

Descendants of Colin Clark

Generation No. 1

1. Colin² Clark (David¹ Clarke) was born 06 Mar 1749/50 in Limekilns, Fifeshire, Scotland, and died 18 Feb 1808 in Liverpool, England. He married Janet Gray McKenzie 09 Nov 1771 in Windsor, NC, daughter of John McKenzie and Janet Gray. She was born 22 Nov 1750 in Nansemond Co., Va., and died 25 Nov 1778 in Rosefield, Windsor, NC.

Notes for Colin Clark:

lived in America-1771 to 1778 at Plymouth, Tyrell Co., N.C. and near Windsor, Bertie Co., NC. His children were raised by his family at Rosefield plantation, Windsor, NC, after he returned to Scotland (oldest child was 6, youngest unborn). He was a loyalist during the American Revolution and there is record of his having applied for recompense from Britain for loss of property during the war. There is no record of his having received any compensation. From notes extracted from John Bennett's "Virginia Historical Genealogies" : he was born 3-18-1750 (note different birth date). He sailed on August 18, 1770 from Limekilns, and going by way of Barbados, arrived late in the same year at Plymouth, NC. Here he began trading up and down the coast, Starting with one vessel, the "Martin" of which he was captain. Later he bought other vessels and living ashore, first Plymouth in Terrell Co. and then at nearby Windsor, became a Commission merchant, sending his ships to Norfolk, NY, and the West Indies loaded with tobacco and other local produce and bringing back manufactured goods needed in the colony. .. He married at Rosefield, the Gray home near Windsor. .. he was rapidly amassing a fortune when the Revolutionary War broke out. His wife's side espoused the colonial cause. Colin Clark, however, had taken the oath of allegiance to the British, then required before one could leave the old country, and could not get in an uprising against his own people in a colony in which he had lived but such a short while. He tried to continue his export-import trade without taking sides but finding this impossible, he gave up the business he had worked so hard to establish, and left in the spring of 1778 to go back to Scotland. Before leaving he made what provisions he could for the family had had to leave behind, and he later made various attempts to send money and supplies for their support; none of this got through, but was taken in route. William, his fourth son was born after his departure, and his wife died shortly thereafter, and buried at Rosefield. Of his life abroad we have little information but he appears to have been ill for a long time. Eventually he married again but the name of his wife is not known to us. He is reported to have been drowned in 1808 in Liverpool harbor in the capsizing of a row boat when he was taking ship to return to see his children in America. The ancestry of Colin Clark has not been established but he was probably the son of David Clark, listed in Scotch records as "Shipmaster at Limekilns". In a letter written in 1791 by Colin Clark to his brother in law, William McKenzie, he sent his regards to 'my cousin Thomas Clark, merchant at Buckfield, near Windsor'. This Thomas Clark may have been a son of the Thomas Clark who married Amelia Gray (1739-1814), a sister of Colin's wife, Janet Gray McKenzie. This would make Thomas Clark, Sr. of Bertie Co., NC a Brother of David Clark of Scotland and would confirm the family tradition that Colin Clark and his wife, Janet Gray McKenzie were cousins. After the death in 1778 of Janet McKenzie Clark, her four sons were taken by the childless uncle and aunt, Captain William and Margaret Cathcart McKenzie, and raised on their 'Skewarky' estate which is now in Williamston, NC.

The gray marble mantle with its bronze ormanents was especially noticeable. In the front yard among the tres and shrubs were two unusually large fine Norway firs, with two life size bronze deer beside them. In the north side of the large oak grove was a little stream of water fed by several springs from the hill side. Over these springs Mr. Clark had built picturesque spring houses.. " The house was left to his son, Colin.

When they strolled around the grove at twilight they children insisted that they were ghosts. Mrs. Clark's maiden name was Bond. She owned a famous set of diamonds - pin, earrings, necklace, bracelet, and ring. It was a well known fact she had intended them for a bridal gift to her nephew's (Mr. W.R. Bond) bride. But she died without a will, and her diamonds went to another branch of the family..... Mr. Colin Clark gave the land and built the first Baptist Church in Scotland Neck, where Trinity Church rectory now stands. He planted a row of china berry trees from his house to the present line of the town. Mrs. Clark's nephew, the late Mr. W.R. Bond made his home with them, and after their death the home place came to him, where he and his wife, Lizzie Hall, and her nephew, W.L. Hall made a happy home for many years. The place now belongs to Mrs. Arrington Kitchin, who has a handsome modern home where this old landmark once stood. The Clarks are resting in the grave yard in the garden. Notes for General David Clark II:

From Miss Lena H. Smith's newspaper article, dated 1/31/1929 (copy of article does not name the paper): David Clark lived at "Airlie" near Littleton,NC. in the summer (on his wife's property he built this home, 8 miles from Littleton, near Panacea Springs.) He had lived at "Gallberry"*, but sold this place and built a winter home at Ventosa, his farm on the Roanoke River. The migration from the winter home to the summer home was something of an under-taking, for with the family went a retinue of servants, the trip requiring two days with a night's stop in Enfield with Mrs. Clark's sister, Martha (Mrs. Thomas Nicholson) . "Ventosa" his winter home, burned during the Civil War when the Yankees were at Roanoke Island. Airlie was burned a few years later.

