Generation No. 1

1. ABSALOM HOOPER<sup>1</sup> (SR) was born Abt. 1740 in Edgefield District, South Carolina, and died August 25, 1813 in Davidson Co, Tenn. He married ELIZABETH HOLMES November 25, 1765 in Long Canes or Russell Creek Area of South Carolina<sup>1,2,3,4,5,6,7</sup>.

Notes for ABSALOM HOOPER (SR):

Was one of first settlers in Davidson County, Tenn.

Notes for ABSALOM (SR.) HOOPER:

The following is from Anne Goodwin

The father Absolum moved to the Natchez territory by 1774 at the VERY latest, and had wife and children there. (source: British West Florida land records). This father Absolum was involved in a murder there in 1774 and barely escaped hanging (although his brother Enos was hung in British West Florida for the incident-the source for this is the British governor's records of the West Florida colony). There are records again showing Absolum lived there in 1780. Absolum remained in the Natchez territory until 1783 when he moved from Natchez territory directly to Davidson County. This statement about the move is from family testimony given in 1830s and published in several standard histories of Tennessee written in the late 1820s to 1850s. There is also federal testimony in land claims made for the land owned in the Natchez territory (testimony dates 1804-1812).

Also, Absolum Hooper Sr of Nashville did, on a single deed in Davidson County, have a wife named Elizabeth. I have never found where the surname Wiley came from - have just seen the info repeated and repeated. There is circumstantial evidence that she was not a first wife, and that she may have even been a third wife, who already had children by her previous husband. I have a good candidate for her identification, but all evidence is circumstantial. Whatever, when I put up the web page for the 1850 Humphreys census, I will not mention her name as the mother of Absolum, Jr. or for any of his brothers. This is merely an alert to you that I am aware of the suggested identification of Elizabeth Wiley Hooper as the mother, but that I am unwilling to put that info into writing until more conclusive evidence appears.

Will of Absalom Hooper, deceased, of Davidson County made 15 Aug 1811, recorded 25 Aug 1813: Dau Hetty Jones ...money from James Stuart for keeping his children son Joseph Hooper ... man Isom, woman Mary Dau SINIA ALSTON ... $5 son Absalom Hooper ... 70 acres bought from Benjamin Nichols 7 Negroes, smith tools Dau Elizabeth Robertson ... cows, calves and cash from James Stewart son Nimrod Hooper ... 482 acres where Absalom now lives, 6 Negroes Hetty, Elizabeth, Absalom, Nimrod to share portion of estate of Joseph Holmes due to Absalom, Sr.; friend John Lucas, son Absalom to be executors.

Notes:

(1) The clerk copying this will made several errors. First, of course, is the misspelling of the name of the testator as Absalom Hooper. Nor was the clerk consistent, using Absalom, Absolam, Absalam, and the abbreviation Absm for the given name. The other problem is the first letter of the given name for Hetty Jones. The given name of Absalom Hooper's daughter was Letitia or Leticia, with nickname Letty. Her first marriage was to George Cook(e). After his death, she appears as Leaticia Cook, administratrix, with Absalom Hooper and Isom Allen Parker as her securities, on 11 July 1797. Davidson County, Tennessee marriage records show Aquilla Jones married Lettie Cooke on 16 April 1798.

(2) Davidson County records show that James Stuart married Sallie Hooper on 4 February 1797.

(3) On 25 November 1765, Absalom Hooper had married Elizabeth Holmes in the Long Canes or Russell Creek area of South Carolina. How Mrs. Elizabeth (Holmes) Hooper was related to Joseph Holmes has not yet been determined.

George H. Adams

George H. Adams answered to the last role call on Christmas Day, 1920 at the age of seventy-nine years. He was the son of Ichabod and Ann Hooper Adams, who moved from Humphrey's County Tennessee, to Texas in 1850. He was married to Miss Amanda V. Baugh, daughter of David Baugh, of Brown County Texas; in January 1862. Of their four children two sons, Sylvester and John Q. Adams, survive him.

Opportunity for acquiring an education was very meager, and the first work of George Adams was in herding cattle for his father. In 1858, when only about sixteen years of age, he joined Capt. John S. Ford's company of rangers, the youngest ranger in a command of one hundred men. In 1859 he returned to the ranch and assumed the life of a cowboy. Then in August 1862, he enlisted as a private in Capt. G. T. Riley's Company, Cook's Regiment of the Navy, Artillery, and served throughout the War. (The rest of article is torn off.)

No location is stated, but Calhoun then was a resident of what eventually became Abbeville District, South Carolina. Calhoun recorded about 30 marriages along with his ledger accounts. Calhoun was a justice of the peace during the period, so it is possible that his record indicates he had performed the marriage. source: "Journal of William Calhoun," in Publications of the Southern History Association, VIII:3 [May 1904] p 192. .
