Marriage Notes for ALEXANDER BOWIE and SARAH CAMPBELL:
Bo'ness and Carriden.

The Burgh Town on the Point, or Borrowstouness, 'ness' derived from the French word, 'le nez' meaning nose. Bo'ness as it is known today was founded on a point which juts out into the River Forth. Coal was the first industry, and the monks from Holyrood Abbey are credited with hewing the first coal in Scotland here. Carriden 'Fort on the hill' to the east of Bo'ness was the first site, the monks were granted a tithe by William di Vipont to mine the coal on his estate. Roads at that time were virtually non-existent, giving Bo'ness a seaport from which coal could be transported down river to Leith and onwards to ports in Europe.

In 1707 the act of union enhanced the position of the port, British Navigation Laws stated that produce of British colonies were to be shipped through Great Britain, no matter where the final destination. Tobacco intended for Holland was landed at Port Glasgow and transported across land to Bo'ness to be exported. Bo'ness became the second largest port in Scotland, second only to Leith. With the victory of the American colonies, the re exporting of Tobacco was a big loss to the town, only the export of the coal helped to maintain the importance of the port.

Coal and Steam

Coal mining played an important part in the early history of the Bowie's, this would set the foundations for that side of the family who emigrated to the USA in the mid 1800's. Before 1799 most miners in Scotland were serfs, and the method of working in the pits had not changed for centuries. In 1762 it was established that a pit owner was entitled to move his colliers to any pit that had work for them and that they had no right to refuse to move, Colliers were treated like any other part of the mines equipment, in fact along with the Salters they were the only two who were still treated like slaves. There is a place in Bo'ness called Thirlstane Terrace, which reflects the long term suffering where many of the towns folk were thirled, i.e. tied or bound to their work, this applied to the wives and children of the colliers and salter. After about 1780 the only important innovation was the introduction of the steam engine to drain the water from the mines and sometimes lift the coal. Children were also used in the pit one ten year old boy described his job at New Craighall Colliery.

"I pump out the water in the under-bottom of the pit to keep the men's room dry. I am obliged to pump fast or the water would cover me. I had to run away a few weeks ago, as the water came up so fast that I could not pump at all, and the men obliged to gang, The water frequently covers my legs and those of the men when they sit to pick".

Death was no stranger to young and old, " Brother Robert was killed on the 21st January last: a piece of roof fell upon his head, and he died instantly. He was brought home, coffined and buried in Bo'ness Kirk-yard. No-one came to enquire how he was killed; they never do."

The Cadells of Cockenzie and a Dr Roebuck saw the advantage of setting up an Iron works on the banks of the river Carron, to the east of Bo'ness, this would supply the munitions for the armed forces who were fighting France (7 year war). Pits at the east end of Bo'ness were bought over by the Cadells and the pits at the west end were leased from the duke of Hamilton by Dr Roebuck. This provided the fuel for the new foundry which was opened with due ceremony on New Years morning 1759.

As the demand for coal forced the miners to dig deeper, keeping back the encroachment of the river Forth became a bigger problem. Roebuck sent for a steam engine, this failed, he then persuaded a young Greenock instrument maker, James Watt, who had been experimenting with steam engines, to come and work at Kineil. Watt's engine also failed, it was not until he moved to England to work with Mathew Bolton that engine was perfected.

This was the environment that Alexander, Sarah and their family were born into, given the area in which they stayed and the employment., Alexander was most likely a miner. They were born during the early years of the United Kingdom, the religion at that time was protestant, and it would be another 100 years before the influx of the Irish Catholics would bring back the Roman Catholicism to West Lothian.

