

Descendants of James Hargest

Generation No. 1

1. JAMES³ HARGEST (JOHN², WILLIAM¹) was born Abt. 1768 in Herefordshire, England, and died 05 Mar 1843 in Baltimore, Maryland (Source: Although the Baltimore Sun lists his death on Tuesday morning March 7, 1843, the Saturday Visitor lists his death as February 14, 1843.). He married HANNAH ANN EVANS 28 Jun 1804 in Eardisland Parish Church, Herefordshire, England, daughter of JOHN EVANS and MARY JONES. She was born 1781 in Sarnesfield Parish, Herefordshire, England, and died 08 Sep 1838 in Baltimore, Maryland (Source: Baltimore Sun.).

Notes for JAMES HARGEST:

James Hargest most likely attended school in a village known as Woebley in Herefordshire, England. The school building still exists and is currently being used as a private residence.

James Hargest may have come to Baltimore in 1804 as an indentured servant. In this manner, his voyage and the acquisition of land were exchanged for working on land over a period of time - usually about four years. Written family records documenting this information were within the family and were destroyed before 2002.

1810 Census Baltimore County Patapsco Lower Hundred p. 473 James Hargest is listed with Thomas Lewis and James Edwards. Thomas Lewis witnessed James Hargest's naturalization in 1814 and most likely was from Herefordshire England. Also, James Edwards and his wife came to Baltimore from Herefordshire England between 1805-1810. They had two daughters who sold their land in to the Hargest Family in 1828.

Death Notice - Baltimore American

On Tuesday morning 7th (March) at 8 o'clock at his late residence rear of Green Mount Cemetery, James Hargest, gardner, in the 76th year of age. His friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, without further notice, this wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

James was first buried in the North section of the Northern Burial Ground (Row No. 24 Lot No. 11), Asquith Street and Boundary Avenue, of North Baltimore Station ME Church. (Also, known as the Old Cathedral Burial Ground.) The burial ground was dismantled in 1878 after the area was condemned by the city to build North Avenue. By court order, lot holders had four week to move the remains. (Morning Herald newspaper, April 10, 1878) George Washington Hargest moved his grandparents, James and Hannah Hargest, to his lot in Greenmount Cemetery.

In 2005, a Hargest Baltimore Album Quilt was auctioned for $36,000. This quilt was completed in 1845 and has 49 people listed including the nine children of James and Hannah Hargest. The center indicates that the quilt was made in honor of James and Hannah Hargest. A ninth child, Ann M. Hargest, is listed between William Evans Hargest and Thomas Hargest. In June 2005, the quilt was purchased by the International Quilt Study Center at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, Nebraska.

OBITUARY

"When death, the King of terrors, summons the aged from among us, we consider it as corn fully ripe for the harvest; but the tear of affection falls on the paper of the writer of this last tribute of respect to departed worth, when he has to mention the death of JAMES HARGAS, in the 20th year of his age, who was greatly ennobled by his virtuous deeds. The tears of affectionate parents and mourning friends will, like pleading innocence, embalm the flowery turf which shrouds his inanimate form. Could the attention of kind parents, or the affection of affectionate friends have preserved thee, you wouldst not die. Farewell ! fond youth farewell ! may it be our happy lot to meet thee in the mansions above."

Source for death is the Baltimore Sun.

His third wife was Jane Carruthers.

They lived on a large farm east of Broadway and south of Chase Streets at Monument and Patterson Park Avenues where their children were born. The house was next to the Baptist Church which was torn down for a filling station.

Source: Notes of India Ogier.

James Hargest Ogier and wife Margaret Branham visited the old house at Monument St. and Loney's Lane in the fall of 1870 and had supper from the fine old dishes that had belonged to Elizabeth Hargest Ogier. They said the supper was well served, the place well cared for and the terraced garden was beautiful.

Notes for RACHEL ANN TAYLOR:

Family folklore indicates that Rachel Taylor was a descendant of the Lord Baltimores. Her father, Samuel Taylor, was a wealthy Baltimore County landowner with several daughters and at least one son. According to a Taylor family history at the Maryland Historical Society, Samuel Taylor was not pleased with his daughters' choices for husbands. Photographs of the family estate are available at MHS. (Mt. Pleasant Golf Course was once part of the family estate and includes a Taylor graveyard.) At the time of Samuel Walker's death, his daughters and their husbands sued their brother over the settlement of the estate.

According to I one Scholl Eckersen, a great granddaughter of Rachel Taylor Hargest, Rachel Taylor Hargest was a cousin of President Zachary Taylor. (letter dated August 21, 1964 to Virginia Hargest Scholl Pick)

9. JAMES HARGEST⁵ OGIER (ELI ZABETH⁴ HARGEST, JAMES³, JOHN², WILLIAM¹) was born 28 Mar 1830 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 27 May 1885 in Baltimore, Maryland. He married MARGARET BRANHAM 24 May 1866 in San Jose, CA or Callaway, Missouri (Source: International Genealogical Index, Callaway, Missouri.), daughter of ISAAC BRANHAM and AMANDA BAILEY. She was born 21 Jul 1841 in Fulton (Callaway Co.), Missouri, and died 1917 in San Jose, CA.

Notes for JAMES HARGEST OGIER:

According to family tradition, since James was a minor he was obliged to give his earnings to his father until he was 21 years old. He left for California as soon as he reached his majority. His dream was possible because he inherited $600.00 from his Grandfather James Hargest. He traveled by boat to the Panama Isthmus; traveled by land over the Isthmus and then on to California. He traveled to San Jose with a close friend from Baltimore, James Cornthwait.

