Notes for JOSEPH HUBBERT FARMER:

J. Farmer spoke only German according to my mother, Iva Lee, his daughter.

UNITED STATES CENSUS of 1900:

Lived at 908 Caldwell St. Knoxville, Tennessee

FARMER, Joseph H. (w) (m) age 39 born May 1861, Tennessee, trade Carpenter; Rushia FARMER, (w)(f), age 27 born Sept. 1872, born, Tennessee; married 9 years, mother of 2, of which 2 are living. SALLIE, (w)(f) age 10, born July 1889 in Tennessee; CLYDE, (w)(m) age 3, born Oct. 1896 in Tennessee; BABY (w)(m) born May 1899 in Tennessee.

Note: it appears that this implies that Joseph FARMER was the father of SALLIE, aged 10, but that Rushia (Russia) wasn't the mother of SALLIE. The enumeration shows that she was the mother of only 2 children at the time; CLYDE, age 3, and "BABY", age less than 1 year. (This was probably PAUL) Is RUSSIA the 2nd wife? Did the 1st wife die in childbirth? [Notes from my 1st Cousin, Brenda Farmer Smith, her father being my Uncle, Ogle D. Farmer.]

Notes for RUSHIA ANN JONES:

* This has not been documented. *French/English descent. She did speak fluent German. This information was remember from conversations between my sister Lois L. Guthrie and my beloved mother, Iva Lee.

I suspect that my grandmother's real given name was Jerusha. This was a rather common name that was used in the 18th and 19th centuries. This is of biblical roots. It means "possessed by a husband." Jerusha in the bible was the wife of Uzziah, King of Judah, and mother of king Jotham (2 Kings 15:33).

I also suspect that the Name , "Lee" , is of prime importance. This because two of her daughters had that as a middle name, Iva Lee and Emma Lee. This is just an educated guess, It was the normal practice for the maiden name to show up with at least one or more female children, just as the practice of giving a male child one of the given names of his father or that of his paternal grandfather. This naming custom was common because it was thought that if the child was female it was because of the strong lineage of the wife and if it was male, it was because of the strong lineage of the husband.

However having made that statement, it must be remembered that at this time it is merely supposition, nothing more. I will follow through with this supposition to see if it holds true, having hit a brick wall utilizing straight forward tracing. I hope to one day view the gravestone of Rusha Farmer, if there is one. 5/20/2000
