1. MATTHEW<sup>1</sup> LYLE was born 1748 in Mounthill, Ireland, and died Aft. 1812 in Georgia or Camden, SC. He married JENNET ROBERTSON in St. George's Parish, Camden Co., GA.

Notes for MATTHEW LYLE:

After the Revolutionary War, he returned to Ireland where JOHN and his youngest son David, were born.

Quote from LYLE FAMILY book by Oscar K. Lyle, Page 357:

Matthew Lyle, born at Mounthill, near Larne, Ireland. Came to South Carolina about 1785. He went back to Ireland in 1791 when his youngest son, David, was born. Returned to South Carolina 1794. Lived Georgetown, and later Camden, where he died. Issue 5: Mary, who married a Stewart and lived in Charleston; Matthew, Robertson, John and David. The son David married ....."
END QUOTE (Note: Discrepancy in place of death. One source says he died in Georgia.)

Other information about MATTHEW LYLE:(Source 12)

: "Matthew Lyle, came to Georgia in 1768 and settled in what is now Jefferson County, Georgia. He was an officer with the local militia under the British when the Revolutionary War began and he refused to take the rebel oath and was placed in Prison in Savannah, Georgia. He broke jail and went to Florida and fought with the Queen's Rangers until the British captured Savannah. He then returned to Georgia and was commissioned a Lieutenant Colonel. He was captured and again imprisoned in Charleston, South Carolina. He broke out of that Jail, went back to Florida and eventually back to Ireland.(Note: No record of Queen's rangers in Florida. May have been East Florida Rangers.)

Because he was a Loyalist, his lands were confiscated in Georgia. He did return and settled in South Carolina. Some of his sons did move to Alabama, Mississippi and on to Texas."

The Colonial Records of Georgia, Proceedings and Minutes of the Governor and Council from January 6, 1767 to December 5, 1769, Page 697,"GEORGIA At a Council held in the Council Chamber at Savannah on Monday the 20th February 1769--

On Reading a petition of Noble Wimberly Jones, Lachlan McGillivray, John Mullryne, John Smyth and Alexander Wyly Esq nominated and appointed to carry into Execution an Act of the last General Assembly for settling a Township on the Branches of Great Ogechee River on Lands some time since reserved for that purpose It is Ordered that the following Tracts, out of the said reserve, be Surveyed and laid out to the several persons herunder Mentioned and that the Surveyer General do issue his Precept or Precepts for that purpose, and that Grants do pass to them for their Several Tracts Accordingly- That is to say -
To MATTHEW LYLE.....one hundred Acres"

"For two months after the British reoccupation of Augusta, the backcountry was politically calm. Oaths of allegiance were accepted from Loyalist as well as former Whigs who desired to return to THE King's protection, and the loyal militia was reactivated to assist Brown's royal provincials in maintaining law and order. James Grierson was restored to command of the Augusta Regiment of Militia, MATHEW LYLE WAS ENTRUSTED WITH THE SAME POSITION IN ST. GEORGE'S PARISH. "

(Article indicates Augusta was unfortified throughout the summer of 1780 and by the end of the summer the errors in Cornwallis' thinking would become clear--especially to the men who wore the green and crimson of THE KING'S RANGERS. This precedes the above paragraph and might indicate the MATTHEW LYLE was in the King's Rangers not Queen's Rangers.)

Notes for WILLIAM JOHNNY LYLE:

W. J. Lyle is buried at Bryce Hospital Cemetery, grave No. 9890, Tuscaloosa AL. In November of 1905, He was traveling to Winston Co., Ala. probably from Morrow, GA. to visit his son Ed Lyle and Nanny Lou. While on the train he suffered a stroke and could not communicate. He had no identification on him and the railroad people took him to Bryce Hospital.

The file from Bryce Hospital (copy in hand) has a letter from R. M. Lyle identifying himself as Bill Lyles brother. No address is given for R. M. Lyle.

After he did not arrive at Ed's, they inquired of the railroad and they said there was a man of W. J.'s description on a train several weeks before and was eventually taken to Bryce Hospital.

He worked for the railroad, probably before 1895. According to a journal written by McCullough, William was "trying to get back on the railroad". He also ran a tavern in Barnesville and worked as a day laborer in the period from 1895 to 1900.
