Notes for JOHN ALONZO TOAL:

(Following notes obtained from documentation written by Carolyn Whitaker)

John was a machinist by trade, an inventor and innovator in the farm equipment business. He owned and operated Trumbull Implement Company for most of his adult life. He was never afraid of hard work and worked hard for all his life. Being orphaned at an early age instilled in him the importance of self-reliance and self=efficiency.

He tried to convey this to his children. He was somewhat handicapped in a sense, as he had to deal with poor eyesight since his early years.. He never let this hold him back from what he wanted to do with his life or his ability to succeed.
