Notes for WILLIAM WALLACE CRUMP:

Letter from William Wallace Crump to his granddaughter Julia Cox (Oldest daughter of Pearl Albeth Crump McGuire)

Center, Indian Territory

November 10, 1905

Dear Julia:

I am going to try to answer your more than welcome letter. I am almost ashamed to write after neglecting so long but I think you will pardon me for not writing sooner. It is partly from neglect and the great cause is sickness. Your Grandma has been bedfast for 4 weeks and was not able to set up half of this time yet. But I think she is mending slowly and I am very feeble myself. Hardly able to be up still I am up.

Ann Eliza and Lem just left and I will resume my writing. Tell Ralph Lem has a big girl babe at his house but has not named it yet.

Julia times are harder here this year than I ever saw. I don't know how folks are going to make it through. Your Uncle Garrett will get about 2 bales of cotton off 20 or 30 acres. Garrett is hard up. I don't see how he will make it through.

Credit is shut down and people are bound to suffer. I don't know what will become of your old Grandpa and Ma but I guess we will live till we die.

Your Grandma talks about you all every day and dreams about you of a night. We would give anything in the world to see you all one time more. Give my love to your Pa and Ma and all the children.

I have no news to write so I will answer your request to know our ages. I was born in Mt. Pleasant, Harlan County, Kentucky on April 29th, 1830. Next April I will be 76 years old. Your Grandma was born 3 miles of Mt. Pleasant on the 3rd day of may, 1827. She will be 78 on the 3rd day of May. Your Grandma and I were married in 3 miles of where we were born on March 28th, 1854. We have been married 51 years the 28th of next March.

It seems that some of the children have forgotten their old parents but I think of all of them every day. I hope that this will find you all well. Tell your ma to write to me as often as she can as I am always glad to hear from you all.

Your Uncle Ed Crump is dead. He died in May but I never heard until lately.

Now Julia I don't want you to treat me as bad as I did you but I think I had a lawful excuse for not writing sooner. Please write soon as you get this and tell me all the news. I hope Judge Garland has recovered health. Give my regards to the Judge and family and to all enquiring friends.

What is Ben doing? I never hear from him. May God bless you all is the sincere wish of your loving Grandpa and Ma.

Will W. Crump

Civil War Rosters
Arkansas 27th Inf. CO. D

Crump, William W. 1st Lt.

27th Arkansas Infantry Regiment

The 27th Arkansas Infantry was organized in July, 1862 under the command of Colonel James R. Shaler, with field officers Lt. Col. Arthur J. Magenis, Lt. Col. James M. Riggs, and Major (later Colonel) Beal Gaither, and sworn into Confederate service for the duration of the war. The regiment was recruited from the following counties: Co. A, Yellville and Izard county; Co. B, Carroll county; Co. C; Bellefonte and Searcy county; Co. D, Richland; Co. E, Marion county; Co. F, Locust Grove and Jasper; Co. G, Mount Olive; Co. H, Izard county; Co. I, Independence county; and Co. K., from Yellville.

They were initially assigned to Shaver's Brigade of Hindman's Division in northwest Arkansas in January and February of 1863, then to Tappan's Brigade, in Gen'l Sterling Price's Division, from April to November of 1863. They remained with Tappan's Brigade through the remainder of the war.

In the first weeks of September, 1863, the 27th served in the Little Rock defenses at present-day North Little Rock. After General Price abandoned Little Rock, the 27th retreated down the Southwest Trail to Benton and on to the vicinity of Arkadelphia, while they spent the winter of 1863.

General Kirby Smith ordered Churchill's Arkansas Division which had most of his infantry (including Tappan's and Gause's brigades) to Shreveport, Louisiana in late March, 1864 to counter the advance of Union General Nathaniel Banks up the Red River.

The 27th served through most of the Red River Campaign during March-May 1864, including the final battle in the southern phase of this campaign at Pleasant Hill. They then slung their knapsacks and went back north into Arkansas in time to fight at Jenkins' Ferry on April 30, 1864. The regiment saw little additional combat during the rest of the war, and eventually surrendered with General Kirby Smith on May 26, 1865.

The first house on the site of the town was a log church and school-house, near the present location. There were stores here prior to the war, during which they were destroyed. In the spring of 1870 W. M. Ward, a farmer on Osage, built the first dwelling house on the site of its successor; the latter was put up in 1887. He also opened a store in a building still standing. The next house was built several years later by George Shahan, and is now owned by George Crump. Shahan never lived here. Alexander Hale succeeded to his business. In May, 1874, Dr. William Thomas built the house opposite that owned by Hale; while yet in an unfinished condition it was bought by Dr. J. E. Harbert. The three houses mentioned constituted the town in 1874. A fourth was added in 1875 by L. E. Harbert, and the number slowly increased. There was but One painted house in the town in 1880. Improvement has received a great impetus within the past few years, and fewer towns in this section of the State present a more favorable appearance. The present population is about 250.

REMOVAL OF THE COUNTY SEAT.

The erection of Boone County in 1869 placed the major portion of Carroll County a considerable distance from Carrollton, and the removal of the county seat to a more central location was at once agitated. The claims of Berryville for metropolitan honors were energetically pressed, and an election was held November 1, 1869, upon the proposition to remove the county seat thither. The result cannot be ascertained; but at September term, 1869, a petition was presented to the court alleging that the election was null and void, a portion of the county having been ignored and refused recognition by the court. A new election was forthwith ordered for November 13, 1871. At December term, 1871, of the county court, the court was petitioned by certain citizens of Carrollton "to declare the proposition for removal of the county seat to Berryville," submitted to the electors November 13, 1871, "a failure, and to put said question at rest, for a time at least," but on the following day the court refused to grant this request, upon which the question was appealed to the circuit court, with results favorable to the petitioners. What action the county court proposed to take in the matter is expressed in the following extract from the minutes: "The court took into consideration the returns of the election [p.356] held November 13, 1871; and it appearing that a majority of the qualified voters favored the change. the court appointed John S. O'Neal, George J. Crump and Dr. Isaac Plumlee commissioners to select a site at Berryville." They were directed to meet at that place on Monday, January 29, 1872.
