Notes for Mary Jane Mills:

The New Providence Baptist Church was the second Baptist Church to be organized in Camden Co., Georgia. It was formed by members from the Hebron Baptist Church. The following is taken from minutes of the Hebron Baptist Church April 21, 1878: "The Church granted a Letter of Dismission to the following named members of Hebron Church, embodied in one letter, for the purpose of organizing and constituting a Baptist Church of like faith and order near Griffin Bluff: Maria Brown, William Brazell, Mary Ann Brazell, Joseph Mills, Eliza Mills, Thomas Simmons, Lucinda Simmons, Joseph Mills Jr., Catherine M. Mills, Benjamin D. Cooner, Thomas Hope, Jane A. Allen, Nancy Williams, Ardeaea McMannus, Victoria Pearce, Sarah Mott, Mary J. Scott, Jane E. Casey, Anna E. McKendree, Margaret Mills, Olive Brazell, Isabella Thomas." It is possible that 'Sarah Mott' is Sarah DeMott Scott, mother-in-law to Mary J. Scott.

The church continued for about 20 years. In 1898, it had practically disbanded. At a conference held on September 10, 1898, we find: "A resolution was offered by Bro. Joseph Mills; 'Whereas, the church at New Providence has gone down, and we being the nearest church to it.....

Minutes of the Kingsland Baptist Church: "A meeting was held at Kingsland, Camden Co., Georgia, October 10, 1897, for the purpose of organizing a Missionary Baptist Church. The following names presented letters from other churches of the same faith: Brothers W.H. Peebles, J.S. Thompson, A.L. Yance, Joseph Mills, Sr., Joseph Allen, William McCathem; Sisters Lillie Yance, Caroline McCathem, Mary Scott, Mary Clark, Sallie Scott, Elmira Allen, and Margaret V. Scott.

Mary Jane applied for Widow's Pension Claim under the Act of 1909 on February 26, 1913 while residing in Maxville, Duval Co., Florida. Application not allowed for reason that she has resided in the State only since the year 1908, while the law requires residence since the year 1895. Mary Jane again applied for the Widow's Pension Claim under the Act of 1915, October 13, 1916, application accepted.

Greetings Ms. Whitesell,

Your great-great-grandfather Arnold Thomasson is definitely buried here, and we appreciate very much your interest in the accuracy and completeness of what we know about him (admittedly, that's very little). I've just finished updating our website to reflect the good information you sent in your e-mail. Here's the link:

<http://www.gravegarden.org/roster/t.htm>

Thomasson is buried in an individual grave (i.e., not in a mass grave), but he does not have his own headstone. However, his name, military unit, and grave number are listed on the large marble monument in the pictures I sent Debbie last year. The monument sits in the center of Lot 178 and lists the names of all 50 men buried there, including Thomasson.

If you have any other questions, or if I need to make any changes to the roster webpage, please let me know.

Thanks again,

Benjamin G. Scott obtained a 'Pedlars License'..'Itinerate Traders' according to a law passed 1825 by Legislature. List published quarterly by Comptroller General (at this time) Thacker B. Howard.

Benj. G. Scott was the owner of a plantation near St. Marys, on which he lived until his death, March 17, 1855. He died of smallpox, and lost three children during the same epidemic. He and the children were buried in the family graveyard on the plantation. Mrs. Scott died Dec. 16, 1880, and was buried there also; graves unmarked. 1850 Census shows he and his wife and children were all born in Georgia. It is somewhat questionable that Benj. G. Scott was born in Camden Co. as the county records do not disclose any Scott family in the county about 1800 except the William Scott family and it is said the two families were not related

Notes for Joseph William III Mills:

Source: 'Founding Florida Pioneers & Their Descendants', by Jean H. Mizell

Joseph Mills built a large two-story log home to house his large family. It was typical of the period, having a porch across the front. The kitchen was separate from the house and connected by a boardwalk. This was a means of fire prevention. Joseph was one of the first men in this area to respond to the call to arms for the Confederacy. He rode away on his big white horse and joined the 4th Georgia (Clinch's) Cavalry. Family legend has it that during a battle, the horse was shot from under him. Not long after, the family was notified that Joseph had been killed. Months passed and one day he came, half starved, walking home. After the War, Joseph worked with others to organize Baptist churches throughout south Georgia.

The minutes of the organization of Hebron Baptist Church of Christ, dated August 25, 1870, states "church letters of Brother Joseph Mills and wife, members of the Sharon Baptist Church, Nassau Co., Florida, were read and received". The minutes also show that "Brother Joseph Mills was elected clerk".

