Notes for HARDEMAN "HARDY" CREWS:

"The following is a transcript of information on the Hubbard's, Crews and Doochees who lived in the adjacent counties of Person Co, NC and Mecklenburg Co., Va obtained from the Friends Historical Collection at Hege Library, Guilford College, Greensboro, NC. There is no indication when this was written or by whom, but parts must have been written by children of the people described, as the details are too exact. Other parts must have been written after the Trail of Tears because of the reference to "applying for Cherokee nation membership rights". Other parts are certainly written as late as 1920 because of the reference to 150 yrs of connections between the Hubbard's and Meredith's. No attempt has been made to edit or change the original text.

GENEALOGY OF THE HUBBARD FAMILY WITH A BRIEF HISTORY OF ITS CONNECTION WITH THE CHEROKEE INDIANS

According to the best information to be had in regard to the ancestors of the Hubbard family as obtained from records, history, traditions and aged persons, about the year 1740 there dwelt near the banks of the Keehukee Creek in the British province of North Carolina a Cherokee Indian by the white name of Goochee, but in the Cherokee language as Doochee.

[Kehukee Swamp rises in eastern Halifax Co. and flows SW into Roanoke River. Appears as Kehukee Creek on the Collet Map, 1770. Source: Powell, Wm S. "The North Carolina Gazetteer." 1968, pp.261-76]

In the year 1729 North and South Carolina were made separate and distinct provinces. The original Cherokee Indians, however, were the almost sole occupants of all the central and a greater part of the Eastern portions of the North Carolina Province. Soon the Whites, who had gained a foothold on the Eastern coast of North Carolina began to penetrate these hitherto sacred hunting grounds of the Indians. Among these adventurous pioneers was a white man, an Irishman, named Hardy Crews, hardy he was by name and hardy by nature. In what is now known as Person County he halted and permanently located. Finding very few white settlers, and especially of the female sex, he chose for a life companion a beautiful Cherokee maiden, a dark-haired daughter of the Doochees. A generous welcome seems to have been extended to this happy couple by the Indians. In due course of time two daughters were born to them named Ann and Mary Crews. These English names as well as an English education were !

bestowed upon these promising children. Ann Crews, having grown to womanhood, her mind enlightened and cultured with such an education as that frontier life and early period would allow, was tall, graceful and slender; features regular and beautiful; in manners gentle and modest, quiet and unassuming, yet in disposition and character firm and very determined in purpose. While attending school in Mecklenburg County, she formed an acquaintance of a young white man, Joseph Hubbard, a sedate Quaker. That acquaintance ripened into an affection that resulted in their marriage about the year 1770. Thus it is clearly seen by the marriage of the full blood Cherokee Doochee mother to the white man, Hardy Crews, and the subsequent marriage of the half blood daughter Ann Crews to Joseph Hubbard, another White man, that by the faithful observance of the sacred marriage obligations which bound these devoted women solemnly to their devoted husbands, lost them and their descendents to their!

identity as members of the Cherokee Nation of people, but not their rights as such when properly applied for.

Not much is known of Joseph Hubbard's ancestors. The best information is, they were English Quakers who came over to this country in 1681 with William Penn when the settlement was made in Philadelphia and from there they emigrated to and settled in the County of Mecklenburg, Virginia, and in the adjoining counties of North Carolina. Dr. Benjamin Franklin in his autobiography gives a concise account of the colony of Pennsylvania [sic:Pennsylvanians] who emigrated to Virginia and North Carolina in 1729, and among other things he had to say in regard thereto, speaks particularly of the Meredith's, one of whom married Mary Crews. He mentions Hugh Merideth, who was his partner for some time in the printing business in the City of Philadelphia. It seems that the Hubbard's and Meredith's have been in close connection for over one hundred and fifty years and that their Indian blood runs back to the same Cherokee stock of starting point the Doochees.

Joseph Hubbard was born in Mecklenburg County, Virginia, and after his marriage to Ann Crews still lived there, where several of his children were born. He afterwards moved over into Person County, North Carolina, where he lived until after the death of his first wife in 1812, he then moved to Guilford County, North Carolina. Joseph Hubbard and Ann Crews had eight children, viz. Hardy; Jeremiah; Joseph; Woodson; Jacob; Ann; Susana and Rhoda. After his removal to Guilford County, he married a white woman named, Axsah [Achsah] Coffin by whom he had two sons, viz., John R. and Samuel N. Hubbard. He lived to be upwards of ninety years old, died and was buried in the graveyard at New Garden Meeting House, North Carolina.

The five Hubbard boys were noted for their large size, fine personal appearance, none of them being less than six feet tall. They were generally known as the "Big Cherokee Boys". They were trained by their Quaker parents to practice the principles of peace and friendship, but woe to the boy or man who with sneers and insults taunted them with their 'Cherokee blood'. Of all the brothers, Jeremiah was the best known and portrayed in his features and general appearance his Indian descent. He was tall, erect and straight as an arrow, being six feet two or three inches in height.

