

Descendants of David Armstrong

Generation No. 1

1. DAVID¹ ARMSTRONG was born Abt. 1765 in County Antrim, Ireland, and died Abt. 1857 in Broughshane, Ireland. He married JENNIE ARMSTRONG Abt. 1804 in County Antrim, Ireland. She was born Abt. 1784, and died 1880 in Clough, Ireland.

Notes for DAVID ARMSTRONG:

David Armstrong was born probably in 1765 in County Antrim, Ireland. That was a long time ago but a granddaughter has a very clear recollection of him. He and Jennie Armstrong were married when he was about 40 years old. Even though they had the same last name they were not related or closely related at least. They grew up on adjoining or closely located farms in County Antrim. They made their home near Ballymena on a farm they owned after they were married. Their ancestors had come from England or more probably Scotland.

They lived a life of aristocratic country people. Each of them was a good manager, intelligent, and in every way successful. He was over six feet tall, large frame and fair complexion.

They had five children named in order of their birth, Charles, Margaret, James, David (not sure of that name) who died in his teens, and Nancy who also died in her teens.

They owned what was then regarded as a large amount of property and each of their children was given valuable property about the time of their marriage. They gave James the farm on which he made his home at the time of his marriage, five or six miles north from Ballymena and about the same time they also gave James a sheep farm which was about a mile from his home. Some years later they gave him more property. The sheep farm was rocky hills covered with heather and on it James kept three hundred sheep and hundreds of geese.

He died at the age of 92, probably in 1857, while they were living with their son James in Ballymena.

- v. NANCY ARMSTRONG, b. Abt. 1828.

Generation No. 2

2. JAMES² ARMSTRONG (DAVID¹) was born Abt. 1821 in County Antrim, Ireland, and died Mar 20, 1886 in Walker, IA. He married MARY ANN MC COSH 1843 in County Antrim, Ireland, daughter of DAVID MC COSH and ??? ???. She was born Sep 1821 in Atrim, Ireland, and died Mar 10, 1900 in Walker, IA.

Notes for JAMES ARMSTRONG:

James was brought up on a farm in Northern Ireland, where they lived the life of aristocratic country people.

Each of the children in the family was given valuable property about the time of their marriage.

James was given the farm on which he made his home at the time of his marriage, five or six miles north from Ballymena and about the same time they also gave him a sheep farm which was about a mile from his home. Some years later they gave him more property. The sheep farm was rocky hills covered with heather and on it James kept three hundred sheep and hundreds of geese.

James was an extraordinarily handsome man, a sensitive, high spirited, golden blonde, with curly hair and blue eyes. He was about five feet nine inches tall, a dashing, brilliant man. A favorite of fortune except that nature had withheld from him a gift possessed by both his parents, his brother and sister and the girl he chose for his wife. James did not have the instinct to manage the practical business affairs of life. He could not hold the fortune his parents gave him. He spent freely and could not devote himself to careful steady effort along business lines.

The Armstrong family was among the most fortunate people in Ireland, leaving out of consideration the small number of landlords with extensive land and holdings. They had achieved their comfort and success in life; they already had there a way of life which millions of other people sought to gain by sailing for the new world. When James and Mary Ann McCosh married, life in Ireland was the only thought in their minds. For a quarter of a century after their marriage they continued to live in County Antrim and their eight children were all born there.

James and his wife and six children landed in Portland, Maine in March of 1868. David their second child and only son had come to America on the same ship just previous to the voyage of the rest of the family, with the exception of Jane Ann who was already married and stayed in County Antrim.

James died at Walker, Iowa on March 20, 1886 and a copy of a letter from his daughter Elizabeth to her brother David telling him of their father's death follows.

Dear Brother and Sister;

You must be prepared to receive horrible news that we all have to bear--father is dead--died by his own hand as it were. On last Wednesday morning Matt (Margaret's husband) was going up to Independence on the train and he went to Walker on foot, and left him busy doing chores. Ma and Mag both say that he was as pleasant as could be and done up all the work and once as he went out of the house he said if I don't come back they could do something, now I don't know what but they did not think anything about it for you know he is always saying such things and they thought he was going to James Orr's, but he went as far as the rail road and there waited for the train to come. When the train was within 30 feet of him he crawled on his hands and knees and laid his poor old gray head on the rail and it was severed from the body. Oh! horrible the thought that our father passed into eternity thus. A natural death seems easy to bear as compared with one like this. Matt telephoned down here and to Mary but did not telegraph to you or Annie as you would not have had time to get here. We all went up on Thursday and he was buried in Walker cemetery. The funeral services were in the M.E. church by their minister. Everyone was very kind and sympathetic. Ah it is at such a trying time that we know whom to call friend. Nothing was found as a clue to the sad deed only a letter written to Jim Orr in June 18, 1884 addressed and sealed in his trunk. That was about the time that Matt and him had the trouble and I firmly believe that he had made up his mind to terminate his life then. The letter stated that those to blame for all his troubles were W.J., Mary and Matt. And right after those names there was a piece cut out and we think there were more names following. He said that he freely exonerated Ma from all blame. All was laid on his family and the Lord know if anyone of his family ever injured him only in taking her part if that could be called an injury. There had been no hard word previous to the awful deed that I know of. Ma was up there at the time. We buried him as reverently as though he had always been our kind father. Ah, yes, it is finished at last and may the Lord be merciful to his poore soul is my prayer. His remains were dressed in Walker and put in the coffin and then taken to Maggie's. Oh! what a sad end for one who might have been a man among men had it not been for that accursed fiend drink. I don't know whether any of the other girls are going to write or not but I thought I would anyhow and Sarah is going to write to Annie. Love to all from Lizzie