This church is considered to be the first Baptist Church in Camden Co. In 1878, a number of the members left Hebron to organize a church on Griffin Bluff. It was given the name 'New Providence'. Among those who came from Hebron to the organizational meeting were Joseph and Eliza with two of their children. The J.W. Mills Church near Burnt Fort, Georgia which is now Mt. Zion Baptist Church was organized by the Mills family. In the minutes of the Kingsland Baptist Church, dated September 10, 1898, a resolution was offered by Brother Joseph Mills to get the old church book, Bible, and communion set from Providence and keep them in case the church should revive.

Elizabeth (Higginbotham) Mills died in 1893. It is not known where she is buried. After the death of Eliza, Joseph married Mrs. Lizzie Tyson, of Starke, Florida.

Minutes of the Kingsland Baptist Church: "A meeting was held at Kingsland, Camden Co., Georgia, October 10, 1897, for the purpose of organizing a Missionary Baptist Church. The following names presented letters from other churches of the same faith: Brothers W.H. Peeples, J.S. Thompson, A.L. Yance, Joseph Mills, Sr., Joseph Allen, William McCathem; Sisters Lillie Yance, Caroline McCathem, Mary Scott, Mary Clark, Sallie Scott, Elmira Allen, and Margaret V. Scott (Joseph Mills grandfather and father were deceased by this time, therefore this Joseph Mills (Sr) is Joseph III).

Notes for Elizabeth Higginbotham:

The New Providence Baptist Church was the second Baptist Church to be organized in Camden Co., Georgia. It was formed by members from the Hebron Baptist Church. The following is taken from minutes of the Hebron Baptist Church April 21, 1878: "The Church granted a Letter of Dismission to the following named members of Hebron Church, embodied in one letter, for the purpose of organizing and constituting a Baptist Church of like faith and order near Griffin Bluff: Maria Brown, William Brazell, Mary Ann Brazell, Joseph Mills, Eliza Mills, Thomas Simmons, Lucinda Simmons, Joseph Mills Jr., Catherine M. Mills, Benjamin D. Cooner, Thomas Hope, Jane A. Allen, Nancy Williams, Ardeaea McMannus, Victoria Pearce, Sarah Mott, Mary J. Scott, Jane E. Casey, Anna E. McKendree, Margaret Mills, Olive Brazell, Isabella Thomas." It is possible that 'Sarah Mott' is Sarah DeMott Scott, mother-in-law to Mary J. Scott.

The church continued for about 20 years. In 1898, it had practically disbanded. At a conference held on September 10, 1898, we find: "A resolution was offered by Bro. Joseph Mills; 'Whereas, the church at New Providence has gone down, and we being the nearest church to it.....'"

Notes for Joseph William II Mills:

The New Providence Baptist Church was the second Baptist Church to be organized in Camden Co., Georgia. It was formed by members from the Hebron Baptist Church. The following is taken from minutes of the Hebron Baptist Church April 21, 1878: "The Church granted a Letter of Dismission to the following named members of Hebron Church, embodied in one letter, for the purpose of organizing and constituting a Baptist Church of like faith and order near Griffin Bluff: Maria Brown, William Brazell, Mary Ann Brazell, Joseph Mills, Eliza Mills, Thomas Simmons, Lucinda Simmons, Joseph Mills Jr., Catherine M. Mills, Benjamin D. Cooner, Thomas Hope, Jane A. Allen, Nancy Williams, Ardeaea McMannus, Victoria Pearce, Sarah Mott, Mary J. Scott, Jane E. Casey, Anna E. McKendree, Margaret Mills, Olive Brazell, Isabella Thomas." It is possible that 'Sarah Mott' is Sarah DeMott Scott, mother-in-law to Mary J. Scott.

The church continued for about 20 years. In 1898, it had practically disbanded. At a conference held on September 10, 1898, we find: "A resolution was offered by Bro. Joseph Mills; 'Whereas, the church at New Providence has gone down, and we being the nearest church to it.....'"

