, at the age of 85, living with his daughter Hannah (Anna) and her husband Patrick and their eight children in a two room cottage. One of their children was Denis (age 18) who could be the grandfather of the Sheehan's who live on the property that Patrick lived until 1894.

Well they threw me out of the County Cork Library because it was closing time. Now I had to drive 90 mile to Shannon to get my plane home the next day. Got there about 9 PM but was determined to hear some Irish music. So the owners of the bed and breakfast I was staying at sent me to Durty Nelly's for food and song. Both were great.

Conclusion

If you get a chance to go to Ireland, Go. Linda and I are going back, now all we have to do is negotiate how much sight seeing and family research were going to do.
