Was born near Brushy Gap Schoolhouse on the South Leon River in Comanche County, Texas.

Moved to McCulloch County, Texas, in 1891.

In search of good range land and good water, Matthew and Emma loaded wagons with nine children, a meat box, a few chickens and all their other belongings. With a couple of cows and saddle horses following behind, they made their way up through the country as far as Fisher Co. then turned southward. They settled for a while near, Mukewater, Brown Co., in 1890 when their son Samuel was born in July.

Matt bought land in McCulloch Co. just across the Colorado river from where they were. He and the boys cleared land and planted cotton the first year. They built a house with two fire places and 2 shed rooms with a hall and porches on the east and west. Lumber was hauled from Brownwood by wagon and mules.

In 1912 Matt built a new six room house with a porch all the way around the house. Lumber was hauled from Coleman by wagon and team. They moved in the house Thanksgiving Day 1912.

Matthew Claiborne Smith died 15 Sept. 1932 at his home after a battle with cancer. He is buried in the family cemetery on the ranch.

Sarah Elizabeth Emmaline (Stirman) Smith died 14 Dec. 1940, also at home, and buried beside her husband in the family cemetery.

They had seventeen children; raised twelve to be grown. Benjiman Frank Smith served in Europe in WWI.

Revolutionary War Pension Application of Joel Smith
State of Tennessee

White County

On this 9th day of April 1833 Personally appeared in open Court before the Justices of the County of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for said county Joel Smith, a resident citizen of the State and county aforesaid, age about Seventy three years, who being first duly sworn according to Law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provission of the Act Of Congress proposed June of 1832. That he intered the service of the United States under the following named Officers and served herein as stated. He intered the service to the best of his recollection in the autumn of the year 1750, but is not positively certain as to the date. He went out and served three months as a substitue in the Comapany commanded by Captain Richard Sweptson of Mecklenburg County in the State of Virginia where this Declarant then lived. He cannot recollect the name of the individual for whom he substituted. He states he was a stranger to him and the only fact he recollects distinctly about it is that he got one hundred dollars in Continental money for going the campaign. Captain Swepston's Comapany constituted part of the Regiment commanded by Co. Mumford. From Mecklenburg the Regiment to which he belonged marched to Portsmouth near Norfolk where the troops remained the whole three months for which he engaged. The object he states of the troops remaining at Portsmouth was this, there were in sight of them two British Ships of war lying in Hampton Roads and it was deemed a matter of importance to keep them from landing. He received a written discharge at the end of the three months from his Captain Richard Swepston

From Portsmouth he returned home to Meclenburg where he remained only a few days where he went to the residence of two of his brothers who lived near each other in North Carolina, though one lived in Granville County and the other lived in Warren County. When he went there there was a company of drafted men in the County of Warren commanded by Captain Sterling Black and the British and Tories being there very troblesome, this declarant and several others turned out as Volunteers and attached themselves to the Company Comnaded by the said Captain Black. This tour was for three months and he served it out from Warren County N.C. The troops marched to the town of Charlotte, not in Virginia, but in N.C. The officer highest in Command was Major Dickson. He was the highest in Command from Warren. The object of raising the Company was to protect the County as far as possible from the ravages of the Tories in the County round about and adjacent to the town of Charlotte. At that place or rating near to it, the company encountered about eighty of the "British Light Horse" and were compelled to retreat. We lost one man by the name of George Locke the son of Gen. Locke. He was killed near to the place where this declarant then was. Nothing furthermore remarkable occurred during this tour of duty. He received a written discharge from his Captain Sterling Black. Very Shortly after receiving this discharge from his second tour of duty he went home with his Uncle Robert Wood who lived at the Cherokee Ford on Broad River in the State of South Carolina, York District. His Uncle was drafted for three months and he thinks but is not certain that the Captains name was Lytle. This declarant went out as a substitute for the said Robert Wood and served out the three months. The object of this service was likewise to protect the Country form the Tories. From York District they marched to Orangeburg S.C. to a place then called "the Orangburg swamps" where the Company remained during the three months. Part of the three months they were stationed in the town of Orangeburg. He remembers just about the close of the tour, Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Little York. He is therefore unable to speak with certainty as to the period of the war when his services closed.

