

Descendants of Thomas Flanagin

Generation No. 1

1. THOMAS² FLANAGIN (*FLANAGIN*¹) was born Abt. 1697 in Ireland, and died Aft. 1750 in New Jersey. He married ELIZABETH SMITH 01 Dec 1739 in Salem County, New Jersey. She was born Abt. 1710 in England, and died Aft. 1750 in New Jersey.

Notes for THOMAS FLANAGIN:

The Family Files of the Salem County Historical Society contain the following account, as told by Miriam B. Thorpe (1897-1980), 520 Kings Highway, Swedesboro, New Jersey: "Thomas Flanagin was born in Ireland 16___. At the age of twelve years, he was fencing with a wooden sword with a playmate, when he accidentally put out an eye of his pretended antagonist; on account of which he became alarmed and fled from his country, in the following manner: He secreted himself on board a ship where he remained until fairly out to sea, then he made his appearance on deck, but the voyage was too far advanced to return. Another reason of no particular notice being taken of the case was that England was willing to people America. On landing in Philadelphia, he made his way into the county of Salem in New Jersey, where he spent the remainder of his life. He married an English lass named _____ Smith, had three children; one son and two daughters." While this story cannot be verified, it was apparently handed down through the family. Miriam B. Thorpe was a descendant of Thomas Flanagin. Her mother's maiden name was Flanagin.

Generation No. 2

2. JAMES³ FLANAGIN (*THOMAS*², *FLANAGIN*¹) (Source: The Records of the Trinity Episcopal Church (Old Swedes), Swedesboro, Gloucester County, New Jersey, page 31.) was born 01 May 1741 in Salem County, New Jersey (Source: The Records of the Swedish Lutheran Churches at Racoon and Penns Neck, New Jersey.), and died Aft. 1803 in Salem County, New Jersey. He married (1) SARAH HELM (Source: The Records of the Trinity Episcopal Church (Old Swedes), Swedesboro, Gloucester County, New Jersey.) 01 Jan 1767 in Old Trinity Presbyterian Church in Swedensboro, Salem County, New Jersey, daughter of JOHN HELM and SARAH DALBO. She was born 1748 in Gloucester County, New Jersey, and died 06 Feb 1774 in New Jersey. He married (2) CATHARINE VANNEMAN Mar 1774 in New Jersey, daughter of WILJAM VANNEMAN and CHRISTINA KING. Notes for JAMES FLANAGIN:

"James took the profession of a waterman. He procured a small vessel and ran a packet between Sculltown and Philadelphia by which he accumulated a snug little fortune." Source: Miriam B. Thorp, 520 Kings Highway, Swedesboro, New Jersey, in document on file with the Salem County Historical Society. The record book of the Trinity Episcopal Church refers to "Captain James Flanagan" with respect to the baptism of his daughter, Abigail, on January 6, 1803. A letter, signed by the Adjutant General, indicated that he was appointed in the Quartermaster General's Department for the Gloucester County Militia. This appointment probably was made between September 20 and 26, 1779, because, on the former date, a letter of recommendation was addressed to the Deputy Quartermaster General, Continental Army, describing him as "the most proper person for the Department" and, on the latter date, he is listed on departmental accounts as Quartermaster, Gloucester County. In letters written in 1780 he is mentioned as "Captain", "Major", and "Mr." According to a departmental book, he signed various certificates in his official capacity as late as April 19, 1781, and on May 15, 1781, he addressed a letter to Deputy Quartermaster General Moore Furman concerning the settlement of his accounts, etc.

Notes for JAMES SPRINGER FLANAGAN:

It is believed that James' middle name, Springer, was in honor of Hudson Springer Jr., the husband of his aunt (his father's sister), Christianna, or one of their children. According to family documents, including a letter from the War Department of the Adjutant General's office, James, a private, Company G, 5th New Jersey Infantry was enrolled and mustered on December 21, 1861, at Salem for three years. He was honorably discharged November 23, 1862, a corporal, after being wounded. In 1897, he lived at 2607 Market St. in Galveston, Texas. His son, Samuel, wrote that he had been shot through the left lung at the second battle of Bull Run, in 1862, and that he received a pension until his death in 1904 and that his mother received a pension until her death in 1922.

Harris moved to Illinois, then Arkansas, where he was elected Governor, in 1862, during the Civil War. Excerpt from the Arkansas History Commission of the University of Arkansas Libraries: "Flanagin was an attorney, soldier, and the seventh governor of Arkansas. Originally from New Jersey, he moved to Arkansas in 1839, eventually settling in Arkadelphia (Clark County). When the war broke out, he accepted a commission as Captain of Company E, Second Arkansas Mounted Rifles, and saw combat at Wilson's Creek and Pea Ridge (Benton County). Flanagin's regiment was transferred east of the Mississippi in 1862 and he was elected its Colonel. He was nominated for Governor during the election of 1862 and easily defeated Henry Massey Rector for the post. During his administration, the Federals occupied Little Rock and forced Flanagin to establish a government in exile in Washington (Hempstead County) for the remainder of the war." More Notes: On Monday, 1 December 1862, Governor Harris Flanagin, signed an act passed by the Arkansas legislature appropriating state money to augment the money available for relief purposes in most of the counties in the state. The Battle of Helena, July 4, 1863; Governor Harris Flanagin accompanied General Holmes, as he traveled from Little Rock, to take personal command of the attack on the Mississippi River port city of Helena. Since its occupation in July 1862, by Union troops, under Maj. Gen. Samuel Curtis, Helena had been a constant thorn in the side of Arkansas Confederates. Following the capture of Little Rock in 1863, Governor Harris Flanagin chose the Hempstead County Courthouse as the Confederate Capitol of Arkansas.