He had a dark swarthy complexion, keen black eyes, high cheek bones, hair straight and black as coal, a large mouth with firm lips and his front teeth were long and slightly curved inward. He was a distinguished and influential minister in the Society of Friends of Quakers. He was a fluent and eloquent speaker and a natural born orator. His voice was strong and musical and he seemed to sway his hearers at will. He was generous, unselfish and hospitable and his 'Red Brothers', the Cherokees, as they traveled through his section, which they often did, always made a stopping place at his plain and unpretentious home hailing him as a friend and brother and claiming him as one of their own people.

Crews Family History

(Excerpt from "Willaim "Flat River" Clayton and Benjamin Crews" - mnf)

The forefathers of the Lawrence County Crews was Hardiman "Hardy" Crews, born about 1740-1750 in Surry or Northhampton Co., VA. and died after 1830 in Person County, N.C.. He married Phoebe Goochee before 1775. On 9/18/1779, Hardy Crews bought 91 acres of land in Caswell Co., N.C. for 90 pounds in Virginia currency from a Michael Dickson/Dickins, ref. John Paines line. A grant deed was recorded on 10/13/1783 to Hardy Crews for 525 acres in Caswell Co., N.C. on Mill Creek. On 2/18/1790, Thomas Clayton of Caswell Co., N.C. sells 200 acres on Richland Spring Creek to Hardy Crews, ref. John Paines old line. Then on 8/6/1790 in Caswell Co., N.C. and indenture was made between Thomas Clayton and a Robert Dickins, Hardy Crews, Jurat. This land was located on Deep Creek of Flat River.

When Person Co., N.C. was created from Caswell, Hardy Crews and Thomas Clayton became citizens of Person Co., N.C..

Of their known children, our Lawrence Co., TN. ancestor, Benjamin Crews was born about 1775 in Caswell Co., N.C.. He married Mary Clayton, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Coleman Clayton, * sister of William "Flat River" Clayton 2/2/1796 in Person Co., N.C.. They had Sarah 12/1796, Arthur Simeon "Arter" 1799, William 4/1800, Benjamin, Jr. 1802, Elizabeth 1803, Johnathan 1804, Rebecca 1806, and Thomas abt. 1808. Mary Clayton Crews died 1810 in Person Co., N.C. and is buried in the Roxboro area.

After Mary's death, Benjamin Crews married on 10/8/1811 Guilford Co., N.C. to Mary Rose. Benjamin and Mary Rose Crews had Hardy 1811, Obediah 1813, Mary Ann 1814, Thomas 1815, Sidney 1817, Martha "Patsy" 1818, and Zacharias 1820. Mary Rose died in Lawrence Co., TN..

The "Crews and Clayton Clan" came to Lawrence Co., TN. before 1830, as they are listed in the 1830 census records. Many of the family members soon married here in Lawrence Co., and lived in the 7th district, in the now Mt. Lebanon area, near Spring, Knob and Brushy Creeks. Benjamin Crews, Sr. died 1841 Lawrence Co., TN. and is thought to have been buried in the Crews Cemetery #1.

Notes for PHOEBE DOOCHEE/GOOCHEE:

As mentioned therein I like to refer to the Goochee family name as Doochee as per what the earliest source story indicates was the more accurate Cherokee pronunciation. However there has to be speculation about the source of the name. Refer to my attachments. One of my photocopy documents from Hege library for instance refers to, "Phebe Goochee (AKA Dutch)". We could speculate that there was an extended family relationship between the Crews, the Hubbards, and the Goochee/Doochees. It's entirely possible that more than one Goochee/Doochee family member married into the Hubbard family.

We do know that the tribal people couldn't mix with the Hubbard family, Re: Jeremiah, Hardy's older brother: "...the Cherokees, as they travelled through his section, which they often did, always made a stopping place at his plain and unpretentious home hailing him as a friend and brother and claiming him as one of their own people."

We could speculate as well that the Goochee/Doochees were actually a subtribe of the Cherokee that had taken on the descriptor "Dutch" to distinguish themselves from other subgroups. As long as we remember what is speculation and what is fact, we'll be fine. The problem is that there is already a lot of misinformation out there, especially in the Crews family records, as there were Crews people who were trying to prove membership in the Eastern Cherokee nation in order to get land rights. As my postings state again and again, I've seen nothing to indicate that Hardy Crews and Phoebe Goochee/Doochee had any male offspring. So the Crews family can't link themselves back to our Phoebe Crews.

Children of ANN CREWS and JOSEPH HUBBARD are:

- i. JEREMIAH⁴ HUBBARD, b. Feb 13, 1777, Mecklenburg Co., VA; d. Unknown.

Notes for JEREMIAH HUBBARD:

"3297 Jeremiah Hubbard,

Rejected. Claims through Phoebe Crews. Report following:

Report as to application of Jeremiah Hubbard #3297, and other applicants claiming through Phoebe Goochee, or Dutch, wife of Hardy Crews, and her daughters Ann Crews, wife of Joseph Hubbard, and Mary Crews wife of Hugh Meredith.

