Notes for Volney Barlow Hardy:

Volney's education was mostly obtained from his brother Jonathan and sister Polley. He started to farm on a tract of 38 acres of land in 1836. It was located 3 miles north of Lexington, Ind. on Hog Creek and the same section as that of his older brother, Jonathan. He and his oldest son later made brick and built brick houses, etc. near Lexington, some of which are still standing today. He and his brother, Clinton, purchased a tract of land in the Guinea Knobs of southern Ind. where they planted a peach orchard. It was operated by David F. Ratts but proved to be a failure. Volney added to his original holdings on the west by buying an adjoining tract of land from Dan Reynolds and also another 40 acres north of the old Bethel churchyard several years later. He owned 200 acres at the time of his death.

Notes for Eldo Glenwood Reid:

A Celebration of Eldo's Life

Read by Larry Reid at Memorial Service

I was born in Conroy, Iowa, the fourth son of Wilburt and Elizabeth Reid, My father was a buttermaker who managed a creamery and was always looking for a better job. So, my family moved every two or three years.

When I was 12, my father went to South Dakota to run a restaurant, and I had the job of doing all the dishes.

When I was ready to start high school, I went to Laurens, Iowa, to live with my mother's brother's families. After graduation I was offered a summer job at Templar Park Resort on Big Spirit Lake, to help pay my expense at Iowa State University. I worked there four summers, meeting my future wife, Evelyn, there the last summer.

. When I started farming on shares with my uncle, I would drive a Model-T 60 miles each way from Laurens to Spirit Lake every summer weekend to see Evelyn. My uncle always had late Saturday night chores, so I seldom reached Spirit Lake before 11:00 p.m. to start my date.

We were married in 1929 and farmed in Laurens until moving to a farm near Randalia, 200 miles east, in 1934. We made a trip in a Model-T coupe with two collie dogs occupying the trunk.

A year later our son, Larry, was born and two years after that, on the same exact day, our daughter, Olive, arrived.

A nephew, also named Eldo but nicknamed Dode, spent every summer with us, and sometimes Dode's sister Emagene was there, too.

I was always willing to share our home with others. One neighbor girl whose folks weren't going to let her go to high school because they wouldn't buy her clothes was taken in for four years. She then went on to college and became a very successful teacher. One couple who were hired as teachers at Randalia School became cherished members of the family for three years when they couldn't find an apartment or house to rent. Evelyn's mother lived with us for a number of years.

I was Chairman of the Board of the Randalia Methodist Church and sang in the choir. I was also on the School Board for a dozen years, the last six as president.

When a back injury made it impossible to continue fanning I bought a hardware store in town. Then, in 1952, I was offered a position once again at Templar Park, where I remained as manager until 1967.

I really enjoyed those years, meeting old friends year after year. I bought a cottage on the grounds, remodeling it, and we were able to host many friends and relatives each summer.

Eventually, as we grew older and winter became too severe to stay in Iowa, we discovered Cherokee Village and purchased a home there, while returning to Iowa in the summer.

The country life beckoned again, and we bought a farm between Ash Flat and Evening Shade, remodeling still another house, this one the biggest challenge of all. We raised lots of strawberries as well as many other fruits and vegetables, and always entertained the Cherokee Village Methodist Church Choir with an annual picnic, including strawberries and ice cream, on the farm. After joining the Ash Flat Methodist Church, I sang in the choir there, too.

Larry and his family moved to the farm, and I had the joy of having my grandchildren growing up next door during almost all of their school years.

When Larry moved to Arizona and back problems once again made it impossible to continue caring for the farm, Olive and her husband Earl insisted we come live in Georgia with them. So for the last six years of my life I became a Braves and Falcons fan, with the Razorbacks coming in second.

I've always loved dogs and always had a collie, with one exception, before moving to Georgia. There, Olive's Chow, then a black Labrador, became my close friends.

I was fortunate in my last years to have periodic visits from children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Any my grandson Brian was able to come help Evelyn take care of me the last six weeks of my life. I shall always cherish those moments of loving care.

I'm a lucky man ? 63 years of my marriage to my beloved Evelyn, loving families and friends, almost 92 wonderful years of joy on this earth.

But, hey, it's time to continue my life on another plane. Til we meet again someday, celebrate with me!
