

Descendants of John Ogier

Generation No. 1

1. JOHN¹ OGIER was born 15 Mar 1772 in LaFontaine, St Sampsons, Guernsey, CI , France, and died 27 Aug 1821 in Baltimore, Maryland. He married MARIE MOULIN 07 Apr 1798 in St. Peter's Port, Guernsey, England, daughter of JEAN MOULLIN and MARIE RENOUF. She was born 21 Mar 1778 in Saint Andre's Parish - Isle of Guernsey, France, and died 19 Apr 1852 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Notes for JOHN OGIER:

Jean* Ogier came to the United States with his wife and family on the Brig Commerce landing in America, May 23, 1818. According to Aunt India Ogier, he bought a brick house (every brick from England) and a farm on Monument St. and Loney's lane (now Edison Highway). Family records say he was cheated out of his property because he spoke French and did not understand English. Maria, the old family nurse who had lived with the family through three generations, said he disappeared and was not heard of again. India Ogier had a record of his death, August 27, 1821. This may have been a legal pronouncement.

6. JAMES HARGEST³ OGIER (JOHN², JOHN¹) was born 28 Mar 1830 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 27 May 1885 in Baltimore, Maryland. He married MARGARET BRANHAM 24 May 1866 in San Jose, CA or Callaway, Missouri (Source: International Genealogical Index, Callaway, Missouri.), daughter of ISAAC BRANHAM and AMANDA BAILEY. She was born 21 Jul 1841 in Fulton (Callaway Co.), Missouri, and died 1917 in San Jose, CA.

Notes for JAMES HARGEST OGIER:

According to family tradition, since James was a minor he was obliged to give his earnings to his father until he was 21 years old. He left for California as soon as he reached his majority. His dream was possible because he inherited $600.00 from his Grandfather James Hargest. He traveled by boat to the Panama Isthmus; traveled by land over the Isthmus and then on to California. He traveled to San Jose with a close friend from Baltimore, James Cornthwait.

He arrived in California on August 2, 1851. In California, he worked as a laborer until he was able to acquire property three miles north of San Jose, California. He was obliged to buy four titles from the Mexican claimants in order to clear it. The one claim that he only paid twenty-five cents an acre for, proved to be the right one though the others had cost him much more. He purchased 150 acres in the Alviso District, which was later enlarged to 280 acres. (James Cornthwait married a woman from Baltimore and developed a farm near James Hargest Ogier.) He was at one time a Director of the Santa Clara Valley Agricultural Society, and was one of the stockholders, and a director of the San Jose Savings Bank. (Today, 2005, the Ogier farm property is near the San Jose Airport.)

James Hargest Ogier helped many of his Baltimore relatives move to San Jose and farm including his Charles Stewart Ogier, William A.Z. Edwards, Robert Ogier, John Bergen, Andrew Monkur Ogier, John Burgan, and Charles Stewart Ingleson. Also several of his female relatives from Baltimore married into well known San Jose families. The 1870 census lists many of his neighbors as being born in Maryland. James Hargest Ogier's stepmother's brother, Peter Carruthers, died by drowning on his way to California.

James Hargest Ogier died suddenly in May, 1885 while visiting his brother John Stewart Ogier in Baltimore. He is first buried in Greenmount Cemetery, Baltimore, Maryland. At a later time his body was moved to Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose, California. (Although in the History of the State of California and Biographical Record of Coast Counties - 1904; pp. 265-267 lists his burial at the Oak Hill Cemetery in San Jose, CA. Greenmount Cemetery has an identified gravesite and marker for James Hargest Ogier.)

She was born 16 Jan 1834 in Baltimore, Maryland, and died 22 Jul 1904 in Baltimore, Maryland.

Notes for JOHN STEWART OGIER:

John S. Ogier entire life was devoted to agriculture, in which he made a speciality of truck farming in Baltimore County, Maryland. At the age of twenty he left his father's home, made his own way in the world and embarked in the farming and gardening business. Successful in his enterprises, he accumulated a competency and some wealth. Several of his children ventured to California to join their Uncle, James Hargest Ogier, in the farming business in San Jose. John S. Ogier invested in property in San Jose, California (36 acres and the Milpitas Hotel Property) through his son Charles Stewart Ogier. This property provided an income for the remainder of his life. After John S. Ogier's retirement he resided in his beautiful home in Govanstown known as Elsinore.

Notes for GEORGE B. OGIER:

According to Ida Ogier. While milking a cow one day, he was kicked. This caused extreme internal injuries and he died leaving his wife Sarah Ella Jewell Ogier to raise the seven children.

They lived at a farm called Orangeville Farm. It had approximately 2,000 acres. Lots of hired hands and house servants. One of them was a nanny named Aunt Hanna. George raised, among other things, trotting horses considered at the time the finest in the county. Sarah was known to drive matched pairs at break neck speed around the local country roads. One of the only women who could handle these animals. Source: Letter dated 1988 from Norman McParland to Lynn Vanderherchen.

IDA VIRGINIA OGIER was raised by some maiden aunts. Aunt India, Aunt Florence and possibly one other. She was sent to a boarding school called Samuel Ready. She often told a story to her daughter and granddaughter about sneaking out "after hours" on a fire escape to observe Halley's comet in 1910. She said one of her teachers caught her and she was punished for being out "after hours". She said it was worth it all just being able to observe the comet.