More than one hundred applications have been filed based exclusively upon the alleged Cherokee Indian blood of Phoebe Goochee, or Dutch, wife of Hardy Crews. It appears from the applications and from the papers filed in the case, that Phoebe Crews lived in Person County, North Carolina, and died there prior to 1800. The date of her birth cannot be exactly stated, but her daughter Mary was born in 1752. Her daughters Ann and Mary both died in 1812, and Mary Crews Meredith, dying in 1823.

Their descendants have been considerably scattered, apparently some going to Guilford County, N.C., and afterwards removing to Indiana, and from their to Indian Territory or Oklahoma. Mary Crews Meredith apparently lived a part of the time in Bedford County, Virginia, as her son John was born there in 1779. Person, Stokes and Guilford counties, North Carolina, were never within the recognized domain of the Cherokee nation, and there were not Cherokee lands anywhere near those counties after the year 1777. In 1835 the Cherokee domain did not extend within 200 miles of these counties. There is nothin in the case to indicate that any of these claimants, or their ancestors back to Phoebe Crews, have lived with any tribe of Indians after the marriage of the said Phoebe to her white husband Hardy Crews. One of the descendants of Ann Crews Hubbard, Caroline Newby Painter (a great-grand-daughter) was born in Indiana as early as 1833(see application #41017), and one of the descendants of Mary Crews Meredith (a great-grand-daughter), Ann E. Starbuck, was born in Wayne County, Indiana, in 1829, (see application #42866). According to all the information at hand, and the testimony taken in the case, (see Misc. Test. Pages 2285 and 3175), these claimants have always been recognized as white people and have not lived among the Indians except as they have in recent years lived among the Cherokees of Oklahoma where some members of the family have made strenuous effort to be recognized and enrolled as Cherokee Indians.

These efforts have uniformly failed. One of these claimants, Florence A. Mason, herself 22 years of age, files application #41041, and she is the great-great-great-great-great-grand-daughter of the Indian ancestor, Phoebe Dutch Crews, and she is still living in Indiana. From some of the statements in the case it does appear that Jeremiah Hubbard, the son of Ann Crews Hubbard, had some dealings with the Cherokee People about the time of the treaty of 1835, and it seems probably that he was used either as an interpreter or as an attorney in presenting the claims of the Cherokees in Washington, but the fact also seems to be that he was picked up by the Cherokee delegation on its way to Washington, as he at that time lived a very long distance from the Cherokee reservation. No one of these claimants was enrolled in 1851, not does the name of any one of the parents appear on that roll, or on the roll of 1835. The family was well-known and there is no possibility that they could have been enrolled under Indian names. It is perfectly plain from the applications and the papers filed therewith that neither these parties, nor their ancestors, were recognized members of the Eastern Cherokee tribe of Indians in 1835-6 or 1846. These claims are therefore all rejected."

Here is what I have on the Crews who married into the Hubbard Quakers of North Carolina:

In Reply to: Re: Ancestors of Jeremiah Hubbard missionary by Thomas M. Hooter of 1340

My info came in from Hege Library so here's what I know.

My Sarah Hubbard's father was Hardy Hubbard, b.23 Dec 1777 at Mecklenberg Co., Va; (his older brother was Jeremiah,b.18 Feb, 1777) Hardy married Polly (Mary) Wright on 2 Aug, 1798 in Person Co., NC; moved to Hancock Co., Indiana aft.1809. Hardy's f. was Joseph Hubbard (English Quaker ancestors arrived in 1681 with W.Penn) Joseph was b.18 Oct 1751 in Mecklenberg Co., Va.; m. Anna Crews in 1770; d. 17 Aug, 1832 in Guilford Co., NC. Anna Crews was b.1747 among her mother's people, the Cherokee of Kehukee Creek which is near Scotland Neck, Halifax Co., on the Roanoke River; d. in 1812 in Person Co., NC. Anna's parents were Hardy Crews of Ireland and Phoebe Doochee (Cherokee pronunciation) or Goochee (white man's pron.) Phoebe was full-blooded Cherokee and her family came from Kehukee Creek. Doochee was either her father's name or an associated clan. I've researched the name with Cherokee linguists to no avail. A famous Cherokee chief of the 1800's had a similar name derived from the word for German immigrants referred to as "Deutsch."

Lawrence County 1826 Tax List

The following list of tax papers in Lawrence County was transcribed from the original list at the Tennessee State Library and Archives (a copy is housed at the Lawrence County Archives). Each person who owned property or paid poll tax is listed. The acreage, amounts paid in tax, or districts are not listed on the original. Many of the names were very hard to read, and I am sure we probably made some mistakes, but we did the best we could considering the writing. We tried to verify names using other sources whenever possible. If there is a question mark beside a name, that means we are unsure of the spelling. The number following each name is the order in which they appear on the list. This will enable us to locate a particular person whose name you want copied, since the original list is not in alphabetical order. You can obtain a copy of the handwritten document from the Lawrence County Archives, 218 N. Military Ave., Suite B-1, Lawrenceburg, TN 38464 or via email at lcarchives@lorettotel.net.