Notes for MARY ANN MC COSH:

Mary Ann was raised by her father and step-mother. That the family had wealth is shown by the fact that at the time of her marriage they gave Mary Ann one thousand sovereigns. At the prices then prevailing in Ireland that was far more wealth than is represented by five thousand dollars in the mid 1900's.

Mary Ann was a quite, gentle, efficient and reasonable lay, beloved by everyone. She was five feet six inches tall, with hazel eyes and black hair.

Obituary: From Walker, Iowa.

Mrs. Mary Ann Armstrong, after a short illness, passed from life Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs M. McAllen. The news of her death came as a sorrowful surprise, it was not having been generally known that her condition was serious.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church by the pastor, J. C. Orth, who spoke from the words, "Arise ye and depart, for this is not your rest". A large congregation assembled to pay their respects to the memory of the departed and to offer their sympathy to the mourning friends. Internment was made in the Walker cemetery besides the remains of her husband.

Mrs. Armstrong, whose Maiden name was Mary Ann Mc Cook, was the mother for Mrs. M McAllen, Mrs. A. B. Swan, Mrs Lizzie Fine and Miss Sarah Armstrong, of this place. She was born in the county, Atrim, Ireland, September, 1822, and died in Walker, Iowa, Saturday, March 10, 1900, at the age of 78 years and 6 months.

In 1843 she was married to James Armstrong, with whom she came to America, in 1868, settling in Buchanan County, in Iowa. Eight children were born to them, of whom six, five daughters and one son, survive. Her husband died in March 1886, after which time she made her home with her children.

Mrs. Armstrong was a faithful and loyal follower of the meek and lowly Jesus, ever anxious to show her faith by deeds of kindness and love. Early in life she gave herself to Christ, uniting with the Presbyterian church, of which organization she was a faithful and consistent member up to the time of her death.

Surely a mother in Israel has been called from among us. While we no longer see her cheerful face among us, and although we shall miss her, we comfort her loved ones with the blessed hope and assurance that she has gone to her reward.

4. DAVID F.³ ARMSTRONG (*JAMES*², *DAVID*¹) was born Mar 14, 1846 in Country Antrim, Ireland - near Ballymena, and died Oct 07, 1902 in Ponca, Dixon Co., NE. He married JANE ELIZABETH BROWN Dec 26, 1871 in Andrew, IA, daughter of WILLIAM BROWN and NANCY STEWART. She was born Apr 22, 1851 in Moquoketa, Jackson Co., IA, and died Apr 30, 1933 in Ponca, Dixon Co., NE.

Notes for DAVID F. ARMSTRONG:

Growing up on the family farm in County Antrim, Ireland; David lived a life of aristocracy but left that life to come to America landing in Portland, Maine probably in 1867. He came as a sole member of his family but on the next trip of the same ship his parents and sisters, except Jane Ann, followed to make their home in Iowa.

After meeting Jane Elizabeth Brown who was born in Moquoketa, Iowa (Jackson Co), they were married in Andrew, Iowa in December of 1871. David drove through to Ponca with a team of horses in 1876 and latter met Jane and the two older children in Sioux City, Iowa.

They located first on the Todd farm on Aowa Creek. Their next move was to a farm owned by Dennis Hurley, on South Creek. Where they lived about seven years. In 1855, they moved to a farm on Silver Creek, where they built the Brick house, which stood for about 100 years. They lived in the new barn until their brick House was finished. They moved into the new house in August just before John was born. In June there was a terrific wind storm which move the barn off the foundation of blocks.

Elizabeth was born on the Todd place, Charles, George and Howard were born on the Hurley place, southeast of the Catholic Church on South Creek. John, Dean, Mabel, Floyd and Albert were born in the brick house.

William James and Mary Ann died of diphtheria just nine days apart.

Mr Armstong died October 7, 1902, and Mrs Armstrong lived on the farm until 1916, and after that she made her home with her sister Nancy Brown Dudley and her daughter Elizabeth until she died.

The pall bears were Gerald, Sterling, Carl, Vernon, and Harold, all grandsons.

Both Mr and Mrs Armstong were buried in the Ponca Cemetery.