King George II was on the throne and Alexander was in his mid teens when the last land battle was fought on British soil, between the Jacobites of Prince Charles Edward Stuart and Government troops, under the leadership of the King's son the duke of Cumberland at Culloden Moor on the 16th of April 1746. Culloden has been viewed as a struggle between the Scots and the English, this was a civil war in which in some cases brother fought brother, clan fought clan and catholic fought protestant. Bonnie Prince Charlie's army made it as far south as Derby, 127 miles from London, his followers were mainly Catholic and Episcopalian clans and the Campbells of Glen Lyon. On the 6th December 1745 after an argument on whether to continue or go back to Scotland, the Jacobite army made its way back north, the closest battle fought to Bo'ness was at Falkirk on the 17th January 1746, which the Prince's forces won, due to weather conditions the advantage was not exploited. One Bo'ness hero of this time was Colonel James Gardiner, immortalised by Sir Walter Scott as Edward Waverley's commanding officer, was born at Burnfoot, near Carriden, in 1687. He died at the battle of Prestopans in 1745.

By 1745 the clan system had started to change, some clan chiefs were becoming more interested in financial matters than in clan relationships, gone were the tacksmen, who often were directly related to the chief, agriculture and forestry were beginning to take their place. Defeat at Culloden accelerated what would have been a gradual social change and the effects would still be felt almost 200 years later.

Isabella age 25.

William age 1.

Isabella Bowie, Head, Wid, age55.

In the 1841 census Mary Bowie aged 65 is staying in Bridgeness village. Bridgeness was the site of the first large-scale commercial pottery in Scotland. Dr Roebuck after selling his interest in the Carron Ironworks, established the pottery in 1784. Roebuck felt that Bo'ness was well suited, it could provide local clay, plenty of coal to fire the clay in the kilns, and a workforce made up of miners wives and daughters. A separate harbour at Bridgeness was invaluable, providing a port for fire clay from Cornwall and Devon and other materials which were required from further afield. It also provided a safe form of transport for the finished products which would have been smashed on the rocky roads of Scotland.

William and Mary are the common ancestor for two branches of the Bowie family we will follow in this history. Did Alexander's wife Margaret Baxter and their daughters Janet and Margaret along with William's wife Mary and their daughters Jean, Janet and Margaret, spend any time working in the pottery? The produce of the pottery at first was rough compared to produce from the English potteries, after Roebuck's death (his descendants went on to found companies in other areas around the world, one company was the American Sears Roebuck of shopping catalogue fame.), a series of owners, especially James Marshall, greatly improved the quality, but the major market was the local mining communities in central Scotland.

Notes for ALEXANDER BOWIE:

From the Genealogy of William Bowie and his decendants.
By Elizabeth Johanna (Blockett) Bouge.

Born over David Downey's Bakery. Bo,ness.

PAONIA COLARADO, THURSDAY FEBRUARY 15. 1917.
ALEXANDER Bowie, VETERAN COAL EXPERT, LAYS DOWN LIFE' s
BURDAN ON SATURDAY.

Had a long and successful career from humble beginning to general management of large company which named town for him, built many enduring moments of his leadership.

A notable life was ended on Saturday afternoon, February tenth, when the spirit of Alexander Bowie took flight. Months of patient battle against illness had been his lot, and when the end came not unexpectedly he was comforted by the presence of his sons and daughters in whose association he so greatly delighted.

The funeral was held from his late home in the town, which bears his name, six miles east of Paonia, at twelve thirty Tuesday afternoon. Interment was by the side of his wife and their son, Dr. Morris Bowie, in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Paonia.

A profusion of magnificent floral offerings and the large attendance of friends from far and near were but two among the many testimonies to the keen sense of loss universally realised in the departure of this good man.

Coming to the North Fork valley in 1906 to assume the general management of the Junita Coal and Coke Company's Mine, Mr. Bowie entered with characteristic farsightedness upon a work which has proven to be one of the most important in the history of the country's development.

The Station Juanita, Reading Post-Office, had been the scene of operation on a modern scale of one of the best coal properties in the state of Colorado. Conditions largely beyond the control of the company had discouraged progress, and a less ambitious man would have scorned the unpromising few miner's cottages and humble office quarters which clustered among the hillside cedars about modestly equipped workings.