He arrived in California on August 2, 1851. In California, he worked as a laborer until he was able to acquire property three miles north of San Jose, California. He was obliged to buy four titles from the Mexican claimants in order to clear it. The one claim that he only paid twenty-five cents an acre for, proved to be the right one though the others had cost him much more. He purchased 150 acres in the Alviso District, which was later enlarged to 280 acres. (James Cornthwait married a woman from Baltimore and developed a farm near James Hargest Ogier.) He was at one time a Director of the Santa Clara Valley Agricultural Society, and was one of the stockholders, and a director of the San Jose Savings Bank. (Today, 2005, the Ogier farm property is near the San Jose Airport.)

James Hargest Ogier helped many of his Baltimore relatives move to San Jose and farm including his Charles Stewart Ogier, William A.Z. Edwards, Robert Ogier, John Bergen, Andrew Monkur Ogier, John Burgan, and Charles Stewart Ingleson. Also several of his female relatives from Baltimore married into well known San Jose families. The 1870 census lists many of his neighbors as being born in Maryland. James Hargest Ogier's stepmother's brother, Peter Carruthers, died by drowning on his way to California.

James Hargest Ogier died suddenly in May, 1885 while visiting his brother John Stewart Ogier in Baltimore. He is first buried in Greenmount Cemetery, Baltimore, Maryland. At a later time his body was moved to Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose, California. (Although in the History of the State of California and Biographical Record of Coast Counties - 1904; pp. 265-267 lists his burial at the Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose, CA. Greenmount Cemetery has an identified gravesite and marker for James Hargest Ogier.)

27. viii. MARGARET OGIER, b. 26 Nov 1884, San Jose, California; d. 22 Apr 1974, Portola Valley, California.

10. JOHN STEWART⁵ OGIER (ELIZABETH⁴ HARGEST, JAMES³, JOHN², WILLIAM¹) was born 08 Jan

1832 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 20 Mar 1926 in Baltimore, Maryland. He married MARY ELIZABETH BURGAN 02 Dec 1852 in Baltimore, Maryland (Source: Baltimore Sun.), daughter of JOSHUA (BERGEN) and MARY FREE. She was born 16 Jan 1834 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 22 Jul 1904 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Notes for JOHN STEWART OGIER:

John S. Ogier entire life was devoted to agriculture, in which he made a speciality of truck farming in Baltimore County, Maryland. At the age of twenty he left his father's home, made his own way in the world and embarked in the farming and gardening business. Successful in his enterprises, he accumulated a competency and some wealth. Several of his children ventured to California to join their Uncle, James Hargest Ogier, in the farming business in San Jose. John S. Ogier invested in property in San Jose, California (36 acres and the Milpitas Hotel Property) through his son Charles Stewart Ogier. This property provided an income for the remainder of his life. After John S. Ogier's retirement he resided in his beautiful home in Govanstown known as Elsinore.

Frances, daughter of Ida, wrote in an English paper entitled "Time Marches On" dated December 19, 1938, that she spent many happy days there. She used to amuse herself by climbing the fruit trees and picking the choicest fruit, and by going into the garden and finding berries which she carried to a hammock under some shady tree to eat. She also fed the squirrels peanuts there.

29. GEORGE B.⁶ OGIER (JOHN STEWART⁵, ELI ZABETH⁴ HARGEST, JAMES³, JOHN², WILLIAM¹) was born 13 Jul 1862 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 02 Feb 1904 in Baltimore, Maryland. He married SARAH ELLA JEWELL 16 Sep 1891, daughter of CHARLES JEWELL and SARAH PIMPIN. She was born 05 May 1868 in Chestertown, Maryland, and died 14 Oct 1938 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Notes for GEORGE B. OGIER:

Notes for GEORGE B. OGIER:

According to Ida Ogier. While milking a cow one day, he was kicked. This caused extreme internal injuries and he died leaving his wife Sarah Ella Jewell Ogier to raise the seven children.

They lived at a farm called Orangeville Farm. It had approximately 2,000 acres. Lots of hired hands and house servants. One of them was a nanny named Aunt Hanna. George raised, among other things, trotting horses considered at the time the finest in the county. Sarah was known to drive matched pairs at break neck speed around the local country roads. One of the only women who could handle these animals. Source: Letter dated 1988 from Norman McParland to Lynn Vanderherchen.

Burial: 05 Feb 1904, Green Mount Cemetery

Notes for SARAH ELLA JEWELL:

SARAH ELLA (JEWELL) OGIER, according to family tradition, turned down a marriage proposal from her father-in-law, John Stewart Ogier. Her words to him were "No, your son was the only man for me." She never remarried and raised her children alone. According to Margaret Rose Riall, dau. of Ogier Riall, John Stewart Ogier disowned her after her marriage refusal. The family of 7 children had extremely hard times and were almost destitute.

Notes for IDA VIRGINIA OGIER:

Notes for IDA VIRGINIA OGIER:

IDA VIRGINIA OGIER was raised by some maiden aunts. Aunt India, Aunt Florence and possibly one other. She was sent to a boarding school called Samuel Ready. She often told a story to her daughter and granddaughter about sneaking out "after hours" on a fire escape to observe Halley's comet in 1910. She said one of her teachers caught her and she was punished for being out "after hours". She said it was worth it all just being able to observe the comet.