She married FRED ALBERT RUSSELL Apr 30, 1902 in Ponca - at the Armstong Farm, Dixon Co., NE, son of FRANK RUSSELL and MARY MC CLEARY. He was born Feb 12, 1877 in Wausa, NE, and died Sep 12, 1929 in Kearney, NE.

Notes for JENNIE ELIZABETH ARMSTRONG:

Born on the 'Todd' place, Lizzie as she was called by almost all who knew her, attended the rural school system on Silver Creek and then in Ponca. She taught school before she was married, then left that profession to serve her husband, Fred and her children. As a farmer's wife she was a busy lady. After Fred passed away she continued to live on the Russell farm, or the farm given her by her parents 1 1/2 miles west and 1 mile south of there. She lived with her sons and their families. When living with Merle and Ruby she had a bedroom/kitchen apartment in the east end of the house. She later took a position of rural telephone operator in the central office 1/4 mile east of the Russell farm, remaining there until about 1948/49 when she moved into a little house on Lower Street, in Ponca. She lived there until a fall on September 23, 1963 resulted in a broken hip and prompted here to move into the Elms Health Care Center. She was not able to walk from that time on. She was fearful that she might fall again, as her balance was not good, as many in her family are afflicted. Regardless of her inability to walk, she was still able to smile and remained her cheerful self. She suffered a stroke and passed away in a Sioux City hospital. She was buried in Silver Ridge Cemetery after funeral services at Salem Lutheran Church, in Ponca.

Notes for FRED ALBERT RUSSELL:

Lived at: Ponca, NE

Fred Russell, known as 'Jimmie' by some was an ambitious man, starting out on his own on 80 acres. In 1913 they purchased the farm where they were still living when he passed away. He was a man about 5 feet 10 inches tall with dark brown hair and blue eyes. In 1925 he and Lizzie spent the winter in California when he began to notice excessive tiredness. Following that his health continued to fail resulting in his death due to tuberculosis. He passed away in a Kearney, Nebraska sanitarium which he entered on his way home from visiting his sister and her family at Condon, Oregon. He had looked forward to that trip for some time, and he seemed to really enjoy it as they drove slowly through the western states. He was accompanied by Lizzie and their daughter, Emma, who did much of the driving.

He was buried in Silver Ridge Cemetery after services at the Central Methodist Church, 10 miles west of Ponca.

Notes for BURT VANESS GROSVENOR:

Bert and Mabel's Life - By Helen Carey

Bert (BV) was born November 28, 1882, to Catherine and Horace Grosvenor, on the Grosvenor farm in Daily Township, Dixon Co, Nebraska. He attended school Dist. 48, the Sandhills school. He also had some schooling at Wayne State Teacher's College.

Besides farming, Bert freighted goods in South Dakota with a team and wagon. He homesteaded in Colorado. He was an avid baseball fan and enjoyed playing the game. He liked to visit, not only with friends, but with strangers, as well. He played the violin and on occasion played for house dances.

Sarah Mabel Armstrong was born July 10, 1889 to Jane Eliza and David F. Armstrong, on a farm in Silvercreek Township, Dixon Co., Nebraska. She attended school in Dixon Co., and later attended Wayne State Teacher's College, following which she taught school for 5 years. She played the organ.

Burt and Mabel were married on the Fred Russell farm on June 11, 1913 by Rev. J. J. Kemper. Nine children were born to this couple; Helen, Verbon, Robert, Dale, Alice, Harold and triplets; Darrel, Dorothy and Doris who died in infancy.

A favorite pastime was traveling. With Mr. and Mrs Ray Fleury and Mr. and Mrs. Marty Geeting. They spent several winters in Florida and Texas. After Helen was married the frequently visited her and Tom in Utah and California.

Burt and Mabel lived on the family farm until he retired in 1939. He experienced farming methods that progressed from horse drawn implements to gasoline-powered tractors. After Vernon was married Burt and Mabel lived briefly in Mabel's home place before moving to Ponca.

Mabel helped Burt in the field. She cultivated, helped pick corn, put up hay and many other things that farmers do. Transient help assisted during corn picking time. During the 1930's Bill Carson was a long time regular hired hand. Mabel experienced the transition of the old corn cob burning cook stove to a modern electric stove-from the old cistern pump and outdoor "privy" to indoor plumbing, from the original kerosene lamp to the "Aladdin". to modern electricity. Refrigeration in their early days consisted of cutting blocks of ice from rivers or streams and storing in an ice house which consisted of a hole in the ground with Roof. The ice blocks were packed in straw or sawdust and later used in an ice box in the house. Cyclone caves were used to store dairy products.

Burt and Mabel attended the Methodist Church and Mabel was presented a 50 year pin, She belonged to WSCS and the Daily Guild and held offices in both organizations. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary made eligible from the wartime service of 3 sons, Robert and Dale in World War II and Harold in the Korean Conflict. Mabel was a resident of Elms Health Care Center from 1975 until her death on February 13, 1985.

Burt died in a Sioux City hospital October 28, 1967. Both are buried in the Daily Cemetery, Newcastle, Nebraska.