To those who look on, the transformation seems little short of magic. A great gravity tram soon eliminated the thousand-foot drop by winding road from the mine to railway.

A long inclined spur from the railroad's main line was constructed. New cottages sprung up to house the mine employees in comfort and cleanliness. A modern commodious office building was erected. From a commanding height there also arose the handsome residence of the general manager and his family. The finest in this part of the country. The town and postoffice were given the name of Bowie in his honour.

This was but a part of the building and developing program which Mr. Bowie had applied himself, perhaps too closely, from beginning. His administration of the local affairs of the company was successful from every standpoint.

Not the least important factor in his achievement was his human viewpoint and his high ideals of the welfare of those who laboured under his direction, coupled with these excellent traits was a fine public spiritedness which was invaluable to the growth of the surrounding country.

The towns of Somerset, Bowie, and Paonia were well nigh deserted during the hours devoted to the last rites over his mortal form. No better evidence of his importance to the commercial and social improvement of this district could be asked. Floral tributes in abundance were added testimony, as was the presence of many of his industrial associates.

Among those from a distance who came to do him honour were Dr. A.A.King, A. S. Booth, and W.H.

Douglas, of Pueblo, Who with the deceased his son Wallace D. constituted the board of directors of the Juanita Coal and Coke Company.

Mrs May Higgins, a daughter-in-law, came from Denver to be present at the funeral.

The services at the house and at the graveside were in charge of Rev- H- L. Murray, of Paonia. The pallbearers were F.G.Emery, W.L.Ernest, J.E.Nutting and Dr.A .A.King, all of Paonia with Mrs Lois Tuttle at the piano, Mrs. A.J. Cady sang appropriate solos.

Alexander Bowie was born on the 28, December 1845 at Barrowstounness, Linlithgow, Scotland. He came to the United States in 1867. On the 11th, of September 1868 he married Elizabeth Whinney. Eleven children came to bless their home.

William F. , Agnes B. , James W , Margaret, Anna, John S., Alex R., Dr. Morris and Walter preceded their parents to the Great Beyond. The wife and mother passed away on the 14th, July, 1915.

Mr Bowie began life in this country as a coal miner in Pennsylvania. In 1880 he came to Colorado, and since that year he has been engaged in the coal mining business in this state and New Mexico. From 1882 until 1886 he was in the employ of the Santa Fe Railroad as coal expert. Since 1886 he had been in business for himself and since 1906 he held the position of manager of the King Mine of the Juanita Coal and Coke Company at the town of Bowie.

During his busy life, he found time to be of public service, holding membership in the New Mexico State Legislature from 1900 to 1902. He is prominent in the circle of odd-fellowship, which order he joined in 1869 at Irwin Pennsylvania . He was Grand Secretary of the New Mexico State and Grand Master in 1904-

One admiration-compelling trait of the man was his strong love of home and children. It was his delight to have closely associated with him in the business management his sons, William, John, Wallace, Alex., and Edwin- During his brief but brilliant career, Dr- Morris Bowie was close to the home fireside, and daughter Agnes, has also remained in the parental home. The entire North Fork Valley joins the surviving members of his family in deploring his going and in cherishing the memories of a life filled with good deeds and crowned with success in the commercial world.

A Postcard he sent to his father dated August 4th read "Got parcel all right, very busy just now, will write later ,Kind regards from Ned"

Another postcard read "Just a P.C. to let you know tha t I am away from the North. The three of us left on Frida y and landed in Glasgow last night. Will likely be home o n Tuesday if nothing turns up. Ned. "(This card was postma rked Alexandria in Scotland and dated 1907)

A postcard dated 14th May was addressed to E. Allan, Croft engea Stables, Alexandria from C.S.? This suggests that Ne d worked with horses at Alexndria. In May1906 Ned writes t o his father that he has settled down well, had been t o a Bullock Show with four horses that he was looking after . A second card from this address was sent 5 Oct 1905, anot her 22 April, 1907 from his father. On Aug 9, 1906 he wrot e that he was going away and giving a new address, The Stab le, Rosehall, Invershin, Sutherlandshire.