Being the close of the war. How great the intervals were between his different tours he cannot precisley say. He can only speak in general terms and say they were but short. He is however, tolerably well satisfied that his first Campaign was in the latter part of the year 1780. He has no documentary evidence by which his service can be established, nor does he know of any living witnesses within his reach, by whom the same can be established. He hereby relinquishes every claim to a pension whatever, except the present and declares his name is not on the Pension role of any agency of any State.

Answers

To the interrogatories prescribed by the War Department and propounded by the Court.

1st He was born Sept. 04, 1760 in Mecklenburg County Virginia.

2nd He has now no record of his age, that the book which contained it is lost, or worn out.

3rd When called into service first, he lived in Mecklenburg County Virginia. He subsequently went into service from Warren County N.C. and York District S.C., since the Revolution he has lived in York District S.C. about 17 years. From thence he removed to Rutherford County N.C. From there he removed to White County where he now resides in the in the State of Tennessee and has resided ever since he first came to it.

4th He substituted but does not recollect for whom the first tour. The second he volunteered and the third he substituted for his Uncle Robert Wood.

5th He cannot say that he ever had any acquaintances with any of the Officers of the Regular Army, as to the general circumstances of his services he cannot state therein more fully than he has already done, infact nothing very important occurred in his service.

6th He received a regular discharge from his Captain's each time he served as already stated. These discharges have all been lost by time or accident he cannot certainly say what has become of them.

Jonathan James or "Jeems" Youngblood as he was called, probably by a little brother or sister who couldn't say James, a brother and Frances Marion Dwight, their brother in law, joined the 23rd Texas Cavalry (Gould's Regiment) in 1862 . Confederate Cavalrymen provided both their own weapons and mounts. The Youngbloods and the Dwights were the best mounted people in the region as they were among the first in Tennessee and Texas to import Thoroughbred horses. They fought bravely and well in the Red River Campaign, The Battle of Arkansas Post and were captured. They spent two years in POW camps in Illinois and Indiana. The other two Youngblood brothers stayed in Texas and joined the Texas Rangers 1st Frontier Battalion at Arlington, Texas to fight the fierce Comanches. They all survived these perilous times and returned home after the war.

Frank (son of George E. Dwight), died in the home of his daughter, Nora, at Willow Point, Texas in 1920. The cause of Frank's death is not known, except that it may have been the start of internal hemorrhage. Frank's hand was in the hand of his grandson, Horace, when he died.

FIFTY-TWO YEARS IN TEXAS

It was on March 14, 1844 in old Fort Houston near Palestias, Anderson County, I first saw the light, while forted up from the Indians. From there my parents moved about until the first of my recollection we lived in Houston County, on Elkhart Creek, where my father owned and operated a water mill. It is there my father died and left my mother a widow with six boys and one girl. 2We moved to Limestone County, near the old Parker's Fort whence my father and mother with their sent 3babe had been driven years before by the Indians in what is known as the Parker's Fort 4Massacre. While living in that County I heard my first Baptist sermon near where the town of Groesbeck in now situated. The preacher's name is Gordon Bowdon. He was an earnest and faithful minister. I remember one of his text yet, As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness even so must the son of man be lifted up." The sermon made a deep impression on my mind. In the meantime my mother had married a 5Campbellite and I had not much opportunity of going to a Baptist preaching. He would occasionally cal in one of the Alex's boys to preach at our house. I remember that it made such impression on my mind that I would dream of being "baptised and going on my way rejoicing." However, time rolled on, the late 6war broke out and they were calling for volunteers. In 1862 I joined the army being nearly eighteen years old. In Louisiana while camped on Bayou Bartholomew ther was a great day of fasting and prayer kept throughout the Confederacy. The most of our battalion went to preaching. (I had just finished reading my Testament through.) That day I was happily converted. There being no church there I drifted along until the war was over. I went back home and my 7 stepfather having died during the war, I took charge of my mother's family and brought them to Dallas County. While there we enjoyed the ministerial services of Elds. W. B. Long and J. F. Pinson, Baptist preachers. Moving from there to Tarrant County, near Lomesome Dove Church my mother 8died. I soon afterwards 9married, took charge of my mother's 10children, joined the Lonesome Dove Church and was baptised by Eld. A. J. Hallford. In a few months my wife was happilyconverted and joined the church. In a few years my mother's three children were saved and joined the church. I moved to Wise County where I now live. I have seen three of my children baptised into the fellowship of the Baptist Church. I still have five others who are small that I hope to see gathered into the fold. (F. M. Dwight, Willow Point, Wise County, Texas, 1896.)