* Gallberry - from Lena Smith's above article: "David Clark purchased Gallberry from his brother William. William,after marrying Martha Godwin, moved back to Gallberry. Martha, a devout member of Old Trinity Church, had it rebuilt after it was destroyed by fire in 1884. After William died, Martha moved to Baltimore, then to Florida where she died. The property then passed to Mrs. Felicia Young Shields, who lived with her two orphaned grandchildren, Olivia Lawrence (Mrs. W.O. McDowell) and Charles Lawrence. Captain W.H. Kitchin bought the place next, and built the present spacious home where his son, Mr. Leland H. Kitchin now lives."

At the outbreak of the Civil War, he was made Colonel of the 17th Regiment, and then promoted to Brigadier-General and put in charge of the militia of Halifax, Warren, Northampton, and Edgecombe counties, and saw active service within the State, time and again foiling raiding parties of the enemy from Plymouth and the Albemarle country, and participating in the battle of New Bern.

He then purchased an additional 3200 acres but died in 1836, leaving Lewis Thompson as executor. In 1849, LT purchased from his brother in law, William McKenzie Clark, his portion of William McKenzie Clark's (Thompson's father in law) plantation in Lecompte, La. The description of his management of his Louisiana plantations is described in "Essays in Southern History", an out of print UNC press book. The "Lewis Thompson" manuscript collection abstract is online and can be accessed through the Historic Woodville web site:

married her first cousin (her aunt, Margaret Ann Cathcart Clark, was her husband's mother). She was a teacher at the Bertie Union (later named Woodville) Academy. The following is copied from a pamphlet, c. 1925 on the Aulander Circuit Methodist Church, which included St. Frances Methodist Church in Lewiston-Woodville:

As a result of the Civil War, in 1871, the church was very weak and but for the work of Mrs. Helen Clark Thompson would likely have been discontinued as a church or merged with another congregation. She came into the church in that year and proved to be an inspiration. The spirit of the church was revived and it once more became a power.

Her obituary: Just as we go to press we learn by telegraph of the death of Mrs. Thomas W. Thompson, of Woodville. She was Miss Helen Clark, a daughter of Dr. Wm. Clark, and a niece of Mrs. Lewis Thompson and of Dr. Chas. Smallwood.

Mrs. Thompson was a lady of rare intellectual and moral character. She was a frequent contributor to the secular and religious press. She was a most devoted Christian, a member of the Methodist church. There was no effort for good, no scheme for the bettering of mankind, no plan to spread the Gospel or diffuse religious light, that did not command all of the energies of her mind and body. A noble, good woman has gone to sleep. Wearied by the labors of life, she has fallen into that dreamless rest which awaits the people of God.

Notes for Helen McKenzie Clark:
married her first cousin (her aunt, Margaret Ann Cathcart Clark, was her husband's mother). She was a teacher at the Bertie Union (later named Woodville) Academy. The following is copied from a pamphlet, c. 1925 on the Aulander Circuit Methodist Church, which included St. Frances Methodist Church in Lewiston-Woodville:

As a result of the Civil War, in 1871, the church was very weak and but for the work of Mrs. Helen Clark Thompson would likely have been discontinued as a church or merged with another congregation. She came into the church in that year and proved to be an inspiration. The spirit of the church was revived and it once more became a power.

Her obituary: Just as we go to press we learn by telegraph of the death of Mrs. Thomas W. Thompson, of Woodville. She was Miss Helen Clark, a daughter of Dr. Wm. Clark, and a niece of Mrs. Lewis Thompson and of Dr. Chas. Smallwood.

Mrs. Thompson was a lady of rare intellectual and moral character. She was a frequent contributor to the secular and religious press. She was a most devoted Christian, a member of the Methodist church. There was no effort for good, no scheme for the bettering of mankind, no plan to spread the Gospel or diffuse religious light, that did not command all of the energies of her mind and body. A noble, good woman has gone to sleep. Wearied by the labors of life, she has fallen into that dreamless rest which awaits the people of God.

Notes for Harriet Joyner Clark:

her obituary: In the death of Mrs. Harriet Smallwood Woodville loses a representative of one of its oldest and most respectable families -- a lady of blameless Christian life

She was the daughter of Wm. M. and Martha Clark. Her brothers and sisters were Samuel Clark, Kenneth Clark, Gavin Clark and David Clark who are dead and Dr. Wm. Clark, of Vance county; and Mrs. Lewis Thompson and Mrs. Urquhart who are dead and Mrs. Austen, of Warren, who survives her.