He was called Ned, possibly because his father was Edward . He worked his passage to Aust. with Andrew Todd, his brot her-in-law. They landed at either Melbourne or Adelaide and walked and worked their way to Sydney. After about a year they were able to bring their families out from Dysart , a suburb of Kirkaldy.

Notes for KATHERINE CARTHAGE CUNNINGHAM:

First white baby born in this territory.

From Jim Benham (6May1999)

Information about Kathrine Carthage Cunningham. The second paragraph written by my mother.

Her middle name comes from the town in which she was born Carthage (Socorro Co.) is near US380, 27mi SE of Socorro. The Carthage coal mines were developed in 1880-85 and for economic reason later abandoned. Named by a U.S. Army officer for the ancient city of Carthage. Post office, 1883-93; 1906-51. From New Mexico Place Names.

Katherine Carthage Cunningham Benham was a remarkable woman. She was born July 9, 1882, and died June 26, 1964. Her father, Alexander Cunningham, died Nov. 9, 1882, which left her mother, Margaret Bowie Cunningham, to rear six children alone. While never easy, she managed by running a boarding house, and at times cooked for people who worked in and ran the mine. Kate was the youngest in the family and was always a good student. In the Scottish tradition at the time, it was considered a waste of time and energy to educate women, because they would just get married and (they thought) never make use of their education. However, she persevered, finished High School and went on to the University of New Mexico. She took a business course in High School and worked for awhile as bookkeeper for the General Store. She tried to borrow money to go to college, but was refused. So, without permission from anyone, she rode the train to Albuquerque, went to the University, and got a job that paid for her tuition as well as board and room. She became a teacher, and taught in New Mexico before she was married. In 1907-1908, she was paid $80.00 a month. After her three children were in school, she returned to teaching, sometimes in the Elementary School, and at times teaching Math in the High School. She was always an avid reader. She lost her only daughter at 15, but was able to see that both her boys finished college. Her love of learning has passed on to her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Succeeding generations owe a debt of gratitude to this strong-willed woman. (Written by Ethel Benham, 11 Dec 1989.)

Obituary of Katherine Benham from The Williams News, Williams, AZ, 2 July 1964.

Services Held for Mrs. Benham, Wms. Resident Since 1909 Funeral services were held Monday, June 29, for Mrs. Katherine Benham, 81, who died Friday evening at Williams Hospital. Services were at St. John's Episcopal Church with Rev. David Trimble of Prescott officiating. Interment was in the local cemetery. Mrs. Benham was born Katherine Cunningham, July 9, 1882, in Carthage, New Mexico, a community that no longer exists. A school teacher, she married Henry L. Benham in Gallup, New Mexico, in October of 1909. Mr. Benham, a Forest Service employee brought his bride to Williams and their first home was at Camp Clover. Later they established a homestead south of town, familiarly known as Benham ranch, location of many community gatherings for picnics and barbecues. In 1959 the Benhams observed their 50th wedding anniversary, and on this occasion recalled their early days in Williams. Mrs. Benham used to accompany her husband on Forest Service work as he patrolled a large district. They made the rounds horseback, and with pack mules, or sometimes in a spring wagon. In addition to teaching school in New Mexico, Mrs. Benham also taught at Fort Defiance, Anita, and Williams. She retired from this occupation in 1949. She had been a member of the Rebekah Lodge since 1902, and was also a member of Eastern Star. Many out of town people were here for the services, and IOOF and Rebekah Lodge members came from Prescott, Wickenburg, Winslow and Flagstaff to pay their respects. Mrs. Benham is survived by her husband Henry of Williams; two sons, Henry Jr., of Williams and James E. of Northridge, Calif.; seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Pall bearers were Clarke Cole, Carl Cureton, Si Gresham, Charles Way, J. C. Fain and Raymond Cox. Gibbs Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Notes for HENRY LAURENS BENHAM:

Mr. H.L. Benham Old Timer at Williams.