SAMUEL M. MILLS

Folkston Coca-Cola Company

Written November 25, 1950

A native of Camden County, Samuel M. Mills was born in April of the year 1876. In his jocular manner,

Mr. Mills described his birthplace as being "in the woods of Camden County near where the present city of Kingsland now stands." But, he adds, that was before Kingsland was even thought of. A son of the late Joseph Mills, Jr. he was one of a family of eight. Among his surviving brothers and sisters are Sol P. Mills and Mrs. E.H. Wright [Mrs. Jenny Mills Wright] of this city. Two of his brothers now deceased were James W. and Alex Mills. His father lived most of his adult life in Camden County but moved to Charlton before his death several years ago. He was an ordained Baptist minister and the Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church was established largely through his efforts. He was a man of sterling character and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The Mills family was one of the early leading pioneer families of this section of the state having been prominent in the affairs of Camden and Charlton Counties for more than a century. Mr. Mills is a grand nephew of the late Honorable Seaborn F. Mills, Sr. who was born at the old Mills homestead about six miles east of Folkston on October 26, 1842, and died there February 7, 1929 at the advanced age of 87. He was a Confederate veteran, served as Worshipful Master of the Masonic Lodge and represented Charlton County in the Georgia Legislature.

Mr. Mills came to Folkston to make his home in the year 1897 at the age of 21. He arrived here from Camden County "on horseback", he recalls, and immediately went to work for the late H.A. Renfroe and George Wainwright as cross-tie inspector. Folkston then had less than 500 people, only three or four stores, no brick buildings and the late Dr. James C. Wright was the only doctor and also dispensed the medicine.

As an employee of Mr. Renfroe, Mr. Mills went to Jacksonville in 1898 to work in a general store operated by Renfroe. After a year in that city he came back to Folkston to take over, by purchase from Charlie Rayburn, a mercantile business. The store building, a wooden structure fronting the railroad, stood about where Passieu's Garage is now located. He carried on this business until 1902 when the building and all its contents were destroyed by fire, with little insurance. Mr. Mills remarks that he would probably be there yet selling groceries if he hadn't been put out of business by the fire.

Soon after the fire he went into the cross-tie business on the old Wiley Wainwright place, which he carried on for about two years. In 1904 Mr. Mills was married to Miss Mattie Edith Nelson of Hilliard. They settled on Bailey Branch where he established a homestead and continued in the cross-tie business. As an example of the economic conditions then prevailing, Mr. Mills comments that 7 x 9 four-faced heart ties sold from 30 to 35 cents each. After three or four years in the cross-tie business he and his brother-in-law, Hawley Wright, established a sawmill on Bailey Branch. This sawmill, he recalls, produced much of the lumber with which the houses of the 1906 Colony Company at Homeland were built, the lumber being delivered to the purchasers at $10.00 per thousand feet.

Failing to get rich in the sawmill business at $10.00 per thousand, Mr. Mills retired from that business and in 1915 he went to the Bertha Mineral Logging Camp in Camden County as a blacksmith helper, later being promoted to time-keeper. After two or three years there he returned to Folkston when this concern suspended operation.

In May 1919 Mr. Mills purchased from the late J.W. Rodgers the bottling plant and with it the Coca Cola franchise. Being inexperienced in this line he employed Tillman Rodgers, now deceased, a son of the previous owner, to operate the plant for him while he learned the business. The plant was then located in a frame building fronting First Street, just west of the old Rodgers home. For several years he carried on his bottling business there, including the bottling of Coca Cola and a general line of soft drinks.

In 1925 he acquired from the late B.G. McDonald the acre tract of land on which the present bottling plant and his home now stands. Later he built another frame residence from lumber salvaged from his old Bailey Branch home and also a concrete block residence. About twelve years ago he acquired the D.A. Royal home and all these properties together gives him considerable real estate holdings in that section of the city.

Until about fifteen years ago Mr. Mills bottled Coca Cola and other soft drinks in his plant here but this was discontinued when he made arrangements with the Waycross Coca Cola Bottling Co. under which he has since operated, bringing his products from that city.

Commenting on his early days in the bottling business, Mr. Mills says his first delivering was done in an early model Chevrolet truck purchased from Mallard & Wright for $180.00. He recalls that this truck was in use almost daily for a period of ten years, a record that almost equals Mr. Stroup's oil heater told about last week.

During his active years, Mr. Mills' chief hobby and pastime was deer-hunting. In this sport he achieved quite an outstanding record, having killed as many as four deer in a day. (This was before the days of game laws and bag limits.) Although he is still spry and in reasonably good health, he has given up deer-hunting since 1945, when he bagged the two allowed.

The long-time member of the Baptist Church, he served for years as a Deacon of Mt. Zion Church organized by his father. He is a charter member of the Royal Arch Chapter organized by the Woodbine Masonic Lodge in 1904.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills have only one living child, Mrs. D.M. Evans of this city. A son died years ago at about the age of twelve. They are both members of the Folkston Baptist Church.

