Prior to 1621 there was a ghetto reserved for French Jews. In 1621 it was leveled at the order of King Louis XIII. Joseph studied in Saintes and perhaps Bordeaux. This prepared him for taking over his father's job as a Property Manager and Tax Collector. He had a good job as manager of the land at Les Gonds Manor. She was born 1645 in Church St, Germaine, L'Auxerrois, Paris, France, and died October 24, 1715 in L'Islet.

Notes for ETIENNE JULLINEAU-GELLINEAU:

Etienne was raised by his maternal grandparents along with his siblings after the death of their mother. Grandfather Morrison was a Master Carpenter and he taught his grandson the trade. The village of St. Eutrope where they were raised was a place where artisans worked and Jews lived. Etienne was also a 'sargier', a maker and merchant of serge fabric.

Etienne was an educated lad, raised in a certain amount of comfort due to his father's position at Les Gonds Manor. On May 11, 1658, Etienne and son, Jean, went to the home of Sieur Arnaud Pere (the Jew, Aaron Perez) who was a merchant, a ship owner and an agent for Pierre Boucher, the Governor of Trois Rivieres. There he signed a contract for 36 months with a Mr. Boucher calling for an annual salary to father and son of 108 livres (pounds sterling). The contract called for Etienne and Jean to live in the house owned by Squire Boucher, Sier of Grosbois, and to serve him for 3 consecutive years, make a profit for him, and obey him in all matters lawful and reasonable. The contract was signed by Etienne Gellineau and it stated that they were to be fervent Catholics. At this time in Saintonge, the Protestants were in power and it was a regime of terror. This is the probable motivation for Etienne to emigrate. He and Jean left La Rochelle on the ship "Le Taureau" in May 1658. The voyage took approximately 2 months. During their first two years in the new world they endured numerous Iroquois Indian attacks. On March 17, 1661 we find them at Cap-de-la-Madeleine. In 1662 Etienne decided to stay at Cap-de-la-Madeleine and was granted one acre of land from the Jesuits. Three years later he received a second grant, 280 additional acres which included some river-front property. From this grant, they had to annually remit as payment, 2 bushels of wheat, 1 capon and 2 cents.

The census of 1666 lists Etienne and Jean living in Trois Rivieres. In 1667 he made a new home at Pointe-au-Trembles (Neuville).

Notes for HUGUETTE ROBERT:

Huegette was the daughter of a prosperous bourgeois Huguenot family from Saintes. The family consisted of royal officers, officers of Finance and Judges. The head of the family was a Banker, Samuel Robert (a Marrane).

Etienne kept the name Gelineau, Jean and his offspring used Gelinas. In 1678, 10 years after their marriage, Jean and Françoise left Cap-de-la-Madeleine with their five children and settled across the river in Becancour where they had purchased some land. They remained there for nearly 40 years. In 1681 the census showed Jean owning 6 head of cattle, 1 gun and working 4 arpents of land. In 1717, Jean, then 71 yrs. and Françoise, 66 yrs., decided to sell their Becancour property to their son-in-law, Pierre Rocheleau, husband to their daughter, Anne. Then they did something most unusual. They divided their property in half. Half was given to their daughter, Anne and the other half was given to their son, Etienne. Then they separated with Françoise living with Anne and Jean living with Etienne.

After a painful journey up the Grande-Riviere in loaded canoes, the Gelinas brothers, Etienne, Jean Baptiste and Pierre, settled at Petite-Riviere in late 1704 as feudatories of Jean-Baptiste Lesieur-Desaulniers, son of Charles Lesieur, founder of the parish of Yamachiche. Jean Baptiste then adopted the surname Bellemare, Etienne kept the Gelinas name and Pierre adopted the surname Lacourse. The three brothers are considered to be one of the founding families of the present day town of Yamachiche.

The children of Etienne and Marguerite are the ancestors of all those who have the name Gelinas as a surname. She was born October 28, 1866 in Armagh, P.Q., Canada, and died July 17, 1945 in Bennington, Bennington, VT, USA.

Notes for PAUL-MARCELIN BELLEMARE:

Marcelin was one of the best known and respected French Canadians in Bennington. For the major part of his active years he was an expert contractor and builder, having previously been in the lumber business. His contracting work showed excellence.

He was of a retiring nature, devoted to family and a devout member of the Catholic Church

It was in July, 1880, according to the family of Marcellin Bellemare, that early one morning he hitched up his horse and buggy and traveled to Albany, N.Y., to bring back the Reverend Joseph Brouillet to say Mass for the French people. This first Mass, celebrated in the home of Leon LaMarre, on School Street, with 50 people present, marked the unofficial beginning of the parish of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. For the next four months he came occasionally to minister to the spiritual needs of the people. [Sacred Heart Parish; the First 100 Years]

Notes for CATHERINE DEMERISE LACROIX:

Demerise LaCroix came to the United States at the age of 14. With the exception of 10 years spent in Glastenbury, the balance of her life was spent in Bennington, VT.

Approximately 1890 the first mass was celebrated for the French colony by Bishop DeGoesbriand. She was a devout person with a genial personality and a youthful spirit. She had an independent nature and maintained a home on her own till the end of her life.