There, s hardly a creek or crevice, spring of bluff in williams area that isn t known to H.L. Benham, who helped map the country back in 1909 when he was a yo ung forest service employee.

He helped Will C. Barnes, Arizona Historian, by furnishing information for "Ari zona place Names."

Benham, 83 was born in Indiana, but was raised in Cincinnati . He headed west in 1900, coming first to New Mexico. until 1906 he punched cat tle for Barnes in Raton, New Mexico, area. In 1907 he went to work for the fore st service. In 1909 he was sent to Williams. It was then he and his coworker, Wi llard Sevier, really got to know the country. Their ranger district covered 14 , townships, and they rode horseback, and packed in to every corner of it mapping and recording canyons, mountains, trails, and springs .

Our pay was $75.00 a month and we had to feed our own horses, he said. Durin g fire season one of us would ride to the top of Bill williams Mountain and sca n the country side for fires. If we saw smoke, we'd ride back down, and try to l ocate the fire from what we'd seen on top of the mountain. We did'nt have instr uments and look- out towers in those days. 'We did,nt have many fires either, h e continued. " In those days men realized the danger of fires and were very car eful"

In october 1909 he took time off to go to New Mexico to marry his sweetheart M iss. Katherine Cunningham, of Albuquerque. Their first home was the ranger stat ion at Camp Clover, west of -Williams. In those days it was only a log cabin.

Benham stayed with the forest service until 1912 when he homesteaded a place i n the lush meadows and tall timber country about four miles south of Williams . In 1918 he went to work for the Santa Fe with intention of helping out for t he winter.

He retired 30-years later. In 1948, after being every thing from Call boy to relief agent.

When stockmen left the high country during the winter they aLways left their ra nch houses open, he said, One rancher, Benham remembers, had a sigh over the door, "Feed your horse, feed yourself, feed the cat, and out, enough wood for the next fellow." Benham is a lover of horses and recalls a favorite saddle horse " Buck" who lived to be 36-years old.

Among his most prized possessions is a tiny glass gold rimmed salt dish that w as used at the 50th wedding Anniversary reception of his Grandparents, in Cinci nnatti. in 1890. He also has a hardback notebook, containing the genealogy of the Sibley family, his mother's branch. The book, compiled in 1858 by Edward Sibley is a history of the Sibley family from the time they came to this country from England in 1640. The Benham ranch is a refuge for wild turkey, elk, deer and sometimes bear. The Benhams spend many summer evenings observing the animals that come in close to the house. The ranch is a haven for people who like to get into the country. Benham has constructed picnic tables and benches and permits organizations to use them for gatherings. He's known as barbecue chief in this area and has been preparing barbecues for more than 45 years. He has been a member of the Elks Lodge for 43 years. Although he loves to talk about Arizona as it used to be, Benham is tuned to the present. Active and agile, he took his grandson deer hunting last week. The Benhams observed their 53rd wedding anniversary last month. They have two sons, Henry Jr., of Williams and James of Northridge, Calif.; eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Obituary of Henry Laurens Benham from The Williams News, Williams, AZ, 25 October 1973.