15. DAVID FRANKLIN⁵ RUSSELL (*JENNIE ELIZABETH*⁴ ARMSTRONG, *DAVID F.*³, *JAMES*², *DAVID*¹) was born Sep 07, 1903 in Ponca, Dixon Co., NE, and died Sep 07, 1965 in Sioux City, Woodbury Co., IA. He married LAVONA BERNICE FORCE Nov 07, 1925 in South Sioux City, Dakota Co., NE, daughter of RAY FORCE and EMMA BRUNDIGE. She was born Mar 06, 1903 in Plymouth, IN, and died Jan 29, 1977 in Sioux City, Woodbury Co., IA.

Notes for DAVID FRANKLIN RUSSELL:

Lived at: 1925 - Ponca, NE; - 1945 Silver Creek; 1945 - 1948 Sioux City, IA; 1948 - 1964 Allen (Martinsburg), NE; 1964 - Ponca, NE

David was born 7 1/2 miles west and 1/2 mile north of Ponca. He attended the Silver Creek Rural school. He helped his father farm until he rented a farm from Jane Armstrong, his grandmother, and started his own career. At some point in time he picked up the nickname "Jim".

David was about as good natured and even tempered man as you might know; he had a ready smile and enjoyed a good laugh about things or people and even on himself. He was loved by his own family dearly, his in-laws admired and respected him and his neighbors considered him a friend. He was always willing to take time help someone else and opened his home, purse and talents to those who could use them. He could also do a days work without looking as if he had done a lick. Others could work alongside him and end up dirty as can be, but he remained neat and clean looking, even in bib overalls.

He enjoyed kids, playing with them, talking with them, telling them tall tales and razzing them. They all seemed to learn quickly that they could wrap him around their little finger. He raised four wonderful kids of his own.

In 1925 he married Lavona Force, a school teacher, and they continued living in the same place for several years. The then moved to a farm near Leads, Iowa, where they lived for a few years. Then they moved back to Ponca and he drove an "Express Truck" for Sioux City to surrounding Nebraska towns. He continued with this for a couple of years until they bought a farm near Dixon. They lived there until he was forced by ill health to retire, whereupon they moved back to Ponca, into the Force family home.

In 1965, he succumbed to emphysema after an agonizing battle with the disease. He died in the Lutheran Hospital, in Sioux City, IA, on his 62nd birthday. Funeral services were held in the Salem Lutheran Church, in Ponca, with internment at Silver Ridge Cemetery, west of Ponca.

FARM Invitation

Written by Pat Russell

Dear Blanche: While having my mid-morning coffee this morning, I was reading Kitchen Nuggets. See you are all in need of letters again. My hubby and my children were so delighted to see how much I cared for them, that I have decided to write another. A tribute to someone else who was very dear to me: My father-in-law.

He was an amazing sort of man. He never was in "Who's Who" or had his name in light, but he was remembered kindly by all who knew him. He did not have much wealth, but he gave freely of himself.

If our children had not known their grandfather, they would have missed a very important part of their lives.

We lived in the city when the children were growing up and Granddad lived on a farm. When Friday night came, they all hoped Granddad would come to town, because it always meant an invitation to the farm.

Whenever the old pickup would start, all three of them would dash outside, knowing Granddad was probably going to town for feed and when you went to town with Granddad you always got the biggest chocolate malt that the town had to offer. The money for the malts might have been borrowed from Grandma's egg money. But no matter!

I can't remember a time that Granddad was too busy to take all of them with him.

Granddad died the year our oldest son graduated from high school. He had suffered from emphysema for many years but never complained or was never too tired to sit up and visit 'till midnight.

Our oldest boy felt very badly that Granddad wasn't there to share his graduation. As our children have married and had their own children, each special event in their lives, the comment is always made, "Sure wish Granddad could have been here." Few people radiated such warmth as he did.

He never told me that he loved me but I knew that he did and I'm sure he knew that there was a special place in my heart for him, too.

Signed: THE LUCKY AMERICAN

Notes for LAVONA BERNICE FORCE:

Lavona moved to Ponca, with her parents as a small child. She graduated from Ponca High School and attended Wayne State Teachers College. She taught school for several years and was teaching Junior High at Sunnyside School when she and David were married. She was wonderfully efficient and at the same time, a pleasant and cordial woman, keeping a home not just a house. They raised basically two families with almost ten years between the two sets of children. Her home-made bread, rolls and pies were a neighborhood delicacy, enjoyed by family and friends. She was able to nurse David as his health subsided. She stayed on in their home in Ponca after the shock of losing her husband and mother within 3 days of each other. She lived alone until her failing health caused her to move to the Elms Health Care Center, in Ponca. Her illness was diagnosed as cancer of the bone. Doctors gave her approximately three years to live she was not one to complain even when others knew she was in pain. She helped so many of the other patients and encouraged them to make the most of their time and ability. She spent her last four weeks in the Saint Vincent Hospital in Sioux City, IA; Four and one half years after her illness had been diagnosed. She was buried in Silver Ridge Cemetery next to her loving husband. Services were held at the Salem Lutheran Church in Ponca.

