

Descendants of John Hamilton

Generation No. 1

1. JOHN⁴ HAMILTON (NATHAN³, JOHN², JOHN¹ HAMBLETON)^{1,2,3,4,5,6,7} was born November 16, 1747 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., MA, and died December 18, 1814 in Champlain, NY. He married SARAH STONE^{8,9,10,11} March 29, 1770 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., MA¹², daughter of JOSEPH STONE and SARAH POTTER. She was born April 09, 1752 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., MA, and died May 20, 1833 in Champlain, NY.

Notes for JOHN HAMILTON:

A John Hamilton appears in the 1790 census in Hebron, Washington, Co., NY. However, a more likely match is the John "Hambleton" listed in Wells, VT in 1790, near Elias "Dewry". To be determined. A "John Hambleton" is listed as having sold his rights as a Revolutionary soldier to Bounty Land in Chazy to Wheeler Douglas in 1792. John appeared on the 1800 and 1810 Clinton Co. census records, living in Champlain. The Hamilton Estate was Refugee Lot 102, which includes the location of current Duda house and southwest portion of the Bullis farm, where his son Elias settled. He was a mortgager in Aug 1, 1799, with Benjamin Mooers, mortgagee. Hurd lists both John Hamilton and J. Hamilton (could this be son Joel?) as physicians who started their professions in Champlain.

3. LOVISA⁵ HAMILTON (JOHN⁴, NATHAN³, JOHN², JOHN¹ HAMBLETON)^{20,21,22} was born July 29, 1773 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., MA, and died May 19, 1846 in Champlain, NY. She married ELIAS DEWEY^{23,24,25,26,27,28,29,30,31} August 02, 1790, son of JOSEPH DEWEY and DEBORAH BUELL. He was born April 26, 1768 in Hebron, CT, and died January 11, 1854 in Champlain, NY.

Notes for LOVISA HAMILTON:

As trouble along the border increased during the War of 1812, Lovisa decided to seek a safer place for herself and the children. Taking sufficient gold in her saddle bags, she set out on horseback through the woods for the Malone settlement, about fifty-five miles west of Champlain. After two or three days, she arrived, and there she purchased a tract of land. Later, in 1823, Elias Dewey, Jr. settled there with his bride. Lovisa died of heart disease in 1846. She was buried in the Dewey Cemetery, just south of the Dewey Tavern almost across from the NCCS Jr./Sr. high school on Rte. 276. (I have been unable to locate the exact site.)

Notes for ELIAS DEWEY:

ELIAS DEWEY, son of Joseph, b. April 26, 1768, at Hebron, Conn.; d. Jan. 11, 1854, ag. 86, at Champlain, N. Y. An Elias Dewey lived in Montgomery Co., NY in 1790, per census data. However, a more likely match is the Elias "Dewey" in Wells, VT (about 6 mi. from Rupert), already married with one child in the 1791 VT census (neighbor of John "Hambleton"). To be determined. Unfortunately, a search of the VR for Vermont did not reveal any family data. An Elias Dewey is listed as a landholder in Willsborough, NY in 1796 (where son Elias Jr. was born). The 1850 census lists him as 83 years old, born in Connecticut (no other Elias of that age is listed in Dewey Genealogy). According to the Dewey Genealogy, he arrived from Wethersfield, CT in 1797/8, took up a large tract of land and became pioneer at Champlain, NY; felled trees to make a road for two miles from Rouses Point (now called Prospect Hill Road), where they erected a log cabin with a blanket for a door (until a better could be substituted), and commenced pioneer life, with its attendant hardships. The 1798 Tax Assessment showed, "Elias Dewey, 80 acres on the Highway adjoining James Deans Land. One Log house ($10)..." In abt. 1800, the rude log cabin was exchanged for a commodious 15 room public house. The original home is now a pig sty on the farm. This house, known as the Dewey Tavern (now owned by Louis Bedard), was the scene of great excitement, and of danger as well, during the War of 1812. It was in the path of many skirmishes, and both British and American officers quartered there during the war. Important war conferences were held there, including two for making prisoner-of-war treaties. More than half of the fourteen thousand British soldiers camped on the Dewey farm on their march to the Battle of Plattsburgh in September, 1814, and on their retreat, many of the wounded were brought here. The Dewey Tavern was on the direct road from Montreal to Albany (now Rte 276), and in 1815, a stage route was established from Montreal to Plattsburgh, with a stage coach stop at the Dewey place. The Deweys prospered as the Tavern prospered, and it was the favorite place sought for rest and refreshment by those who traveled the North Country. This house also later played a key role as a last stop on the Underground Railroad, harboring fugitive slaves on their way to Canada. The hidden passages and secret hiding places are still there today.

According to Hurd's History of Clinton Co., Oliver and Samantha Odell were members of the Second Baptist Church in Chazy in May 1845, which met in the stone church in Rouses Point until it broke up in 1846, having only 16 members at the time.

Notes for CYNTHIA DEWEY CORBIN:

She was a resident of Hemmingford when married. this is a guess that she is the daughter of Cynthia Dewey, especially since she seems much too old to be just getting married. Also, her father is listed as William, rather than Hosmer.

He laid out the road from Mason's Corner to Overton Corner and on into Canada (Rte. 276). He lived for a while on this road in Odelltown, the first three houses over the line; three Odell houses in a row -- three brothers. In September 1861, he bought the land his father and uncles had inherited from his grandfather for $200 each, but by 1870, he was living with his family in Champlain (next door to Silas Dewey). After his marriage to Susanna, they moved to the old Elias Hamilton house in Champlain, NY 1877, where their five children were born and raised. He is buried in Jackson cemetery, Odelltown PQ, with his first wife, Jane.

Notes for WILLIAM J. BULLIS:
Bullis Family Genealogy lists his year of birth as 1878, claiming that a James was born in 1874. Since James was probably William's middle name, these two are probably one and the same person. William was baptized (as James) in Rouses Point on May 31, 1874 (Godparents were John Nolan and Margaret McManns). Also, the 1880 census lists his birthplace as New York. Upon his mother Sarah's death in 1916, most of her real and personal estate were bequeathed to her daughter, Mary E., and son Emmet. According to Mabel Bullis, they moved for a short time to New Haven, CT during WWI, but then returned to Champlain. Will then bought out his siblings and acquired sole title to the 100 acre farm on May 5, 1920, transferred by Emmet F. Bullis, executor of the will of Sarah J. Bullis. He and Lucinda then moved there from across the road. By 1923, the farm was jointly owned by Will and Lucinda.