You mention William "Flat River" Clayton. My granddaddy Charlie Hugh Allen and much of his family is buried at Flat River Primitive Baptist Church in Bushy Fork (near Roxboro). My grandmother's sister Lennie Stephens married Arthur Clayton. Arthur Clayton Road and their home are outside of Bushy Fork.

I remember reading in the Piedmont Lineages names from a number of Person County cemeteries. Some light on these Clayton's may be shed from reviewing those records, but I cannot get to it now.

Lawrence County
Goodspeed's History of Tennessee

Crew, Jonas, who was born on the 22nd of September, 1821, in Person County, N.C., is a son of Arthur and Louvisa (Hicks ) Crews, both of whom were born in the same State and county as our subject, in 1799 and 1801, respectively. The father immigrated to Lawrence County, Tenn., on Christmas Eve, 1831, and died in that county 1862, his wife dying March of 1882. Our subject was reared in Lawrence County, and had few opportunities for gaining an education, but in later years has gained a good business education. He begun the battle of life for himself after attaining his majority, and engaged in farming and stock raising, being very successful in the latter occupation. He owns about 1,800 acres of land, about 700 of which is under fence. On the 25th of September, 1844, he was married to Mary Virginia Hensley, daughter of Simeon and Charity (Bryant) Hensley. The father died and Mrs. Crews was quite young, and his widow married a Mr. Taylor and moved from Lawrence County, since which time nothing has been heard as to her whereabouts. To our subject and his wife were born the following family: William James, born May 18, 1847, and died in July, 1865; Arter Simeon, born May 1, 1849. Mrs. Crews died June 3, 1849, and June 3, 1859, Mr. Crews married Eliza Emeline Helton, and their children are Melvina Catherine, born July 20, 1861; George Washington , born May 29, 1863; Zachariah F., born June 20, 1866; Jeremiah Benjamin, born August 11, 1869; Louvisa Amanda, born July 11, 1871, and died September, 1882; Jonas, born September 27, 1873; Jonathan McClane, born August 11, 1876; Henry Clay, born May 29, 1879; and Daniel Wewbster born October 15, 1881. I believe that Catherine is not a child of Hardy and Lethe but could have come with them to Lawrence Co. about 1830.

However, I do believe that Elizabeth through Lydia (in this census above) were most likely Hardy and Lethe's children. - (rbh)

Notes for RICHARD CLAYTON:

Richard was working in 1850 as a collier, making charcoal, almost certainly at the Kelly Forge near where the Clayton's settled in Lawrence County, by 1860. A forge needed charcoal to produce the heat necessary to bring iron to a white red color, where it could be struck into metal objects used during those times. The hammer and anvil of the forge were probably driven by a large water wheel. Colliers were paid by the bushel for charcoal they delivered to the forge. They would cut several cords of wood and stack it in a large pile, with a center pole in the middle, where the fire would be introduced and cover the pile of wood with dirt to control the burn. After the burn, the coals had to be separated and hot spots extinguished. Wagon loads of charcoal were often rekindled on the trip to the forge. If the Collier was not an experienced artisan, the fire could rekindle, the load could be burned, and also the wagon.

Richard was enumerated on the 31th of October 1850 in Lawrence County, Tennessee pp. 367.

The forge ceased to operate and Richard returned to farming according to the census records. Richard died between 1860 & 1870 possibly in the Civil War.

Notes for RICHARD CLAYTON:

Richard was working in 1850 as a collier, making charcoal, almost certainly at the Kelly Forge near where the Clayton's settled in Lawrence County, by 1860. A forge needed charcoal to produce the heat necessary to bring iron to a white red color, where it could be struck into metal objects used during those times. The hammer and anvil of the forge were probably driven by a large water wheel. Colliers were paid by the bushel for charcoal they delivered to the forge. They would cut several cords of wood and stack it in a large pile, with a center pole in the middle, where the fire would be introduced and cover the pile of wood with dirt to control the burn. After the burn, the coals had to be separated and hot spots extinguished. Wagon loads of charcoal were often rekindled on the trip to the forge. If the Collier was not an experienced artisan, the fire could rekindle, the load could be burned, and also the wagon.

Richard was enumerated on the 31th of October 1850 in Lawrence County, Tennessee pp. 367.

The forge ceased to operate and Richard returned to farming according to the census records. Richard died between 1860 & 1870 possibly in the Civil War.

Notes for JONAS ARTHUR CREWS:
Lawrence County
Goodspeed's History of Tennessee...