- iii. DANIEL KEITH DICKEY, b. Jun 19, 1944, Ponca, NE; d. Sep 09, 1972, Silver Ridge.

Notes for DANIEL KEITH DICKEY:
An explosion that was heard from at least four and a half miles away obliterated a farm house and killed it only occupant six miles south of Newcastle shortly before 10 P.M. Saturday night, according to Newcastle fire officials.

The dead man was identified as Daniel Keith Dickey, 28, of Newcastle. The farm was owned by his grandfather, George Armstong of Ponca.

Dickey had just returned from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs Sam Dickey, Sr., when the explosion occurred, according to the fire officials. Newcastle Fire Chief Bob Juhlim speculated that Dickey had perhaps come home, stepped up on his porch, flipped a light switch which ignited propane gas fumes in the house. Dickey's home had all gas appliances.

"All four walls were blown out of the house," Juhlim stated, "and pieces of the roof flew every direction under the sun." Glass and other particles of the home were found 300 feet from the battered foundation of the home. Large hunks of the foundation were blown 75 to 100 feet away from the home, Chief Juhlin added.

Dickey's body was found under the north wall of the structure, with his boots showing through a window, Chief Juhlim said. Dickey apparently died from the concussion of the blast, with it thought to have knocked him about 30 feet. When the side of house toppled, his body was under an upstairs window.

"Every part of the house except for the north and east walls and part of the west wall burned completely. The house was almost level when we got there," Chief Juhlim stated.

Dickey's watch was found Sunday morning and had stopped at 9:42. Juhlim stated the "We got the call about 10:20 or 10:25. Fire fighting equipment was called out from Ponca, Martinsburg, and Newcastle to investigate the incident.

Drapes from the house were thrown across a fence 50 yards from the house. The extent of the blast indicated in that the phone book cover was found in the farm yard.

"The house was complete total loss," Juhlim stated. The seven or eight room, two story structure and all its contents were demolished by the blast, but the fire was small that followed. "We used little a little water to keep it from spreading." Juhlim stated, "but there was no real danger of that."

The state fire marshal was called to the scene Monday morning to determine more specifically what had started the blast. Fire officials had no way of knowing for sure if the blast could have started without Dickey's help.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickey Sr. of Newcastle; Two brothers Richard of Memphis, Tenn., and Sam Jr. of Papillion; a sister, Mrs. David (Janet) Manz of Warrensburg, Mo.; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong of Ponca.

Sterling S. "Stub" Armstrong, 81, of Sioux City, died Monday Dec 23, 1996, following a brief illness. Patrolman Sterling "Stub" Armstrong, a 27 year veteran of the Sioux City Police Department, has retired from the Police Force.

His retirement becomes effective June 1, although his last working day was last Friday.

Patrolman Armstrong joined the force April 15, 1943. Since that time he has worked in nearly all departments. For the last 2 1/2 years he has been the jailer on the 7 am to 3 PM shift. Immediately before that he worked a beat for 1 1/2 years. Armstrong has worked all three shifts during his 27 years with the police department.

Armstrong's retirement breaks up one of the two father-son teams on the police department. His son, Patrolman Paul Armstrong, works the 3 to 11 PM shift with the youth Bureau.

Armstrong and his wife, Lola, have three other children and 12 grandchildren. The Armstrongs live at 1824 W. Sixth Street.

One of the incidents of police work which stands out in his memory happened during the 1952 flood. "I rowed people out of the Springdale area during the flood. Then the next day I went back and took out the bodies of 12 people from the same area who refused to leave their homes."

Notes for RONALD CLARENCE ARMSTRONG:

As remembered by Jane:

The strongest memory of my father, Ronald, is the he is one of the most "HONEST" man I have ever known. Integrity and fairness must have been a trait from the Armstrongs because it is found in every fiber of my fathers being, so is stubbornness.

By Ron

I worked on the Farm, drove trucks, worked at packing house in Sioux City, also worked at Lockheed Aircraft for 1 year, Laborer at shipyards in Wilmington. Later as a welder, welding shops on Signal Hill, CA. As a welding contractor for 13 years. As an independent welding contractor for Chevron Oil Co., for 19 years. Also drove dump trucks for 2-3 years, service stations both full and part time.

Memories by Ron:

One of my 1st memories of me and Stub is riding the buckskin pony to school, maybe because mom had a picture of us, and Stub would tell me what a good rider I was because I could carry both dinner buckets and not fall off. {He would have banded me along side the head and told me to carry them anyway.} I was a little over 4 years old and Stub was an old man just over 9. It was 2 miles to school, can you hear the violins playing in the background.

Some years later Stub was ragging me over something or other and then he rode off on the horse and would circle around and ride past me, so on one of the passes I picked up a dirt clod to throw at him and I lead him too much and hit old Flory in the eye and knocked it out, of course I hated it, but even more so after Dad chewed me out and as he often said he "talked to me by hand" one of few times he ever did.

