Notes for CONSTANCE "CONNIE" GARRETT ZACHARY:

The 5 years of living with John Zachary, my husband Garfield's father and Grandfather of my Children Cynthia and Garfield Jr, was a tremendous period of growth for me. I cooked all meals. Garfield helped with the housework in the 10 room home. Our rent was very minimal, which gave us an opportunity to save money for the home we now live in. I was a young woman in my late twenties.

The experience I had managing a home with an older generation, a single young brother-in-law, James, a husband a baby, was a most valuable background for my resume writing, and when I took classes in Child development & working with parents, & volunteers. I matured a great deal in that period. My autobiography revealed the characteristics required for the position I held for 28 years, working 27, for the Center For Human Services, and 1 year for Neighboring Centers.

I am grateful to John Zachary, the living, sharing & helping each other, are values we want to live in the Zachary Family, & show to our children, to pass on to their children.

After retiring from the grocery business, Edward became a security guard with Honeywell and later an engineer for the Lake County Hospital System, where he retired. Their home on Milverton displayed his love of gardening with over 125 rose bushes. Edward continued to garden throughout his retirement and helped his daughter develop a showcase caliber garden, including a rose garden that began in 2006. Obituary

Milton Zachary was born October 17, 1927 in Cleveland, OH to John Zachary, Sr. and Rita Bowen Zachary. He was the youngest of ten children, 7 brothers and 2 sisters. Milton attended East Technical High School and was later honorably discharged from the army. He was a hard working, dedicated, and loving individual with a great sense of humor.

He was a long-time, devoted member of St. Philip Lutheran Church, along with many of his family members.

Six weeks after Milton retired in 1991, Zelda, his wife, was hospitalized with a serious and prolonged illness. He was determined to and did care for her at home. On October 31, 1991, Milton suffered an aneurysm and was not expected to survive. Miraculously, he did.

In spite of numerous medical setbacks, Milton spent every single day that he was able at the nursing home with Zelda, where he was often heard reading and singing to her, until she passed away in July 1996. Through it all, Milton always had a positive, cheerful attitude with a kind word for everyone. Milton Zachary passed away on September 29, 2003.

Mr. Zachary is survived by brothers, Garfield Zachary (Connie), Thomas Zachary (Mary) and Edward Zachary (Ernestine); sister, Faye Rhone (John); sister-in-law, Jeanette Zachary; mother-in-law, Ethel Brock of Phoenix, AZ, who loved him as a son; two daughters, Dawn Zachary, who moved in with her parents and cared for them for more than 10 years and Deborah Zachary-Gooden; three grandchildren, Jason Gooden (Naimah Gooden), Amber Gooden, and Chantelle Ross; one great-grandson, Christopher Adams, son of Amber; and a host of other family and friends.

Lovingly submitted, The Family

To You, Dad

Fathers are wonderful people, too little understood, and we do not sing their praises as often as we should.
I For, somehow, Father seems to be the man who pays the bills, while Mother binds up little hurts and nurses all our ills.
Father struggles daily to live up to "his image"
as protector and providers and "hero of the scrimmage. "
And perhaps that is the reason we sometimes get the notion, that Fathers are not subject to the thing we call emotions.
But if you look inside Dad's heart, where no one else can see,
you'll find he's sentimental and as "soft" as he can be.
But he's so busy every day in the grueling race of life;
he leaves the sentimental stuff to his partner and his wife.
But Fathers are just wonderful in a million different ways,
and they merit loving compliments and accolades of praise.
For the only reason Dad aspires to fortune and success, is to make the family proud of him and to bring them happiness.
And like Our Heavenly Father, he's a guardian and a guide, someone that we can count on to be always on our side.
So, Father, though we know that you're in heaven with our mother, we're really glad you stayed a while; you're truly like no other.
What man would wake at 3:00 a. m. work 6 plus days per week, yet take the time to write a note while most were fast asleep.
Two daughters off at camp, gone for days that seemed like years, yet you took the time to write to us, and soothe our homesick fears.
Both you and mom were blessings,
showed us what real love should be.
We learned eternal lessons about strength and loyalty.
Our legacy - we know that God will always have a plan,
That all works for the greater good, of life and love, of man.
Until we get to spend good times with you and mom above,
We know that like that sweet song "Sadie",
You'll be teaching angels how to love.

