Notes for SARAH ANN VALENTINE:

Sarah Ann Valentine

Written in her own hand--1922

Sarah Ann V ALENTINE, daughter of Delilah HODGE and Daniel Spencer V ALENTINE, was born on June 19, 1837, in the town of Schodack, Rensselaer County, NY, one mile east from Nassau Village near Herricks Pond. In November 1846, her father, mother, and their four children, Noah Hodge, Charles Wesley, Sarah Ann, and Amelia Jane (their eldest son John Seeley and their youngest son Daniel Spencer having died in infancy) with our household goods we came eleven miles with teams, had our goods loaded on a Canal Boat at Albany. Arrived at Rome late on Saturday afternoon.

My father found a man with a team going to Stokes. We went with him and stayed there (my Mother, sister and I) stayed there until my Father and brothers went to Piney Settlement, Greig, Lewis County, NY which was to be our home, and had teams come for us and our goods. Our home was a log house with a living room and two bedrooms with fireplace and brick oven below, a good sleeping room and storeroom up stairs, a cellar and "ood house.

My mother was quite homesick that winter not being used to such a home. There had been a good school house built near our home the summer before we came there. Miss Sarah Pomeroy was the teacher that winter. It was also used for Sunday School and Religious service. Ministers would occasionally come and preach. There were twelve families living in the settlement. My father drew logs to the mill, had lumber sawed, and made shingle in the living room near the fire place in the evening until he had enough to build a good house which he done most of the work himself being a carpenter..

My mother died December 6, 1867 (born October 28, 1801). My Father died May 9, 1868

In 1853 Sarah A. was married to David BURR on October 16. Noah Hodge never married. Charles W. married Sarah E. FLEETWOOD of New York City. After her death he married Evalena C. CURTISS, Saratoga Springs, NY. Amelia Jane married William H. WILCOX of Leyden, Lewis County, NY.

My father's family have all passed away except Sarah A. who married John D. ACKLEY on November 18, 1874. He died May 6, 1902 by whom she had one daughter Ada Jane, born April 16, 1877. Ada Jane married George W. CLINCH Dec 28, 1904.