Stub could really ride the horse and she was sure footed. A year or two later Stub, Dad and Fat Kayl were in the field cutting and shocking the oat harvest. I was still in bed and the barn caught on fire and Flory was in the barn so she burned with it. It was really hot up around the house and I think the chicken house burned down also.

It was quite a treat for me to watch the new barn being built, my introduction to construction work, which would eventually occupy a lot of my working years.

Some years later, Dad bought me and Evelyn an old horse to ride, he was so old his teeth were band and his breath would knock you down, any way me and Evelyn were riding him up to Uncle George's and he staggered and fell over in the ditch along side of the road and died on the spot. It would of been easier to walk there in the first place.

Speaking of easier, me and Evelyn were at home and Dad and Mom were both gone somewhere, not together probably, they were going to clean the School House, for the upcoming year and we could pick up some serious cash, maybe 25 cents an hour. Instead of walking there we were going to start up the Model T Ford, that Dad had won from a neighbor in a poker game, valued at about $10. It was hard to start so we would pull it up to the top of the hill with one horse and a single tree, let it roll down, nothing happened so we would repeat the process, for the biggest part of the morning, anyway we never did get it started and missed a big payday.

I also remember Dad bringing home a new car, a 1926 four door sedan made by Dodge Brothers. I think the dealers name was Bert Laub. It had a weird gear shift pattern, different than G.M. or Ford. Also had an electrical system by Northwestern or North East anyway, the starter and the generator were all in one unit and the battery was an Exide and lasted for 4 years, which was very unusual and dad wouldn't let anyone forget it. The wheels were steel rims with wooden spokes and needed to be put in the horse tank if they dried out too much. Just like a wagon or buggy wheel.

Apparently Dad was doing quite well in the 20s and early 30s, I know that he bought a 25 Model T that belonged to one of the bankers in Ponca, one of the Kingsburys, for Stub to drive to High School in Newcastle, which was 8 miles from the Brick House.

At that time Grandmother Jane Armstrong, was living with us. She was a wonderful straight laced dignified lady that could make the best homemade bread in the world, at least my world. Mom could make good bread also. Those house keepers, in those days, really were something else, made their own bread, soap, canned meat, vegetables, made pickles, dried corn, churned butter, made jams and jellies, tomato preserves and did it on an old cast iron range that took a lot of attention for fuel, ashes and temperature control, also kept the reservoir full of water so the men would have warm to wash with. And in their spare time could do the laundry on the wash board, after carrying the water and heating it in a double boiler, made of copper, of course they could usually tell the older kids to carry it for them and keep the fire in the range going.

Most farmhouses in the 30's had a reservoir that had been dug out and then lined with brick and gutters installed on the eaves to catch rain water and stored until needed. It then was pumped by a hand pump to the kitchen and made good softwater to wash dishes or heat on the range for the bath tub, a galvanized tub about ankle deep and 30 inches or so around.

I can remember Mom had a way of canning corn in regular tin cans. She put the corn in the cans raw and then sealed the lids, by means of a hand cranked mechanism then the cans were placed in a boiler of water and cooked.

The corn was dried by removing the raw kernels from the cobs then placed on a sheet and dried in the sun. When she was ready to cook it she placed it in water and soaked it and after it puffed up it was put in a pot and boiled. Also she used "Mason" jars much the same as the cans. Fruits and vegetables was done much the same way.

Every spring chicken eggs were placed in an incubator, made of wood and heated with a kerosene heater and had to maintain a certain temperature. The eggs were marked with an X on 1 side and an O on the other side and were rolled every day for 21 days, if they were not the chicks were hatched deformed. The chicks were placed next to a sheet metal hood, heated by a kerosene heater. Also they needed to be fed and watered daily. With the hope of having fried chicken the 4th of July. Also, new potatoes and peas from the garden, later in the season. Previous to that they depended on setting hens to hatch the chicks and later bought the chicks from commercial hatcheries.

Just imagine no electricity, gas, air conditioning, heating, running water, bathroom and not the best of transportation, not to mention bathtub, toilet or the things we take for granted. And how much better off they were than the homesteaders that preceded them, living in a sod house on a treeless plain using buffalo chips for fuel. I think they must have bought coal and hauled it home. There was a bin set aside for coal in the cob house. Corn cobs were used as fuel in the cook stove. Also at one time I think there was a "dray" service and delivered coal, lumber, groceries, etc. started with horse drawn vehicles and evolved to trucks, that is as long as time were good. I know at one time there was 2 or 3 stables in Ponca and as many black-smith shops, also in Newcastle.

There is still a black smith shop in Ponca that is very interesting, also an old brick house next door that still has the proper furnishings and furniture, and typical kitchen of the era.

One of the first things the pioneers did was to plant trees and wood lots so they would have a source of firewood. They also recognized the need for education and established school districts so no one would have more than two miles to a school, and about 8 miles to at least 10 grades of school, the 9th and 10th grades were in a separate room from the 1st to 8th grades. Each school with 1 or 2 rooms also included a "path". (boys and girls).