Funeral services for Henry L. Benham, 94, well known and respected rancher, railroader, and forest ranger, will be Friday, October 26, at Community Methodist Church at 2. p.m. Burial will be in Williams cemetery. Mr. Benham died Oct. 22 at Yavapai Community Hospital in Prescott where he had been a patient since June. He was a native of Indiana, but spent his childhood and early youth in Cincinnati. He headed west in 1900, settling first in New Mexico where he worked as a cowboy for Will C. Barnes. Barnes later authored the book "Arizona Place Names," and Benham assisted Barnes in identifying many area landmarks. In 1907 Mr. Benham went to work for the Forest Service. He helped with prairie dog control programs in Colorado and was sent to Arizona in 1909. It was also in 1909 that he married Katherine C. Cunningham, whom he had met previously in New Mexico. Their first home was at Camp Clover ranger station west of Williams, where they lived in a log cabin. Benham's ranger district at this time covered 14 townships, and he worked with a partner Willard Sevier. They rode horseback and packed into every part of their district, mapping and recording canyons, mountains, creeks and springs. The pay was $75 a month and the men had to feed their own horses. In 1912 Benham homesteaded a place about four miles south of Williams. In 1918 he went to work for Santa Fe Railroad. "Just to help out through the winter," he remarked once. His "helping out" stretched to 30 years, and he retired from Santa Fe in 1948 after serving as everything "from call boy to relief agent." Mr. Benham's wife taught school here for several years. The Benhams were active in fraternal and church affairs, and for many years the annual St. John's Episcopal church July 4 barbecue was held at Benham ranch. The family constructed a picnic and recreation area, and many organizations and families held outings there during the summer months. The Benhams were active in IOOF and Rebekah lodge, and several years ago Mr. Benham received a 50 year membership pin from the IOOF lodge. Even in advanced age, Mr. Benham had a young outlook, and kept active -- going deer hunting with his grandsons when he was well past the age when most men are taking things easy. He always had a garden, worked many hours gathering and cutting firewood, and in general retained the life-long habits of a pioneer. His wife died in 1964 and a son James died in 1971. The Benhams' only daughter died as a result of an accident when she was a teenager. Mr. Benham is survived by a son Henry L. Benham of Williams; seven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. Walker Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Friends may call at Walker chapel between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. tonight (Thursday).

From Jim Benham (6 May 1999.)

Notes for DAVID TODD:

His ashes were scattered in the rose garden.. His death certificate has many errors, date of death should be 20th Jan. , 1962, Place of Birth should be Rutherglen, Scotland and the maiden name of mother should be Hambleton, not Hamilton.

He came from Scotland to Australia in 1912? . Little known about childhood but he spent some time at Springwood where his father and mother kept house and grounds for Samuel Horden, a very rich business man with large stores in Sydney . Prior to marriage possibly lived for time with sister Grace at Rockdale. Mostly employed as grocer (In fact Todds in Kirkcaldy were grocers so it was the family trade) at several stores at Arncliffe. During the depression worked at anything he could find, carting wheat was one job, making bird cages which he sold door to door another job.

. David joined the Australian Imperial Forces in 1941 as a Sapper, NX 48712 in the Eastern Command Engineers Training Depot. He enlisted at Paddington, NSW on 4th October 1941, however he was discharged as being medically unfit for service because of cartilage problems with his knees. This discharge took effect on 26th November, 1941 after serving 54 days.

After short time as sawyer at Roseberry, then joined David Jones Grocery and at time of death was Grocery Buyer and held liquor license for Market Street store. A man who found it difficult to relax, he had little time for anything but work. He left Olive about 1954 or '55 and bought house at Garnet Street, South Granville where he lived until his death with Beatrice ?.

Addicted to APC powders which probably contributed to Eumecia (cause of death) .

Notes for OLIVE ELLEN SCHMUTTER:

Olive was educated probably at Arncliffe where she lived at 24 Denison Street until her marriage. employed in late teens NSW Government Railway Kiosk Stalls. Worked several times at Royal Easter Show, Sydney selling sample bags. David and Olive resided Heber Street, Hurstville in 1929 when they were first married that they owned but lost in depression. They they rented a home in Lorraine Avenue, Arncliffe and in 1932 took on a fruit & vegetable business in Fifth Street, Arncliffe. This failed when son Leslie contracted diphtheria and this made customers stay away in droves. Next they rented 83 Fairview Street Arncliffe, then rented 11 Tower Street, Arncliffe and Princes Highway, Rockdale . Rented 111 Station Street, Arncliffe, and then bought this house. Lived there 20+ years, and it was sold at David's death.