Crew, Jonas, who was born on the 22nd of September, 1821, in Person County, N.C., is a son of Arthur and Louvisa (Hicks ) Crews, both of whom were born in the same State and county as our subject, in 1799 and 1801, respectively. The father immigrated to Lawrence County, Tenn., on Christmas Eve, 1831, and died in that county 1862, his wife dying March of 1882. Our subject was reared in Lawrence County, and had few opportunities for gaining an education, but in later years has gained a good business education. He begun the battle of life for himself after attaining his majority, and engaged in farming and stock raising, being very successful in the latter occupation. He owns about 1,800 acres of land, about 700 of which is under fence. On the 25th of September, 1844, he was married to Mary Virginia Hensley, daughter of Simeon and Charity (Bryant) Hensley. The father died and Mrs. Crews was quite young, and his widow married a Mr. Taylor and moved from Lawrence County, since which time nothing has been heard as to her whereabouts. To our subject and his wife were born the following family: William James, born May 18, 1847, and died in July, 1865; Arter Simeon, born May 1, 1849. Mrs. Crews died June 3, 1849, and June 3, 1859, Mr. Crews married Eliza Emeline Helton, and their children are Melvina Catherine, born July 20, 1861; George Washington , born May 29, 1863; Zachariah F., born June 20, 1866; Jeremiah Benjamin, born August 11, 1869; Louvisa Amanda, born July 11, 1871, and died September, 1882; Jonas, born September 27, 1873; Jonathan McClane, born August 11, 1876; Henry Clay, born May 29, 1879; and Daniel Webster born October 15, 1881. Mr. Crews was not in the late war. In 1852 he was elected justice of the peace, and served six years. In 1882 he was re-elected of the same office. He was formerly a member of the Methodist Church, and still retains his religious views.

Re: Jonas Arthur Crews

Yes, he is buried in Pleasant Grove Cemetery. He was originally buried in the Buchanan/Crews family cemetery, but was moved in the late 1950's.

After the death of Jonas and Eliza's youngest son, Daniel Webster Crews, in the 1920's, the farm where the Buchanan/Crews cemetery was located was sold to Ollie North. In the late 1950's, he had workers remove the iron fence that surrounded it, removed some headstones and incorporated some of the land into the surrounding cotton field. When one of my uncles discovered what had been done, he got a court order to move the remains of Jonas, Eliza, Zachariah, Amanda, Henry Clay, 2 unnamed children, and Eliza's mother to Pleasant Grove Cemetery. He also moved the Buchanans whose graves could still be identified.

Unfortunately, some of the gravestones had been so badly damaged that they were illegible. Jonas's middle initial and year of birth are incorrect on his new stone, which was made after his reinterment. The name of his daughter Amanda Louisa is also incorrect on her new stone.

I just found out recently that the farm where the Buchanan/Crews cemetery was located was named "Pine Grove." My father and his brothers always referred to it as "the old home place." I grew up on an adjoining farm.

As you probably know, the house was badly damaged by a tornado in the 1930's and never fully restored. The remnants have now been completely destroyed by a gravel mining operation. (Rogers Group)

Biographies From Goodspeeds 1886

History of Wayne County, Tennessee

Jonathan Crews, a prominent citizen of Wayne County, Tenn., was born in North Carolina in 1825. His parents, William and Malisent (Hicks) Crews, were natives of the same State, and came to Tennessee about 1830. The father was a farmer, a member of the Hardshell Baptist Church, and a Whig in politics, and during the late war stood firm for the Union. His death occurred in 1871, and his wife's in 1877. Our subject made his parents' home his home until attaining his majority, when he was married to Frances Morrow, a daughter of Archibald and Martha (Parker) Morrow. Mrs. Crews was born in this State in 1827, and is the mother of nine children: Martha A., Malisent, William, Mary E., Nancy J (deceased in 1886), Eletha C. (deceased in 1861), Sarah F., Archie F. (deceased in 1862) and Gustina. Mr. Crews was a resident of Lawrence County until 1864, when he came to Wayne County and resided on several different farms until 1881, when he purchased his present farm of 80 acres, on which he located and has lived to the present time. He and Mrs. Crews are members of the Hard-shell Baptist Church.

More About JONATHAN CREWS:

Burial: 1871, Old Dixon Cemetery

Notes for FRANCIS "FANNIE" MORROW:

In the 1900 Wayne Co., TN census, Frances Morrow Crews (I assume) was living with Jonas Springer Dixon and listed as mother-in-law.

12th Civil District, Wayne Co., TN

household 77/77

Dixon, Jonas S., head, w m Dec 54, 45 married 14 years

Dixon, Gustina T., wife, w f Oct 63, 36, married 14 years, had 8 children five still living

Dixon, Otis O., son w m Feb 81, 19 single

Dixon, James M, son, w m Apr 82, 18 single

Dixon, Sally I., daughter w m Dec 86, 13 single

Dixon, Boyd H., son, w m Dec 90, 9 single

Dixon, Paris M, son, m f Sep 98, 1 single
Crews, Fannie, mother-in-law, Feb 28, widowed, had 9 children 5 still living.

