Mabe Family Book, by Virginia Mabe King and Gerogia Maria Mabe Thomas

William Mabe was born in Bristow, Herefordshire, England about 1690. He came to America as a bonded passenger in 1720. William received a land grant of 204 acres on February 1, 1738 from King George II of Great Britain. The land was located in Hanover County, Virginia. In order to keep the land, William had to improve at least five acres per year.

William was married to Elizabeth from Cornwall, England. They had five sons: John, Charles, Robert, Phillip and William. Each of the five sons is mentioned in William's will which was probated in 1762. The will was actually dated December 13, 1756. William gave each of the sons forty acres of land.

John, the eldest, is listed as the seller in three separate land transactions between 1763 and 1771. Those transactions totaled 172 acres of the other original 204. The last sell included acreage and the plantation home. It is thought this land belonged to Charles because his signature was required for the transaction.

Not long after 1771, John and Robert (possibly Charles as well), left Virginia and settled in what is now Stokes County, NC. At the time the land was in Rowan or Surry County. Following the will, there is no mention of either William or Phillip.

- v. REUBIN MABE, b. 1798, Virginia; m. ANN NANCY GILLEY, January 04, 1821, Henry Co., Virginia; b. 1794, Virginia.

Notes for REUBIN MABE:

Reubin is assumed to be the son of Charles and Lydia because no other Mables were listed in the area at that time.

The 1840 Census in Henry County, Virginia:

Mabus, Reuben
000001-000001

In the Henry County, Virginia, 1850 Census record:

Mabis, Reubin (age 52) and Nancy (age 55), Sanford Carter (age 22) also listed as living with Reubin.

In these Census records, Reubin's last name is spelled Mabus and Mabis. No children are listed for the couple.