Churches were also built about 6-8 miles apart, to cut down on the buggy time I suppose. There was a Methodist church on the hill about a mile west of the brick house, as well as a Parsonage, buggy house and small barn. I remember going to church there and Elmer and Stella Taylor and Lloyd and June Smith singing in the Choir, quite well thank you. Mail routes also were started so nobody had to go more than a half mile to their box as near as I can figure.

The Armstrong family, Fred Russell and Elija Jones, purchased a thrash machine with was used on a rotating basis. G.G. used his tractor, a Model D John Deere, and he and "Lige" Jones tended the machine. Also a corn sheller at one time, which was used by all. I can say the thrashing was a social as well as hard work and the ladies tried to outdo each other with the meals they fed us men and boys, and the girls helped the women.

Stub was was an avid hunter and when on the farm and also later in life. He had an old pump action 22 caliber rifle that he had worn out and it wouldn't eject the casing. A 12 gauge shotgun with a 36 inch barrel, a Long Tom model that was full choke. It kicked like a mule, single shot, that I've seen him jump a bunch of Pheasants shoot one as they took off, reload and get a second one way out there. Also, Dad had a 25-35 rifle that we carried in case we saw a coyote. Stub put a lot of meat on the table a couple of winters when we needed it. We used the 22 to shoot rabbits and squirrels, never ate too many squirrels and they looked too much like a cat, and when they were skinned there was not much meat on them anyway. Ammunition was a problem, not too much cash in hand during the dirty 30's.

I have unpleasant memories of one winter that was rough, can't remember having a whole lot to eat, but mulberries and rhubarb, that had been canned the summer before and had been mixed and canned together and at one time Dad, Stub, and I would play cards to see who would do any certain chore that needed to be done, like get a bucket of water, milk the cows, feed and bed the horses or what ever needed to be done. So I learned to play the hard way, and done a lot of chores. Also got warm twice when the wood for the fire was gone out. Getting the crosscut saw and cut it, which could be an experience with Stub accusing me of "riding the saw" on my backstroke, and getting warm again when we burned it. One winter we were burning ear corn out of the crib and I asked Dad why he didn't sell the corn and buy coal and he told me corn was about 10 cents a bushel so it was easier to just burn the corn.

Of course, no refrigeration they used to dam up the creek in the fall and let it fill with water. then the next winter after it had froze, they would then chip a hole and then had ice saws to cut it into blocks, a 2 or 3 family operation. If there was enough snow on the ground they used bob sleds to haul it to the ice house, on each farm. An ice house was made by digging a hole in the ground and building a roof over it with real short side walls. The hole about 6-8 ft. deep. They lined the bottom with sawdust, which was hauled from a saw mill in town usually just worked up cottonwood trees and didn't make a real good lumber. It warped and was not real straight - but cheap. Good lumber had to be shipped in, by rail, to Ponca or Newcastle. Then they wrestled ice cakes a layer at a time, then covered with sawdust and caulked between the cakes till the ice house was full and covered the top layer with sawdust. The next summer dug it out as needed to cool ice tea or make real ice cream with lots of calories, but nobody cared or knew the difference.

Stub, Fat Kayle and I made a trip to Ponca once in the Model T Pickup and Kayl talked Stub into letting him drive and of course Kayl didn't quite make one turn, run through the ditch and fence, and they had me riding in the bed of the truck, the battery cover had shook off the box and I was trying to put it back on when we left the road, but nobody was hurt. Of course we all had our seat belts on, Ha-Ha, We had went after sawdust.

Everyone butchered a hog or beef late in the fall, which took a lot of doing. Heating a lot of water and rigging up a means of hoisting the hog in and out of barrel of hot water then scraping off the hair, hoisting him again and removing the entrails. We took the fresh liver for supper. Then put him on the kitchen table and cut it up after hanging over night. Of course one of the upstairs bedroom was used for "chilling" purposes and with the windows open served as a refrigerator. Usually a freezer all winter.

Also, used the ice in wooden ice box, carry in the ice and catch the melting water in a pan which had to be emptied. Later years they hauled the ice in trucks from Crystal Lake, near South Sioux City.

The home made soap was made by using the lard scraped off the pig skins or most any kind of animal fat. I remember them sitting the boiler on bricks and then put a file under it and mixing the fat and Lewis lye, which was extremely caustic, and because it was, doing it outside.

Dad was a good horseman, one of the Kniefels from Newcastle told me he had some the best buggy horses in the country. Speaking of horses Uncle George bought a railroad car of wild horses from western Nebraska, came on the R.R. to Ponca. The horses were driven "Cowboy style" and put one the 80 acre pasture of sweat clover and then he took his choice and broke them and used them to farm with, also sold most of them to neighbors. Dad had a big black team the weighed over 1500 lbs and several other good horses. He used the horse (male) to break a lot of the broncos, for him the relatives and neighbors, of course the 3 brothers and a brother-in-law and several nephews, most of which were relatives. I can remember going with Dad down to Dave Russells to break a horse, as a spectator, they hitched her with old Prince and she threw herself in a good time. They couldn't get her up so they decided to tie her down and go to lunch, which was a good idea at Lavona's house. When we came back the mare was gone, so they taught her a good lesson!