This puts your question in a different light. I am assuming now that the Old Dixon Cemetery you refer to, is actually the Dixon Cemetery # 151 in the Cemetery and Death Records book.

Here is the listing:

#151 Dixon Cemetery

Location: Shawnettee Creek, down the road from the Shawnettee United Methodist Church. (I don't have an exact location but it's not too far to the east of the church and cemetery)

Dixon, Jonas Springer, 16 Dec 1854 - 19 Apr 1916
Dixon, Nancy Jane (Crews), 19 Nov 1853 - 9 Mar 1886, 1st wife of Jonas
Dixon, Gustina (Crews), Oct 1864 - Apr 1946, 2nd wife of Jonas Springer
Dixon, Columbus Franklin, 5 Jan 1828 - 28 Jan 1901
Dixon, Sarah A., 7 May 1836 - 23 Jul 1889, wife of Columbus Franklin
Dixon, Hattie B., 10 Apr 1840 - 29 May 1915, 2nd wife of Columbus Franklin
Dixon, J. M., 1 Jun 1831 - 31 Mar 1884, brother of Columbus Franklin.

This is all that was listed in the cemetery book. It is possible that Frances Morrow Crews is buried in the cemetery, but doesn't have a marker, or else that marker wasn't copied.

According to his Obituary;

"His Father, mother and five children came to Lawrence County in the lates 20's (1820's) of the last century in a shaft cart carrying themselves and their belongings. He told the writer about a year ago that his Father brought with him a two-year old mare which broke in everyone of a large family of boys to plow and lived to be thirty years old.

He was indeed one of a family to which this county owes much." - "Lawrence Democrat" April 2, 1919

She married DANIEL K. MCGEE Oct 07, 1852 in Lawrence Co., TN., son of JOSEPH MCGEE and DELIA CULBREATH. He was born Jul 02, 1831 in Wayne Co. TN., and died Jul 23, 1864 in Wayne Co., TN. Near Clifton, TN. - Killed in Action.

Notes for MARY JANE CREWS:

From Kathy Niedergeses, Lawrence County Archivist; (04/23/04)

We found the obit for Mary Jane McGee who died May 11, 1917 at the home of her son Joe McGee at age 81. Acute indigestion is the diagnosis; she died in less than an hour, so would probably be correct in saying it was a heart attach. She is buried in the Clayton Cemetery with services by Jerry Crews. She was the daughter of Thomas Crews, wife of Dan McGee. Her husband was a soldier and killed during Civil War. Two sons - Joe and Thomas.

The Clayton Cemetery she would most likely be buried in (grave is not marked in any of the cemeteries) is called the Clayton/Beeler Cemetery and is also referred to as the Crews/McGee Cemetery also since there members of all three families buried there. Mt. Lebanon is also referred to as the Clayton Cemetery sometimes, so can't be sure which one she is in since the grave is not marked.

Recent emails have confirmed a gravesite at the "Old Flippo Cemetery."
There are two gravemarkers in question;

"Two large rock Flippo near them a smaller rock near entrance a small rock
These are regular stone markers engraved.

Near the 2 large rocks a slate rock with writing as follows
Here lies the body of Elizabeth ? Could not read.

Near the entrance a slate rock with writing as follows
Mary J. McGee Dec. 28 1835 died May 11 1917

Near the two large rocks are two graves marked by slate rock and in a chain link fence which is not old."

This could be the gravesite of Mary Jane (Crews) McGee (mentioned above).

I travelled to and found Mary Jane (Crews) McGee's gravesite clearly marked, but hard to locate.
As you top the hill and see the cemetery before you, approach the fence from the left side. Once inside the cemetery, go to the left along the inner fence line about halfway along the length and you will find her grave.

According to records on the 2nd Tennessee Mounted Infantry, Daniel McGee was a private in Co. A, and was 32 years old.

He enrolled on 2 Oct 1863 and was mustered in at Nashville, TN. The 30 April 1864 muster roll has the following remarks: "mustered as a deserter from the 6th Tennessee Cavalry, turned over to this command by order of Maj. Murphy on 15 Feb 1864."

Roll for 6 May 1864 stated" returned from 6th Tennessee Cavalry having never been mustered into that regiment."

Roll for 23 July 1864: "killed in action at or near Clifton, TN."

Final statement: Born in Wayne Co., TN, age 32 years, 5 feet 9 inches tall, dark complexion, black eyes, dark hair, a farmer.

It is speculated that he was injured during the "Battle of Shiloh" and died as a result of that injury. He is buried in the Clifton City Cemetery.
(I have verified this by personally seeing the stone. I took a picture of same, but lettering was not visible in photo. Later, took a "rubbing" to confirm name and dates.)

Daniel K. McGee was in the 2nd Tennessee Mounted Infantry Co. A. Union Army also he was in 6 Tennessee Cav. Co. F for a short time out of Wayne Co..

He married MARY FANNIE GRESHAM. She was born 1862, and died 1940.