A LIFE STORY

Milton Zachary, 1927-2003

Delivery chief kept bread on shelf
Cleveland native also remembered as a good family man

By Alana Baranick
Plain Dealer Reporter

Monday, October 20, 2003

Milton Zachary, a retired Continental Baking supervisor, went to work in the wee hours to make sure Clevelanders had fresh bread for their morning toast.

Zachary, who died Sept. 29 at age 75, oversaw as many as 12 drivers who delivered Wonder Bread and other baked goods to local grocery stores from the mid-1970s until he retired in 1991. He sometimes accompanied his drivers on their routes.

"He knew every grocer in the city," said his former colleague Barney Birinyi. "He just knew what to do all the time. He never got flustered. He took everything in stride. If anyone down there needed help, Zack was the guy to go to."

Fellow supervisors admired Zachary's ability to calculate how much bread and buns each store needed for a holiday.

"He had it down pat," Birinyi said. "The store wouldn't run out, and there wouldn't be too many left over. He just knew, whereas the rest of us were just guessing."

Zachary was a bread man from the early 1950s.

The Cleveland native previously was a butcher at his older brother's East Side grocery store. Zachary was mesmerized by Zelda Hargrow when she walked into the store seeking a job in the late 1940s. They were married in 1950. A short time later, Zachary began driving a truck for Laub Bakery but continued cutting meat for his brother part time.

"When he was working at Laub's and working at the store, sometimes I didn't see him until Wednesday or Sunday, his off days," said his daughter Deborah Gooden.

Yet he found time to send long letters to his two daughters when they were away at summer camp, so they wouldn't feel homesick.

After working late, Zachary got up at 3 a.m. to make his first deliveries at 5 a.m. One morning his co-workers noticed crimson stains on his shirt and mistakenly thought he was bleeding from his armpits.

"He was so sleepy, he used Mom's lipstick instead of deodorant," Deborah said.

He once told his nephew Phillip Zachary that he drank 22 cups of coffee a day.

"He stopped at Mrs. Currie's [grocery store and delicatessen] to have a cup of coffee and a piece of pie just before finishing up his route," said Phillip, who often hitched a ride with him for the last of the day's deliveries. Zachary's final daily stop was his brother's store.

Zachary used to stop at Peoples' deli for lunch.

"Sometimes I would meet him there, when I'd see his bread truck there," his nephew said. "I used to love to talk to him. He'd give you his wisdom on things, and he'd usually be right."

Zachary had solutions for any kind of problem, from finances to love to homework.

"He was a phenom with math," said his daughter Dawn. "He would sit me through algebra, geometry, and he would have the right answer."

His figuring skills missed the mark when Zachary handicapped horses at the Thistledown and Northfield race tracks.

"He wasn't that great at it," Deborah said. He once bet on a long shot that "fell and broke its leg before it got to the finish line."

Zachary and his brother Thomas loved "playing the ponies" with friends. "We bet together sometimes," Thomas said. "Thistledown, thoroughbreds, daytime Northfield, harness at night. Between the two tracks, a person trying could break even."

Zachary and his siblings remained close through their adult years and looked out for each other's families.

"When my father passed away, he and my Uncle Marvin came to my mother's rescue right away," his nephew Phillip said. "They worked till 11 o'clock at night, taking inventory. Nothing was said. They just did what they needed to do."

After his wife became debilitated by a brain tumor, Zachary cared for her at home until his own health declined. In the years before Zelda's death in 1996, "he would go to the nursing home and sing to her," said his grandson Jason Gooden. "He'd read the paper to her for hours. Then he'd go to the race track, go home, get up and do it all over again."