The men in the family didn't have it easy by any means. They had to be able to handle horses and all types of crude farming machinery.

When plowing horses were hitched as a team on a walking plow, as a trio or a "sulky" and on a "gang" plow with either a 3 or 4 abreast and a lead team in front with all the lines to control the horses and eveners so each horse pulled the same weight. Also they relied on vocal commands for control. Each horse was named and they recognized their names when called or shouted. It was quite embarrassing to shout "WHOA" at a tractor later instead of disengaging the clutch.

The men had to be a jack of all trades such as keeping the harnesses repaired. Also had to be amateur and practical veterinarian to take care of the horse's sore shoulders, cattle, hogs and animals of all kinds from birth to maturity and or death.

They also had to provide for shelter and feed, water, bedding and to clean up after them. Some farms had running water, those who were fortunate to have the well on a hill or at least the reservoir higher than the farm buildings as they depended on gravity to transport it.

They also used the windmill, if there was no wind, it was pumped by hand or by a gasoline engine. Of course the wind blows in Nebraska all the time. Fred Russell had the tools to "pull" a well if the rods went bad or the leathers in the cylinder failed. Everyone in the neighborhood borrowed them when needed, thanks to his generosity. After his death, Merle or David Russell, did the same thing when living on the "home" place.

So this old man has seen a lot of changes, from driving horses to flying in airplanes. As a member of a crew in less than 80 years to seeing a man on the moon and on and on -----.

Guess that is enough for this time ----- Ron

Jim graduated from Ponca High School and went into the Army. He met Pauline "Pat" and married and lived on the Sioux City Air Base when their first child was born. Jim tried his hand at farming for seven years; he rented a farm from Lyle Strohm but that was not his destiny.

They moved back to Sioux City and he was employed at the Grayhound Bus Company, starting as a ticket agent. He advanced to a Dispatched Roadman and District Manager. He took a transfer to Cheyenne and then came back to Sioux City before they sent him back to Cheyenne to finish his days with the company there. When Grayhound franchised their depots Jim was the first one to take his own there in Cheyenne. The garage, ticket office and restaurant were his responsibility until his retirement. This was a 24 hour a day, 7 day a week operation. Retirement has been spent running bus tours for senior citizens, usually about 24 trips a year; the longest ones are 14 days, many are 1 day trips.

Jim's tall stature, a little over 6 feet was topped with carrot colored hair, set off by his blue eyes and winning smile. He was a delight to sit and talk with for he always remembered stories he had been told and could relay experiences that kept you laughing and waiting for the next one.

Jim is a devoted family man who delights in his children. He has earned their respect and devotion by his caring and loving ways.

Notes for SUSAN LORRAINE GROSVENOR:

Susan Grosvenor of Phoenix, Ariz., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grosvenor, is currently a member of United States Parachute Ass'n, The Arizona Parachute Council, and Vice-President of the High Riders Skydivers Club.

Susan made her first jump on Sept. 19, 1971. Since then she made 56 jumps. Two of these were night jumps, and three were competition jumps.

The lowest altitude at which she jumped was 2500 feet, the highest, 10,500 feet, and longest delay jump, 50 seconds. Susan says her two greatest thrills have been a "dead center" and a three-man hook up. The dead center jump was on her 50th jump, when she hit a 4-inch disk (target) with one foot. The three man hook up was on her 51st jump, when three were holding hands in a free fall.

Susan says "I can't begin to describe how really neat a sport Sky Diving is. Right now, I am still a novice jumper, but I am looking forward to doing a lot more".

Notes for CHRISTENA KAY REED:

Christena, a young athletic gal that was a fantastic mother. She had a short bout with cancer leaving her bedfast most of the time. She said her only regret was, "she would not see her children grow up." Her children would have made her proud.

She worked with Agnes and Howard, foster children of Jim and Pat, on a gymnastic routine that took them to the State Special Olympics. Howard was so confident he had won that when they announced his class he was out of his seat and half way to the stage when they announced the winner -- sure enough he was right.

Notes for ELIZABETH RUBY RUSSELL:

"We selected her names based on our strong commitment to family history. We named her "Elizabeth" after Jenny Elizabeth, after my middle name, and after the fact that my mother was born and raised in Elizabeth, New Jersey. we selected this name 5 years ago, when we first began trying to have a child. Another ironic point is that it turns out my father's birth mother and HER mother had Elizabeth as THEIR middle name. that's 4 generations of Elizabeths descending from my father's line. Of course, "Ruby" is after Tom's mom and grandmother. I joke that we named her after my sister's cat "Ruby" but that is pure joke.