Our grandfather on our mother's side was Francis Marion Dwight who was born in 1844 near Arlington, Texas on a farm. This is either in Tarrant or Dallas County, Texas. When the Civil War between the states broke out, he was 16 or 17 years old, and he was called up by the Texas Regulars, and served for the duration of the war. After which he returned to his father's farm. He then married my grandmother,

Miss Jane Anne Youngblood, who was related to the Parker's of early day Texas on her mother's side. The same family from whom Cynthia Anne Parker was taken by the Commanche Indians on a raid of a Texas settlement near Bridgeport, Texas (Spy Know), which is west of Fort Worth in Tarrant County, Texas.

This bayonet was handed down to our mother Rose May Dwight, by her father and mother. Grandfather Dwight passed away with leukemia in the summer of 1920, and grandmother Dwight passed away in 1931. They are both buried in the Willow Point Cemetery, near Bridgeport, Texas. When I was a little boy, my Grandfather Dwight told me tales of the Civil War and I remember them all. He carried this bayonet at the end of his rifle, but had to turn his rifle in to the Texas Regulars of the Confederate Army, when he was mustered out after Lee's surrender. He once told me that he was down behind a log and when the buglar blew retreat, this same bayonet jammed in the forks of a fallen tree log, and he just barely dislodged it in time to get away and not be killed or captured. I think this was near the Mississippi River around New Orleans where the Federal Forces were very numerous. Grandfather said that the Federal Forces, a cavalry regiment in force, looked like a huge crown or cloud and the thunder of the horses' hooves was very frightening to him, a mere teenager, and that he never ran as fast before or after in his entire life. There are various stories about this bayonet, and I suspect that it was part of the US Army's weapons, which were seized by the Texas Government at the time that Texas seceded from the Union and confiscated all Federal property in the state of Texas. At some place on the bayonet the letters U.S. Army are barely discernable. So this weapon is over one hundred years old, possibly a hundred and twenty five years old.

This is a brief summary of this heirloom, a civil war bayonet which was carried by our maternal grandfather, Francis Marion Dwight of Arlington, Texas. 1844 – 1920.

The first mention of Hosea Simpson in South Carolina is found when he is listed as buying an item from the estate of John Simpson on November 8, 1823 in "Laurens County, South Carolina Wills 1784-1850" by Colleen Elliott. It is not known what relationship, if any, existed between Hosea and John Simpson. John Simpson died in 1823 in the Durbin Creek area of Laurens County, South Carolina. His wife whose name is not known was the daughter of Hosea Holcombe. The heirs of John Simpson were listed as Isabella, Sarah, Betsey, John, Peter, Peggy, William and James. In 1824 daughter Isabella Simpson and her husband, John Coleman, filed a petition for division of John Simpson's 300 acres of land on Warriors Creek and 150 acres in Laurens District on Beaverdam. John's son, Peter, who was born about 1810 and died in 1847 moved from Durbin Creek to an area known as Plain, Greenville County in 1836 where he was a farmer and blacksmith. The town became known as Simpsonville, Greenville County, South Carolina.

There is also mention in the 1822 Boston Directory of a Hosea Simpson who was a general laborer. His address is listed as Town Dock, Boston, Massachusetts. The directory was published by John H. A. Frost and Charles Stimpson, Jr. However, it is not known if this Hosea Simpson is the same one later found in South Carolina records.

By 1845 Hosea and his family moved to Anderson County, South Carolina. On November 12, 1845 he is listed as the buyer of an item from the estate of Robert Guyton in Anderson County, South Carolina.

On the October 4, 1850 Eastern SubDivision, Anderson County, South Carolina Census Hosea is listed as not being able to read or write. On the July 12, 1860 Division No. 2, DeKalb County, Alabama his personal property is listed as being in the amount of $40.