Notes for GEORGE WASHINGTON CREWS:

Randy,

This is the Crews info. that I have. All was taken from the article I mentioned before, submitted by Taylor Crews, to the Wayne County Tennessee Families 1817-1999 Vol. II history book.

"Marcus Augustus "Gus" Crews 1898-1969. "Gus" was a fourth generation descendant of Benjamin Crews and Mary (Clayton) Crews, who came from North Carolina to settle in Lawrence County, Tennessee, in early 1800s.

Gus's parents were George Washington Crews (1854-?) and Mary Fannie (Gresham) Crews (1862-1940). Gus's grandparents were Sidney Crews and Mary Ann (Ponds) Crews.

Gus's siblings were: Emma, Lena (married Bill Shelton), Sidney Lonzo (married Minnie Bailey), Thomas Marchel (married Alice Staggs), John Wesley (married Rose Staggs), Annie and Will Crews.

This family grew up on Brush Creek in the northwest corner of Lawrence County. Gus's father, George, worked the furnaces at Allens Creek in Lewis County. He died in early 1900s and is buried at his home place on Brush Creek. Gus's mother, Fannie, later came to Waynesboro where she died in 1940 and is buried at Walnut Grove Cemetery.

Gus's first marriage (facts unknown) produced three children: Charles, Lois and Willie Mae. Gus's second marriage was to Myrtle Lucille (Brown) Crews (1912-1982), daughter of Zachary Taylor Brown (1871-1960) and Stella (Melton) Brown (1887-1927). Lucille's father worked for the railroad as a section hand at Schubert/Riverside/Allens Creek in Lewis County and later for the railroad at Wrigley, Tennessee, in Hickman County. Lucille's mother, Stella, died in 1927 and is buried at Wrigley. Lucille's father later came to Waynesboro and lived with Gus and Lucille for a time, where he died in 1960 and is buried at Walnut Grove Cemetery.

Gus worked for Packard Motor Company in Detroit during World War II. After the war he returned to Waynesboro and worked as a brick and block mason. Gus also worked on the Natchez Trace Parkway as a concrete finisher.

Lucille worked as a clerk for the Ben Franklin Store and Anderson's Drug Store. She also worked as a cook for various restaurants, Wayne County High School and Wayne County Hospital in Waynesboro. Gus and Lucille are buried at Wayne County Memory Gardens.

Gus and Lucille have two children: Dorothy Jeanette (1935) and George Taylor (1938). Dorothy married Bobby W. Gobbell. They have a son, Steve, who married Kerry White. They have two sons: Eric Wayne and Ethan Marcus Gobbell.

Taylor Crews married Christine Martin (divorced). They have three children: James Taylor (1955-1978), Debora Diane (1958) and Gary Keith Crews (1967). James is buried at Wayne County Memory Gardens. Debora married Jerry P. Garland. They have two children: Crystal and Jeremy Garland. Keith married Tracey Peterson.

Submitted by Taylor Crews."

Randy, somewhere I have an address for George Taylor Crews, as I have corresponded with him, but can't put my hands on it just now. He lives in the Toledo, Ohio area. His daughter Debora Garland, however, lives in Lawrenceburg, TN. Her address is 26 Laurel Hill Rd., Lawrenceburg, TN 38464.

The book from which this article came should be readily available in the Wayne County Library in Waynesboro. It was compiled and published by the Wayne County Historical Society. There is a photo included of Gus, Lucille and the two children. It's a snapshot type picture, and Gus's face is not clear in it. There may be other articles in this book or in Vol. I on "Crews;" I don't know because as I said I have no direct connection to this line, so didn't look. I was only interested because of the connection to Stella Melton.

Also, for your information, Wayne County, TN has an annual Family History Fair in Collinwood. It is usually the 2nd Saturday in July. My sister and I have attended annually for the past 12 or so years. It gives you a chance to possibly meet and talk with others who are researching the same families and share information.

I hope this information is helpful to you. Good luck in your research.

Linda Fink

Notes for MARY EMMA BLACKWELL, SR.:

RE: Jeremiah Benjamin Crews

Jeremiah Benjamin Crews was engaged to someone else before he married Mary Emma Blackwell, but I don't remember her name. I assumed that it was Emma Ester Freemon, since you had listed her as his first wife.

Jeremiah Benjamin and Mary Emma had only 5 children - all boys (J.B., Charles Clifford, James Arthur, William Shirley, and Warren Harding). Emma Ester must be someone else's daughter.

There's a funny family story about the children of Jeremiah Benjamin and Mary Emma. My grandmother, Mary Emma, wanted a daughter very much. In fact, she picked only girls' names before sons 2 - 5 were born; they were given their "boy" names after they were born. My father's pre-birth name was Lorraine.

SPRINGER. He was born Dec 16, 1854 in (prob.) Wayne Co., TN., and died Apr 19, 1916 in Wayne Co., TN..

Notes for NANCY JANE CREWS:

In the 1900 Wayne Co., TN census, Frances Morrow Crews (I assume) was living with Jonas Springer Dixon and listed as mother-in-law.

