Notes for William Henry Foote:

"One of the most classical heads in Cambridge is that of W.H.Foote, who has probably posed for paintings of more noted men than any person in this vicinity. He is in frequent demand by artists for reproduction and study. His pictures at photographers are often mistaken for those of Longfellow and Walt Whitman, and he is imagined to be a person of rare intellect. As a matter of fact he is not in any way remarkable, but is a simple, kindly man and a hard worker (as a cane chair seater)."

WWI- Enlisted 24 May 1918 at Worcester, MA, (entered into service at Ft. Slocum, NY), was a member of the Black Horse Troop in Battery A, 71st Field Artillery of 315th Cavalry.

Discharged at Ft. Knox, KY on 30 January 1919.

Re-enlisted 3 January 1923 at Chicago, IL and was discharged 2 January 1926 at Ft. Sheridan, IL.

The following is a statement he submitted to the Veterans Administration on 5 Nov. 1956 in support of his application for a pension:

"In June of 1918 I was attached to the 315th Cavalry, Troop A, under the command of a Captain Bailey. This unit was stationed at Fort E. A. Russell, Cheyenne, Wyoming, for the purpose of breaking horses to be used by the 71st Field Artillery of the 315th Cavalry. While engaged in this work a Private by the name of Case was killed by a certain horse. On the following day I was asked to continue the training of this horse. During this training I was thrown and trampled by the horse." (He claimed that the injuries sustained at this time contributed to his later medical problems, including cancer.)