After living through the active exciting years while Folkston was growing up., as loyal citizens they are now spending their declining years in quiet comfort with the love and respect of the community which has been their home for so long.text

Notes for Joseph Sr. Mills:

The New Providence Baptist Church was the second Baptist Church to be organized in Camden Co., Georgia. It was formed by members from the Hebron Baptist Church. The following is taken from minutes of the Hebron Baptist Church April 21, 1878: "The Church granted a Letter of Dismission to the following named members of Hebron Church, embodied in one letter, for the purpose of organizing and constituting a Baptist Church of like faith and order near Griffin Bluff: Maria Brown, William Brazell, Mary Ann Brazell, Joseph Mills, Eliza Mills, Thomas Simmons, Lucinda Simmons, Joseph Mills Jr., Catherine M. Mills, Benjamin D. Cooner, Thomas Hope, Jane A. Allen, Nancy Williams, Ardeaea McMannus, Victoria Pearce, Sarah Mott, Mary J. Scott, Jane E. Casey, Anna E. McKendree, Margaret Mills, Olive Brazell, Isabella Thomas." It is possible that 'Sarah Mott' is Sarah DeMott Scott, mother-in-law to Mary J. Scott.

The church continued for about 20 years. In 1898, it had practically disbanded. At a conference held on September 10, 1898, we find: "A resolution was offered by Bro. Joseph Mills; 'Whereas, the church at New Providence has gone down, and we being the nearest church to it.....'"

Note:

Jean, my name is Harry Mills, grandson of Asa Arnold Jones (Callahan). I have enjoyed your desire to share and remember the early pioneers of Florida with others. Can you assist me on who to contact concerning the British and Second Spanish Periods of Florida. My line is Joseph MILLS Sr. m. Elizabeth Lane (LEAN), father Daniel William Lane (LEAN) of the Plantation Egan (Spanish Florida). Researching links to Ann Mills Point or Hannah Mills Creek to Joseph and his father Samuel Mills. Samuel Mills followed Edmund Gray from Augusta 1751, to New Hanover or Burnt Fort Ga, 1755, to Cumberland Island 1758, to Cedar Point on the St. Johns River~1765, Joseph is listed in the 1783 East Florida Census at Cedar Point (on the Southern end of Black Hammock Island). I have a copy of the Spanish Land Grant for two hundred acres of land granted to him from the Spanish Governor. Joseph as is listed on 1783 Spanish Census MILLS, Joseph farmer, married, writes for permission to leave the country; he holds title to 200 acres of land on which he lives; its in a place called Cedar Point; he has 3 Negroes, 4 horses, his father, Samuel MILLS, lives with him and he also has 1 Negro. Joseph Sr and Elizabeth had the following: children : (1) Isabel Rachel, baptized April 29, 1790 m. Charles Nevel Drury Oct. 17, 1809 (2) Isabel Mills, born Oct. 23, 1793, baptized May 23, 1793, m. George FLEMMING, March 26, 1812 (3) Joseph MILLS Jr. born 1795 m. Margaret Elizabeth McCELLAN Dec. 28, 1826. (4) Ann Sarah MILLS, b. 1799 m. McKINNEY or McKINDREE. Joseph SR. lost his Spanish Land Grant in 1795, it is listed in the Unconfirmed Spanish Land Grants. He along other families were found guilty of attacking Fort Nicholas. He was listed as a rebel and left for Centerville Georgia where he established a Plantation near Colraine. Cedar Point is where Joseph and his father Samuel Mills lived during the British and Spanish Period. Samuel also had a land grants at Six mile creek and Trout creek. Any information linking Hannah Mills Creek, Ann Mills Point to Joseph Mills and Samuel Mills would be appreciated, Harry Mills

State of So. Carolina, Newberry County. Jacob Cromer of Newberry County, planter, for five shillings to Michael Dickert and Conrod Suber now Elders of the Presbyterian Congregation, a lot of land containing one acre wheron there is now a Church Builded for the use Benefit and Behoofs of the said Presbyterian Congregation, part of a tract of 150 acres originally granted unto John Miller 13 May 1768 recorded in Book DDD page 198...2 October 1790 (A German Reformed Church in Newberry County, SCMAR Vol. VIII, No. 3, Summer, 1980).

The German Reformed Church in Newberry County, South Carolina was probably located near Broad River a few miles west of St. John's Lutheran Church, Pomaria, South Carolina Since St. john's was originally a Reformed congregation, likely these members formed a new church. Peter Dickert was an elder of St. John's church in 1763, along with John Adam Epting, to whom the land where St. john's church now is, was granted (SCMAR, Vol. III, Summer 1980, p. 151).