12th Civil District, Wayne Co., TN
household 77/77

Dixon, Jonas S., head, w m Dec 54, 45 married 14 years
Dixon, Gustina T., wife, w f Oct 63, 36, married 14 years, had 8 children five still living
Dixon, Otis O., son w m Feb 81, 19 single
Dixon, James M, son, w m Apr 82, 18 single
Dixon, Sally I., daughter w m Dec 86, 13 single Dixon, Boyd H., son, w m Dec 90, 9 single
Dixon, Paris M, son, m f Sep 98, 1 single
Crews, Fannie, mother-in-law, Feb 28, widowed, had 9 children 5 still living.

This puts your question in a different light. I am assuming now that the Old Dixon Cemetery you refer to, is actually the Dixon Cemetery # 151 in the Cemetery and Death Records book.

Here is the listing:

$151 Dixon Cemetery

Location: Shawnettee Creek, down the down from the Shawnettee United Methodist Church. (I don't have an exact location but it's not too far to the east of the church and cemetery)

Dixon, Jonas Springer, 16 Dec 1854 - 19 Apr 1916
Dixon, Nancy Jane (Crews), 19 Nov 1853 - 9 Mar 1886, 1st wife of Jonas
Dixon, Gustina (Crews), Oct 1864 - Apr 1946, 2nd wife of Jonas Springer
Dixon, Columbus Franklin, 5 Jan 1828 - 28 Jan 1901
Dixon, Sarah A., 7 May 1836 - 23 Jul 1889, wife of Columbus Franklin
Dixon, Hattie B., 10 Apr 1840 - 29 May 1915, 2nd wife of Columbus Franklin
Dixon, J. M., 1 Jun 1831 - 31 Mar 1884, brother of Columbus Franklin.

This is all that was listed in the cemetery book. It is possible that Frances Morrow Crews is buried in the cemetery, but doesn't have a marker, or else that marker wasn't copied.

Notes for MARCUS AUGUSTUS "GUS" CREWS:

The following information was provided by Mrs. Linda Fink - Researcher (of a lateral line).

This is the Crews info. that I have. All was taken from the article I mentioned before, submitted by Taylor Crews, to the Wayne County Tennessee Families 1817-1999 Vol. II history book.

"Marcus Augustus "Gus" Crews 1898-1969. "Gus" was a fourth generation descendant of Benjamin Crews and Mary (Clayton) Crews, who came from North Carolina to settle in Lawrence County, Tennessee, in early 1800s.

Gus's parents were George Washington Crews (1854-?) and Mary Fannie (Gresham) Crews (1862-1940). Gus's grandparents were Sidney Crews and Mary Ann (Ponds) Crews.

Gus's siblings were: Emma, Lena (married Bill Shelton), Sidney Lonzo (married Minnie Bailey), Thomas Marchel (married Alice Staggs), John Wesley (married Rose Staggs), Annie and Will Crews.

This family grew up on Brush Creek in the northwest corner of Lawrence County. Gus's father, George, worked the furnaces at Allens Creek in Lewis County. He died in early 1900s and is buried at his home place on Brush Creek. Gus's mother, Fannie, later came to Waynesboro where she died in 1940 and is buried at Walnut Grove Cemetery.

Gus's first marriage (facts unknown) produced three children: Charles, Lois and Willie Mae. Gus's second marriage was to Myrtle Lucille (Brown) Crews (1912-1982), daughter of Zachary Taylor Brown (1871-1960) and Stella (Melton) Brown (1887-1927). Lucille's father worked for the railroad as a section hand at Schubert/Riverside/Allens Creek in Lewis County and later for the railroad at Wrigley, Tennessee, in Hickman County. Lucille's mother, Stella, died in 1927 and is buried at Wrigley. Lucille's father later came to Waynesboro and lived with Gus and Lucille for a time, where he died in 1960 and is buried at Walnut Grove Cemetery.

Gus worked for Packard Motor Company in Detroit during World War II. After the war he returned to Waynesboro and worked as a brick and block mason. Gus also worked on the Natchez Trace Parkway as a concrete finisher.

Lucille worked as a clerk for the Ben Franklin Store and Anderson's Drug Store. She also worked as a cook for various restaurants, Wayne County High School and Wayne County Hospital in Waynesboro. Gus and Lucille are buried at Wayne County Memory Gardens.

Gus and Lucille have two children: Dorothy Jeanette (1935) and George Taylor (1938). Dorothy married Bobby W. Gobbell. They have a son, Steve, who married Kerry White. They have two sons: Eric Wayne and Ethan Marcus Gobbell.

Taylor Crews married Christine Martin (divorced). They have three children: James Taylor (1955-1978), Debora Diane (1958) and Gary Keith Crews (1967). James is buried at Wayne County Memory Gardens. Debora married Jerry P. Garland. They have two children: Crystal and Jeremy Garland. Keith married Tracey Peterson.