Mrs Smallwood was in her fifty-eighth year.

The burial service was held by Rev. Mr. Jarvis at Grace church and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground on the Clark place in the Indian woods

Just thirty-nine years ago to the day and hour her bridal train traveled the same road as did her funeral train on Thursday.

Her husband, the good neighbor, the polished gentleman, and humane physician mourns her loss. Her children are Mrs. Dr. Griffin, Dr. John P. Smallwood, Mr. Lewis T. Smallwood and Miss Frances Smallwood.

Mrs. Smallwood was known for her simplicity of life, her charitable and benevolent work, her devotion to her family and friends and her pure and godly walk[.] But she would not have them weep. Her rest was peaceful, for truly is she "asleep in Jesus."

Miss Ruffin, the Misses Norfleet, Misses Bishop, Miss Hill of Halifax, Miss Pugh, Miss Watson, and many more were present and contributed by their conversation, dancing and charm to the scene. He married (1) Antoinette Rebecca Norfleet 27 Jun 1895; born 30 Jun 1864; died 07 Mar 1929. He married (2) Penelope Brown 1927 in Falls Church, Va..

Notes for Dr. John Pugh Smallwood:

John P. Smallwood attended Horner's School in Oxford, Granville Co., NC. He then studied one year at the University of Virginia.

17 Mar 1885- Smallwood received his medical degree from the University of Maryland. He then took a postgraduate course at New York Polyclinic, Bellevue Hospital, and United States Marine Service Hospital, and began his practice of medicine in North Carolina. 1887-1889 He served as the surgeon on the S.S. Obdam of the Netherlands line.

1889-1894 He practiced medicine in Coburn, VA.

1894-1901 He became the Medical Inspector for the Equitable Life Assurance Society and visited Canada and every state in the United States.

1901/1902 The Smallwoods moved to Falls Church, Virginia. Apparently their journey was up the Shenandoah Valley. In Leesburg, Dr. Smallwood purchased a piece of property at an auction. When they arrived in Falls Church, the couple purchased a large frame house which had just been built by Jonathan Klock on 20 acres on Idylwood Road.

1918 Dr. Smallwood finished construction of a house at 313 Lincoln Avenue in Falls Church, built from plans which he had obtained in California.

An interview with Dr. Smallwood's second wife, Penelope Brown Smallwood, in December, 1975, gives details concerning the Smallwood home, its location and Dr. Smallwood:

He was one of the early horse and buggy doctors and was available twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. People frequently came to him in the middle of the night seeking help they knew they would get....The [house] plans included the house, barn, and his doctor's office in the front yard. All three buildings have stained shingle siding with green trim. 'Green Gables' was the name it was given. Dr. Smallwood chose the site for his house on Lincoln Avenue for his own convenience but mostly for the convenience of his patients, who could reach him by the trolley all the way from Washington or Fairfax. The cars would stop whenever anyone wanted off or on. In bad weather they could wait in the tiny waiting room of his office, while in good weather they could sit on the bench outside and visit in the sunshine. The tracks were no more than 40-50 feet away.

'Green Gables' was also the name of the trolley stop which was embodied in a small wooden shelter perhaps 6 feet by 10 feet....The barn had a place for a sled and buggy, a large square stall for a horse and an attached open shed on the back....

Dr. Smallwood used his horse and buggy (or sleigh) until about 1920. He [then] used his first car, a Packard, on his rounds, though he previously had an electric car which he kept in Washington and drove only on special occasions.

A neighbor of the Smallwoods on Idylwood Road remembered the following:

I believe Mrs. Smallwood (the first) was older than Dr. Smallwood. She had some very odd characteristics, and almost never did a visitor get into the house. I don't know how it was with patients who came to the house on Idylwood. On Lincoln Avenue, he had a little detached office in the yard, so they didn't have to come to the house. Dr. Smallwood was the only doctor in the area and was worked to death.

Dr. Smallwood's obituary says of him(The Sun-Arlington, VA, undated, Virginia Room, Mary Riley Styles Public Library, Falls Church, VA.):

Although he had been in ill health, Dr. Smallwood saw patients until the day of his death. He was much beloved in Falls Church and a friend said in speaking of his passing, 'A mighty oak of service has fallen in humanity's forest.

He retained possession until 1888 when, according to family tradition, he was induced to sell it because his wife refused to move from NC to La. He sold it to Mrs. L. Carnal and Kenneth Carnal. The plantation, known as Chicarna Plantation, is still in the Carnal family and is still being planted in cane. He moved back to Woodville and lived in the former Noah Hinton House. There are two letters in possession of Historic Woodville that he wrote to his wife in 1869 while in Alexandria (before marrying her) where he professes his loneliness and longing to be back in Woodville with her and her sister Mary.
