For a short while he run one of Krogh's farms: Blaesvolden. Later he was a mailboat driver to Nordland and Finmark and was stationed at Tjotta (Nordland) in 1803 he bought Staven.
261. Namdalsd bygdebok, Pg 227, E-mail from Anne Hildrum - 4 Jul 2000: Hi Rod, The farm was Aargaard (spelled with circle above each "a" and one a in each useage only), and the bygdebook comments on how odd it was him taking that name, as they don't find any real connections he might have had with the farm. It sounds though as ancestors of him had lived there, as it says odd he took the name after his family (meaning further back) had gotten away from the farm. Torris was a soldier, with the General Georg von Krogh at Leirfossen by Trondheim and joined him on trips abroad. For a short while he run one of Krogh's farms: Blaesvolden. Later he was a mailboat driver to Nordland and Finmark and was stationed at Tjotta (Nordland) in 1803 he bought Staven. Descendants of Torris are still living at Staven.

290. Www.scotsorgins.com, Scots Origins, "Electronic," SPECULATIVE - there is a birth for a James Reid born 5 April 1809 with a father named Robert, and a mother named Ann. Birth took place in New Monkland. Why this might be James? (1) date closely matches age given in 1851 census; (2) location matches that given in the same census; (3) naming pattern of children of James and Jane indicates that the father of James could have been Robert. Speculative.

322. Speculation on relationship to William Inglis and Mary Broun/Brown, Janet dies before 1855 and so we don't know her parents. However, a Mary Inglis is living with her daughter and son-in-law in 1881 (age 96 no less) and is listed as an Aunt. Since we know that Ann Mackay/Mackie's mother was Janet Inglis, it is somewhat safe to presume that this Mary is in fact Ann's aunt and therefore Janet's sister. The name for the parents then comes from Mary's death certificate).

323. e-mail of Norrie Gordon, Janet Inglis there was no death reported 1855 to 1861 remember that certificates started in 1855 so we can assume she died between 1851 and 1855. there is nothing listed in the Fife Death Index CD. [Janet is listed in the 1851 census so we know she died after that and apparently before there was a requirement to keep certificates - thus the date].

353. Work of Don Jaggi, I found Thomas in the census of 1861 in Auchterderran. He had a good size family. He had a brother living with him, Andrew. We learn from the census that Thomas was born in Auchterderran. The census indicates it was 1819. His death record indicates he was born in 1816. In either case we can see that the family left Wemyss between 1815 and 1819. When they left Wemyss the records cease to record them. There are no burial records for Wemyss or Auchterderran so we cannot determine which children might have died. Wemyss and Auchterderran are about 6 miles apart.

369. Don Jaggi, dba Good Old Days, Notes of Don Jaggi, (18 Jul 1995), Andrew married in 1863 in Auchterderran. In the 1851 census, Andrew is listed as a nephew of Denniston Erksine Bell and Margaret Bell. I checked the complete census for more Andrews but there are none. His age is correct so I consider this andrew to be the right one. The IGI shows a Denniston Erskine Bell marrying a Margaret Arnot, 6 May 1809 in Abbotshall. This would mean that Andrew was Margaret's nephew. This shows that Margaret was William's sister.

as it is not recorded. I found the death of a son of theirs in 1858 that indicates that she was deceased at that time. How close we came to determining the parents of William. A check of the 1841 census shows only one Andrew Arnot age 14 with no other possibilities. He is living with William and wife Isabella. Williams exact age is listed as 27 which would match with the William son of William Arnott and Agnes Nicol. Even at age 14 he is listed as a coal miner.

375. Norman Moyes [nlm@xmission.com], e-mail of Norm Moyes, "Electronic," The 1851 census of Leslie lists the following: William Moyce 60 stone miner born Ceres Elizabeth 62 " Largo Isabella 23 paper finisher " Kinglassie I believe this is the tail end of the family of William Moyes and Elizabeth Rogers. I believe this for the following reasons: 1. The age and birthplace of this Elizabeth matches what is known about Elizabeth Rogers Moyes. 2. The age and birthplace of the above daughter Isabella matches what is known about William Moyes and Elizabeth Roger's daughter Isabella. 3. William's family is listed in the 1841 census as being in Auchterderran, but they are not there in 1841, and they haven't been found on this census in any of the other parishes in the area. If this is William's family (there is absolutely no problem with the surname being spelled by the 1851 census taker as Moyce), then we know that William was most likely born in Ceres. Now the Church of Scotland Parish registers lists a family of John Moyes and his wife Margaret Taylor as having been married in Kettle in 1776 and as having the following children Helen 1777, James 1779, Alison 1782, Thomas 1785, Isabel 1787, William 1790, Margaret 1792, and Robert 1795. The first three of these children were christened in Kettle, the fourth (Thomas) in Ceres, the next two in Kettle, the seventh in Culter, and the eighth, Robert, in Ceres. A James Moyes married Margaret Forbes in Kettle in 1802 and named his first son, John, undoubtedly for his father. A Thomas Moyes married in Ceres to Jean Baldie in 1807 and named his first born son John, undoubtedly for his father. From this it is obvious that this family had a connection to Ceres and stayed in the area. It is very probable that William who married Elisabeth Rogers is the above William who was the son of John Moyes and Margaret Taylor.