Housewife since married until after separation when she worked as retail salesperson at Farmers (Sydney) where she met Bill Dunlop (1955) and he lived with her till her death at which time he continued to live at 209 Old Northern Road , Castle Hill. Her health appeared generally good until later years when blood pressure and heart became troublesome . Cancer of bowel diagnosed May 1985, surgically removed July 1985 and after this rapid deterioration in health with heart attacks till death from heart attack on 8/3/1987. Olive was the type of person who would be friends with all, She hated any upsets and never caused any argument, she would rather run a mile than disagree with anyone. Resided 46 Dobson Crescent, Baulkham Hills, 1962;-1970 'Teramby Court ' Nelson Bay 15 Dural Street Hornsby 209 Old Northern Road , Castle Hill.

MORRIS A. BOWIE, 90, RETIRED PHYSICIAN

Morris Alexander Bowie, 90, of Swarthmore, a retired physician and specialist in arthritis and diabetes, died of pneumonia Feb. 1 at Crozer- Chester Medical Center.

A graduate of Harvard Medical School, Dr. Bowie practiced medicine in Bryn Mawr for 54 years and also was on the staff at Bryn Mawr Hospital and taught at the Graduate School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

He began research in arthritis in 1930 while a fellow at University of Pennsylvania Hospital, where he also was a teaching assistant.

Two years later, he joined the staff at Bryn Mawr Hospital. He continued his work in arthritis there and also began years of research in diabetes and founded the hospital's diabetic clinic.

Dr. Bowie also co-wrote eight editions of the Textbook on Arthritis, which is used worldwide, said his daughter, Margo Bowie Hunt.

He was born in Gallup, N.M., where his father, a government Indian agent, was working with Zuni Indians. At age 6, he moved with his family to Bowie, Colo., which was named after his grandfather.

There he attended a two-room schoolhouse and became interested in medicine. An uncle, a physician, took him on medical rounds in a horse and buggy.

In an interview in 1985, Dr. Bowie said, "My job was to be patient and inquisitive. I was quite impressed. I was a young boy, but I made up my mind then that I wanted to be like he was."

Later, he worked in his grandfather's coal mine during the summers while doing his undergraduate work at the University of Colorado.

In 1929, he graduated cum laude from Harvard Medical School, and the following year interned at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston.

At Harvard Medical School, while studying under Nobel Prize winner William P. Murphy, he started working in the field of pernicious anemia, a disease in which the red blood cells decrease in numbers but increase in size.

Dr. Bowie's concoction of beefsteak and domestic liver extract resulted in the remission of the disease.

Dr. Bowie served in the Army from 1943 to 1946 during World War II. He was chief of medicine at a hospital in the Philippines.

After his discharge from the military, in 1946, he was named director of student health at Swarthmore College and was instrumental in creating the college's infirmary.

He retired from Swarthmore in 1972, but continued his private practice in Bryn Mawr and his association with Bryn Mawr Hospital until 1983 at age 80.

In 1985, Bryn Mawr Hospital honored him with its distinguished service award. At the same ceremony, he was honored by the Pennsylvania Medical Society and the Arthritis Foundation.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by his wife of 65 years, Helen Childers Bowie; two other children, Stuart and Janet Bowie; a sister; eight grandchildren, and a great-grandson.

A funeral will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, Harvard Avenue, Swarthmore. Burial will be private.

Memorial contributions may be sent to Dr. Morris Alexander Bowie Memorial Fund, Swarthmore College, Development Office, 500 College Ave., Swarthmore, Pa. 19081.

She was a Bank Clerk before her marriage, and continued on after marriage supporting them both while Ian took a year off work to build their house at McKinley Place, Baulkham Hills.

Later they moved into a larger house in Crane Road at Castle Hill, and lastly to Brunette Drive also in Castle Hill where Jan died. She was a beautiful child, she modeled for knitting books as a child. A natural redhead with a sunny smile she had many friends. A very religious person, spent a lot of time with church activities. She was always willing to help, a very happy person who always put others first. A great mother to her three boys. Jan died due to breast cancer.