381. Norman Moyes [nlm@xmission.com], e-mail of Norm Moyes, "Electronic," I noticed that William Moyes and his wife Elizabeth (Rogers) are listed on the 1841 census of Auchterderran as living at Wethersbrae, and as having two children (they would be their youngest two) in their household, a 15 year old William, and a 13 year old Isabell. Both father and son are listed as coal miners. In the 1851 census of the same parish there is a 27 year old William Moyes with a wife Mary and 4 young children as follows, William age 6, Mary age 5, Elizabeth age 3, and John age 1 month. The father is a coal miner and is listed as having been born in Auchterderran. The Auchterderran parish register indicates that William married Mary Bogie there on February 16, 1844. Although there are several William Moyeses listed in the 1841 census of the various parishes of Fifeshire (the 1841 and 1851, census records for all of the Fifeshire parishes have been searched and all Moyeses have been extracted therefrom) this William is the only William in the right age category who could have been the one who married Mary Bogie three years later (the other Williams in the 1841 census were 10, 7, 7, 5, and 2, years old). Information in the IGI, which came from the Scottish Parish Register, indicates that there was a Mary Bogie born to David Bogie and his wife Mary Edie on 19 May 1825, and christened in neighboring Ceres parish on 10 August 1825. Whether or not she was born in Ceres, or perhaps in Auchterderran, is not known for sure. She probably was living with her parents when the 1841 census was taken and so, if she was found to be living with David Bogie and his wife Mary, and especially if they were living in Auchterderran, it would probably be safe to conclude that William's wife was a daughter of David and Mary. I suspect that she was even though the 1851 census indicates that William's his wife was born in Auchterderran. Now, it appears to me that these two Williams are ONE AND THE SAME.

Due to multiple dates on the census's read, her birth year can vary... take your pick. Now, we know that James had a child named Mary, also, but they are not the same girl. Thank you Norman for the name of John Moyes and Margaret Taylor as parents of both William and James, etc. in that it extends the line even further. I re read the Abbotshall parish microfilm records for the marriage of John Ferrie and Mary Moyes and it is indeed my John Terry / Tyrie and Mary married in 1833. Based on my experience with ages given at the time of whatever event in Scotland, and the "spacing" of the births of the other children in this family I would conclude that John was born sometime in 1817. Thus we see that William and Elisabeth named their first son, John, and that would most likely have been for his father..

404. Work of Don Jaggi, I found Thomas in the census of 1861 in Auchterderran. He had a good size family. He had a brother living with him, Andrew. We learn from the census that Thomas was born in Auchterderran. The census indicates it was 1819. His death record indicates he was born in 1816. In either case we can see that the family left Wemyss between 1815 and 1819. When they left Wemyss the records cease to record them. There are no burial records for Wemyss or Auchterderran so we cannot determine which children might have died. Wemyss and Auchterderran are about 6 miles apart.

Both father and son are listed as coal miners. In the 1851 census of the same parish there is a 27 year old William Moyes with a wife Mary and 4 young children as follows, William age 6, Mary age 5, Elizabeth age 3, and John age 1 month. The father is a coal miner and is listed as having been born in Auchterderran. The Auchterderran parish register indicates that William married Mary Bogie there on February 16, 1844. Although there are several William Moyeses listed in the 1841 census of the various parishes of Fife (the 1841 and 1851, census records for all of the Fife parishes have been searched and all Moyeses have been

In the 1851 census, Andrew is listed as a nephew of Denniston Erksine Bell and Margaret Bell. I checked the complete census for more Andrews but there are none. His age is correct so I consider this Andrew to be the right one. The IGI shows a Denniston Erskine Bell marrying a Margaret Arnot, 6 May 1809 in Abbotshall. This would mean that Andrew was Margaret's nephew. This shows that Margaret was William's sister. She was born in Auchterderran in 1789. I checked the death records to determine when she died. It was before 1855 as it is not recorded. I found the death record of a son of theirs in 1858 that indicates that she was deceased at that time. How close we came to determining the parents of William.
